The chief, however, was factors. in reports of scattering showers in the drouthy sections of Oklahoma Combined with the fa- WHEAT- Open. vorable view of weather conditions in the eastern belt, an idea that trade demand had slackened at the May 13-cent level and a feeling of certainty that a bullish August bureau next Friday had been fully discounted, these reports of showers shook the confidence of recent buy-ers, and as soon as the market broke far enough to catch stop orders, it was seen that the bull support was by no means energetic and that technical position of market had undoubtedly been weakened during the progress of recent advance. It would be decidedly risk to assume that conditions in southwest have yet changed for the better. If RIBS—these showers are followd by dry, July hot weather, they will probably do more harm than good.

Meanwhile, the market is being vened up for over the crop report the outstanding interest is probably still large enough to cause considerable fluctuation which will probably be in keeping with the southwestern weather.
