BOLL WEEVILS ARRIVE IN HARNETT COUNTY

Seem To Be On Friendly Terms With Citizens As Well As Cotton Plants

Lillington, Sept. 28.—The boll weevil has arrived in Harnett county. Probably this is the only "advance guard" which is now inspecting the fields and assisting the general prosperity of the farmers in this section. But certain it is that the uninvited and unwelcome guest is here. A farmer over in Hectors Creek Township reports a cotton patch full of them, while various persons have seen them in other parts of the county.

There is a peculiar trait about these bugs which are visiting Harnett; or at least it appears peculiar to the folks here who have always had an idea that the pests inhabited cotton fields only. But perhaps the order of boll weevils has organized itself somewhat after the fashion of another clan, with an impudent vizard of the Culex Class as its head, and lesser borers and suckers along the line. The evidence would seem to indicate something of that kind.

Last Sunday afternoon a husky specimen of the boll weevil fraternity was found riding in a handsome touring car. On another occasion a highly respected citizen picked up one of his coat sleeves. A few days ago another gentleman reported that he caught a boll bug walking in a drug store. This accumulation of circumstances go to show that the pests are not respecters of persons or places and that they like just as well to hobnob with the urban population as with the farming element.

Farmers in Harnett county are taking notice, however, of the arrival of the boll weevil. As one representative farmer expressed it yesterday, it is about time those who follow agricultural pursuits realized "what they are up against." Nothing has been found to destroy the boll weevil; but a great many crops can take the place of cotton. Some farmers in this immediate section are aware of these things and are beginning to look toward fruit, berries, melons and grapes as sure money crops to augment their returns from tobacco and corn.

"Sure cures" for tuberculosis are probably as old as the disease itself, says the U. S. Public Health Service. Hypophosphites, creosote, "lymph," inhalants, serum and the Friedman cure have all come—and gone. Just now some old devices in new forms are being acclaimed in the Southwest. But: "I can't say yet what medicine cured me," said the testimonial writer. "I ain't heard from but three sure-cure companies yet an' I'm waitin' for bids from the advertising agents of two more."

FOUNDERS' DAY TO BE CELEBRATED BY TRINITY

Announcement Of Gifts To College Will Be Made By President Few

Durham, Sept. 29.—Gifts which have been made to Trinity College during the past year will be announced by Dr. W. F. Few, president of the institution, at exercises to be held on the occasion of the celebration of Benefactors' Day on October 2. The exercises will be held in the assembly hall of Southgate Memorial building at 8 o'clock in the evening. The celebration of Benefactors' day is in keeping with a policy instituted several years ago.

The College will give a holiday in connection with the celebration. In the morning the Board of Trustees and the Alumni Council will hold meetings. At noon the trustees, alumni, and faculty will have luncheon in the dining hall of the Southgate building. Short speeches will be made at this time. Generally this annual luncheon turns out to be an inspirational service looking to a greater Trinity.

Following the exercises of the evening the Southgate Memorial Building will be thrown open for public inspection. This will be in the nature of a house-warming to celebrate the completion of the building given by the citizens of Durham as a memorial to the late James H. Southgate. The general public is cordially invited to be present and inspect the building.

NEGRO BUNGLES JOB OF ROBBERY

Picked a Sparingly Moneyed Victim Near Fuquay and Is Caught

John Walker, an East Raleigh negro, who landed in the Wake County jail yesterday charged with highway robbery, a plain, unvarnished and undecorated manifestation, had evidently not attended the alleged college for crime of which there has been current rumor hereabouts for several days. He did a bungling job, picked a barren victim, and then got caught.

The robbery occurred near Fuquay

Springe Wednesday night. Peter Dove, a white farmer living near Kanesboro, just over the line in Harnett, was the victim. He had been to Varina in the afternoon, sold some cotton, and put all the money save $2 in the bank. When he was wiser than many farmers who sell cotton. That was the total of his losses.

Some ways out from Fuquay Springs he was set upon by the negro covered with a pistol in the customary manner, and told to deliver. He delivered, but the negro allowed him to retain his mule and wagon. He took the man's watch, and made so in the darkness. Dove shot all similitude of the peace that his name implies, and roused the neighborhood.

Bloodhounds were acquired from Reelford, some 70 miles away, and some from Durham, according to reports reaching Raleigh. Diligent search was instituted, and the hounds snored many trails. Yesterday morning another searching party visited the railroad construction camp near McCollers. Walker was recognized

RACE FOR SOLICITOR TO BE A LIVELY AFFAIR

Greensboro, Sept. 29.—Although the first primary election in Guilford county is becoming more and more the topic of conversation. This conversation has spread from among the professionals and is now heard on the streets of the city and in the rural districts of the county.

The latest development in the situation preparatory to the campaign next summer is the announcement by O. C. Cox, of the Greensboro bar of his entrance into the race for the position of solicitor of the 12th judicial district.

Mr. Cox is the fourth man to announce formally his intention of seeking the place held for the past several years by John C. Bower of the Lexington bar. Mr. Bower has let it become generally understood that owing to the state of his health he will not seek re-election therefore three men had announced their candidacy prior to the announcement made by the Greensboro man today.

The other men already in the race are J. F. Spruill, of Lexington; J. Allen Austin of High Point and T. W. Albertson also of High Point.
