THE HOUSE BY THE SIDE OF THE ROAD.

There are hermit souls that live with drawn In the peace of their self-content; There are souls like stars, that dwell apart In a fellowless firmament; Their are Joiner souls that blaze their paths Where the highways never ram But let me live by the side of the road, And be a friend to man.

Let me live in a house by the side of the road, Where the race of men go by— The man who press with the ardor of hope, As good and as bad as I. I would not sit in the scorners seat, Or hurl the cynic's ban; Let me live in a house by the side of the road, And be a friend to man.

I see from my house by the side of the road— By the side of the highway of life, The men who press with the ardor of hope, The men who are faint with strife, But I turn not away from their smiles nor their tears— Both are parts of an infinite plan; Let me live in a house by the side of the road, And be a friend to man.

I know there are brookgladden meadows ahead, And mountains of wearisome height That the road passes on through the long afternoon, And stretches away to the night, But still I rejoice when the travelers rejoice, And weep with the strangers that moan, Nor live in my house by the side of the road, Like a man who dwells alone.

Let me live in my house by the side of the road Where the race of men go by— They are good, they are bad, they are weak, they are strong, Wise foolish—so am I, Then why should I sit in the scorners seat, Or hurl the cynic's ban; Let me live in a house by the side of the road, And be a friend to man. —SAM WALTER FOSS.

CITY CLASSES MEET

Baraca-Philathea Union to Hold Meeting Tonight

Interesting Program Arranged for Regular Meeting at Tabernacle—Important Matters Will Claim Attention of Body. This evening at 8:15 o'clock the Baraca-Philathea City Union of Raleigh will hold its regular monthly meeting in the Sunday school room of the Tabernacle.

Among many interesting features of the program, Mr. J. N. Keeling, formerly of Nashville, Tenn., and an enthusiastic Baraca, will discuss "Some of the Dangers of Organized Class Work," and Mrs. H. E. Satterfield will speak of "Some of the Benefits of Organized Class Work." An informal discussion will follow. Special music has been arranged for.

Preceding the regular program the committee on constitution will report a new constitution for the organization and additional officers provided by the constitution will be elected. The Raleigh city union was only recently organized and the various classes are enthusiastic in their purpose to make it the strongest union in the state.

The first Baraca class in North Carolina was organized in Raleigh, and President H. A. Bland, Jr., of the city union is determined that Raleigh shall lead in this broader field. The general public and especially members of organized Bible classes of both sexes, are invited. Those who contemplate attending the world-wide Baraca-Philathea convention in Norfolk, June 22-28, are requested to notify the president in order that the special reduced rate to the convention may be secured.

Big Crush of People at Convention Hall

(Continued From Page One.) velt said: "I haven't the least idea of going." Convention Called to Order. Governor Hadley, Roosevelt's floor leader took his place with the Illinois delegation as commanding as that occupied by James E. Watson, Taft's floor leader. Victor Rosewater, acting chairman of the national committee, began pointing for order at 12:02 p. m. When Rosewater called the convention to order, the sergeant at arms and a small army of assistants began clearing the aisles and attempting to restore order. Great confusion prevailed. Policemen were sent to different delegations to urge them to be quiet. Silence was secured at 12:15. A moment later a flash photograph was taken of the convention. The flash explosion set off one of the decorations afire. After smouldering a few minutes firemen extinguished it. The band struck up the "Star Spangled Banner and everybody stood. Rev. Father Callahan invoked divine blessing. The introduction was greeted with applause. Many delegates murmured the Lord's prayer with the clergyman.

Father Callaghan's Prayer. The prayer of Father Callaghan was as follows: "In the Name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost, Amen. "Oh Almighty Eternal, and All Wise God, direct all our actions by Thy Holy inspiration, so that every prayer and every work of ours may always begin from Thee, and by Thee be happily ended, through Jesus Christ, our Lord, who taught us to pray. "Our Father, who art in Heaven, hallowed be Thy name. Thy Kingdom come. Thy will be done on earth as it is in Heaven. Give us this day our daily bread, and forgive us our trespasses as we forgive those who trespass against us. And lead us not into temptation, but deliver us from evil, Amen. "In the Name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost, Amen."

After the clergyman's prayer, Secretary Hayward read the call for the convention. The moment the call was completed Governor Hadley was on his feet. Hadley, after being recognized, stated he rose to a question of information. The governor was beckoned to the stage where he made his way amid applause. Hadley here stated that his question, which involved a substitution of the roll of delegates prepared by the Roosevelt forces for the temporary roll prepared by the national committee, Watson, the Taft floor leader, who had gotten to the stage, following Hadley, stood on one side of the chairman and Hadley on the other.

Hadley said: "I rise to inquire whether the national committee framed for this convention a proper temporary roll call." Watson interrupted: "Mr. Chairman, I make a point of order that nothing is in order before this convention before it is organized."

Hadley and Watson stood facing each other: "I rose to a question of information" answered Hadley, "preliminary to making a motion. Until I had made the motion there was nothing to make a point of order against. I still have the recognition of the chair." Again cheers broke out. Hadley then presented a formal motion to take from the temporary roll the Taft delegates and substitute Roosevelt delegates in certain contested states. Watson renewed the point of order before the list was read. "The point of order seems well taken," said Chairman Rosewater, "but if the governor will address himself to the point of order, we will hear him for twenty minutes, not wishing to be arbitrary." Hadley called to the platform Governor Deneen and former Governor Fort, of New Jersey. Secretary Hayward announced to the delegates that each side would be heard for twenty minutes. A brief consultation between the opposing forces followed. Then Hadley advanced to the front of the stage, and began his argument.

Roosevelt Keeps In Touch. Roosevelt, from his hotel rooms, had a private wire to the convention floor. By this method the Colonel took personal charge of his forces on the floor. The Speeches. Hadley attacked the national committee amid cheers. The delegates listened to Hadley with quiet attention. He said the "question is Texas. Discussing the question of whether the national committee of the republican party has absolute power to form a temporary roll for this convention which can only be changed by a report from a committee of this convention or whether this convention itself shall say who shall sit in it. If it is within the power of twenty-seven men to say who shall sit in this convention, arbitrarily and without appeal, then we have reached the end of representative government in this country." Hadley asserted that any candidate named by the convention unfairly will have a tainted candidacy. Loud cheers greeted this. Governor Fort followed, declaring the convention was making a precedent for all time whether the convention controlled its own personnel. Watson and Soren E. Payne, followed in opposition to Hadley and Fort. Payne proceeded amid great confusion, being constantly interrupted by the shouts of the opposition. Great cheering greeted Watson who contended that no business was in order "because there is no convention until it is organized."

Hadley Declared Out of Order. Chairman Rosewater, declared out of order Hadley's motion to take from the temporary roll the Taft delegates and substitute Roosevelt delegates in certain contested states. Rosewater presented Elihu Root's name for temporary chairman. Cochems of Wisconsin, presented Gov. Johnson, Hadley and Fling second McGovern's nomination. Job Hedges seconded Root's. There was great cheering, the delegates rising, and waving hats and applauding vociferously.

WANAMAKER DISCUSSED. Pennsylvania Message to McKinley Starts Talk of Merchant as Compromise Nominee. Chicago, June 18.—John Wanamaker's name was mentioned in the hotel corridors as a compromise candidate for president. Mr. Wanamaker's name was brought into the situation by a telegram from Francis M. Roberts of Wynnewood, Pa., to Representative William McKinley, director of the Taft bureau, which said: "Nominate John Manaker for president and you will save the situation. He would be elected."

In reply Mr. McKinley sent this: "Beg to say that the gentleman referred to is a splendid man and a republican, but it is the purpose of the Taft delegates to renominate our worthy president, Mr. Taft, whom all loyal republicans will delight in supporting at the general election." William C. Haddock, former director of public works, of Philadelphia, stated today that Mr. Wanamaker would arrive here Wednesday, but at the same time said that the merchant was not a candidate for the nomination.

BANNERS GAVE T. H. HIS CUE. "Stealing Votes is Blacker Than Stealing Horses," One Read. Chicago, June 18.—Colonel Roosevelt made one outdoor appearance yesterday when the Chicago Roosevelt Glee club, headed by a band, stopped in front of the Congress hotel. The crowd began to cheer as the band stopped and called for Mr. Roosevelt. In answer he appeared at his window and said: "You have printed out there (pointing to the various banners borne by some of the marchers) a good many of my views. So all I have to say is that we wish a square deal—and we are going to have it."

The banners pointed out by Mr. Roosevelt bore these legends: "The American people will not tolerate crooked political methods." "Roosevelt for his country; Taft for his enemies." "Stealing delegates is a blacker crime than stealing horses and you know what they do with horse thieves." "Let's bite a hole in Taft's steam roller." The crowd applauded vigorously.
