Women Fighting

On last Saturday night, at a negro eating-house in this town, two negro women "of the baser sort" became engaged in a furious quarrel, which quickly resulted in their clenching, scratching, gouging, and having a regular rough-and-tumble fight.

New Post Office.

We are pleased to learn that our faithful Representative in Congress, Hon. J. J. Davis, has succeeded in having a Post Office established at Tabor's Mills, on Rocky River, in this county, about half-way between here and Egypt.

Drowned.

We very much regret to hear that Mr. George Dismukes, of this county, was drowned in Deep River, near Carbonate, on the 19th inst. He was attempting to cross the river in a canoe, just above the mill-dam, and the current being very strong, and he not being familiar with the use of a boat, the canoe soon began to be carried rapidly towards the dam, and notwithstanding the efforts of the persons about the mill to assist, the canoe was swept over the dam and Mr. Dismukes drowned.

A Visit to the Gulf.

In consequence of the extension of the Railroad from Egypt to the Gulf, this place is becoming quite an important point. It is named the "Gulf," because of a deep hole in the river near by, and has been so known from the earliest settlement of this county. It is situated fifteen miles southwest of Pittsboro', and is distant from Egypt about three miles, with Deep River between the two places. The Railroad was completed to Egypt in 1862, and there stopped, because of the want of funds to build a bridge across the river.

The road is being built entirely by convict labor. About a year ago 160 convicts from the Penitentiary were assigned to this road. In that time they have graded nearly eight miles and built the bridge across Deep River. They are confined at night in a stockade, erected for them at the Gulf, which we visited, and received much valuable information from Mr. F. M. McDuffie, the acting Steward. From him we learn that the average cost of food per day for each convict was only about six cents, and yet they all had a plenty to eat, and seemed healthy and contented.

Revived.

We are truly pleased to see that the publication of the North Carolina Gazette has been resumed by Mr. J. H. Myrover. Mr. Myrover is one of the most accomplished members of the editorial fraternity, and we wish him abundant success.

The Protracted Meeting

The Protracted Meeting in the Methodist church here, which was suspended for several days on account of the sickness of the Pastor, has been resumed with increased interest, and much good will doubtless be accomplished.

Store Robbed.

On the night of the 24th inst., some thief entered the Drug Store of Messrs. Hanks & Son, of this place, and stole all the money (which fortunately was only about $2) that had been left in the money-drawer. The entrance is supposed to have been effected by means of a false key. The thief was too smart to steal any drugs, as he might have gotten hold of poison.

Bad Colds.

The citizens of this community, in common with all sections of the State, have been suffering from the bad colds that seem to be an epidemic. Nearly every person you meet is snuffing, or sneezing, or coughing. Every family has been visited, and in some cases there have been slight attacks of pneumonia. It is doubtless owing to the very changeable weather, which seems to be as fickle as some young ladies.

Fatally Burnt.

We regret to learn from a friend at Osgood, in this county, of the death at that place, on the 22nd, of the youngest child of Mr. Henry Booker, whose death was caused by fire. It seems that the deceased was left by its mother for a few moments in the care of a little girl, and its clothing by some means caught on fire, which burnt the child in a terrible manner. The deceased was quite a bright little boy, and its sad death is a heavy blow to the bereaved parents.

WRITTEN FOR THE RECORD. Old Chatham.

BY L. J. J. Far back in the past, Our country's brave sires Were called to defend Their altars and fires. The thirteen States united All in one band, To drive the invader Far from the land. The hand of oppression Was by force made to yield And liberty's watchword Was engraved on our shield. Justice was triumphant, Columbia was free; Our enemy, enraged and discomfited, Passed over the sea. From some characteristic, each State and county, Had been given a name; North Carolina, from Carolus, Or King Charles known to fame. Then Chatham, from Lord Chatham, The colonies' glorious defender, Who in Parliament pleaded, And success did attend her. By his generous persuasion, The act taxing tea, Was repealed, and the colonies thus, For a time, were set free. He was called in the Latin, Gallimachus Pitt. Hence Pittsboro', noted not for its turrets and towers, But for its genial, warm hearts, Its groves, its red mud, and its flowers. Ye gods of old Chatham Give sons of your county, And place a town clock On the court-house of your county. Forgive our enthusiasm, If we boast, there is not A lovelier and better Than this "garden spot." Her people are generous, Kind-hearted and brave; Her sons stood nobly and firmly, Their country to save. We honor the living; over those in their Graves Let us weep. But the angels keep vigil, Wherever they sleep. We will enshrine them in memory, And as each year rolls round, We will scatter the roses, And drop a tear on each mound. Her lands to industry, Yield a rich store, And a grateful return; Why ask me for more? Her grand forests of timber, Of oak, hickory and pine; Her fruits are the finest, And luscious grapes on each vine. Her mineral wealth is boundless, In copper, iron and gold, Her coal is exhaustless, Her riches undeveloped can never be told. Let us take courage, the times may seem hard And the prices may fall, But there is a better and brighter day In store for us all. May its RECORD for the future Be as bright as the past; May success ever attend it, And long may it last, To gladden our firesides With the news that it brings, Of very many strange And wondrous things. If we, let us weep, if joy, Let us have with; And honor Chatham's champion, For his truth and its worth. Pittsboro', N. C.

The Fayetteville Railroad.

By reference to the proceedings of the Legislature it will be seen that the Senate has finally passed the bill to aid in the extension of the Railroad from Egypt to Ore Knob, and which is now named "The Cape Fear and Yadkin Valley Railroad." The bill was closely contested in the Senate, and on its third reading the vote was a tie, and the President of the Senate, Hon. James L. Robinson, decided by his casting vote. It is a singular coincidence that the bill chartering the N. C. Railroad Company in 1848 passed the Senate by the vote of the President of that Body, Hon. Calvin Graves, and as time has vindicated the wisdom of that vote, so no doubt in after years the same persons and papers that now so unjustly denounce Mr. Robinson will join in his praises for giving the deciding vote to build this great Railroad. We are pleased to know that our Senator, Mr. Merritt, so ably and successfully advocated the passage of the bill in the Senate. The building of this road through the western part of Chatham, while it will greatly benefit that section, will undoubtedly injure the town of Pittsboro, by cutting off the trade of all that part of the county. While we will deeply regret this, and wish to see our good old town prosper, yet we deem it our duty as a journalist to aid this road all we can, believing it our duty to the above local interests, and contribute to the general prosperity of the county.

Proceedings of the Legislature.

[Condensed from the Observer.] SENATE. Tuesday, Feb. 18. The salary and Fee Bill was taken up. Mr. Graham, of Lincoln, addressed the Senate at considerable length in explanation of the bill. He spoke of the financial distress of the people, especially that portion engaged in agricultural pursuits. Mr. Graham contrasted the cost of the State government now with what it was in 1860, and he reminded the Senate, in this connection, that if the present Legislature failed to dispose of this question, the salaries could not be touched for the most part, during the next six years, as a new set of State officials would be elected before assembling of the next General Assembly. He announced that the bill now before the Senate proposed to save to the State $18,400. On motion of Mr. Dortch the Senate proceeded to consider the bill by sections. The substitute of the committee for Mr. Graham's bill was then adopted, and the Senate proceeded to its consideration. Sec. 1.—Governor's salary $3,000 per annum. Private Secretary $500 and fees. Mr. Erwin moved to strike out $500 and insert $300. The fees were heavy and he thought this reduction should be made. Mr. Erwin's amendment was adopted—ayes 21, noes 16, and section 1 was then agreed to. Sec. 2.—Treasurer's salary $3,000, with one clerk at $1,500. The treasurer shall act as ex-officio treasurer of the Penitentiary Asylum for the Insane institution for the Deaf and Dumb and the Blind, and the Agricultural Department, and receive $300 for his extra services. Mr. Graham moved to strike $300 as the extra compensation of the clerk. The amendment of Mr. Graham to strike out $300 was adopted—ayes 26, noes 16. The second section was then agreed to. Sec. 3. Justices of the Supreme Court 2,500 per annum, payable quarterly. Agreed to. Sec. 4. Judges of the Superior Courts $2,000 per annum, paid quarterly, in full of all judicial duties required, with $30 extra court hire. The section was agreed to, as was also section 5, referring to the same subject. Sec. 6. Secretary of State $1,000 per annum, and fees not to exceed $1,000. Agreed to. Sec. 7. Auditor $1,750. Mr. Graham moved to make this sum $1,500. Adopted, and the section was then agreed to. Sec. 8 Superintendent of Public Instruction $1,500, and no other expenses. Agreed to. Sec. 9. Attorney General $500 salary and fees allowed by law, and $1,000 as Reporter of Supreme Court. Agreed to. Sec. 10. Adjutant-General $300 and no more. Agreed to. Sec. 11. Provides for the quarterly payment of clerks. Agreed to. Sec. 12 and 13. Solicitors $20 each term of court they attend with fees allowed by law. Agreed to. Sec's 14 and 15.—Librarian $500; Keeper of Capitol $500. Mr. Scales moved to amend by consolidating the duties of both these offices under the head of Keeper of the Capitol and paying that officer $800. Agreed to. Sec. 16 Limits the sum for servants and watchman to $600. Mr. Moye moved to amend by providing that no part of the public money hereby authorized to be expended for labor shall be used in any of the State Departments within the Capitol, except the Supreme Court. He proposed to make such of the State officers as required servants pay for them. The amendment was adopted. On motion of Mr. Graham, all the sections having been agreed to, the rules were suspended and the bill made the special order for tomorrow at 11 o'clock, the question being on passage of the bill on its second reading. HOUSE.—Bill to repeal sec. 26 chap. 6, Battle's Revision. This bill provides that the expense of conveying lunatics to and from the Asylum shall be born by the counties. It was discussed and passed. Bill to secure a better condition of the public roads in Granville county, by requiring the overseers to ditch them properly. It is almost a total change of the present road law. Mr. Aims explained the bill, and referred to the uselessness of the present law, which was behind the age. The bill then passed its several readings. (We wish this included Chatham.) Bill in relation to warrants of bastardy. This bill provides that no bastardy warrant shall issue except on the voluntary affidavit of the mother or one of the county commissioners that the child is about to become a county charge. It was argued by Mr. Carter, of Buncombe, and passed. Wednesday, Feb. 19. SENATE.—The salary and Fee Bill was read the third time and considered by sections. Section 1, was amended by striking out $300 and inserting $500 for the Governor's Private Secretary. Section 4, was amended by making the salary of Superior Court Judges $2,500, and nothing for extra Courts. Section 7, was amended by making Auditor's salary $1,250, with $500 for salary of a clerk. Section 14 was amended, on motion of Mr. Merritt, by retaining the Librarian at a salary of $400, and giving the Keeper of the Capitol $600. The bill then passed its third reading and was ordered to be engrossed. On motion of Mr. McEachern, the vote by which the bill for the creation of the new county of Scotland was postponed till Wednesday next was reconsidered, and the bill put on its passage. Mr. McEachern ably advocated the passage of the bill, which he said would be a great relief to poor people, some of whom have now to travel thirty to forty miles to court. One thousand citizens had petitioned for the new county, and not one against it. The people of the region embraced within the proposed new county were a singularly homogeneous people—the descendants of the heroes of Culloden, and the followers of the fortunes of the Stewarts, who sought shelter on the soil now occupied by their children, who have long desired to get together in one county. These people were peculiar in their modes of thought and action, and he predicted that the county records would never show a pauper amongst them, and that the county of Scotland would be one of the best in the State. The county is to be formed from portions of Richmond and Robeson. After long discussion the bill passed its several readings. The bill to compromise the State debt was taken up and passed its second reading. HOUSE.—Bill to repeal the law providing for the maintenance of lunatics outside of the Insane Asylum. The committee offered a substitute reducing the amount paid for outside lunatics to $5. The substitute offered by the committee was adopted. Mr. Foard moved to amend so as to provide that the bill shall apply to persons previously adjudged insane, and Mr. Jones moved to amend by excepting accounts already due. Both of these amendments prevailed. Mr. Richardson, of Columbus, moved to amend by providing that the Solicitor shall represent the State in inquisitions of lunacy. This amendment also prevailed and the bill passed second time. The bill was read the third time and passed. The motion to reconsider the vote by which the House refused to pass the bill to amend the Constitution in relation to the support of lunatics came up as the special order, and prevailed. The question then recurring on the passage of the bill on its second reading, it passed by a vote of 80 yeas to 25 nays. Thursday, Feb. 20. SENATE.—Mr. Henderson moved for a suspension of the rules to bill upon its third reading Senate bill to prevent live stock running at large in the counties of Rowan, Davie and Cabarrus. Agreed to. On motion of the Senators representing them, the following counties were included in the provisions of the bill: Chatham, Cleveland, Gaston, Rockingham, Surry, Yadkin and Stanly. The bill then passed its third reading by a vote of 34 to 4, and was ordered to be engrossed. The special order—the bill to change the name of and authorize the Western (Coalfield) Railroad Company to consolidate with the Mount Airy Railroad Company, and to complete the same was taken up, the question being on the second reading of the bill. Mr. Scales, then proceeded to examine the provisions of the bill. This Road had already cost $1,100,000 from Fayetteville to Egypt, a distance of 43 miles, and of this interest the State owned eleven-fourteenths. There were judgments against the company to an amount of some $50,000 under which a sale of the road was threatened in June next. Nearly all of the sum of $50,000 which the State is to be required to subscribe is to pay the pressing judgments to save the road from sale. It was not proposed to pay this money out of the treasury, but to fund the little debt and save the road once more, that is to issue bonds for $50,000 to save $1,100,000. The bill passed second reading, yeas 25, nays 20. HOUSE.—Bill to establish Gilliam county. This bill proposes to establish a new county, with county seat at Henderson, out of portions of Warren, Granville and Franklin counties. After a long discussion the bill was laid on the table. Friday, Feb. 21. SENATE.—House bill to punish Treasurers of Benevolent and Religious institutions for the wrongful appropriation of their trust funds passed its several readings and was ordered to enrollment. The Bill to consolidate the Western (Coalfield) R. R. was taken up. Various amendments were offered and voted down. Mr. Merritt objected to these amendments. The bill was presented on its merits, and all its friends asked was a square vote on it. Mr. M. then went into an examination of the bill. The credit of the State was merely asked to reimburse the gentlemen who in the hour of need had advanced their own money to save a work in which the State had over one million dollars at stake, and he dwelt at some length on the merits of the measure. After a long discussion the vote was taken and yeas 19, nays 19, whereupon Lt. Gov. Robinson voted in the affirmative and the bill passed its final reading. HOUSE.—Bill for the more speedy trial of criminals, allowing Inferior Courts equal jurisdiction with Superior Courts in criminal cases, was explained by Mr. Rawley, and passed the passage of the bill to provide for the keeping in repair the public roads of the State. The only change worth noting in this bill is that it incorporates the county magistrates into an organization known as the supervisors of public roads. It was discussed by several members and passed. Saturday, 22. SENATE.—Bill to incorporate the Sons and Daughters of Temperance of Chatham county, passed its second and third readings. HOUSE.—Bill to amend the charter of the town of Fayetteville, and appoint a Commission of finance for it passed its final reading. Monday, 24. SENATE.—Mr. Snow introduced a petition from citizens of Wake and Chatham counties in favor of a new county from portions of Wake and Chatham. Referred. Mr. Williamson, pursuant to notice, presented the protest of himself and other Senators against the passage of the bill to change the name of the Western Railroad and to authorize its consolidation with the Mount Airy road, &c. The protest, which was quite lengthy, was read by the clerk. Mr. Caldwell warmly assailed the protest. It stated, he said, was not so, and should not be permitted to go on the Journal as it stood. He considered it libelous, and said it contained statements that were false. Mr. Caldwell, whilst conceding the right of protest, insisted that it did not include the right to make an argument for which no opportunity was given for reply, nor did it admit of a miserable stump speech being injected into it. The President held that the language of the protest was unparliamentary, and said a protest should be confined to a statement of the reasons prompting it. Mr. Williamson, whilst bowing to the decision of the Chair, drew attention to the section containing a distinct disclaimer of all intention to wound the feelings of any Senator voting in the majority. He concluded by requesting permission to withdraw the protest for the present, with a view to some modification. Agreed to. HOUSE.—Bill to regulate fees of Jailors. The House considered in the report of the committee of conference fixing the fee at 25 cents a day for each prisoner, and the bill passed. Bill for exemption of certain personal property from sale under execution came up on final reading and passed. Bill to amend the law establishing Inferior Courts so as to give appeals therefrom on questions of law only. Passed. The President held in relation to appeals from Justice's Court. This bill makes senecties to an appeal bond from Justice's Court liable for the judgment as well as costs. It passed and was ordered to be enrolled. No Opium!
