

BURLINGTON HOST FOR CONFERENCE

Rev. R. M. Andrews Re-Elected President of Methodist Protestants

Burlington, Nov. 8.—Addresses of welcome featured the evening session of the Methodist Protestant conference, which opened here this morning. The address of welcome was delivered by E. S. W. Dameron and was responded to by Rev. R. C. Stubbins, of Greensboro. The principal feature of the session was the conference sermon which was preached by Rev. R. M. Andrews, D.D., of Greensboro. The preliminary exercises were conducted by Rev. J. D. Williams, of Liberty. Prayer was offered by Rev. G. W. Holmes, of Saxapahaw.

Before beginning his discourse, Dr. Andrews read a few verses of a scripture lesson from the 16th chapter of Matthew. His text was selected from the same chapter, it being the 14th verse: "If any man will come after me, let him deny himself, and take up his cross, and follow me."

Tomorrow morning session will be featured by addresses from the agents of the General Conference Boards and Dr. Elderdice, president of Westminster Theological Seminary. A feature of the day's program that will be of special interest is the missionary pageant which will be presented tomorrow evening at 7:30 by members of the local church.

Conferece Called to Order

The 96th annual session of the North Carolina Methodist Protestant conference was formally opened this morning in the local Methodist church promptly at 10 o'clock. Rev. R. M. Andrews, D. D., of Greensboro, president of the conference, called the annual session to order and two hymns were sung, after which Dr. Andrews led the conference in prayer. Responsive reading was entered into heartily by the large congregation of ministers and delegates gathered for the initial session of the conference. The president of the religious body then read a scripture lesson from the second chapter of Titus, and this was followed by prayer offered by Rev. T. H. Lewis, D. D., of Washington, D. C., president of the general conference of the denomination.

President Pays Tribute

There was a pause then until the ring of a command out on the plaza, the furry of drawn steel as the saliers of the cavalry leaped out again to "present," announcing that President and Mrs. Harding had arrived. The last rites of the day were at hand.

President Submits Report

A feature of the morning session was the reading of the president's report by Dr. Andrews. Some interesting facts were disclosed in the report, and the chief executive of the conference reported that he had visited all of the charges in the conference except three during the year. He reported some changes in pastoral charges in the early part of the year. One new church was reported built at Draper, with a membership of about 70. New churches are being erected at Thomasville and Asheboro, and new parsonages have been built and purchased during the year. The names of several churches were read and placed on the honor roll, having paid both the annual and general conference budgets and their pastor's salary in full. The report also showed that from 51 reports from pastors throughout the state there had been a net gain in membership of 1,093 during the past year. Only one minister died during the year, Rev. C. A. Cecil, of High Point, and the death of the wife of Rev. J. H. Abernethy was also reported. In the course of his report, Dr. Andrews asserted that there are abundant resources and possibilities for growth and development in the denomination. Among the problems mentioned by Dr. Andrews were the need of more money in the prosecution of the work, the raising of the finances for the annual and general conference budgets, the building of the new college at High Point, and the need of more pastors in the conference. The president made several recommendations to the conference for action, which included some changes in several charges, creating new pastoral charges.

Member For 60 Years

Drs. Wilbur and Elderdice, two noted ministers and educators of the denomination, were introduced to the conference. Revs. Starnes and Yearby, of the Methodist Episcopal church, south, were also present to the conference. Rev. W. C. Kennett, a superannuated minister who is the oldest member of the conference, having attended every annual conference except three for the past 61 years, delivered a brief address to the conference.

Democrats Gain In Four States And Many Cities

The afternoon session began at 1:45, with a business period, during which letters were read by the conference secretary. A letter was read from Rev. B. L. Davis, of the North Carolina Anti-Saloon League, and another from Dr. F. T. Tagg, of Baltimore, Md., one of the oldest and most distinguished divines of the denomination. The order of the day at 2 o'clock was an address by Rev. T. H. Lewis, D. D., of Washington, D. C., president of the general conference. Dr. Lewis' address was preceded with the reading of several recommendations of importance which were adopted by the conference. The first applause brought forth by the members of the conference was occasioned by the mention of three women delegates in the conference. Dr. Lewis' address was one of force and conviction, and dealt with the progress of the denomination in the United States with regard to gain in membership and finances. He gave a very hopeful view of the general work of the denomination and his own on board between Saxapahaw and Aberdeen, two 222-1/2 cord tires, 7 1/2 x 1 1/2 size, 7000 lbs. weight, Old Dominion Tread Corporation, Richmond, Va.

statements were very encouraging along that line.

Dr. Andrews Re-Elected. The election of conference officers was a feature of the afternoon session. Rev. R. M. Andrews, D. D., of Greensboro, who has served the conference as its president for the past four years, was re-elected on the first ballot. Dr. Andrews delivered a brief address immediately following his election, in which he thanked the conference for their confidence and trust in him, and asked for the continuance of their cooperation for the coming year. Rev. C. W. Bates, of Henderson, who has served the conference as secretary for the past seven years, was re-elected for another year. He was appointed as his assistant Rev. N. M. Harrison, Jr., of Greensboro. Rev. L. W. Gerringer, of Asheville, was re-elected conference statistician, and C. B. Way, of Burlington, was also re-elected conference reporter. Certain vacancies on the board of conferences trustees and standing committees of the conference were filled by the election of new members. S. C. Whitaker, of Asheville, was elected as lay member of an standing committee, which is composed of one lay member of the conference and the president of the conference. Mr. Whitaker was elected on the second ballot.

Body of Unknown Soldier Rests Within Capitol

Out through the gateway the cortege clattered to find other crowds lining the way under the dull light of a fading autumn day. It moved quickly on through the streets, ringing to the melody of the band and the drumming of the horses' shoes on the wet pavement. On it went, awaiting at last on the great plaza before the Capitol and there the troops again drew up in a line as the casket was lifted down and carried up the wide stairway to be placed on the catafalque in the dim rotunda.

TEST AUTHORITY OF COMMISSION TO LOCATE ROAD

(Continued from Page One) he shorter and one that would serve a population not now served by an improved road. The plaintiff denies the power of the State Highway Commission to reopen and relocate a road that has been finally approved by the county road governing body. Further complaint is made that the letter of the day declaring that the "principal towns" shall be connected by State roads is violated because Hubgood, a principal town in the county, is left off the State road. This action is the first that has been raised in the State against the authority of the State Highway Commission to locate the roads that are to be built by the State, and its outcome will be watched with keen interest throughout the State. Hearing will be held in Halifax two weeks from next Monday. The defense of the suit will be prepared within the next few days.

JUDGE BROCK ORDERS UNLAWFUL ARREST OF TWO WOMEN AT SALUDA CAUSE OF INVESTIGATION

Asheville, Nov. 9.—Following the return of two white women from Saluda, 80 miles south of here, to Asheville, early in the morning by unidentified men, and the trial of the women in Superior Court, where they were found guilty of statutory charges wherein a negro was involved, Judge Brock presiding this morning ordered the grand jury to investigate alleged activities of the Ku Klux Klan. The women were arrested on statutory charges wherein a negro man was also arrested and involved in the same case. The women gave the bond required in magistrate court and left the city. About 4 o'clock in the morning they were awakened by three unidentified men and told to dress and return with them to Asheville, the men pretending they were officers to Deputy Sheriff of Polk county whom they secured to aid in locating the women. The women were turned over to a Magistrate with the request that he raise the bond from four hundred and it was raised to one thousand. The men disappeared. Neither the Magistrate nor their prisoners ascertained the identity of the men. The largest crowd witnessed in the Superior court room in years was present when the Magistrate heard the case and found probable cause as to one woman and the negroes. The other woman drew 30 days.

OXFORD ORPHANAGE SINGING CLASS HERE

Will Give Concert in City Auditorium Thursday Night

The Oxford Orphanage Singing Class will give a concert in the City Auditorium Thursday, November 17. The fourteen boys and girls, representing the 292 children of the Masonic institution have a program this year that measures up to the best that the orphanage organization has ever put out. The recent appeal by the committee of the North Carolina Orphanage Association called attention to the need of orphanages, when every citizen was asked to give to some orphanage, preferably the orphanage conducted by his religious denomination or else to some orphanage to which he feels close by reason of other ties, such as social organization. The pioneer orphanage in the State is the Oxford Orphanage, which was established in 1873, and within whose walls have been educated over 4,000 orphan children, who thereby had the opportunity to become good citizens. Today it is caring for 398 orphans, and although managed by the Masons of North Carolina, only about 70 of the orphans are the children of Masons. The other 328 orphans have no report of the Masons other than being destitute, helpless orphan children, for whom society ought to provide the opportunity to become useful citizens.
