TARIFF BILLS IN THE SENATE

Fail to Reach Agreement As to Steel and Wool Bill--Republicans Called In

ANOTHER VETO COMING

Unanimous Consent Was Asked in the Senate For a Vote on the Vetoed Bills Tomorrow, But the Republicans Objected and in the Meantime Will Try to Get All Absent Republicans Back to Their Places--Cabinet Meeting Discusses Veto of Bill Which Carries Abolition of Commerce Court.

Washington, Aug. 15.—Effort to reach an agreement to dispose of the steel and wool tariff revision bills already passed by the house over the president's veto, failed in the senate today. Unanimous consent to vote on both measures tomorrow was objected to by Senator Briggs, because of a dispute about the arrangement of pairs. The republicans decided to call in all absent members to meet any attempt by the democrats to repress the vetoed bills. Telegrams were dispatched to all absentees within easy reach of Washington to return to the capital. The republican forces have been greatly depleted during the past few weeks.

President Considers Another Veto. The president called a special cabinet meeting today and read his veto of the legislative, executive and judicial appropriation bill, which has amendments to abolish the commerce court and limiting the tenure of civil service employees to seven years. The message may be sent to the house today.

The house passed an emergency resolution extending appropriations until September 1, for the conduct of the government.

Another Bill Vetoed. Washington, Aug. 15.—The president returned to the house with a veto message, the legislative appropriation bill, because of its amendments to abolish the commerce court and limit the tenure of civil service employees to seven years. BELIEVED BRITAIN WILL BE SATISFIED

Washington, Aug. 15.—It is believed reasonably certain that no further protest will be made by Great Britain on behalf of English mercantile interests against the Panama canal bill if it finally takes the form reported yesterday from the conference committee. British objection was laid against discrimination against British shipping. As such shipping is not now privileged to enter into American coastwise trade, which alone is to receive favored treatment in the canal, that objection is overcome.

STANLEY ATTACKS ROOSEVELT.

In Speech Supporting Bill to Make Available Reports of Commissioner of Corporations. Washington, Aug. 15.—The personal and political relations of Colonel Theodore Roosevelt and George W. Perkins, formerly of J. P. Morgan Co., were bitterly attacked on the floor of the house today by Representative A. O. Stanley, of Kentucky, who is chairman of the steel trust investigating committee. In a speech supporting his bill to make the reports of the commissioner of corporations available for congress, Representative Stanley charged that Roosevelt protected the Harvester trust from government prosecution, and described Perkins as the "go-between of the big business" and the government.

Representative Stanley's characterizations of the former Morgan associate were extremely bitter. He dwelt at length on the absorption of the Tennessee Coal & Iron Company by the United States Steel Corporation and charged that Perkins had been able to secure from Herbert Knox Smith, former commissioner of corporations, information which was denied congress. In his attack on Mr. Perkins, Mr. Stanley said:

"In 1904 Mr. Perkins in his eagerness to aid his party and his hero, Mr. Roosevelt, actually donated $50,000 of other people's money to the good cause. He gave his personal check to Mr. Bliss and was reimbursed by check of the New York Life Insurance Company—No. 7, 283—payable to J. P. Morgan & Co. The proceeds of this check were traced to Mr. Perkins and for this eminent service he was arrested under a warrant charging him with grand larceny."

"Perkins knew the consent of the policy-holders was necessary to save this appropriation of their funds from the guilt of common larceny and that consent was not and could not have been obtained. 'Who were these pilfered policy-holders?' The most pathetic and helpless figure in all this vale of tears. He robbed the widow of her slender patrimony and snatched the last crumb from the pinched fingers of helpless childhood. In all the lushness of greed and gratification there is nothing so gory and pitiless as the creature who did it. 'This man escaped a prison cell by the skin of his teeth by having picked the pockets of a shroud for the use and benefit of the republican party.'"

END OF DARROW TRIAL

Darrow declared the blowing up of the Times building was not the result of a plot to destroy lives. He absolved the McNamaras of any guilt of murder. The dynamite was placed there wrongfully and criminally, Darrow said, but without thought of taking lives.

"WARM WAXES THE BATTLE!!"

NO INTEREST IN CRICKET

Claim the British Summer Game Is Dead--Imperial Exhibition

London, Aug. 15.—Something is so wrong with the British national summer game of cricket that its followers write letters to the editor complaining that the game is becoming decadent. This criticism comes at a time which has been hailed as the banner year for imperial cricket, with teams from Australia and South Africa competing on home grounds with England for the championship of the empire. But thus far the triangular matches have been exceedingly disappointing from the standpoint of attendance. Recently one of the most important county matches attracted only 189 spectators.

Most of the critics agree that the fault lies in the slowness of the game and that something must be done to shorten the matches, which now last generally three days. This plan formerly suited the Briton who took his sports as a solid part of the slow-moving machinery of his existence, but the English temperament has lost much of its stolidity and the metropolitan areas which supply the gates for all games live and play at approximately the high speed which characterizes American cities. The demand for reform is in the air, but the players are apparently satisfied with the present form of the game and in any new rule-making they will be able to override those who are only interested in the game from the spectators' standpoint.

The loss of interest in cricket does not seem to have spread to other sports; on the contrary, other games are enjoying a distinct revival. Even the ancient games of bowls is making great strides, and in Wales the recently introduced game of baseball is becoming very popular.

Sir Roger Casement, who wrote the recent sensational blue book report on the rubber atrocities in Peru, was the man who first brought to light the horrors of the Congo under the Leopold rule. He has been in the consular service for many years, but did not gain his knighthood until coronation year. During his investigation in the Congo region he was frequently threatened with assassination and his wife was many times in jeopardy. When it was found impossible to scare him out of the Congo, King Leopold's press began a virulent campaign against him, and every effort was made to discredit his reports and to smirch his personal reputation. Since 1908 he has been the British consul-general in Rio Janeiro.

An imperial exhibition is to be held in London in 1915, the definite plans for which were made at a meeting held in the royal colonial institute. It is planned to hold the fair in the great hall, designed to be the largest in the world, which is to be completed by the date for the opening. The hall is to be started by the opening of the exhibition. (Continued on Page Seven.)

STEEL BILL PASSED

House Passes the Steel Bill Over the President's Veto.

Washington, Aug. 15.—Repeating his action of Tuesday when it passed the wool tariff bill over President Taft's veto, the house yesterday repassed the vetoed steel and iron tariff bill, within two hours after it had been returned from the white house with the president's veto message. The vote was 173 to 85, a margin of only two votes over the two-thirds necessary to override the president.

The senate, at almost the same time, was engaged in passing the democratic cotton tariff bill sent them a week ago by the house. Senator LaFollette's substitute, which represented the views of the tariff board was voted down 46 to 16, and Mr. LaFollette and 8 other progressive republicans later joined the democrats and passed the cotton bill, 36 to 19. An amendment was attached repealing all but the pulp and paper section of the Canadian reciprocity law.

DR. BROOKS HAS RESIGNED

Is No Longer Head of the Montrose Institution--Dr. Street His Successor

(Special to The Times.) Greensboro, Aug. 15.—Chairman J. R. Gordon of the board of directors of the State Tuberculosis Sanitarium at Montrose last night announced the resignation of Dr. J. E. Brooks as superintendent of the institution and the appointment of Dr. E. M. Street, of Moore county as his successor pending the selection of a new superintendent by the board. Dr. Brooks' resignation, it is said, was due to ill health, but it is known that there had been a lack of co-operation between Dr. Brooks and certain members of the directors.

In a letter announcing the acceptance of his resignation Chairman Gordon highly commends Dr. Brooks for the great work he has done at Montrose and characterizes him as having accomplished a work equal to that of Melrose. He expressed keen personal regret at the necessity of such action.

Dr. Brooks is generally credited with the greater responsibility for the establishment of the sanitarium succeeding after years of effort in getting an appropriation from the legislature of 1907 for the establishment of a state tuberculosis hospital at Montrose. He was chosen as the first superintendent and during the five years of the institution's existence has served in this capacity with marked success. There are now at the sanitarium about 75 consumptives.

Some two years ago charges were preferred against Dr. Brooks' administration by Dr. John Roy Williams of Western North Carolina, but after an investigation held here and lasting several days Dr. Brooks was completely exonerated.

NEARER MY GOD TO THEE

Third Regiment Band Will Play Sacred Music as Procession Moves From Capitol--Funeral to be Conducted With Full Military and Masonic Honors--Honorary Pallbearers--Body to be Escorted by Company B--Details of Funeral.

With sentinels on guard at each of the four doors of the state capitol, with the building draped in mourning, with the flag lowered above and with the rotunda surrounded by beautiful flowers, the remains of Adjutant General R. L. Leinster lay in state today while scores of friends passed in to look upon his face for the last time. The remains arrived in Raleigh at 12:30 this morning from Wilmington, where death occurred yesterday. The body was taken to the home on West street until this morning, when it was removed to the capitol to remain until 4 o'clock this afternoon.

Major Gordon Smith, acting adjutant general, today completed the details for the funeral. The body will be buried with full military and Masonic honors, these rites not conflicting. Twelve companies of infantry will participate in the procession and ceremonies at Statesville. A delegation of Masons will also accompany the remains from here.

The plan is to have the companies nearest to Statesville compose the military escort. A brigadier general is entitled to a regiment of infantry, a troop of cavalry and a field battery of artillery as the funeral escort. This makes a party of more than 800 men under the command of Gen. B. S. Royster, of Oxford, who will be in command of the escort, and Col. G. T. Gardner, of Shelby, will command the regiment of infantry. The companies of the regiment will include nine companies of the First Infantry, three companies of the Third Infantry, the band coming from Asheville.

"Nearer My God, to Thee."

While the body is being removed from the capitol the Third Regiment band will play "Nearer My God, to Thee," and as the procession moves to the depot a funeral dirge will be played. Six non-commissioned officers from Raleigh Ambulance Company will act as pallbearers to Statesville, where six non-commissioned officers from Company E will take their places. INTERNATIONAL LAWS

Monumental Task Before Rio Conference Which Will Insure Uniformity for Nations of World.

Washington, Aug. 15.—Henry L. James and Frederick Van Dyne, two of the delegates from the United States to the international conference for the codification of public and private international law which recently completed its work at Rio Janeiro, have returned to this country. Mr. James, who is assistant chief of the Latin-American division of the state department, reported that the delegates from this country are convinced a substantial foundation has been laid in the Rio conference for the development of a form of proceeding which will insure uniformity of laws and practice in American international relations.

While the task is a monumental one, owing to the difficulty of reconciling and unifying practices based on principles so widely variant as the Latin code and the British and American and common law, it is expected that tangible results will come from work to be performed by a number of sub-committees. To these committees have been assigned some of the most vexatious problems of international relations which will be considered at a meeting to be held in the following six capitals: Montevideo, Lima, Santiago de Janeiro, Buenos Ayres and Washington at dates to be determined by the chairman.

What the conference hopes to make a reality is a common code which might be administered by a great international supreme court.
