CALL MEETING OF COMMITTEE

Chairman Webb Will Accommodate Governor Kitchin at Once

KITCHIN WRITES LETTER

Thinks Construction of Rules by Charlotte Observer is "Startling" And Wants Question Decided Immediately—Chairman Webb Has Not Received Letter Yet and Has Not Made Public His Answer—Charlotte Paper Thinks Governor Unfair.

(Special to The Times.) Asheville, July 17.—Charles A. Webb, chairman of the state democratic executive committee, had not this afternoon received Governor Kitchin's letter with reference to calling the state committee together and has not made his answer public, but he will call the meeting of the committee as requested.

Governor Kitchin last night gave out a letter addressed to Hon. Chas. A. Webb, chairman of the state democratic executive committee, requesting him to call the state committee together at once for the purpose of passing on the question, "democratic ticket." Governor Kitchin bases his action on the editorial comment appearing in the Charlotte Observer commenting on the rules adapted by the committee at its meeting here July 9. Governor Kitchin's letter follows:

"In view of the fact that the Charlotte Observer has editorially declared that a voter who declined to vote for the democratic national ticket this fall is entitled to vote in the senatorial primary, thus encouraging the view that men who oppose the democratic party on national matters, may take part in naming a democratic senator and taking the starting position that the democratic ticket does not include the national ticket, I urgently request you in the interest of sound democracy, and for the good of the democratic party to call the state democratic executive committee together without delay, for the purpose of giving a plain and definite construction of the words 'democratic ticket' as used in our convention's senatorial primary resolutions.

"Trusting that the committee will give them their plain meaning, directing that they include the national ticket as well as state, congressional and county tickets, and thus repudiate so dangerous a construction as the Observer gives, I am, 'Yours truly, 'W. W. KITCHIN.'"

The Charlotte Observer today carried the following editorial with reference to Governor Kitchin's charge:

"Kitchin Stirred Up." "The Observer has no objection to make to Governor Kitchin's appeal to Chairman Webb to call the state democratic executive committee to meet without delay to define the democratic ticket in the senatorial primary. The Observer believes that ought to be done for the peace of mind of those who have been disturbed over the idea that the primary boxes are to be thrown open to the republicans. But the Observer does object to the manner in which Governor Kitchin warped its deliverance. It wrote no editorial on the subject. This paper received a letter from Mr. E. L. Harris, of (Continued on Page Five.)"

Many Want to Hear Dr. David Starr Jordan Sunday Night

WILL ARRIVE SATURDAY

Noted Educator, Lecturer and Writer Will be in City Friday Night or Saturday Morning—Subject Will Be "Outlook for Peace or Fight Against War"—Occasion Will be Made Union Service.

The lecture of Dr. David Starr Jordan, president of Leland Stanford University, California, will probably be delivered in the auditorium Sunday night, interest in his coming being so great as to suggest that a church auditorium would not be able to accommodate the Raleigh people who would like to hear him. Several of the pastors have consented to ask their congregations to take part in the service and it is expected that all the churches in the city will be closed for the occasion. If the lecture is not delivered in the auditorium, it will be in the First Baptist church, as originally planned.

Raleigh people will be indebted to Dr. J. Y. Joyner, state superintendent of public instruction, and Prof. F. M. Harper, superintendent of the city schools, for Dr. Jordan's lecture. These gentlemen invited him to visit Raleigh, and he gladly accepted, saying that he was interested in North Carolina and North Carolinians and that it would give him pleasure to speak here. His subject will be "The Outlook for Peace or the Fight Against War."

May Arrive Friday Night. Dr. Jordan, who is accompanied by his daughter, Miss Edith Jordan, will arrive in Raleigh Friday night or Saturday morning, and will stop at Hotel Raleigh. Saturday afternoon Miss Mabel Hale, a personal friend of Miss Jordan, will entertain for the young lady, and the visit of the educator and his daughter will be made as pleasant as possible.

Noted Educator. There are few educators in the world who have attracted more attention than the president of Leland Stanford University. As lecturer and writer his messages have been well received and he has helped to form public opinion throughout the world. He is interested in world peace and will show his audience Sunday night some of the battles that have been won toward this humanitarian end. He is a giant physically and an intellectual.

St. Louis Authorities Investigating Actions of City Hospital Attache. St. Louis, July 17.—The police and hospital authorities are making an investigation as to the blame for placing a portion of a baby's body in a box with a goat's body for burial in the Potters Field.

The undertaker overtook the body at the Potters Field and when the box was opened the body of a goat and a portion of the child's body was found.

The infant died at the City Hospital less than twenty-four hours after it was admitted. When she telephoned the hospital Wednesday night, Mrs. Magos says she was informed the child was doing all right. When she telephoned Thursday night she was told that the child's condition had not changed, although the records show the baby died at 12:35 p. m. Thursday.

LONG SESSION ON LOCAL TAX

Judge Ferguson Coming Back to Give More Time to Dispute

In order that both sides might be given time to present their cases fully, Judge G. S. Ferguson last night adjourned the hearing in the Wake Forest special tax matter until Monday, July 29. "I will have nothing to do that week," the court informed the attorneys at 10:15 last night, "and I can stay with you all the week." The hearing was accordingly adjourned until that date.

The hearing began yesterday at noon and progressed steadily until 3 o'clock, when a blind tiger case was taken up and finished before night, and was continued at the night session. Woman suffrage, a policy never advocated by many Tar Heels, became involved in the debate, the attorneys representing the opponents of the tax saying that the women freeholders should have had a say in the matter of signing the petition for the election. It was contended by the other side that this was the first time the question had ever been brought up and they made merry at the idea.

The question for the judge to decide is whether one-fourth of the freeholders signed the petition for the special tax election and whether the tax got a majority of the registered vote.

Ex-Judge J. Crawford Biggs and Mr. W. N. Jones are appearing for the advocates of the school and Messrs. Armistead Jones & Son and Douglas, Lyon & Douglas are representing the opponents.

TARIFF BILLS GET HEARING

Democratic Senators Win Fight For Consideration of Remaining Bills

This was the result of a conference on the floor of the democratic filibuster, Simmons of North Carolina, in charge of the tariff bills, told the republican leaders, the democrats would resort to every parliamentary device to delay all business unless assured there would be a vote on the tariff measures. The democratic side stand solidly behind Simmons. The wool bill will receive first consideration.

GOV. WILSON MAY RESIGN

Will Make Known His Decision In Regard to Governorship in 10 Days

HAS NOT BEGUN SPEECH

State Leaders and Many from Outside the State Advise the Governor Not to Resign—Wilson so Pressed for Time That he Will Have to "Steal Away" to Write Speech of Acceptance

Sea Girt, N. J., July 17.—Whether Woodrow Wilson resigns as governor or will retain his office during the presidential campaign will be known definitely within a short time, perhaps a few days. The governor said he expected soon to set at rest speculation on this point. Democratic State Chairman Grosscup and other leaders urge him not to resign. Their views were strengthened by party leaders outside the state. It is believed the governor will decide to hold the office at least until the first of the year, if he is elected. His decision, he says, will be announced after he consults further with friends.

The governor is so pressed for time by numerous callers, he believes he will have to "steal away" to write his speech of acceptance. He has not begun it yet and is anxious to start soon and have plenty of time to give mature thought to the platform and the issues he wishes to discuss. He hopes to have it completed ten days before the notification of the nomination on August 7th. Wilson will defer his invitation to Governor Marshall to visit Sea Girt until after the visit of the democrats in congress. The governor said he wanted to have a long talk with his running-mate, but will not be able to do this until two hundred or more congressmen and senators have visited him.

Wilson's list of debatable states which formed the theme of his talk with Underwood yesterday is not completed. The governor said many states' political status had not been taken up, among them Massachusetts, which he regards as "extremely debatable" and Wisconsin. William P. McCombs, national chairman, and others leaders with whom the governor will discuss the proposed personnel of the committee to direct the campaign are expected tomorrow afternoon.

CHANGES IN HIGH SCHOOL

Frank P. Graham to Resume Study of Law at Chapel Hill

ALEX. L. FEILD TO SALEM

Popular Young Teachers in High School to Leave—Miss Oellig Resigns as History Teacher—Successors Are Splendid Teachers—Mr. Graham Exercised Great Influence Over His Students.

Mr. Frank P. Graham, of Charlotte, who for the past two years has been teacher of English in the Raleigh High School, has given up teaching and will resume his study of law at the University of North Carolina. He will be succeeded here by Mr. D. B. Teague, of Cameron.

There has never been a teacher in the Raleigh public schools certainly within recent years, who has had a greater influence over the pupils. Possessed of high ideals, able to sympathize with the boys and girls in their work and play, Mr. Graham was the idol of the high school students. It was he who took a delight in coaching the baseball and football teams and helped the Raleigh boys to become state champions. His influence was always wholesome and he was able to get the most out of the vigorous youngsters who naturally preferred physical exercise to mental exercise.

In speaking of Mr. Graham today, Superintendent Harper declared that too much could not be said about the young man. He was referred to by Dr. J. Y. Joyner at the banquet of the Wake county alumni of the university, as one of the best all round men ever educated by that institution. And none of these things spoiled him and these sincere words, which will express the sentiments of his pupils, will not spoil Frank Graham.

His Successor.

Mr. Graham will be succeeded here by Mr. D. B. Teague, of Cameron, another graduate of the university, and one of the most successful of the state's younger teachers. Mr. Teague has been teaching at Raeford. For three months last spring he taught in the Wake Forest High School. He took a prominent part in debating at the university and represented the institution in two intercollegiate debates.

Mr. Feild Goes Higher Up

Mr. A. L. Feild, teacher of science in the high school, will not be in Raleigh next year, he having accepted the position of instructor in science in Salem Academy and College. Mr. Feild, who is also a graduate of the university and a son of Col. A. J. Feild, has been successful as a teacher and his promotion is in recognition of his merits. He will be succeeded as science teacher in the high school by Mr. C. K. Burgess, assistant of Dr. A. H. Patterson, professor of physics in the university.

Another Change in Faculty

Miss Katharine Oellig, teacher of history, has resigned and will return to her home in Pennsylvania. She was, like Messrs. Graham and Feild, a splendid teacher and Superintendent Harper regretted to lose her. Miss Oellig's successor will be Miss Frances Winston, of Franklinton, a graduate of the State Normal and Industrial College, and a teacher of marked success.

No other changes have been made in the teaching force.

HITCHCOCK BEFORE COMMITTEE TODAY

Washington, July 17.—Postmaster General Hitchcock told the senate committee investigating campaign contributions of 1904 and 1908, today that the records of the fund used in Taft's election as filed at Albany were correct. He could not supplement these reports. Hitchcock said the total collected through various agencies in 1908, slightly exceeded one and two-thirds millions.

Hitchcock testified that no contributions were received from the corporations, because congress had passed the law prohibiting it. He told of rejecting a twenty thousand dollar contribution offered by T. Coleman Dupont, the "powder king." Hitchcock insisted that excepting about twenty-five, all contributions were below five thousand dollars. Hitchcock said that Charles P. Taft, the president's brother, contributed fifty thousand dollars. Several banks made five thousand dollar contributions. He denied that the tobacco trust contributed.
