ENGINEER KIRKWOOD KILLED IN COLLISION

Runaway Engine from Raleigh Yards Dashed Into Oncoming Passenger Train Early this Morning Killing Engineer, Slightly Injuring Others and Demolishing Both Engines

WRECK THE RESULT OF CARELESSNESS

Carclessness of Negro Fireman Be-Come in About Three O'clock-Leaving It-Yardmen Saw Engine Start But Could Not Get On it to gineer Kirkman Leaves Family.

Through the carelessness of a negro fireman, a powerful locomotive broke loose from the Seaboard four or five minutes, that is until yards this morning, headed north the pressure in the brake cylinders and after running about eight miles crashed headon into southbound pas-

It was about 4:05 o'clock this morning that the accident occurred, just before day light, the regular train being due in Raleigh at 4:30. Two magnificent locomotives are lybeside the track completely demolished and overturned, and the express car is telescoped over the tank from the southbound engine. None of the passenger cars left the track and the passengers, except for a rather severe shake-up are unin-

Raleigh Passengers.

On train No. 33 were Rev. J. E. Cole, superintendent of the Metho-dist Orphanage; Dr. Delia Dixon Carroll and Douglas, son of Mr. H. S. Leard, district passenger agent of the Seaboard Air Line. Mr. Cole, who was returning from Boykins, Va., took the train at Norlina for Raleigh. He says that when the accident occured he had no idea that it was a wreck as the shock was not sufficiently severe, and his sup-position was that an air brake pipe had broken and the brakes suddenly on the main line after being side-tracked at Neuse for the northbound train to pass. Mr. Cole says his train was not traveling at full speed as it was going up hill and had only a few minutes start before the runaway locomotive struck it. Passengers immediately got out of the ears to investigate. The express messenger, C. E. Hudgins of Richmond, Va., was hemmed in his car but was soon extricated by willing He was not badly hurt, be

Mr. C. B. Caley, rector of St. Judge and the Pusey, round house fireman, states that each fireman coming in from his run is required to fill the lubricator of his locomotive, and perform other minor duties before leaving the engine. The runaway engine, No. 42 had come in at 3:30 from Monroe in charge of Engineer Charles Page and Fireman Davis. Mr. Page left his engine at the usual place and Caley, rector of St. Judge and the Nativity, Philadelphia, and Rt. Rev. S. J. Kinsman, D. D., bishop of Delaware. Rev. Hewellyn W.
