

GREENVILLE PREPARES FOR TOBACCO OPENING

Big Eastern Carolina Market To Begin Season On Tuesday, September 6

Greenville, Sept. 2.—Tobaccoists and warehousemen here are busy making preparations for the opening of the Greenville leaf market on Tuesday, September 6, and with good grades of tobacco bringing good prices, there is some feeling of optimism in this section.

LAWYERS DEBATE AIR LEGISLATION

Way to secure peace is to prepare for war is a proved delusion. "If any nation desires to make good its claim to the moral leader of the world, that title will be earned by the nation which shows the way by actual and substantial reduction of excessive expenditures on preparations for war."

MINE UNION CHIEF ISSUES STATEMENT that the marchers come into their stores to get their food, clothing and shoes, and pay for them as they get them. "The responsibility for the sad state of affairs in West Virginia must of necessity rest upon the Governor of this State. He has been calling for recruits for the past number of weeks to assist him in suppressing this alleged lawlessness, but up to date despite all of his pleas, he has not been able to muster a sufficient number of citizens of this great State to make up a corporate guard to go out and defend his policies."

"Federal troops are now on their way into the State. The citizens of the State of West Virginia, who are on the fighting front today defending their liberties against the onslaughts of men who are seeking to take them away from them, will undoubtedly respect the Federal troops and the mandate of our Federal government. Their coming will bring about a peace in the disturbed area and that peace will continue to be here so long as Federal jurisdiction over the affected sections remains in effect."

"Let hope when this situation passes over and Federal jurisdiction has been removed from West Virginia that Governor Morgan will meet this situation by saying to the Felts and the non-union coal operators of this state: 'You must keep your Baldwin Felts spies, gunmen and notorious guards out of the state.'"

"Such an ultimatum, served by him upon these people, will have a far-reaching effect in restoring that measure of industrial tranquility which the United Mine workers believe the citizens of West Virginia are entitled to receive."

Cabarrus Sheriff Causes a Hitch in Morrison's Program

into the streets when the notices are not observed. Doubt Joyner's Ability Concord's opportunity to carry out still further Governor Morrison's program of firing the local law enforcement officials was presented this morning when the entire police force told Mayor Womble that they would not serve under the new chief of police, Harry M. Joyner. They were not objecting to him as a policeman, but doubted his ability as an executive officer. They were accompanied by several local citizens, who expressed hope that the mayor would make an effort to keep the present force. They doubted the ability of an entirely new force of inexperienced men to keep the peace, as the force of ten men is already too small, they explained, for the big job of policing a town of five thousand population. Joyner is a veteran of the world war and also served on the Mexican border. Henry Furr, whom the local police force wanted named as chief, told the mayor that he did not doubt the new chief's ability to fight in a war, but he did not think a young man with no policing experience should be put in charge during a crisis. To Consider Matter Mayor Womble told the policemen he would give the matter serious consideration and would confer with the board of aldermen. It was an embarrassing position for him, because he had recommended Joyner to the board at the suggestion of the committee of citizens who came back from the Charlotte conference with the request that the program of firing officers be put into immediate effect. He'd hate so soon to ask the board to fire the newly appointed chief. Joyner's chief qualification for this present job has been gained at the Harless mills during the past two weeks. He went there with a force of four men and established law and order. This mill neighborhood is said to be the quietest place in town since it was opened two weeks ago with the Charlotte company on guard. J. L. Harless, manager of the mill, recommended the new chief unqualifiedly and other mill owners thought he was a splendid man for the place. Joyner was a sergeant in the local military company when it went overseas and also served on the Mexican border. He made a good soldier and is said to be a courageous man. He is about twenty-five years old. Meets Has Quiet Day Adjutant General Meets spent a quiet and restful day. Scarcely any crowds at all gathered anywhere and the mills were running, though most of them not at full capacity. No trouble of any kind was reported at the Norcott Mill, where conditions were reported Wednesday as being so threatening as to make the presence of troops again necessary. The mill was running though not many of the employees had reported. It develops that serious casualties occurred, although the fears of the local officers of serious trouble may have been justified by the fact that a man was killed there two years ago. Somebody filled a board with nails and placed it in the road and an automobile tire was torn up. Two assaults were reported, though no arrests have been made. It develops, too, that the committee representing the employees of this mill never got an opportunity to see C. W. Johnston, although they went to Charlotte to see him to report the action of the employees in voting to go back to work. A telegram was sent to Mr. Johnston and he is reported never having given it an answer. As the record stands, Mr. Johnston has never had any promises of any kind to workers in the Brown and Norcott mills, in which he has a controlling interest. The employees adopted the following resolution: "It is moved that workers in Brown and Norcott mills return to work under conditions named by Mr. Johnston, which govern operation of all mills in Johnston chain."

suggestion of the committee of citizens who came back from the Charlotte conference with the request that the program of firing officers be put into immediate effect. He'd hate so soon to ask the board to fire the newly appointed chief. Joyner's chief qualification for this present job has been gained at the Harless mills during the past two weeks. He went there with a force of four men and established law and order. This mill neighborhood is said to be the quietest place in town since it was opened two weeks ago with the Charlotte company on guard. J. L. Harless, manager of the mill, recommended the new chief unqualifiedly and other mill owners thought he was a splendid man for the place. Joyner was a sergeant in the local military company when it went overseas and also served on the Mexican border. He made a good soldier and is said to be a courageous man. He is about twenty-five years old. Meets Has Quiet Day Adjutant General Meets spent a quiet and restful day. Scarcely any crowds at all gathered anywhere and the mills were running, though most of them not at full capacity. No trouble of any kind was reported at the Norcott Mill, where conditions were reported Wednesday as being so threatening as to make the presence of troops again necessary. The mill was running though not many of the employees had reported. It develops that serious casualties occurred, although the fears of the local officers of serious trouble may have been justified by the fact that a man was killed there two years ago. Somebody filled a board with nails and placed it in the road and an automobile tire was torn up. Two assaults were reported, though no arrests have been made. It develops, too, that the committee representing the employees of this mill never got an opportunity to see C. W. Johnston, although they went to Charlotte to see him to report the action of the employees in voting to go back to work. A telegram was sent to Mr. Johnston and he is reported never having given it an answer. As the record stands, Mr. Johnston has never had any promises of any kind to workers in the Brown and Norcott mills, in which he has a controlling interest. The employees adopted the following resolution: "It is moved that workers in Brown and Norcott mills return to work under conditions named by Mr. Johnston, which govern operation of all mills in Johnston chain."

the city schools was reached at a meeting of the school committee yesterday morning, more as a precaution than a necessity. The committee preferred to withhold opening, even though the operation of the schools will mean little in the way of increased consumption of water, rather than to be faced shortly after opening with the necessity of a complete shutting off of water from the schools. The decision of an abundant supplemental water supply ready for the tapping at Camp Polk was dissipated by the investigation of Commissioner John Bray, a committee of representatives of civic organizations, and W. C. Olsen, hydraulic engineer. The pump now operating at Camp Polk, according to Mr. Olsen's report, is delivering 154 gallons per minute, and Mr. Bray discovered that every bit of water drawn there is necessary for the operation of the saw mill and machine shop of the State Highway Commission. "So far as delivering this amount of water into the distribution system of Raleigh is concerned," reported Mr. Olsen, "a two-inch pipe would be more than ample, in size and allowing for friction losses in such line, I have estimated the pumping head necessary to be approximately 40 pounds per square inch. However, the small amount of water available from this source would not be commensurate with the expense of the construction of this line and would be negligible in rendering any relief toward the present shortage. Want Permanent Relief. The committee was interested in securing some relief measures, asked for by a conference of representatives of civic organizations and colleges of Raleigh, with the city commissioners yesterday morning. They were Mrs. W. T. P. D., president of the Raleigh Woman's Club; Miss Elsie Riddick, president of the Business Women's Club; Dr. W. C. Riddick, president of State College; Dr. Charles E. Brewer, president of Meredith College; Miss Mary O. Graham, president of Peace Institute; Dr. W. W. Way, rector of St. Mary's. The colleges were anxious to see some steps which will assure their opening without further postponement. The investigation and report was made by a special committee composed by V. St. Cloud, of the Chamber of Commerce; Harry Adams, of the Kiwanis Club; and H. H. Brimely, of the Rotary Club. After outlining the results of its investigations into the feasibility of an additional water supply at Camp Polk, the committee adds: "We urge that the citizens of Raleigh continue to use extreme discretion in the use of water, for it is nothing more than criminal to waste water or use it for unnecessary purposes under the present existing conditions. We strongly urge that immediate steps be taken to make definite and adequate plans for a permanent improvement of the city water supply, either by raising the present dam or securing a supply from Neuse river. Unless such action is taken a recurrence of the present situation may occur at any time, and this might mean an epidemic and serious suffering among the citizenship of our community as well as serious loss by fire. We candidly believe that the present situation is having a demoralizing effect on our educational institutions and on all manufacturing plants and the worst has not yet come. The only relief that we can possibly see for the present lies in the hands of Almighty Providence."

There have been serious rumors as to how the pellagra statement of the Public Health Service started. Dr. Hayes, of the South Carolina health office, says that the report started in the publicity department of the Public Health Service. What he had gathered while in Washington with conference of state health officers, he said, was that a Mr. Maricott, an assistant in the Public Health publicity office, prepared the statement and took it to Dr. Goldberg, the pellagra expert, for his "O. K." before giving it out to the press. Dr. Goldberg is said to have blue pencilled the whole statement and it was taken away. Next another copy is said to have been presented to Dr. Long, the executive officer of the service, and he is said to have put his initials on it as a mark that it was passed for publication, having given it but a casual inspection, as it came with a batch of other papers from the section of the service charged with such matters. The report continues that Surgeon General Cummings had never seen the pellagra statement until he saw it in the newspapers, and that Dr. Goldberg did not expect to see the article published in the form that it came to him. And President Harding is reported to have read the article in the morning paper at breakfast hour, to have at once called a stenographer and to have written to the Red Cross his letter of the "famine, starvation, and pellagra" business, not having consulted anyone as to the statement made in the paper as being from the Public Health Service. The Postoffice Department announces that the postoffice at Carfax has been discontinued and that mail to that office will hereafter be sent to Old Fort. Another office it announced as being discontinued is that of Fort Barnwell, Craven county, on rural route now from Dover. The mail hereafter will be sent to Dover. Wants Artillery. Congressman Brinson has applied to the War Department for a piece of heavy artillery captured in the world war, this to be sent to Moore's Creek battleground in Henderson county. Jack Warren, of Washington, North Carolina, who was the first alternate in an application to enter West Point, has been designated by the War Department to take the entrance examination which will be held beginning March 22. This is for entrance to West Point in July 1922. A. W. McLean, of the War Finance Corporation, has returned to Washington after an automobile trip of considerable length in time and miles through Maryland, Pennsylvania, New York, Maine, New Hampshire, Massachusetts and Delaware. He went with Joseph P. Tumulty and family and reports a most delightful experience. Back on the job here he had a big pile of accumulated matters to go to, but is fast getting things into shape. The Pension Bureau today announced that pensions had been granted to parties in North Carolina as follows: Dorothy Davis, New Bern; Harley B. Duckett, West Asheville; James Alston, Greensboro, $12 a month; Islay T. Patterson, Rowland, $17 a month; John W. Capps, Murphy $24 a month; Mirion Hallinger, West Asheville, $30 a month; Henry Ward, Jacksonville, $50 a month. Miss Sarah V. Alley, of the office of Congressman Zebulon Weaver, who has been spending her vacation at Asheville and at her home at Cashiers, has returned to her duties here. With her came her sister, Miss Margaret Alley, who will enter the Emergency hospital here to take the nurses course. Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Stokelover, of Asheville, who have spent sometime here, have returned to their home. North Carolina visitors here today are: Dr. and Mrs. G. L. Moore, Lenoir; Mr. and Mrs. Willard Conger, Rocky Mount; W. A. Buys, Belhaven.

Force of Federal Troops On Way To West Virginia to Put Stop To Disorders (Continued From Page One) award of 1920 and that refusal is the cause of the strike out of which the present deplorable situation grew. "The government has a duty to per-

Force of Federal Troops On Way To West Virginia to Put Stop To Disorders (Continued From Page One) award of 1920 and that refusal is the cause of the strike out of which the present deplorable situation grew. "The government has a duty to per-

Rainfall Adds Little Water But Revives Hopes Mightily

the city schools was reached at a meeting of the school committee yesterday morning, more as a precaution than a necessity. The committee preferred to withhold opening, even though the operation of the schools will mean little in the way of increased consumption of water, rather than to be faced shortly after opening with the necessity of a complete shutting off of water from the schools. The decision of an abundant supplemental water supply ready for the tapping at Camp Polk was dissipated by the investigation of Commissioner John Bray, a committee of representatives of civic organizations, and W. C. Olsen, hydraulic engineer. The pump now operating at Camp Polk, according to Mr. Olsen's report, is delivering 154 gallons per minute, and Mr. Bray discovered that every bit of water drawn there is necessary for the operation of the saw mill and machine shop of the State Highway Commission. "So far as delivering this amount of water into the distribution system of Raleigh is concerned," reported Mr. Olsen, "a two-inch pipe would be more than ample, in size and allowing for friction losses in such line, I have estimated the pumping head necessary to be approximately 40 pounds per square inch. However, the small amount of water available from this source would not be commensurate with the expense of the construction of this line and would be negligible in rendering any relief toward the present shortage. Want Permanent Relief. The committee was interested in securing some relief measures, asked for by a conference of representatives of civic organizations and colleges of Raleigh, with the city commissioners yesterday morning. They were Mrs. W. T. P. D., president of the Raleigh Woman's Club; Miss Elsie Riddick, president of the Business Women's Club; Dr. W. C. Riddick, president of State College; Dr. Charles E. Brewer, president of Meredith College; Miss Mary O. Graham, president of Peace Institute; Dr. W. W. Way, rector of St. Mary's. The colleges were anxious to see some steps which will assure their opening without further postponement. The investigation and report was made by a special committee composed by V. St. Cloud, of the Chamber of Commerce; Harry Adams, of the Kiwanis Club; and H. H. Brimely, of the Rotary Club. After outlining the results of its investigations into the feasibility of an additional water supply at Camp Polk, the committee adds: "We urge that the citizens of Raleigh continue to use extreme discretion in the use of water, for it is nothing more than criminal to waste water or use it for unnecessary purposes under the present existing conditions. We strongly urge that immediate steps be taken to make definite and adequate plans for a permanent improvement of the city water supply, either by raising the present dam or securing a supply from Neuse river. Unless such action is taken a recurrence of the present situation may occur at any time, and this might mean an epidemic and serious suffering among the citizenship of our community as well as serious loss by fire. We candidly believe that the present situation is having a demoralizing effect on our educational institutions and on all manufacturing plants and the worst has not yet come. The only relief that we can possibly see for the present lies in the hands of Almighty Providence."

the city schools was reached at a meeting of the school committee yesterday morning, more as a precaution than a necessity. The committee preferred to withhold opening, even though the operation of the schools will mean little in the way of increased consumption of water, rather than to be faced shortly after opening with the necessity of a complete shutting off of water from the schools. The decision of an abundant supplemental water supply ready for the tapping at Camp Polk was dissipated by the investigation of Commissioner John Bray, a committee of representatives of civic organizations, and W. C. Olsen, hydraulic engineer. The pump now operating at Camp Polk, according to Mr. Olsen's report, is delivering 154 gallons per minute, and Mr. Bray discovered that every bit of water drawn there is necessary for the operation of the saw mill and machine shop of the State Highway Commission. "So far as delivering this amount of water into the distribution system of Raleigh is concerned," reported Mr. Olsen, "a two-inch pipe would be more than ample, in size and allowing for friction losses in such line, I have estimated the pumping head necessary to be approximately 40 pounds per square inch. However, the small amount of water available from this source would not be commensurate with the expense of the construction of this line and would be negligible in rendering any relief toward the present shortage. Want Permanent Relief. The committee was interested in securing some relief measures, asked for by a conference of representatives of civic organizations and colleges of Raleigh, with the city commissioners yesterday morning. They were Mrs. W. T. P. D., president of the Raleigh Woman's Club; Miss Elsie Riddick, president of the Business Women's Club; Dr. W. C. Riddick, president of State College; Dr. Charles E. Brewer, president of Meredith College; Miss Mary O. Graham, president of Peace Institute; Dr. W. W. Way, rector of St. Mary's. The colleges were anxious to see some steps which will assure their opening without further postponement. The investigation and report was made by a special committee composed by V. St. Cloud, of the Chamber of Commerce; Harry Adams, of the Kiwanis Club; and H. H. Brimely, of the Rotary Club. After outlining the results of its investigations into the feasibility of an additional water supply at Camp Polk, the committee adds: "We urge that the citizens of Raleigh continue to use extreme discretion in the use of water, for it is nothing more than criminal to waste water or use it for unnecessary purposes under the present existing conditions. We strongly urge that immediate steps be taken to make definite and adequate plans for a permanent improvement of the city water supply, either by raising the present dam or securing a supply from Neuse river. Unless such action is taken a recurrence of the present situation may occur at any time, and this might mean an epidemic and serious suffering among the citizenship of our community as well as serious loss by fire. We candidly believe that the present situation is having a demoralizing effect on our educational institutions and on all manufacturing plants and the worst has not yet come. The only relief that we can possibly see for the present lies in the hands of Almighty Providence."

the city schools was reached at a meeting of the school committee yesterday morning, more as a precaution than a necessity. The committee preferred to withhold opening, even though the operation of the schools will mean little in the way of increased consumption of water, rather than to be faced shortly after opening with the necessity of a complete shutting off of water from the schools. The decision of an abundant supplemental water supply ready for the tapping at Camp Polk was dissipated by the investigation of Commissioner John Bray, a committee of representatives of civic organizations, and W. C. Olsen, hydraulic engineer. The pump now operating at Camp Polk, according to Mr. Olsen's report, is delivering 154 gallons per minute, and Mr. Bray discovered that every bit of water drawn there is necessary for the operation of the saw mill and machine shop of the State Highway Commission. "So far as delivering this amount of water into the distribution system of Raleigh is concerned," reported Mr. Olsen, "a two-inch pipe would be more than ample, in size and allowing for friction losses in such line, I have estimated the pumping head necessary to be approximately 40 pounds per square inch. However, the small amount of water available from this source would not be commensurate with the expense of the construction of this line and would be negligible in rendering any relief toward the present shortage. Want Permanent Relief. The committee was interested in securing some relief measures, asked for by a conference of representatives of civic organizations and colleges of Raleigh, with the city commissioners yesterday morning. They were Mrs. W. T. P. D., president of the Raleigh Woman's Club; Miss Elsie Riddick, president of the Business Women's Club; Dr. W. C. Riddick, president of State College; Dr. Charles E. Brewer, president of Meredith College; Miss Mary O. Graham, president of Peace Institute; Dr. W. W. Way, rector of St. Mary's. The colleges were anxious to see some steps which will assure their opening without further postponement. The investigation and report was made by a special committee composed by V. St. Cloud, of the Chamber of Commerce; Harry Adams, of the Kiwanis Club; and H. H. Brimely, of the Rotary Club. After outlining the results of its investigations into the feasibility of an additional water supply at Camp Polk, the committee adds: "We urge that the citizens of Raleigh continue to use extreme discretion in the use of water, for it is nothing more than criminal to waste water or use it for unnecessary purposes under the present existing conditions. We strongly urge that immediate steps be taken to make definite and adequate plans for a permanent improvement of the city water supply, either by raising the present dam or securing a supply from Neuse river. Unless such action is taken a recurrence of the present situation may occur at any time, and this might mean an epidemic and serious suffering among the citizenship of our community as well as serious loss by fire. We candidly believe that the present situation is having a demoralizing effect on our educational institutions and on all manufacturing plants and the worst has not yet come. The only relief that we can possibly see for the present lies in the hands of Almighty Providence."

the city schools was reached at a meeting of the school committee yesterday morning, more as a precaution than a necessity. The committee preferred to withhold opening, even though the operation of the schools will mean little in the way of increased consumption of water, rather than to be faced shortly after opening with the necessity of a complete shutting off of water from the schools. The decision of an abundant supplemental water supply ready for the tapping at Camp Polk was dissipated by the investigation of Commissioner John Bray, a committee of representatives of civic organizations, and W. C. Olsen, hydraulic engineer. The pump now operating at Camp Polk, according to Mr. Olsen's report, is delivering 154 gallons per minute, and Mr. Bray discovered that every bit of water drawn there is necessary for the operation of the saw mill and machine shop of the State Highway Commission. "So far as delivering this amount of water into the distribution system of Raleigh is concerned," reported Mr. Olsen, "a two-inch pipe would be more than ample, in size and allowing for friction losses in such line, I have estimated the pumping head necessary to be approximately 40 pounds per square inch. However, the small amount of water available from this source would not be commensurate with the expense of the construction of this line and would be negligible in rendering any relief toward the present shortage. Want Permanent Relief. The committee was interested in securing some relief measures, asked for by a conference of representatives of civic organizations and colleges of Raleigh, with the city commissioners yesterday morning. They were Mrs. W. T. P. D., president of the Raleigh Woman's Club; Miss Elsie Riddick, president of the Business Women's Club; Dr. W. C. Riddick, president of State College; Dr. Charles E. Brewer, president of Meredith College; Miss Mary O. Graham, president of Peace Institute; Dr. W. W. Way, rector of St. Mary's. The colleges were anxious to see some steps which will assure their opening without further postponement. The investigation and report was made by a special committee composed by V. St. Cloud, of the Chamber of Commerce; Harry Adams, of the Kiwanis Club; and H. H. Brimely, of the Rotary Club. After outlining the results of its investigations into the feasibility of an additional water supply at Camp Polk, the committee adds: "We urge that the citizens of Raleigh continue to use extreme discretion in the use of water, for it is nothing more than criminal to waste water or use it for unnecessary purposes under the present existing conditions. We strongly urge that immediate steps be taken to make definite and adequate plans for a permanent improvement of the city water supply, either by raising the present dam or securing a supply from Neuse river. Unless such action is taken a recurrence of the present situation may occur at any time, and this might mean an epidemic and serious suffering among the citizenship of our community as well as serious loss by fire. We candidly believe that the present situation is having a demoralizing effect on our educational institutions and on all manufacturing plants and the worst has not yet come. The only relief that we can possibly see for the present lies in the hands of Almighty Providence."

WILL HAYS WANTS NAMES PUBLISHED

around nine cents to around 17 cents is not alone due to the reported short crop but also that the advances of the War Finance Corporation to large co-operating concerns for export and holding for export has had much to do with restoring confidence and boosting the market.

The corporation is now at work arranging its plans for the advance of funds under the farmers' relief bill to banks and trust companies for the use of farmers and that very shortly the plans will be announced. It is the expectation that with the plan in operation there will be a revival of business. Postoffice Figures The Postoffice Department has issued a list of the number of postoffices in the United States. Pennsylvania leads with 3,007, Kentucky next with 2,559; Texas with 2,306, and New York with 2,298. North Carolina is well up in the list with 1,572, in this being 14 first class offices, 64 second, 219 third class, a total of 297 Presidential postoffices with 1,275 fourth class offices. In the entire country there are 52,168 postoffices of all classes, while in the Canal Zone there are 12, and in the Philippine Islands, 458, a grand total of 52,638. Quite a number of jobs to be worked over under the Harding "Civil Service" plan, which has won for itself the name of a "fraud upon civil service."

There have been serious rumors as to how the pellagra statement of the Public Health Service started. Dr. Hayes, of the South Carolina health office, says that the report started in the publicity department of the Public Health Service. What he had gathered while in Washington with conference of state health officers, he said, was that a Mr. Maricott, an assistant in the Public Health publicity office, prepared the statement and took it to Dr. Goldberg, the pellagra expert, for his "O. K." before giving it out to the press. Dr. Goldberg is said to have blue pencilled the whole statement and it was taken away. Next another copy is said to have been presented to Dr. Long, the executive officer of the service, and he is said to have put his initials on it as a mark that it was passed for publication, having given it but a casual inspection, as it came with a batch of other papers from the section of the service charged with such matters. The report continues that Surgeon General Cummings had never seen the pellagra statement until he saw it in the newspapers, and that Dr. Goldberg did not expect to see the article published in the form that it came to him. And President Harding is reported to have read the article in the morning paper at breakfast hour, to have at once called a stenographer and to have written to the Red Cross his letter of the "famine, starvation, and pellagra" business, not having consulted anyone as to the statement made in the paper as being from the Public Health Service. The Postoffice Department announces that the postoffice at Carfax has been discontinued and that mail to that office will hereafter be sent to Old Fort. Another office it announced as being discontinued is that of Fort Barnwell, Craven county, on rural route now from Dover. The mail hereafter will be sent to Dover. Wants Artillery. Congressman Brinson has applied to the War Department for a piece of heavy artillery captured in the world war, this to be sent to Moore's Creek battleground in Henderson county. Jack Warren, of Washington, North Carolina, who was the first alternate in an application to enter West Point, has been designated by the War Department to take the entrance examination which will be held beginning March 22. This is for entrance to West Point in July 1922. A. W. McLean, of the War Finance Corporation, has returned to Washington after an automobile trip of considerable length in time and miles through Maryland, Pennsylvania, New York, Maine, New Hampshire, Massachusetts and Delaware. He went with Joseph P. Tumulty and family and reports a most delightful experience. Back on the job here he had a big pile of accumulated matters to go to, but is fast getting things into shape. The Pension Bureau today announced that pensions had been granted to parties in North Carolina as follows: Dorothy Davis, New Bern; Harley B. Duckett, West Asheville; James Alston, Greensboro, $12 a month; Islay T. Patterson, Rowland, $17 a month; John W. Capps, Murphy $24 a month; Mirion Hallinger, West Asheville, $30 a month; Henry Ward, Jacksonville, $50 a month. Miss Sarah V. Alley, of the office of Congressman Zebulon Weaver, who has been spending her vacation at Asheville and at her home at Cashiers, has returned to her duties here. With her came her sister, Miss Margaret Alley, who will enter the Emergency hospital here to take the nurses course. Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Stokelover, of Asheville, who have spent sometime here, have returned to their home. North Carolina visitors here today are: Dr. and Mrs. G. L. Moore, Lenoir; Mr. and Mrs. Willard Conger, Rocky Mount; W. A. Buys, Belhaven.

Force of Federal Troops On Way To West Virginia to Put Stop To Disorders (Continued From Page One) award of 1920 and that refusal is the cause of the strike out of which the present deplorable situation grew. "The government has a duty to per-

Force of Federal Troops On Way To West Virginia to Put Stop To Disorders (Continued From Page One) award of 1920 and that refusal is the cause of the strike out of which the present deplorable situation grew. "The government has a duty to per-

Force of Federal Troops On Way To West Virginia to Put Stop To Disorders (Continued From Page One) award of 1920 and that refusal is the cause of the strike out of which the present deplorable situation grew. "The government has a duty to per-

Force of Federal Troops On Way To West Virginia to Put Stop To Disorders (Continued From Page One) award of 1920 and that refusal is the cause of the strike out of which the present deplorable situation grew. "The government has a duty to per-

Successful

The Shoe Style Show

We are proud to say that our show went off to the clock and we wish to thank all that came. To those that did not, we will say that you missed a great treat. But wait, we hope to have another. The styles consisted of manufacturers goods throughout. Some made in Brooklyn, New York and Haverhill. Straps! Yes from one to three will be good. These styles now on display. Come! You still have a chance to see these styles.

Our Motto: "More stylish Shoes for Raleigh."

WATCH OUR WINDOWS

Thompson Shoe Co.

"The Progressive Store." 120 Fayetteville St. Raleigh, N. C. Send Us Your Mail Orders.

discontinued and that mail to that office will hereafter be sent to Old Fort. Another office it announced as being discontinued is that of Fort Barnwell, Craven county, on rural route now from Dover. The mail hereafter will be sent to Dover. Wants Artillery. Congressman Brinson has applied to the War Department for a piece of heavy artillery captured in the world war, this to be sent to Moore's Creek battleground in Henderson county. Jack Warren, of Washington, North Carolina, who was the first alternate in an application to enter West Point, has been designated by the War Department to take the entrance examination which will be held beginning March 22. This is for entrance to West Point in July 1922. A. W. McLean, of the War Finance Corporation, has returned to Washington after an automobile trip of considerable length in time and miles through Maryland, Pennsylvania, New York, Maine, New Hampshire, Massachusetts and Delaware. He went with Joseph P. Tumulty and family and reports a most delightful experience. Back on the job here he had a big pile of accumulated matters to go to, but is fast getting things into shape. The Pension Bureau today announced that pensions had been granted to parties in North Carolina as follows: Dorothy Davis, New Bern; Harley B. Duckett, West Asheville; James Alston, Greensboro, $12 a month; Islay T. Patterson, Rowland, $17 a month; John W. Capps, Murphy $24 a month; Mirion Hallinger, West Asheville, $30 a month; Henry Ward, Jacksonville, $50 a month. Miss Sarah V. Alley, of the office of Congressman Zebulon Weaver, who has been spending her vacation at Asheville and at her home at Cashiers, has returned to her duties here. With her came her sister, Miss Margaret Alley, who will enter the Emergency hospital here to take the nurses course. Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Stokelover, of Asheville, who have spent sometime here, have returned to their home. North Carolina visitors here today are: Dr. and Mrs. G. L. Moore, Lenoir; Mr. and Mrs. Willard Conger, Rocky Mount; W. A. Buys, Belhaven.

Force of Federal Troops On Way To West Virginia to Put Stop To Disorders (Continued From Page One) award of 1920 and that refusal is the cause of the strike out of which the present deplorable situation grew. "The government has a duty to per-

Force of Federal Troops On Way To West Virginia to Put Stop To Disorders (Continued From Page One) award of 1920 and that refusal is the cause of the strike out of which the present deplorable situation grew. "The government has a duty to per-

Force of Federal Troops On Way To West Virginia to Put Stop To Disorders (Continued From Page One) award of 1920 and that refusal is the cause of the strike out of which the present deplorable situation grew. "The government has a duty to per-

Force of Federal Troops On Way To West Virginia to Put Stop To Disorders (Continued From Page One) award of 1920 and that refusal is the cause of the strike out of which the present deplorable situation grew. "The government has a duty to per-

Force of Federal Troops On Way To West Virginia to Put Stop To Disorders (Continued From Page One) award of 1920 and that refusal is the cause of the strike out of which the present deplorable situation grew. "The government has a duty to per-

Successful

The Shoe Style Show

We are proud to say that our show went off to the clock and we wish to thank all that came. To those that did not, we will say that you missed a great treat. But wait, we hope to have another. The styles consisted of manufacturers goods throughout. Some made in Brooklyn, New York and Haverhill. Straps! Yes from one to three will be good. These styles now on display. Come! You still have a chance to see these styles.

Our Motto: "More stylish Shoes for Raleigh."

WATCH OUR WINDOWS

Thompson Shoe Co.

"The Progressive Store." 120 Fayetteville St. Raleigh, N. C. Send Us Your Mail Orders.

discontinued and that mail to that office will hereafter be sent to Old Fort. Another office it announced as being discontinued is that of Fort Barnwell, Craven county, on rural route now from Dover. The mail hereafter will be sent to Dover. Wants Artillery. Congressman Brinson has applied to the War Department for a piece of heavy artillery captured in the world war, this to be sent to Moore's Creek battleground in Henderson county. Jack Warren, of Washington, North Carolina, who was the first alternate in an application to enter West Point, has been designated by the War Department to take the entrance examination which will be held beginning March 22. This is for entrance to West Point in July 1922. A. W. McLean, of the War Finance Corporation, has returned to Washington after an automobile trip of considerable length in time and miles through Maryland, Pennsylvania, New York, Maine, New Hampshire, Massachusetts and Delaware. He went with Joseph P. Tumulty and family and reports a most delightful experience. Back on the job here he had a big pile of accumulated matters to go to, but is fast getting things into shape. The Pension Bureau today announced that pensions had been granted to parties in North Carolina as follows: Dorothy Davis, New Bern; Harley B. Duckett, West Asheville; James Alston, Greensboro, $12 a month; Islay T. Patterson, Rowland, $17 a month; John W. Capps, Murphy $24 a month; Mirion Hallinger, West Asheville, $30 a month; Henry Ward, Jacksonville, $50 a month. Miss Sarah V. Alley, of the office of Congressman Zebulon Weaver, who has been spending her vacation at Asheville and at her home at Cashiers, has returned to her duties here. With her came her sister, Miss Margaret Alley, who will enter the Emergency hospital here to take the nurses course. Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Stokelover, of Asheville, who have spent sometime here, have returned to their home. North Carolina visitors here today are: Dr. and Mrs. G. L. Moore, Lenoir; Mr. and Mrs. Willard Conger, Rocky Mount; W. A. Buys, Belhaven.

Force of Federal Troops On Way To West Virginia to Put Stop To Disorders (Continued From Page One) award of 1920 and that refusal is the cause of the strike out of which the present deplorable situation grew. "The government has a duty to per-

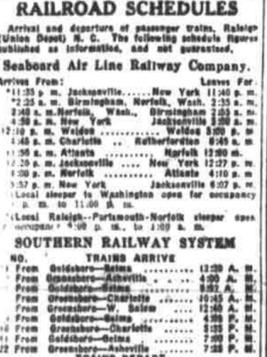

Force of Federal Troops On Way To West Virginia to Put Stop To Disorders (Continued From Page One) award of 1920 and that refusal is the cause of the strike out of which the present deplorable situation grew. "The government has a duty to per-

Force of Federal Troops On Way To West Virginia to Put Stop To Disorders (Continued From Page One) award of 1920 and that refusal is the cause of the strike out of which the present deplorable situation grew. "The government has a duty to per-

Force of Federal Troops On Way To West Virginia to Put Stop To Disorders (Continued From Page One) award of 1920 and that refusal is the cause of the strike out of which the present deplorable situation grew. "The government has a duty to per-

Force of Federal Troops On Way To West Virginia to Put Stop To Disorders (Continued From Page One) award of 1920 and that refusal is the cause of the strike out of which the present deplorable situation grew. "The government has a duty to per-

Successful

The Shoe Style Show

We are proud to say that our show went off to the clock and we wish to thank all that came. To those that did not, we will say that you missed a great treat. But wait, we hope to have another. The styles consisted of manufacturers goods throughout. Some made in Brooklyn, New York and Haverhill. Straps! Yes from one to three will be good. These styles now on display. Come! You still have a chance to see these styles.

Our Motto: "More stylish Shoes for Raleigh."

WATCH OUR WINDOWS

Thompson Shoe Co.

"The Progressive Store." 120 Fayetteville St. Raleigh, N. C. Send Us Your Mail Orders.

discontinued and that mail to that office will hereafter be sent to Old Fort. Another office it announced as being discontinued is that of Fort Barnwell, Craven county, on rural route now from Dover. The mail hereafter will be sent to Dover. Wants Artillery. Congressman Brinson has applied to the War Department for a piece of heavy artillery captured in the world war, this to be sent to Moore's Creek battleground in Henderson county. Jack Warren, of Washington, North Carolina, who was the first alternate in an application to enter West Point, has been designated by the War Department to take the entrance examination which will be held beginning March 22. This is for entrance to West Point in July 1922. A. W. McLean, of the War Finance Corporation, has returned to Washington after an automobile trip of considerable length in time and miles through Maryland, Pennsylvania, New York, Maine, New Hampshire, Massachusetts and Delaware. He went with Joseph P. Tumulty and family and reports a most delightful experience. Back on the job here he had a big pile of accumulated matters to go to, but is fast getting things into shape. The Pension Bureau today announced that pensions had been granted to parties in North Carolina as follows: Dorothy Davis, New Bern; Harley B. Duckett, West Asheville; James Alston, Greensboro, $12 a month; Islay T. Patterson, Rowland, $17 a month; John W. Capps, Murphy $24 a month; Mirion Hallinger, West Asheville, $30 a month; Henry Ward, Jacksonville, $50 a month. Miss Sarah V. Alley, of the office of Congressman Zebulon Weaver, who has been spending her vacation at Asheville and at her home at Cashiers, has returned to her duties here. With her came her sister, Miss Margaret Alley, who will enter the Emergency hospital here to take the nurses course. Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Stokelover, of Asheville, who have spent sometime here, have returned to their home. North Carolina visitors here today are: Dr. and Mrs. G. L. Moore, Lenoir; Mr. and Mrs. Willard Conger, Rocky Mount; W. A. Buys, Belhaven.

Force of Federal Troops On Way To West Virginia to Put Stop To Disorders (Continued From Page One) award of 1920 and that refusal is the cause of the strike out of which the present deplorable situation grew. "The government has a duty to per-

Force of Federal Troops On Way To West Virginia to Put Stop To Disorders (Continued From Page One) award of 1920 and that refusal is the cause of the strike out of which the present deplorable situation grew. "The government has a duty to per-

Force of Federal Troops On Way To West Virginia to Put Stop To Disorders (Continued From Page One) award of 1920 and that refusal is the cause of the strike out of which the present deplorable situation grew. "The government has a duty to per-

Force of Federal Troops On Way To West