

LOCAL RECORDS.

Miss Kate Hawks will resume the exercises of her school on next Monday...

Jon Partridge done in the best style and at the lowest price at the Record office...

Prohibition is defeated, but W. L. London is still selling the best Goods at the lowest prices...

Different things very often go down about the same time: the Court House is down and goods are certainly down at Bynum & Henden's store...

Whether Prohibition is carried or not Shaw & Harris will continue to sell their entire Summer Stock at greater reduced prices...

M. R. Upchurch of this county, informs us that, one day last week, he was repairing a fence...

Our vigilant jailer is taking every precaution to prevent the escape of the notorious N. B. Taylor...

A grand railroad jubilee is to be held at Oxford, on the 16th inst., to celebrate the completion of the Oxford & Henderson Railroad...

The long continued drought prevails to an alarming extent in this county. Everything is hot and dry and water has become distressingly scarce...

The following is the official vote of the different precincts in the county of Chatham, cast for and against Prohibition, at the election held on the 4th day of August, 1881:

Table with 3 columns: Precincts, For, Against. Lists precincts like Albright's, Matthews', Bear Creek, etc.

The survey of the proposed route of the Midland North Carolina Railway is now completed...

The track is being laid on the University railroad, and it is thought, will be completed in two months and the cars running regularly into Chapel Hill...

Our very efficient county superintendent of public instruction, Rev. P. R. Law, is now on a tour of inspection of public schools of this county...

Early Cotton. The first ball of cotton that has opened in Chatham this season...

Revising Tax-Lists. The county commissioners were in session here last Monday, as the law directs...

Court-House Well. As the new court-house will extend over the well that was near the southeast corner of the old building...

Stopping his Paper. One of our anti-prohibition subscribers has become so angry with the Record that he has sent us a letter that is printed exactly as it is written...

Whether Prohibition is carried or not Shaw & Harris will continue to sell their entire Summer Stock at greater reduced prices...

M. R. Upchurch of this county, informs us that, one day last week, he was repairing a fence...

Ladies at Election. ALBRIGHT TOWNSHIP, Chatham Co., August 6, 1881.

Editor Record: The fourth of August has come and gone, the day when thousands of the good people of North Carolina earnestly hoped that public sentiment would denounce the evil that has long been dragging noble men down to the depth of ruin and despair...

Although we ladies could not aid the cause by our votes, quite a number of us resolved to attend the election at Flint Ridge and spend the day very pleasantly eating water-melons, discussing Prohibition and various other subjects...

Our hearts were indeed made glad on seeing many, especially those in life's fair, unclouded morning, cast their votes on the side of temperance. We congratulate them on the step taken and bid them God-speed on their way...

Raleigh Visitor: Mr. Josiah Jones near this city, has a pullet hatched the latter part of March, which commenced laying on the 6th inst.

Elenton Carion: A small boat crossing Salmont creek, in Bertie county, Monday last, containing six negro men, was upset drowning two.

Statesville Landmark: Several mills in this county have been forced to stop running on account of the insufficiency of the water supply.

Anson Times: There is a negro near Beaver Dam who has eight toes upon one foot. His track resembles the quadrant of a cart wheel, and he can "toe the mark" in any position.

Wilmington Review: A dog said to have been mad, was killed yesterday afternoon. He was fuming at the month and snapping at everything that came within his reach.

Asheville News: Small pox has made its appearance on Big Rock Creek, in Mitchell county, and the county authorities have quarantined that township, in order to prevent the spread of the disease.

Wilmington Star: We are gratified to learn that Col. W. J. Martin has accepted the Professorship of Natural History, (Geology, Mineralogy, &c.) tendered him recently, in the University of North Carolina. An excellent selection.

News and Observer: There was a shooting affair in Petersburg, Virginia, yesterday, between John W. Green, of that place, and William Lee, of Littleton, N. C., in which both were killed. Lee cut Green's throat in three places and Green shot him in the body.

Wilmington Star: They do say that it is a fact that when a servant called out "Colonel" the other day at Morehead, whilst Blackwell's guests were dining, that forty-nine men responded. Of those five had been near enough to a battle to see a blue coat.

Raleigh Visitor: The summer is two-thirds over. It has been a very remarkable season up to date, for while we have had some very hot weather, we have had little continuous heat, and the city has been almost comfortable and exceptionally healthy for summer.

Raleigh Visitor: A Board of County Commissioners yesterday granted retail liquor licenses. At their first meeting in May, it will be remembered, the Board refused to grant license owing to the large numbers of petitions presented asking them not to grant any license for the retail of liquor in Durham county.

Winston Leader: There lives in Old Town Township a colored man by the name of Frank Mathews. He is 85 years of age. He has between fifteen and twenty acres in corn, which he planted and worked himself, with the aid of a little boy, and he did not stick his plow in the ground until the 10th of May.

Alamance Gleaner: A curious case is reported from Pleasant Grove. Mr. S. E. Tate had a two year old colt that stuck a nail in its foot a week or two ago, and in the course of a few days, was seized with spasms, which continued through a day and night when he died. The doctor examined it and pronounced it a case of lock-jaw. This is something heretofore unheard of in this section.

Charlotte Observer: It is generally understood that the dry aldermen will stick to the ordinance passed by the old board, in spite of the result of the vote on the question of license in the county.

Wilmington Star: A gentleman from Columbus informs us that a child was born in Bogue township in that county, a week ago Monday, who has three great-grandfathers and two great-grandmothers now living in that immediate neighborhood.

Raleigh Visitor: The two interesting little girls of Wiley Perry, near Kelvin Grove, while attempting to fill a kerosene lamp while the lamp was burning, on the 3rd instant, the lamp exploded, burning the children so badly that the younger of the two, little Minnie, died the same day, while no hopes are entertained for the recovery of the other. The mother was out milking, while the father was absent from home.

Moore Gazette: The people in the Carabontion section are going forward as rapidly as possible in the work of building a bridge across Deep River. This is a very important enterprise, and merits the aid and hearty encouragement of not only that part of Moore and Chatham, but of the entire county. It will open up to market a fine grain and farming country, and makes the connecting link in the direct line of communication with Chatham, Randolph and Guilford.

Statesville Landmark: The Internal Revenue Guide for August says a letter lately received from the Commissioner of Internal Revenue, states that this (the sixth district of North Carolina) now has a larger number of officers than any other internal revenue district in the United States. The grain distilleries in North Carolina in February last numbered 322, distributed as follows: second district, 3; fourth 9; fifth, 100; sixth, 220.

The Concord Sun says: Last Tuesday one of our old and respected citizens called at the marble yard to order a tombstone for his daughter who died some years ago, and while selecting one took a notion to order one for himself and wife while he was at it. So he gave McIninch the necessary directions and paid for three stones, two of which are to be placed over himself and wife after they die.

Greensboro Battle Ground: The law about concealed weapons should be stringently enforced. A lady who was standing on the back porch of her house on East Market St., yesterday had a narrow escape from being shot by the accidental discharge of a pistol in the hands of some negroes who were fooling with their pistols on the lot in the rear of her house.

Kinston Journal: A dwelling house belonging to Capt. E. R. Page, in Jones county, was destroyed by fire last Saturday night. It was a splendid house, costing not less than $2,000, and the burning was the work of an incendiary. A few days before Capt. Page lost two of his finest mules, supposed to have been poisoned. Justice will sooner or later overtake the rascal that is engaged in this work.

A correspondent of the News and Observer from Franklin county, says: "Farmers, whose judgments are to be relied on in such matters, say that from Louisburg to Oxford, in Granville, there will not be more than a half crop of cotton, one-fourth of a crop of corn, except on bottom lands, half a crop of tobacco, and perhaps a great falling back in the sweet potato crop, while hundreds of gardens are totally worthless. Such a state of affairs is sad indeed for the farmers."

Durham Plant: The Board of County Commissioners yesterday granted retail liquor licenses. At their first meeting in May, it will be remembered, the Board refused to grant license owing to the large numbers of petitions presented asking them not to grant any license for the retail of liquor in Durham county.

Winston Leader: There lives in Old Town Township a colored man by the name of Frank Mathews. He is 85 years of age. He has between fifteen and twenty acres in corn, which he planted and worked himself, with the aid of a little boy, and he did not stick his plow in the ground until the 10th of May.

Orville Grant Dead. A telegram from Morristown, New Jersey dated 8th inst., says:

"Mr. Orville Grant, brother of ex-President Grant, and who, for some time past has been an inmate of the State asylum for insane at Morris Plains, died yesterday. His remains were taken to Elizabeth for interment."

Cured of Drinking. "A young friend of mine was cured of an insatiable thirst for liquor, which had so prostrated him that he was unable to do any business. He was entirely cured by the use of Hop Bitters. It allayed all that burning thirst; took away the appetite for liquor, made his nerves steady, and he has remained a sober and steady man for more than two years, and has no desire to return to his cups; I know of a number of others that have been cured of drinking by it."

From a leading R. R. Official, Chicago, Ill.—Times.

A Sexton's Notice. A telegram from New York, dated 7th inst., says: "The congregation of the 14th Street Presbyterian Church were disturbed by a small explosion of gas, mingled with the more intolerable odor, which appeared to come from the Sunday School library. The doors of the library were forced open by the police, and stretched upon a cushion in the middle of the floor was found the dead body of the sexton, J. B. Osborne, nearly nude, and in an advanced stage of decomposition. The room was filled with escaped gas from the connecting pipe of a small gas stove. The stove was upset and the pipe broken. The police think that Osborne purposely broke the gas pipe and allowed the gas to escape with a view of suicide."
