FOR SENATOR: A. H. MERRITT. FOR REPRESENTATIVES: JOHN MANNING, ORAN A. HANNER. FOR SHERIFF: S. W. BREWER. FOR REGISTER: L. R. EXLINE. FOR CORONER: O. B. STROWD. FOR SURVEYOR: R. B. CLEGG.

LOCAL RECORDS.

Shaw, Hanks & Co. are receiving accessions to their already large stock of Goods, an attractive advertisement of which will appear in our next issue. Give them a call.

Job Printing neatly done at THE RECORD OFFICE. Tickets for candidates printed cheap. Magistrates' blanks furnished at low prices. Have your tickets, hand-bills and circulars printed at THE RECORD OFFICE. Good work and low prices.

Don't forget when you come to town to call and see Bynum & Heade's beautiful stock of Fall and Winter goods, especially their DRESS GOODS AND LADIES' CLOAKS. They will take great pleasure in showing their goods whether you wish to buy or not.

The agony will be over on Tuesday night. Hancock or Garfield will be elected, but you will still be able to buy your goods cheaper at London's Cheap Store than any other place. He is still receiving new goods almost every day. Now on hand a large supply of muslin, satins, large fine silks.

When you come to town be sure to call at London's Cheap Store and see its stock of Furniture. Keeps a large variety of all kinds and sells them cheap. Sugar, coffee, tea, chocolate, macaroni, and all kinds of household goods. Cigars, tobacco, snuff, soap, and all the cheap goods. Remember he will not be undersold by any one at any place.

A Cold Spell.

On last Monday we had one of the heaviest frosts ever seen in this section, and a good deal of ice was formed.

Election Returns.

We hope to be able in our next issue to publish the full election returns of this county, giving the vote for each candidate at every precinct. We would thank the Registrar at each precinct to send THE RECORD at the earliest moment a copy of the official vote.

Be Sure to Vote.

We would again urge every democrat to be certain to go to the election, and do so early. Your presence at the polls early in the day will encourage each other and strengthen the wavering. While we have no doubt of carrying the county, yet every man should act as if the election depended on his one vote. Democrats, do your duty!

Look Out!

We would caution democrats to be on their guard against the circulation of false rumors on the day of election. Examine your tickets carefully and see that all the names are right, for "mixed" tickets will be freely distributed.

Be sure to vote AGAINST the Constitutional amendment in regard to the insane, and if at all and dumb and blind.

Badger To The Rescue.

The republican leaders in this county having become disgusted with the miserable canvass being made by their candidates, and realizing that they must have help, have sent to Raleigh for Maj. R. C. Badger (called by Joe Turner "Rotating Dick") to come to their rescue. Accordingly that gentleman has been actively canvassing this county for the last week, but the people do not seem to appreciate him, as his audiences have been ridiculously small. He spoke here last Monday to five white republicans and about thirty negroes, as we are informed, for we did not have the honor (?) of hearing him. We were pleased to learn that he was very complimentary to Mr. Manning, saying that as a member of the Legislature he would be an honor to the county and State and if he (Badger) lived here he would vote for him. He also complimented Mr. Merritt, so that he seems to have "gone back" on our independent friends, and we doubt not that many honest republicans in Chatham think as he does and will vote for the men who will best represent the county.

Fire. On the night of the 21st inst. Eastern Dorset, of Hickory Mountain Township had the misfortune of having her house burnt up, together with a lot of seed cotton.

Campaign Subscribers. Those persons who subscribed for THE RECORD during the campaign will please bear in mind that their subscription expires with the next issue. So that, unless they renew, next week's paper will be their last. We hope, however, that the weekly visits of THE RECORD have been so welcome that all our subscribers will desire their continuance and will at once renew. Those who wish to renew, and are not coming here next week can send their subscriptions by the persons who bring the election returns.

The C. F. & Y. V. R. R. We stated two weeks ago that on the 23rd of this month the grading of the Cape Fear and Yadkin Valley Railroad would be completed between the Gulf and Greensboro, and we are pleased to learn that the last shovelful of dirt was thrown on that day. All the convicts at work between those points have been put to work on the other side of Greensboro, and the grading is being pushed towards the mountains. Let the voters bear in mind that this great work is the result of democratic rule. Under republican rule twelve hundred thousand dollars worth of State bonds were issued to this road and not a mile built!

Vote of Chatham in 1876. For the information of our readers we publish herewith the vote of this county, cast in 1876, for the Presidential candidates:

Table with columns: Precincts, Tilden, Hayes. Lists precincts like Albright's, Matthews, Bear Creek, Gulf, Egypt, Osgood, Lockville, Buckhorn, Johnson's Store, Booth's Shop, Farrington's Mill, Riggsbee's Store, Baldwin's, Hadley's, Hickory Mountain, Centre, and Total.

Tilden's majority, 271

Has Not Withdrawn.

We stated last week that it was rumored that Dr. Budd had withdrawn as a candidate for the Senate, and left the publicity thus given to the rumor might injure him we will now state that Dr. Budd has not withdrawn. We will state, however, that Dr. Budd attempted to withdraw, and actually sent a messenger here last Monday with a letter to Mr. William H. Hitchcock, of this place, saying that he wished to withdraw and urging Mr. H. to check to take his place. This kind invitation was declined, and as no one could be found willing to take his place Dr. Budd is still a candidate. We deeply sympathize with him, for we hear that he says that he does not wish or expect to be elected, and yet he must be mortified by being badly beaten.

The County Canvass.

Our county candidates will close their canvass at this place next Saturday. We have heard them at several places, and were pleased to see such large crowds usually in attendance, for on account of the busy season we had feared but few would come out. Messrs. Merritt, Manning and Hanner have made most excellent speeches, which cannot fail of accomplishing much good. We very much doubt if there is another legislative ticket in the State equal to ours. We are proud of these gentlemen as democrats and as countymen, and we cannot doubt that the good people of Chatham will show their appreciation of them by giving them the largest vote ever polled in this county. They are gentlemen of the highest personal character, of sound judgment, true to every trust and faithful in all things, and will reflect honor on our county as members of the General Assembly. Why should any democrat refuse to vote for any of them?

The out-look is most encouraging for the election of all our county candidates by handsome majorities. All that is necessary to win a glorious victory is for the democrats to go to the polls. The excellent speeches and brilliant canvass of our candidates, will we think bring out a full vote, probably the largest ever given.

"THE RIGHT OF TRIAL BY JURY, THE HABEAS CORPUS, THE LIBERTY OF THE PRESS, THE FREEDOM OF SPEECH, THE NATURAL RIGHTS OF PERSONS AND THE RIGHTS OF PROPERTY MUST BE PRESERVED." -Hancock's Louisiana Order.

Campaign subscribers to THE RECORD will please renew their subscriptions next week.

A RICH DIALOGUE.

INDEPENDENCE, CHATHAM COUNTY, N. C. EDITOR RECORD: The following is a meagre report of a talk between some of our fellow citizens who seem to be taking a lively interest in political matters this year. The conversation took place within the last few days and your readers will doubtless readily know each of the participants as his time comes to speak: "Hiram"—Well Mr. Mc. have you any of your best with you? I confess that my spirits (though far below par at first) have considerably gone down since "Aaron" came out for civil rights and mixed schools. "Mr. Mc.—No, Hiram, I dread the tickler as soon as I found out that "Tom" was going to come square to the front for Buxton who declares that he would be willing to appoint negro Judges. I had given up the hope of fooling any sensible democrat even if "Aaron" had not declared himself a thorough bred Garfield church and school-mixing radical. "Tom.—Didn't I call Buxton a christian gentleman though and did I not promise if you'd prop me up in my fight against "Steve" and your fellows got beat 'I'd make you both deputies?"

"Hiram"—Yes but there's less consolation in that promise, than there is in Mr. Mc's empty talk, for you have promised the constables in every township the same place. If promises would buy democrats you could beat a whole convention with out any understanding with Chapin's Caucus. "Tom.—Young man, don't get too smart! You promised the radical caucus to support their ticket, if they would only let you call yourself an independent and stand mum. You remember old man Billie kicked clean out of the traces and Mr. Mc. died the hardest I ever did see and will keep calling himself a democrat, though he does it in a low tone. It seems to me we are all mighty nigh in "Aaron's" boat, (there's his tickets sticking out of your pocket now.)

"Mr. Mc.—That is my honest democratic opinion. Aaron has turned out to be a negro equalizer, and as to Hiram there, from what I heard from Leach over in Randolph a few years ago, I think he would call him a genuine swash-buckler, that is to say on both sides of his own conscience, and as for myself I am beginning to feel like a disgruntled old Jo Bunker—and as for Tom you have come so nigh going into every thing that ever come along that I wonder you have never gone through a threshing machine—and expect you will on the 2nd of November. "Hiram"—And I'm afraid it won't be a "threshing" neither—when— "Tom"—Hush boys, lets be sure now to see all the nigger leaders, preachers specially—Get some more sport and pitch into Conventions, call em packed—anything you can think of. "Hiram"—Speaking of conventions makes me feel uncomfortably serious. You know I've been telling how we used to pack 'em and pull wires, I reckon I ought not to have done it, but there's one thing if that last democratic convention was packed it must have spent it's solid strength in getting up skinning machines for candidates. Manning and Merritt convince even the colored voters and if we didn't have them bound to us by the caucus we just couldn't get their votes. Such speeches as they make can't be answered and I don't try. And as for Hanner there's just about three times as much lightning as there is thunder about him. I wish he had stuck to his old notion of not running. "Mr. Mc.—Well you got just what you deserved for dishing your fingers into what did not concern you. Why did our complaint of the justices being appointed by the Legislature when you voted for that measure? Why do you fuss about the stock law when you petitioned for it? Your little pretext that you did it to please somebody else is about what might be expected from a man who tells tales out of school. And then you went so far as to pitch into the management of the school funds of your district, when you had eighty dollars of the money in your own pocket. It is just as I said you got what you deserved. "Hiram.—Now Mr. Mc. you let me alone. Tom has already made me mad about that caucus business, and if you ain't really dead I should think you wouldn't have something of your own to attend to. "Mr. Mc.—Yes and the next thing you know every man will be drinking out of his own bottle. "Tom.—Come boys lets harmonize; you fellers must stay with me tonight. We'll let Aaron go home but first he may write a piece and have it read by David who wishes to be scribe. We'll tell Aaron to say while he is in favor of mixed schools &c, yet he won't open the matter again until we beat out the democrats. That is he must say this all fixed up to suit the occasion. "Mr. Mc.—Boys fix it smooth, or else let Dave read it so nobody can hear it. This is getting to be a particular time. "Hiram.—Yes, and Oran Hanner says we "brindetails" are all alike anyhow, least ways he has been telling it privately, and I've been expecting to hear it from the stump. "Tom.—What does he say we are like? "Hiram.—Like a mule. "Mr. Mc.—Why so? "Hiram.—Because he says we are without pride of ancestry or hope of posterity. "Mr. Mc.—I'd rather you would recollect what was told you in Chapin's and Burgess's caucus, than to be always thinking of Hanner's sayings. "Tom.—There you go again boys; don't find fault. I thought you would help me. And I think if we were to hold a convention two thirds of us would be independent. At this rate we won't fool anybody. And don't you forget it. Just here all three voices became so mingled that your reporter could not distinguish anything from them, so what was said is lost to your readers. Yours sincerely, "BILDAD."

A Sad Death.

This morning, about 5 o'clock, Mr. James Collins, an old and well known printer of this city, died at his residence on the northern part of Wilmington street, under the most distressing circumstances. Last night Mr. Collins went home from his business in apparent good health. After going to bed he complained of a pain in his chest, and asked his wife to give him a dose of morphia. She did so, and he became much worse, and remained in a stupor until death. Morphia had been administered in an over dose.—Raleigh Visitor
