A Military Suggestion.

A correspondent makes the follow ing suggestion about organizing a military company in Chatham, which we commend to the consideration of our young men:

"EDITOR RECORD: As there is at present great activity in military cir cles in the State, and as this is on the increase, I write to make a few suggestions. A great county like Chatham, for a number of reasons, should have some military organization and a revival of the "Chatham Rifl-s," the members of which command ac quitted themselves so honorab y during the late war, would be eminently proper. In view of the approaching centential celebration of the surrender of Lord Cornwallis at York town, no better opportunity for re organization could present itself. Chatham should have at least one company there."

If any members of the old "Chat ham Rifles " do go to the Yorktown must die!"
