TWO TRUCKS IN COLLISION

Rescue and Victor Wagons Strike at Fayetteville and Hargett

James Manley, a colored member of the Victor Hose Company was thrown from his seat and injured and both horses drawing the Rescue hose wagon were slightly hurt as the result of a collision at the intersection of Fayetteville and Hargett streets shortly after nine o'clock last night. The companies had responded to an alarm of fire, the Rescue company coming up Fayetteville street and the Victor up Hargett street. The driver of the Rescue company, Lee Justice, did not anticipate a collision as he urged his fast horses onward, and realized his danger only when he saw the Victor team coming up Hargett at a rapid rate.

The Rescue driver turned his team sharply down west Hargett, but too late to avoid the collision. The wagon tongue of the Rescue struck the Victor wagon in the side, and "Bill," the Rescue's prize black, went down in a heap. The Victor company continued to the scene of the fire, though James Manley, one of its members, was left painfully injured. Man and horses will be all right in a day or two, it was said today.

The departments were called out at three different times last night, the companies having responded at noon yesterday to an alarm in the western part of the city. The first alarm last night was turned in at 7 o'clock. A house occupied by a Mr. Hamilton was found to be on fire, but the damage was less than three dollars.

The second alarm was sent in at 9 o'clock. A storehouse belonging to Johnson & Johnson, and containing tar and cork and other inflammable materials, caught. Shortly after 12 o'clock the house again blazed up and the departments responded again. The damage was about $200.

Mr. Sherwood Brockwell, who was elected chief of the department Friday night, earned his salary last night. Mr. Brockwell has always been a fearless and intelligent fighter and he maintained last night the reputation he has won during many years of good service.

"HISTORICAL RALEIGH"

M. N. Amis to Bring Out Another Edition of His Famous Book.

The second revised edition (illustrated)—of "Historical Raleigh," by Mr. M. N. Amis which is soon to appear, will doubtless be the most popular work of its character hitherto published. The scope of the work will be broader than that of the first edition, published ten years ago. The title of the second edition being "Historical Raleigh, Together With Sketches of Wake County and its Thriving Towns." The book will therefore be practically a history of the county, and will, of course be eagerly looked for by all classes of our people, especially the more intelligent. The edition will comprise two thousand copies.

In Police Court.

Several drunks were fined in police court yesterday afternoon. One of these, Charlie Sprull, a one-legged negro, was sent to the roads for 90 days. Charlie is said to be an excellent cook. Mr. M. W. Tyree was fined $10 and costs for speeding his automobile.

Mrs. M. A. McLaughlin, 512 Jay St., LaCross, Wis., writes that she suffered all kinds of pains in her back and hips on account of kidney trouble and rheumatism. "I got some of Foley Kidney Pills and after taking them for a few days there was a wonderful change in my case, for the pain entirely left my back and hips, and I am thankful there is such a medicine as Foley Kidney Pills." ELKS TO PUT ON BIG MINSTREL SHOW

The Raleigh lodge of Elks on next Friday night at the Grand Theatre will present a minstrel show. The entire production is under the personal direction of Mr. Clarence A. Coley, a Raleigh boy who has chosen the theatrical profession and has more than made good. Coley promises to offer the best amateur show ever seen in the city and judging from the array of talent that he has lined up, one is led to believe him. Messrs. Ernest Martin, Everett Upchurch, Claude Pierce and Willie Woodall are the end men who will deliver new jokes and the latest ragtime successes. Mr. Martin during a recent trip to New York attended the Winter Garden Theatre and heard one of America's best song singers, Al Johnson, sing the song entitled "Run, Tum, Tittle." Ernest became infatuated with the melody and brought it back to Raleigh. It will be a pleasure to hear him put it over.

Everett Upchurch needs no introduction. All who witnessed his performance at the Grand a short time ago, agree with Mr. Coley when he declares that Mr. Upchurch has a bright future as a negro delineator. His style and mannerisms could be copied by some of the best black face artists for their own benefit. Theatrical speaking, Everett Upchurch is "hero."

Mr. Pierce of Norfolk who deserves credit for his smooth talking voice which helped to have the New Bland Hotel completed before the convention, will recite a local version of the famous song entitled, "You're Going to Get Something That You Don't Expect."

Then last, but by far not least, comes Willie Woodall, probably the youngest end man ever seen in Raleigh. As a vocal number Mr. Woodall has selected, "Everybody's Doing It," a popular novelty song. This song has swept the entire country, and is a bigger hit than "After the Ball" ever was. The ballads are also well chosen. Mr. Orr will sing, "Bring Back My Bonnie to Me." Mr. Horton will be heard in "Mine,"—a beautiful march song. Max Lavin will demonstrate that his vocal training has not been neglected when he delivers "Dreams, Just Dreams." Walter Coley will cause you to forget that "Down by the Old Mill Stream" is a year old. Willie Heller will show that in addition to selling shoes he can render "Take Me Back to the Garden of Love." Mr. George Sligo will be responsible for "Down in the Deep Let Me Sleep When I Die," one of the most beautiful bass solos ever written. The olio will consist of local and professional talent. Lixy and Mellon will offer an acrobatic and dancing turn.

The Elks' Quartette, Orr, Upchurch, Dix and Ellis have a budget of new songs that will send you home humming. Miss Louise Elliott, a male impersonator, who bills herself as "The Girl in Her Brother's Clothes," will help matters along greatly. Clarence Coley will tell his troubles and talk about his friends. Mr. Coley has a number of new local dafodils to tell about. Dick and Fanny Mason in original songs and sketches will conclude the performance. In addition to the above mentioned features, the voices in the minstrel first part will include Ralph Nowell, Will Wynne, Henry Nowell, Tom King and Morris Goldstein. Prof. Falte's symphony orchestra of fourteen pieces has been secured for the occasion. They are all musicians of the best calibre. That the show will be a huge success goes without saying, as every Elk is working hard.

Seats are on sale at Tucker Building Pharmacy and by members of the Elks lodge.

Printing

Ours is a well-organized office. It gives the customer the best of everything in printing at the lowest prices obtainable. Everybody works. No high salaries paid to figure heads; therefore prices are right. All departments are well manned, reducing cost to a minimum. Our cost system has enabled us to reduce prices lower than they were a month ago, because the departments are becoming more efficient by that system. There are no handling misunderstandings, because all the departments are close together and systematically arranged, and the best motion study found in very large establishments, which increases the cost of production, is eliminated in the
