LOCALS

To Correspondents.

We again ask our friends in all parts of the county to write letters to THE RECORD, and give publicity to any items that may be of interest. Our farmer friends will please not forget that we will always find space for any communications that they may be pleased to send us.

All advertisements must be handed in by Tuesday of every week, in order to be inserted in the issue of that week.

If you wish to buy some good land, read the advertisement of E. F. Moore, and attend his sale.

Read the new and attractive advertisement of our friends, Messrs. Petty & Jones, and call on them when you go to Raleigh.

Personal. We are pleased to meet our former townsman, Theodore D. Waddell Esq., who is traveling as a commercial tourist for a Baltimore firm. He makes friends wherever he goes.

Good Sorghum. We return our thanks to Augustus Alston, Esq., for a jar of excellent sorghum. If his whole crop is like this specimen he had better raise nothing but sorghum, and sell it as New Orleans syrup.

Stores Closed. We are requested to announce that all the merchants of this place have agreed to close their stores on next Thursday (the 28th), that being Thanksgiving Day, so that their customers may take notice accordingly.

Returned Home. Mrs. Lucy Thoms, on Tuesday last, returned to her home in Jackson, Tennessee, after having visited for the past four months her relatives and many friends at this place, from which she removed about 25 years ago.

Committed to Jail. A half-witted negro, named John Cotton, in the employment of Mrs. Martha Mann, of this county, became so very abusive and violent in his manner on Monday last as to start Mrs. Mann so much, that she had a Peace Warrant issued against him, and in default of bail he was committed to jail.

Another Street Lamp. Mr. John T. Mallory has placed a lamp on the sidewalk in front of his place of business, which is a great convenience to pedestrians at night. Come gentlemen, and all of you place lamps at your stores, and thus light the way for your customers and at the same time improve the appearance of your town.

A New Resident. We are pleased to learn that Alvin J. Bynum Esq., has become a resident of our community, having rented the residence of Mr. John A. Moore, on the outskirts of our town. Mr. Bynum is a gentleman of so much energy and such fine business qualifications as to render him a valuable acquisition to any community, and we extend to him a hearty welcome to our midst.

Painful Accident. We regret to learn that L. J. Haughton Esq. met with quite a serious accident on the 18th inst. He was walking down the steps of his residence, when his foot slipped (caused by stepping on a wet leaf) which precipitated him headlong, falling upon his side, and broke the bone of his left arm just above the elbow. He suffered intense pain for sometime, but the arm being soon set, he was much relieved, and we are pleased to say is now doing very well.

Almost a Fire. Yesterday afternoon, in the absence of the family, one of the irrepressible "small boys" fired a toy cannon in the house of Mr. John Womack. The result was that in fifteen minutes afterward, a servant went into the house and found the whole facing and eash of a window on fire, the curtain having been already consumed. She succeeded in extinguishing the flames without much difficulty.

Finally Decided. A telegram was received in Fayetteville on the 14th, giving information of the final decision by the High Court of Appeals at Albany New York, in the suit of the Western Railroad vs. L. P. Bayne & Co., in favor of the Western Railroad Company; where by $425,000 of the mortgage bonds issued by the Andrew Jackson Jones administration, in 1868, and all the other claims set up by Bayne & Co., have been declared fraudulent and the Company finally relieved of all its complications. (Judge Pearson of the North Carolina Supreme Court having heretofore required T. S. Lutterloh to return to the Company $400,000 of bonds, which he had in his possession). This suit had been decided in favor of the company in the superior court and supreme courts of New York, and now finally affirmed by the court of appeals. Thus have the President and Directors of the company fought eight long years at a cost of over $15,000, and any amount of personal liability for prosecution bonds, and advances, to save the State and stockholders. And while the State is two-thirds owner of the Road, the President, Directors and private stockholders, have never asked or received any aid from the State. And this is the only Road in the State in which the State's interest has been preserved in fact, and for which not one cent has been paid by the State since the war, and which can now be handed over to the State and stockholders freed from complications.

The Cumberland Fair.

The Sixteenth Annual Fair of the Cumberland Agricultural Society was opened at Fayetteville on the 12th inst., and closed on the 15th.

We had the pleasure of attending on the 14th and 15th, which were the principal days, and were much pleased with everything that we saw. We were gratified at the very creditable exhibit made in the different departments, and must congratulate our Cumberland friends on their success in being able to hold such a Fair. There was everything concurring to render the occasion pleasant. More delightful weather could not have been desired, so balmy and genial was the glow of the sunshine. Every one seemed to be in a good humor, pleased with himself and the rest of the world, and enjoying the occasion as a relaxation from care and business, and as a pleasant reunion of friends and acquaintances for the social intercourse. This of itself would make a County Fair desirable, even if no other object was accomplished. Several of the adjoining counties were represented, not the least among which was Chatham. Indeed we were quite proud of the exhibit made by our good old county, and it made us wish more than ever that our people would besite themselves and have their own County Fair, where they could exhibit the products of their industry and skill.

FLORAL HALL

was tastily and artistically arranged, and presented quite an attractive appearance. There was displayed in great profusion the beautiful work of woman's hands. There were not simply articles of delicate texture and ornamental design, but also for solid comfort and domestic use. While there were beautiful specimens of skillful needle work, crocheting etc., there were also articles of greater utility, more useful than ornamental, such as home-made jeans, carpets, blankets etc. The exhibit of these latter articles was especially to be commended, and we would here take occasion to urge our farmers to raise less cotton and more wool, and then encourage their good wives to use that wool in making at home those articles, for which we now send so much money out of the country. The best pair of blankets that we saw was made by Mrs. George W. Burns of this county, and we were agreeably surprised to know that such a pair could be made at home. Let all our house-wives go and do likewise. The ladies also displayed their exhibits in which was a sort of house-keeper's paradise, and to enter which made one's mouth water with tantalizing delight. There were displayed in the most appetizing manner, preserves, pickles, canned fruit, jellies, catsups, cordials, wines, honey, brandy peaches, butter, lard, biscuits, rolls, loaf bread, pies, custard, cakes, etc. It was a sight sufficient to "melt the heart of a stoic and excite raptures in the breast of a hermit."

The farmers displayed their products in which was well filled with potatoes, turnips, corn, wheat, oats, flour, hams, etc. The potatoes, both Irish and sweet, were very large, and of a superior quality. Indeed the exhibition of the products of the soil was most creditable, and shows good farming. A bundle of oats exhibited was as good as any we saw at the Centennial Exhibition. We were pleased with everything that we saw in this department, which showed that it was an Agricultural Fair not in name simply.

There was a very good exhibit of poultry, but not of live stock. The racing was by no means the chief attraction. The glass-ball shooting attracted some attention among sportsmen.

Among the exhibitors were several of our Chatham friends. Hugh Peoples, Esq., had some very fine hams, and family flour.

Mr. John B. Harris exhibited flour, sorghum, cherry wine, hogs and shepherd dogs. J. W. Perry brought down a bottle of his good whiskey. Among the ladies, Mrs. G. W. Burns, Mrs. R. H. Cowan, and Misses Carrie Jackson and Lina Mallory made creditable exhibits. On the whole, the Fair was quite a success, and reflected much credit on the exhibitors. On Friday night we understand there was a dance given by the Agricultural Society, of which however we know nothing, not having been honored with an invitation.

Fayetteville Advertisements.

In addition to the advertisements of our Fayetteville friends recently mentioned by us, we now have the pleasure of recommending to the people of Chatham several others. That gallant soldier and genial gentleman, will pay the highest prices for cotton and other produce that you may wish to sell. And our esteemed friend,

J. B. Starr,

Charles Haigh,

not only solicits consignments of your produce, but will sell you Groceries and Hardware at bottom prices.

That enterprising merchant,

G. A. Thomson,

offers a most tempting array of everything that a man can eat, all of which he will sell low. Give him a call.

At the old and reliable drug store of

will be found not only everything usually kept by a first-class druggist, but also Peruvian Guano and Fertilizing Chemicals.

Walter Watson

offers everything you may need in the Hardware line. His exhibit, at the Cumberland Fair, of articles of his own work was much admired, and shows that he understands his business.

Pleasant Marriage.

At the Presbyterian Church, in this place, on the 14th inst., Mr. George W. Thompson Jr., formerly of Chatham but now of Raleigh, was married to Miss Rosa Poe, eldest daughter of one of our enterprising merchants and esteemed friend, Oran S. Poe, Esq. They were attended by ten bridesmaids and groomsmen, who all together presented quite a beautiful scene, while the Rev. P. R. Law performed the ceremony in an impressive manner. The church was tastefully decorated with beautiful flowers, and the marriage bell, suspended just over the happy couple, excited general admiration. The bride and groom departed for Raleigh next day, where we wish them long life and much happiness. This is the third time in less than six months that one of our fair village maidens has been carried off as a prize by our Chatham boys who now reside in Raleigh, and we must here enter our protest against its further repetition.

Vote of the Fourth District, (Official.)

DIED.

Departed this life near Pedlar's Hill, Chatham county, on the 12th inst., Mrs. SALLIE N. RIVES, wife of David E. Rives, and eldest daughter of Mark Bynum, Esq., leaving a husband, five children, and a large circle of relatives and friends to mourn their loss, which is doubtless her eternal gain. A FRIEND.
