For a Little Bird Tells. It's strange how little boys' mothers Can find it all out as they do If a fellow does anything naughty Or says anything that's not true! They'll look at you lust a moment, Till your heart in your bosom swells, And hen they know all about it --For a little bird tells!

Now, where the limit bird comes from. Or where the little bird goes, If he's covered with beautiful plumage Or black as the king of the crows. If his voice is as hourse as a raven, Or clear as the ringing bells, I know not ; but this I am sure of-A little bird tells!

The moment you think a thing wicked, The moment you think a thing bad, Are angry or sullen or hateful, Get ugly or stupid or mad, Or tease a dear brother or sister-That instant your sentence he knolls, And the whole to mamma in a minute That little bird tells !

You may be in the depths of the closet Where nebody sees but a mouse! You may be all alone in the celler, You may be on the top of a house, You may be in the dark and the silence, Or out in the woods and the dells-No matter! Wherever it happens The little bird tells!

And the only contrivance to stop him Is just to be sure what to say-Sure of your facts and your tancies, Sure of your work and your play Be honest, be brave and be kindly, Be gentle and loving as well, And then you can laugh at the stories The little bird tells!

The Super-titions of Solid Men.

A couple of solid citizens-solid in woirdupois as well as in their bank accounts-were in a Georgetown, Col., horse-car, when a man came limping aboard, apparently suffering from rheumatism. One of the solid men remarked :

"I've never had a twinge of rheumatism in my life," and at the same time he took from his pocket a horse chestnut, and he played with it with an air that seemed to imply-"This is the little joker that did the business." with white satin and plumes, or plainly displayed his chestnut charm with a contented air than solid citizen No. 2 also drew from his pantaloons pocket a horse chestnut.

The lame man who had got aboard the car and was the cause of this episode put his hands into his pocket and drew out a horse-chestnut, and held it up to the gaze of the others. A ripple of laughter went up, and the two solid citizens who had pinned their faith to the nut anticipated a set-back from the lame man. But the latter remarked:

Will, 1613 Frankford Ave., Philadelphia, Pa: Some time since I received a severe injury to my back, by falling against the sharp edge of a marble step, the stone penetrating it at least a half-inch, and leaving a very painful wound. After suffering for a time, I concluded to apply St. Jacobs Oil, and am pleased to say, that the results exceeded my expectations. It speedily allayed all pain and swelling and by continued use, made a perfect cure. I really think it the most efficacious liniment I ever used.

Draw Sm.—I do not believe in puffing, nor would I nelecte a humbing, but I consider it no more than real justice to speak well of Viesting. believing it to be an excellent medicine. I have used several bottlee of it to my entire satisfaction and great reliet from an inexplicable Nervousness which had caused me great suffering and eleopless nights; have walked the fleor and resorted to different methods for relief, to no purchase, I finally thought I would give Vegeting a trial, with little raith, I will admit; but to me surprise and great relief, a few deses convineed me that I had got hold of the right thing for my difficulty. It sent out humor from my blood that, I have no doubt, was the cause of the misery I endured, and I found relief as seon as a medicine could relieve a disease of that kind. When I began its use I seldom got a night's sleep, or half a one, and my arpetite was poor, and, as a consequence, I was running down rapidly, but after a few deers I saw a radical change every way, and am thoroughly satisfied with Vegetine, and recomend it to any person suffering as I did.
