The Committee Continues to Act In the President's Favor

MAY TAX SOCIAL CLUBS.

Charlotte Aldermen Said to Have Ordinance for Preparation to Tax Clubs Out of Business.

Charlotte, June 8.—Considerable speculation is being indulged in as to the probable action of the ordinance committee of the board of aldermen in respect to the local liquor problem when the committee comes to draft the new revenue ordinance for the fiscal year beginning July 1. The chairman of the committee has already inserted a $500 tax on social clubs for the consideration of the board, and it is whispered that, at the auspicious moment a proposal will be made to increase this tax to $1,000 with the idea of making the tax prohibitive for the majority of the social clubs.

A few months ago a great howl went up from the citizens and the Charlotte municipal association against the practice of the Charlotte aldermen in licensing social clubs where lockers are maintained for the convenience of members in keeping liquors. The aldermen responded to the pressure brought up them to refuse to license social clubs, by removing the city tax, thus complying with the request. It seems, however, that the existence of the clubs is sanctioned by state law and is not controlled by municipal statute.

The aldermen, therefore, have apparently decided on the high tax solution, both as a prohibitive measure and a source of revenue. The other factor in the combination to make Charlotte more dry than it has been since prohibition was made state-wide, is a disposition on the part of a number of the aldermen to refuse to license drug stores to handle liquor in any shape. The "prescription" in the hands of unscrupulous physicians has proved one of the most successful methods of evading the prohibition law in this city. Many of the druggists, it is believed, would welcome the change suggested, and the institution of some sort of medical depository where all liquors could be secured on carefully safeguarded prescription.
