

BANQUET CLOSES KIWANIS MEETING

Brilliant Social Feature Largely Attended; W. B. Merrimon Named Governor

Greensboro, Oct. 27.—A rousing big banquet, at which good fellowship spilled over as Kiwanian mingled with brother Kiwanian and with the ladies attending the convention of the clubs of the Carolina district, brought the two-day fall convention to a close here tonight. The banquet was served in the dining room of the North Carolina College for Women and although the walls have looked upon some sumptuous scenes, it was generally conceded that nothing had been held there to rival the banquet staged for the Kiwanians.

Business was the order of the day in the final session of the convention this afternoon, officers being elected and Columbia, South Carolina, selected as the place at which to hold the convention next spring.

Merrimon Named Governor.
W. B. Merrimon, of Greensboro, was elected governor of the Carolina district. Mr. Merrimon was elected by a majority of one vote on the second ballot, he and William A. Lucas, of Wilson, having tied on the first ballot. Mr. Lucas after the final ballot asked that the vote for the Greensboro man be made unanimous.

Lieutenant governors were elected as follows, the convention voting unanimously for each: E. E. Wheeler, of Asheville; Alvin Lumpkin, of Columbia, S. C.; Rev. James Turner, of Greenville, N. C.; and James F. Crook, of Spartanburg, S. C.

The by-laws of the district provide that the secretary shall reside in the same town as the governor, so the convention agreed to leave the selection of a district secretary with the Greensboro club.

Near International Head.
This morning's session was also devoted in large part to business although Harry E. Karr, of Baltimore, president of Kiwanis International, made one of the strongest of the many strong talks that have featured the convention.

The clubs of the district, through resolutions adopted by the convention, went on record as favoring the teaching of the United States Constitution in the schools of North and South Carolina and the general assemblies of each State will be memorialized to pass a law making its teaching compulsory.

Support Conference.
The convention expressed opposition to all wars and will send a copy of a resolution urging success for the conference on the limitation of armaments to the conference to be held in Washington.

Straightway the convention adopted an idea advanced by Col. Junius Harden, and the Burlington club, looking to early the establishment of a Kiwanis military institute. "Teach the boys how to fight," shouted Col. Harden, in a talk backing up his plan while a thunder roll of applause attested to the feeling of the convention. Col. Harden's plan was referred to a committee of five men to report upon its possibilities at the next convention.

The friends of one convention a year and the district will still have two conventions each year.

Says War is Over.
President Karr in his talk, stressed the great need for the people of the country to realize that the war is over and he thinks that Kiwanis can play a great part in teaching there is now no war. He characterized the business man who makes a great profit as being dishonest, as he also did the working man who demands more pay than an honest day's work is worth. When all classes of men realize that they have got to come back to the old sound standard, then will the country really get on its feet again, he said.

Members of the convention began leaving for their homes tonight, all declaring that the convention will go down in history as one of the greatest ever held since the district was organized. All are looking forward to great things in Kiwanis during the coming year and Governor Merrimon and retiring Governor Tom Arnold told that plenty of work remains to be done.

NOTED ENGLISH WRITER ARRIVES IN AMERICA TO REPORT ARMS CONFERENCE

New York, Oct. 27.—H. G. Wells, the noted English publicist, who comes to America at the invitation of the Chicago Tribune, the New York World and associated newspapers including The News and Observer to report the Washington arms conference, arrived in New York late today aboard the steamship Adriatic. And within a few days will proceed to Washington. The Wells articles in the News and Observer will commence about a week before the conference assemblies in Washington.

To the editor of the News and Observer and the editor of other papers for whom he will report the conference, Mr. Wells tonight sent the following message:

"I consider it a great privilege to witness the meeting and deliberations at Washington, where I hope to see a new chapter beginning in the history of mankind. I anticipate complete revision of the hasty and disastrous decisions at Versailles, the establishment of some world-wide control of the present monetary and economic chaos and the foundation of a new and more just and generous system of international relationships in which not merely the victors in the late war but the Germans, the Russians, the Chinese and all sorts of man may have a fair and equal prospect of service and liberty. For no justice or prosperity is possible in the world any more but world justice and prosperity."

BODY OF NEGRO WASHED ASHORE BY HIGH SEAS

Jacksonville, Fla., Oct. 27.—The body of an unknown negro and a life preserver bearing the name "Kona of Roslyn" floated ashore near Mayport, 18 miles from here today.

The only "Kona" listed in available shipping records, here is a sixty-foot motor yacht with home port at New York. The crew of that vessel was given in the records as four men. The Kona was built at Baltimore in 1909.

CREW OF SCHOONER HAD THRILLING EXPERIENCE

Manage To Make Shore After Being Tossed About Four Days By Storm

Havana, Cuba, Oct. 27.—Storm tossed by the gulf hurricane four days in their disabled vessel, Captain Alexander Olsen, of the schooner Cetrico, and fourteen members of his crew have reached Pinar Del Rio, after abandoning their schooner off the sands of San Luis, in southern Pinar Del Rio.

Bound from New Orleans to San Juan Pinar Del Rio, with a heavy cargo of petroleum and gasoline, the "Cetrico" was struck by the full force of the storm the night of October 21 while tacking through the Yucatan channel. The schooner made heavy weather of it until the morning of October 22, when her auxiliary motor went out of commission and she was carried at the mercy of the storm.

By desperate efforts Olsen and his men kept the schooner from foundering and passed within about forty miles of the Cape San Antonio, finding their way off the beach at San Luis on October 24. Seeing that the Cetrico could not be saved the crew took a desperate chance on the breakers and managed to make shore where they slept on the sands all night.

PRESIDENT SPEAKS TO LARGE CROWDS

when the message that the President brought to the South and delivered yesterday at Birmingham is carried to all the people of the South, it will be seen that no man who ever spoke to the people of the South has carried to the people of the South a message more in their interest.

The President's luncheon speech was very brief and was confined to a reiteration of his plea for national unity and of understanding throughout the South.

Draws An Analogy.
In his Grady monument speech the President drew an analogy between the lessons of the Civil War and those of the World War and declared his hope that the spirit of reconciliation typified by Grady could find new expression in the present reconstruction.

STATE DAUGHTERS ELECT OFFICERS

Confederacy," and the late General James I. Motte, former commander of the North Carolina division of the United Confederate Veterans. Mrs. Parsley organized the first Daughters' Chapter in the State at her home in Wilmington.

It was ordered that the scholarships be listed in the minutes in the following order: Mrs. William M. Parsley, Mrs. B. Broadnax, Capt. H. L. Higgins, Orren Randolph Smith, Gov. Zeb B. Vance, and Gen. James I. Motte.

The North Carolina division furnishes six scholarships to girls who are unable to meet their own expenses in college.

Hold Memorial Meeting.
The convention closed its business session at 12 o'clock and entered immediately into the memorial program arranged in honor of the members of the organization, who died last year.

The report of Mrs. Jas. L. Gudder, Jr., of Asheville, as chairman of the Dixie Highway Committee, was enthusiastically received. Mrs. Gudder reported verbally on the progress of her committee and the convention decided to bear the expense of securing a die from which markers will be made to place at the intersection of the highway with every State through which it passes.

Report On Pensions.
The report of Mrs. Henry A. London, chairman of the Committee on Increased Pensions for Confederate Soldiers, was greeted with rounds of applause. Mrs. London pathetically told of the labors of her committee in an effort to have the State pay larger pensions to the men who fought for the Southland. Two months, she said, were spent in working for the bill, which passed the last session of the General Assembly. The bill finally passed, carrying with it an increase of the appropriation from $650,000 to $1,000,000 annually. The first payment under the increased rate will be made to the veterans on December 15.

Twenty-six wives of Confederate veterans are being cared for in the home provided for them at Fayetteville, according to the report read by Mrs. L. E. Fisher, chairman of the committee, representing that institution. Mrs. Fisher spoke of the need of better facilities for caring for the aged wives of veterans, especially for those who are sick.

Miss Martha Haywood, of Raleigh, chairman of the Soldiers' Home committee, made an interesting report on activities of that committee in the interest of the old Confederate soldiers. The report revealed one of the best years of achievement in many, covering everything from minor expenses of the work to the accomplishment of extensive improvements at the home at Raleigh. It reviewed the strenuous days spent with the last session of the General Assembly in securing funds with which to provide adequately for the comfort of those who must be admitted and maintained at the institution.

Procter, accepted the gift on behalf of the church.

Is your appetite uncertain—your digestion impaired?

Why the food we eat may fail to keep us fit

ONE single food element essential to health! We now know that many of our inefficiencies and failures are really due to lack of a health-maintaining element in food—the water-soluble vitamin. Scientists are agreed that without this one food factor we lose appetite and weight and fall off in health.

This is why thousands of men and women who are eating otherwise good and wholesome meals find their energy and vigor slipping. And this is also why many have little appetite and remain in a state of lowered vitality.

Today Fleischmann's Yeast is recommended as a corrective food for overcoming these difficulties, for Fleischmann's Yeast has been discovered to be a rich source of the essential vitamin we need throughout life.

Fleischmann's Yeast is a wholesome, fresh food, assimilated like any other food. Eat it at any time, 2 to 3 cakes a day. You will like its fresh, distinctive flavor and the clean taste it leaves in your mouth.

Have it on the table at home and try it as a sandwich filler or spread on crackers. Have it at your office and eat it at your desk. It is good in milk, and many like it just plain. If troubled with gas dissolve it first in very hot water. This does not affect the efficacy of the yeast. Place a standing order with your grocer for Fleischmann's Yeast and get it fresh daily.

Send 4c in stamps for the booklet, "The New Importance of Yeast in Diet." So many inquiries are coming in daily for this booklet that it is necessary to make this nominal charge to cover cost of handling and mailing. Address THE FLEISCHMANN COMPANY, 701 Washington Street, New York, N. Y.

The need for scientifically tested yeast

Fresh yeast has been proved by recent scientific tests to be a valuable food for correcting run-down condition, constipation, indigestion and certain skin disorders. These original tests were all made with Fleischmann's Yeast. Beware of untested yeast-vitamin preparations that contain drugs or other mixtures. Fleischmann's Yeast (fresh) is a pure food, rich in vitamins, in which it measures up to the high standards set by laboratories and hospitals. The familiar tin-foil package with the yellow label is the only form in which Fleischmann's Yeast for Health is sold.

along the southwest coast from Punta Hiosa, where the gale attained a velocity of 100 miles, to just north of Tarpon Springs. A few miles back from the coast the damage is much less and the path of the hurricane apparently was not more than fifty miles wide.

At none of the gulf coast resorts were any lives lost. A number of houses were destroyed by wind and water at Passerille and Ann Maria Islands, and at Cortez, Indian Beach, Clearwater Beach, Indian Rocks, and there was some damage to wooden buildings on Egmont and Mullet Keys, were Forts Jude and Desoto are located; also at St. Petersburg Beach, Sarasota, Siesta Key and Loughout Key, on the upper coast; at Fort Myers, Sanibel Island, Useppa Island, Hoca Grande and some other points.

Schooner's Crew Saved.
The Mary R. Diebold, a five-masted schooner from Portland, Maine, reached port this afternoon with six men, crew of the fishing schooner Francis of Tampa, which foundered in the gulf Tuesday. The men were picked up about forty miles out and, none was lost. The Diebold had driven before the gale, but escaped with little loss except the sweeping away of deck hamper.

The Gulf and Southern Liner Truxillo, from New Orleans, made port this afternoon two days overdue, storm battered. The Truxillo's steering gear broke during the height of the hurricane and it took hours to make temporary repairs under difficult circumstances.

"I can truthfully say that it was only by the grace of God that we did not sink," said Chief Engineer E. S. Hays.

The Mallory Line steamer Lake Pillsbury came into the bay this morning two days overdue, after weathering the storm outside, only to ram her nose into a reef flat nine miles from her pier. She will be gotten off at high tide tonight.
