

GENERAL CARR TO RUN FOR CONGRESS. HE TELLS FRIENDS

Durham Man in Race For Congressman-at-Large From North Carolina

MAKES ANNOUNCEMENT WHILE IN WASHINGTON

Had Hoped To Await Action of Congress In Providing For Position But Insistency of

Necessary; Believes Record
Entitles Him To Office

Washington, May 6.—"Yes, tell the boys that my hat is in the ring and to come across" said General Julian S. Carr, of Durham, who was in the city today and who left tonight for Philadelphia to visit his daughter. And he meant by this that he was a candidate for the Democratic nomination for Congressman-at-large for North Carolina in case the present Congress in its allotment of representation gives the additional member of the House of Representatives to the State to which it is entitled by its great growth in population since the 17th census. And Julian Carr expects his friends to rally to his support and put him across.

Rumors have been reaching Washington that General Carr had it in mind to enter the contest for Congress if the additional member was awarded to North Carolina with its feature of possible political citizenship in Washington, and the question was plumped at him if this will be correct.

Had Awaited Congressional Action.
"Yes, I am a candidate," he replied, and went on to say:

"Heretofore, I have hesitated to make any declaration touching the matter, for the reason that I considered it wise in the best taste to await the action of Congress touching the question, whether North Carolina will be awarded an extra congressman. This has been my answer to the many letters that have come to me proffering support and urging me to announce myself."

"If the situation in the State, as I am warranted in believing it to be, from the letters which I have received, I am honestly of the opinion that North Carolina has no second choice for congressman from the State at large, and I feel that perhaps I owe it to friends who are urging me to announce by candidacy, to say that my hat is in the ring to the finish. One thing and the chief thing regarding my announcement is the Democratic party will have no apologies to offer or excuses to make for my 'faith and practice.' I have been so regular that I have almost leaned backward. I have never waited for the band wagon to start this scramble for position. On the other hand, I was in at the starting—in fact I have been one of the starters—prohibitions, woman suffrage, liberal appropriations for education and improvement of highways, sufficient enlargement and appropriations to properly care for all our eleemosynary institutions, including the increased pensioning of Confederate veterans, the enforcement of law and order. The party will have no reason to apologize for or explain."

Too Young To Retire.
"Since the year I served under Mr. Hoover as a 'dollar a year man' I have had a bank account to get back to Washington. I ramble around considerably but I have yet to find a more delightful city to live in than Washington. I am too young to retire—in fact I have led such a strenuous life, I could not, nor do I want to part company with good honest hard work. And nothing would afford me greater pleasure than to be associated with the most capable and distinguished gentlemen who so fully and faithfully represent North Carolina in the Capitol—all of whom I am proud to claim as my personal friends. What I don't know about public life and North Carolina needs, I feel warranted in saying these delightful and capable gentlemen would take pleasure in telling me. Yes, tell the boys that my hat is in the ring and to come across."

Many North Carolinians have met Admiral William C. Baisted, who was the surgeon general and chief of the bureau of medicine and surgery who recently was retired on the age limit. They will be interested to learn that Dr. Baisted has been chosen as president of the Philadelphia College of Pharmacy and Science. He is one of the finest men as well as one of the most distinguished physicians of the country, and Washington will regret his departure to take his home in the Quaker City.

Murdock Unable to Come.
Federal Trade Commissioner Victor Murdock has notified Senator Simmons that he will be unable to accept the invitation of the North Carolina Merchants Association to address its annual convention at Greensboro on June 23, this because he has been assigned to the hearing of an important case by the commission at that time.

John Skelton Williams of Richmond, former comptroller of the currency, has notified Senator Overman that he accepts the invitation of the North Carolina College of Engineering and Agriculture to deliver the commencement address this year. It goes without saying that it will be an address that will be worth hearing, and that the college is fortunate in securing his acceptance.

Representative Lyon today introduced a bill for the relief of Mrs. Josie M. Styrone of Southport, a widow whose husband was in the life saving service and who was killed. It provides for payment to her of $5,000 and goes to the committee on claims. Mr. Lyon has gone to North Carolina and will return Monday.

"BABY" CONGRESSMAN FROM TENNESSEE

Representative Reece is 31 years old. The last Congress had a younger "baby" who was retired in March. Representative McCleod of Detroit was only 25 years old.

WEDNESDAY FIXED FOR TARIFF VOTE

Senate Fixes Rules For Wind-up Desultory Debating On Emergency Bill

Washington, May 6.—The Senate by unanimous consent late today, fixed next Wednesday for a vote on the emergency tariff and anti-dumping bill. Under the same agreement it was decided to limit speeches to ten minutes for each member on each proposition taken up after noon of that day when voting on amendments will begin.

The action was taken after half an hour's discussion of the agreement proposed by Senator Penrose, Republican, Pennsylvania, who again urged that desultory debate be eliminated. He proposed first that a limitation of five minutes be placed on the speeches after Wednesday noon. His statement concerning desultory debate was brought on exchanges with Senator Reed, Democrat, Missouri, who insisted that Mr. Penrose was using undue haste.

Senator Simmons, Democrat, North Carolina, resumed his discussion against the bill, begun yesterday and was followed by Senators Fletcher, of Florida, and Gerry, of Rhode Island, both Democrats, who attacked it from all angles. Mr. Fletcher asserted that Congress "was pursuing a wrong policy to enact tariff legislation of any kind under the present disturbed conditions and added that the farmers whom the bill is claimed to aid "will be disillusioned before its six months of life are over."

BELOVED CLINTON MAN DIES AT RIPE OLD AGE

Clinton, May 6.—Funeral services today for A. F. Johnson, whose death occurred yesterday, were held from the Presbyterian church and were attended by a large congregation of friends. He was a prince among men with a clear record, who had always stood for the right as he saw the right. He had been sick for many months.

Daniels Tells How Black War Plan Disappeared From Files

BY JOSEPHUS DANIELS
Former Secretary of the Navy

What became of the last Black plan is still a mystery. Made out by the general board, guarded with the greatest care, handled by the proper authorities, it was carried into effect and then it vanished utterly.

The discovery that one of our secret naval plans was missing came when it was too late to have any effect on the situation. But that did not prevent the newspapers making the most of the sensation, especially such as, for political reasons, had it in for the navy department.

BANKERS WANT TO HAVE DELEGATE AT ALLIED COUNCIL

Executive Council Goes On Record As Favoring Acceptance of Invitation

OPPOSE GOVERNMENT OWNERSHIP OF ROADS

Pinehurst Convention Likewise Goes On Record As Opposing Issuance of Tax Exempt Securities; Urge Budget System For Handling Government Finances

Pinehurst, May 6.—The American Bankers' Association's executive council went on record today as favoring acceptance by the United States Government of the invitation of the Allied governments to send a representative to confer with the Supreme Council on the subject of reparations.

Resolutions opposing government ownership and operation of railroads, approving the McFadden bill to amend the Federal reserve act so as to transfer the functions now exercised by the comptroller of the currency to the Federal Reserve board, and opposing issuance of tax exempt securities also were adopted at the final session today of the annual meeting of the council.

Other resolutions adopted proposed Federal regulation of investment securities, approved the budget system for handling government finances and suggested the need for bringing into operation at the earliest possible moment financing machinery for the extension of long time credit to restore foreign trade.

Seeking a Market

What have you to market? Are you a skilled worker, have you executive ability and experience? Have you something to sell or exchange? Do you need some particular article?

The general war plan was comprehensive; special recommendations had been made as to the various steps we should take. But I wanted also a definite statement as to the strategy and general policy of war. These studies are called "problems," and on Feb. 10 I addressed this letter to the general board:

HARDING ACCEPTS INVITATION SENT BY ALLIED POWERS

America Will Be Represented at Meetings of Allied Supreme Council

REPRESENTATIVE ALSO ON REPARATIONS BODY

Decision To Have Ambassador To Great Britain Act As "Ob- server" Reached at Meeting of Cabinet; Will Represent President of United States, Note States

Washington, May 6.—President Harding accepted today the invitation of the allied supreme council that the United States be represented at the meetings of that body as well as those of the conference of ambassadors and the reparations commission.

George Harvey, newly appointed ambassador to Great Britain, will sit with the Supreme Council and "take part as the representative of the President of the United States in the deliberations of" that body. Representation at the conference of ambassadors in Paris and the reparations commission will be unofficial. The ambassador to France will be the observer on the former and Roland W. Boyden will sit in an unofficial capacity on the latter.

Decision to accept the council's invitation was reached today at the regular cabinet meeting and formal announcement of it was made at the White House. Soon afterward the text of the American reply to the invitation was made public at the State Department. It follows:

"The government of the United States has received through the British Ambassador the courteous communication in which you state that with the unanimous concurrence of the powers represented at the allied conference in London, you are to inquire whether this government is disposed to be represented in the future, as it was in the past, at the allied conferences, at the conference of ambassadors in Paris, and on the reparations commission."

"The government of the United States while maintaining the traditional policy of abstention from participation in matters of distinctly European concern, is deeply interested in the proper economic concurrence of the powers represented at the allied conference in London, in order that a proper balance may be maintained between railroads income and outgo. In order that we may have a transportation system equal to the growing commercial and industrial needs of the country it is obvious that railroad credit must be restored to attract capital to this field of investment. We would deplore any situation arising which would make the private ownership and operation of the railroads impracticable. In view of the present high rate schedules we would favor the repeal of the Federal tax on freight and passenger rates."

FIGHTING BETWEEN ITALIANS AND POLES CONTINUES

Oppeln, Upper Silesia, May 6.—(By The Associated Press)—Fighting between the Italians and the Poles at Rybnik, Pless and Gross-Strehlitz continued today, with the situation at Rybnik increasingly menacing to the allied forces, according to reports received this afternoon by the inter-allied commission.

Republicans Squelch Tinkham And Resolution Once For All

Massachusetts Representative Bobs Up Again In Congress With Request For Investigation of Rights of Negro Voters In South; House Overwhelmingly Against Him In Record Vote And Proposition Buried Completely.

Washington, May 6.—Rising to a question of the highest constitutional privilege, Representative Tinkham, Republican, Massachusetts, threw the House into an uproar today over a demand for immediate consideration of a resolution affecting the rights of negro voters in the South.

The battle, mainly along parliamentary lines, raged for two hours, but in the end, the proposal was rejected on a point of order by Representative Mondell, the Republican leader. Still determined to press the fight, Mr. Tinkham appealed from Speaker Gillett's decision sustaining the point of order, but the House stood by its Speaker, 283 to 46.

JOHNSON SEEKS TO BUILD UP CAPITAL

California's Fight Against Blair Meant To Pave Way For Break With Harding

By EDWARD E. BRITTON.
(By Special Leased Wire.)

Washington, May 6.—What is back of the fight that Senator Hiram Johnson is making on the confirmation of Dave Blair as commissioner of internal revenue? It is a question that I run up against on all sides. And here is the answer that a shrewd political observer gives:

"Hiram Johnson is getting ready for the break with the Harding administration that is bound to come sooner or later," he declared. "He is laying plans right now to become the progressive Republican candidate for the nomination for President in 1924. He is emphasizing the defalcation of the North Carolina Republican from his forces at the Republican national convention at Chicago, and is bringing in his other charges involving Blair's attitude towards his father-in-law's claim for a refund of income taxes from the government before the Senate Finance Committee in order to bolster up the political fight, which will get nowhere. The committee will report favorably, and Blair will be confirmed."

The income tax refund matter, complained Mr. Cannon, has been passed upon by the department, and it is reported that his claim was found just. This was done before Dave Blair was selected for commissioner.

BAPTIST ASSOCIATION TO CONSTRUCT BUILDING

Elizabeth City, May 6.—The Chowan Baptist Association by a unanimous and hearty vote this week, recommended that the churches of the association, in order to help meet the urgent demand for more room at the North Carolina Baptist Orphanage, erect a $10,000 building at Kennedy Home that will take care of forty children, on condition that the gift be duplicated by E. F. Aydtlett, of Elizabeth City.
