State News.

Hillsboro Observer: Mr. T. M. Klendon has been appointed post master at Chapel Hill.

Raleigh Visitor: C. J. W. H. H. Tucker has a pair of scissors which he has been using constantly for 42 years.

Wilson Advance: B. A. Howard, Esq. of Saratoga township, told us a few days since that he planted last year 50 acres in cotton and had gathered therefrom 52 bales.

Fayetteville Examiner: Judge Duxton the late candidate of the Republican party for Governor of North Carolina, has come out unreservedly in favor of a prohibitory liquor law.

Newbernian: On Wednesday last, Trenton, in Jones county, was visited with quite a disastrous fire; four buildings, much merchandise and a small amount of cotton were destroyed.

Greenboro Patriot, 9th: Messrs. Houston & Bro., one of the leading business houses in Greensboro, on yesterday bought ninety thousand rabbit skins from two firms in Virginia.

Raleigh Visitor: We saw a gentleman from Backhara Township to day who has been a constable and deputy sheriff for 41 years, who can write and read writing, but can't read a half dozen lines of print.

Tobacco Sunny Home: Mr. Arch Stallings, the sawyer at R. J. Taylor's Mills in this place, informed us that he sawed seven thousand feet of one inch plank in six hours and a half on last Saturday. We should say this was pretty good work.

Tarboro Southern: A child of Harrison Boone, colored, was burned to death near the depot on Saturday evening last. It was left with small children in the house, its clothes caught fire and they were too small to rescue the burning child.

Railside Times: We are told that Mr. N. C. Thompson, our clever rail road agent, was eating oysters at Kernedick's when he felt something in his mouth like a backshot; he spit it on the floor and picking it up found it to be a pearl valued at about $25. Pass that plate of oysters.

Goldboro Messenger: A negro named John Hill from Greene county, sold five bales of cotton to Mr. T. B. Hyman, four of which, on examination, proved to contain a box each filled with heavy sand amounting to several hundred pounds. The negro is now in jail here awaiting his investigation.

Greensboro Patriot: Two colored men, Geo. Sherwood and Samuel Tyre, were brought into the city last evening and lodged in Guilford county jail. These men are charged with breaking into the warehouse of Mr. R. S. Phipps, about eight miles north of Greensboro, on Tuesday night and taking therefrom two barrels of corn whiskey.

Raleigh Star: At Thomas' Store, near Piraway Ferry, Columbus county, a few days since a white man by the name of G. M. Long, who was testing the qualities of a horse he was thinking of purchasing, was riding past a large oak tree, when the horse shied and threw him head fore most against the tree, breaking his skull and causing his death in a very short time.

Statesville Landmark: Some of the boys proposed to an Alexander county man who was in town Monday night that they would pay for half a gallon of cider if he would drink it. He said he would if it killed him, and he did. He was so full that the cider stood around his back teeth, and it is no discredit to him to say that after it got hot and began to ferment he split the best part of it.

Pleasant Weather. The pleasant, spring like weather that we have been enjoying for the last few days is in striking contrast with that from which we have suffered for the past three months. Gardeners are beginning to prepare the ground and selecting seed as if the winter had really relaxed its icy grasp. We are pleased to hear favorable reports about the wheat, which is actually, at last, beginning to peep from the ground, and it is hoped that we may, after all, have a fair crop. Several farmers, in this county, were sowing wheat this week, as the wet weather in November interrupted them.

Dairy Products. The Record has heretofore called the attention of our farmers to the profits of the dairy and urged the cultivation of grasses, for which the soil of this county is so well adapted. We are pleased now to note the success that has attended the efforts of one of our countrymen in the dairy business, and publish it for the encouragement of others. Mr. R. C. Cotten, who resides near this place, has three milch cows that at this season of the year are giving ten gallons of milk daily. They are not blooded stock, but of the ordinary breed of the county. A quantity of this milk is sold and with the balance seventy-five pounds of butter are made monthly. The butter is of superior quality and sells above the ordinary market price. A gentleman from Philadelphia was here a few days ago, and was so much pleased with some of it that he bought ten pounds to send home. The secret of the great yield of milk of Mr. Cotten's cows is that he feeds and milks them himself, and knows that they are properly cared for. Doubtless there are many farmers in Chatham who keep many more cows and do not get a gallon of milk a day, simply because they are not attended to. A good cow properly cared for will pay well. If you don't believe it try it.

Winston Leader: Dr. B. Craver, president of Trinity College says of the twelve Cherokee Indian children now being educated there, they are making rapid progress. They are maintained by the United States government, and were sent to Trinity on the 28th of last September. Then they knew not a word of English; now they spell, speak and write well. They will be kept at the college for three years, the object being to prepare them for teachers. The government wanted them, and at frequent intervals an Indian agent visits and inspects their condition, &c.

Asheville Citizen: As we were walking down Main street a few evenings ago, we saw standing in front of a grocery, a young man scarcely eighteen years of age, in a drunken condition, cursing a negro who chanced to be passing at the time. The young man's father then came up, and with tearful eyes and faltering voice begged and implored his son to come and go home. Whereupon the young man, in a violent rage, jerked his son from his father and swore vengeance upon the old man's head if he followed. Instantly the father's head was bowed and he wept as if his heart would break.

News and Observer 10th: A telegram from Mr. James W. Wilson, chief engineer of the Western North Carolina Railroad, says that one of the heaviest rain storms that has prevailed for years is now in progress on the line of the Western North Carolina road. As yet no bridges have been washed away, but the streams are still rising and it is raining heavily. Landslides have occurred at several points. One at the western entrance of the Swannanoa tunnel caught a flat car, killing three convicts and wounding one guard. The road is to-day blocked, but arrangements have been made to transfer passengers and made from Henry to the top of the mountain.

News and Observer: On Thursday afternoon, as Mr. J. H. Myrover, editor of Moore Gazette, and Mr. Richard Battle, of the News and Observer, were traveling from Carthage to the mill-stone quarries, seven miles from that place, an accident befell them which nearly proved a fatal one. The waters of Richard Creek had risen until the stream was one hundred and fifty yards wide, and had washed the bridge away. Ignorant of this, Mr. Myrover drove the horse and buggy into the stream, and when the channel was reached the horse went under in the deep water. Mr. Battle pulled off his clothes, and swimming, released the horse. Then he seized the buggy shafts and towed the vehicle, with Mr. Myrover, who could not swim, in it, safe to shallow water. On the bank stood several members of one of the tribes inhabiting that region, but not one lent any aid. They all looked on as eagerly as if watching a street parade of a circus.

Tarboro Southern: Mr. Lam Lawrence, of this county relates a horrible story of brutality that happened on his place about two weeks ago. A negro named Frank Worsley (mark the name in blood on the tablet of your memory) was endeavoring to drive a young, unbroken steer, owned by Worsley, from the field of Mr. Lawrence, when the animal became (as young ones sometimes will) unruly, and refused to be led. This so enraged the man-brute that he pounded the beast with a club until it fell and the hide peeled off in large pieces, entirely leaving the flesh. Worsley then administered a cema of spirits of turpentine and fried the flesh in a horrible manner. He then placed powder in the same place and ignited that. The powder exploded, tearing away a large piece of flesh. No comments are needed to bring these blood-curdling details to the mind of every sensible, right minded reader. The bare recital of the facts are sufficient. We trust that all cases may be reported to us, that we may publish them to the world and thereby call attention of Justices of the Peace to them.

Charlotte Observer: At a meeting in Wadesboro Monday, it was learned that a majority of the citizen in every township in Anson, except one, favored a no fence law.

Wilmington Review 12th: This morning a little son of Mr. J. A. Hankins about five years of age, was run over by a heavy grocery wagon. The little fellow was sitting in the wagon of Messrs. Hankins & Bates, and as it ran down in a crossing he fell from the seat to the ground and the front wheel passed directly across his head. Fortunately the little fellow escaped with but a slight cut on his ear.

Wilmington Star: Wright Quinn, a man 70 years old, was found murdered in his own house, in Duplin county, near the Jones county line, last week. It seems that he was in the act of getting supper (as he lived alone), when some fiend shot him, and then placed the body in the fireplace, piled a quantity of wood on the remains and attempted to burn them. As yet no clue has been obtained to lead to the identity of the perpetrator of the horrible crime.

A Modern Miracle (?). A telegram from Erie, Pennsylvania, says: "The town of Summit, near here, is excited over an alleged miracle. About thirty well-known citizens have signed a wonderful statement which is published to day declaring that Miss Ellen McQueenin, twenty years old, was suddenly stricken a short time ago with a disease that paralyzed her whole body, which began slowly to wither away. For eight days she lay in a state of trance to all appearance dead. The Rev. Father Maloney came to pray for her, and while in the performance of his religious exercise, animation returned to the corpse like body. The withered limbs resumed their former plumpness, and she arose unaided and walked about. The subscribers to the statement make affidavits to its truth. It is stated that the priest was so terrified at the result of his invocation that he nearly fainted."
