AMERICANS AIDED MADERO

But Are Not Helping Orozco Is Substance of Senate Committee Report

THE WORK COMPLETE

Said That Orozco Would Have Been In Mexico City Some Time Ago If He Had Received the Help From America That Madero Received—Evidence Points to Necessity of Intervention to Protect American Interests.

Los Angeles, Cal., Sept. 28.—That American arms, ammunition and supplies were freely shipped to Mexico to aid the Madero revolution, but denied Orozco in the present rebellion, will be the substance of the report of the United States senate sub-committee appointed to investigate the alleged financing of the Mexican rebellion by American interests.

The committee completed its work here yesterday. The members will not discuss the details of the report, but Chairman William Alden Smith says it will embody evidence since the beginning of the Madero revolution, and that large quantities of munitions of war were shipped across the border. Over 500 persons have been questioned at sessions in El Paso, Los Angeles and elsewhere.

The report, it is said, holds that the evidence points to the necessity for the United States to intervene in Mexico, in order that Americans and American interests receive proper protection.

Senator Smith says the testimony of every Mexican examined agreed that "if arms, ammunition and supplies were permitted to enter during the Orozco rebellion the same as during the Madero revolution, Orozco would have been in Mexico City long ago."

The evidence is said to show that no American money has been furnished the Orozco rebellion, but that American funds were used to finance the Madero revolution.

THE SOLDIERS IN CONVENTION

Bull Meese Meet to Name Ticket and Hear Candidate Meares Speak

About 60 or 75 Christian Soldiers gathered in the auditorium at 12 o'clock for the purpose of forming a progressive organization, nominating a county ticket and hearing the Hon. Iredell Meares of Wilmington, the Bull Moose candidate for governor. The soldiers formed a guard about the speaker's stand, but it was thought that when the big gun began booming the guard would be increased by a company or two.

Mr. Everett T. Banks was elected permanent chairman of the convention and Mr. J. J. Baden was chosen as secretary. Speeches were called for, and Col. A. V. Dockery, Editor Lester F. Butler and others responded. Mr. Butler moving that a committee be named to nominate candidates. This was done, while the convention took a recess for half an hour.

It was decided by the convention to defer the matter of nominating candidates to a later date. A delegation waited on Mr. Meares at 1:45 to inform him that the soldiers were ready to hear from their state captain, but Mr. Meares was at dinner. In the meantime, the ranks of the company had thinned a bit, and when the speaker appeared the crowd was not as large as it was two hours before.

DEATH OF MRS. GILMOUR.

Died at Sanford Early Today—Dr. Wilson to Preach.

RALEIGH GOT MAIL ALL TIME Newspapers Were Put Up In Local Postoffice Without a Break

Raleigh is probably the only first-class postoffice in the state that did not discontinue putting up the Sunday papers because of the recent holding that newspapers were just as much perishable mail as any other. He reasoned that a newspaper a day was about the most uninteresting article coming through the postoffice and ordered these placed in the lock-boxes along with hotel mail and other first class matter.

NEW WAITING ROOMS FOR MOUNT AIRY.

The corporation commission today issued an order requiring the Southern Railway to build new and adequate waiting rooms in the town of Mount Airy commensurate with that city's importance and the needs of the traveling public. The road was ordered to submit plans to the commission for the waiting rooms on two sites. The citizens of Mount Airy had petitioned for these facilities.

Parcels Post Maps.

Washington, Sept. 28.—Special maps for the use of postmasters in determining rates on parcels post packages under the new law are being rushed to completion. The government is printing 125,000 postage zones marked in red, so every postmaster may know all the parcels post rates. The law is effective January 1.

LAWRENCE'S STRIKE MAY BE CALLED OFF

Lawrence, Sept. 28.—The question of terminating or continuing the textile strike called Thursday as a protest against the imprisonment of Etor and Giovanni, organizers of the Industrial Workers of the World, was expected to be settled at a mass meeting of industrial workers on Lawrence commons this afternoon. The strike continued today despite the vote of the operatives' meetings last night, to return to their machines. There was trouble when the mill gates opened today, and the strikers posted no pickets. The labor leaders claimed the strike demonstration had been sufficient protest. Mill officials say they open Monday as usual.

Thursday, 42,000 pounds and Friday, 73,000 pounds, all houses being crowded with tobacco and farmers. The farmers are pleased with the prices.

MR. HARRISON WILL PAY FINE

Jail Sentence of Two Months Stricken Out By Judge Ferguson

Judge G. S. Ferguson today struck out the two months' jail sentence imposed Wednesday on Mr. D. Bryant Harrison, the well known Wake county farmer who pleaded guilty to an assault on Mr. C. R. Sorrell, a Wake Forest ministerial student, because the latter had assisted in the elopement of his daughter. This action was taken after Dr. James Meigs had told his daughter that Mrs. Harrison, the wife, has heart trouble and that worry incident to the serving of the jail sentence would be likely to affect her fatally.

His honor recognized the gravity of the offense, he saying that Mr. Harrison belonged to that class of citizens who stand between the upper and the nether millstones of society, and who are the bulwarks of the law. The fact that he had always been a peaceable, upright citizen, against whom nothing had ever been brought, together with the statement of Dr. McGee that confinement would injure an innocent family, moved Judge Ferguson to strike out the jail sentence. "It is better to err on the side of mercy," his honor said in revoking the sentence. The courtroom was stillness itself while the judge spoke. There was hope that this would be the action of the court, but nobody had any intimation of it. The simple statement of the physician, who had been in the employ of the Harrison family for years, was the thing that decided his honor.

MARTIAL LAW RULES AUGUSTA

Disorder Last Night and Two Citizens Killed By State Guard

Augusta, Ga., Sept. 28.—Martial law ruled Augusta today, as a direct result of last night's disorders, when state militiamen guarding street railway property from strikers, killed two citizens and wounded one other. Five companies of guardsmen are on duty today.

The citizens killed and wounded last night were business men, shot by the militia for crossing a "dead line" established to protect the street railway property from the raids of strikers and their sympathizers. Alfred Dorn was killed, driving in a buggy and Robt-Christie in an automobile for running across the line. Quiet was not restored until early this morning.

Throughout the night strikers asserted they would try to rush the line and dynamite the power plant, but labor leaders pleaded for quiet and finally dispersed the crowds.

The immediate cause of the strike is the employes objection to certain rules. The strike leaders say the company seeks to destroy the employes union.

GOOD SPEAKERS FOR THE SOCIETY.

The North Carolina Literary and Historical Society has secured Edwin Markham, author of "The Man With the Hoe," to deliver the principal address at the meeting of the society in October, the date to be arranged to suit the convenience of the distinguished author. Mr. Joseph Daniels will deliver an address on Nathaniel Mason and other addresses will be by Dr. K. W. Boyd, professor of history in Trinity College; Dr. Archibald Henderson, winner of the Patterson cup last year, and Dr. Walter H. Page, editor of World's Work.

OPENING FOOTBALL GAMES

Most of the Colleges Had Games Today—Test of New Rules.

New York, Sept. 28.—Today marked the opening of the football season throughout the American college world. Through the east, west and south, the most important colleges had opening games, are expected to show the first glimpse of the relative strength of teams. In the south the most of the games were of the tryout variety. Of the western teams belonging to the "Big Nine" conference, only three had regular games, but all had practice contests. Yale, Harvard, Princeton and all eastern teams played regular games against important opponents. The games are expected to give the revival rules a rigid test.

—Mr. Thomas A. Partin has returned from New York and Baltimore, where he went to purchase his fall and winter goods.

TENSE FEELING MARKS OPENING ULSTER DAY

Belfast, Ireland, Sept. 28.—Ulster Day, marking the culmination of the Orangemen's protest against the Irish home rule bill, opened peaceably today, but with a tenseness of interest which made the leaders of both parties apprehensive of what might happen. All industrial works were closed, and the town gaily decorated for the great manifestation attending the signing of the formidable "League and Covenant," representing the Ulstermen's protest.

Chief proceedings centered in Ulster hall, where the signing of the covenant was preceded by religious services. All protestant denominations united. Picked members of the unionist clubs and Orange lodges, brilliantly costumed, acted as a guard of honor about the pulpit.

Sir Edward Car and Lord Charles Beresford stirred the crowd to cheers when they arrived. Rev. W. McLean, delivering the chief sermon, declared the Irish question was at the bottom of the war against protestantism, and attempted to establish Roman Catholic ascendancy in Ireland, and begin the disintegration of British empire by securing a second parliament in Dublin.

FROSTS REPORTED FROM SEVERAL SECTIONS TODAY.

Washington, Sept. 28.—Early frosts were reported to the weather bureau this morning from New England, the mountain districts of the middle Atlantic states, the Ohio valley and the upper lake region. Extreme cold waves have started from the northwest Canadian provinces.

TOBACCO SOLD THE PAST YEAR

Over Hundred and Fifteen Million Pounds of Leaf Disposed of

WINSTON-SALEM LEADS

Twin-City Beats All Rivals by Thirteen Million Pounds, Greenville and Wilson Coming Next—Wake County Markets Make Good Showing—Market Fell Far Short of Year Before When Hundred and Fifty-Seven Million Pounds Were Sold—The Figures.

A total of 115,863,407 pounds of leaf tobacco was sold on the leaf tobacco markets of the state from August 1, 1911, to August 1, 1912, according to statistics gathered by the North Carolina department of agriculture and announced today, Winston-Salem, which has long been the banner market of the state, led all rivals by over thirteen million pounds, Wilson and Greenville coming second with nearly ten million pounds.

Apex, Wendell, Zebulon and Fuquay Springs figure rather prominently in the report, while Roxboro, Durham and Henderson are above the five million pounds mark. The sales for the past year fell far short of the sales of the year ending August 1, 1911, when a total of 157,863,407 pounds was sold. The records for the past year follow:
