

The Rose,

After a night of crystal rain Had drenched the hilliop and the plain, And made the old earth new again. A rose, unfolding from the sheath Where she had fain like life in death,

First felt the morning's dewy breath. While as the vestures of a brute, And pure as an ow at Christmas tide She blossomed in her maiden pride.

A pearl lay in hor heart, as pale As meenlight gleaming through a vail, Or shining on a distant sail.

A poet, you must guess his name Along the gardon alleys came, Together with his dreams of famo.

He saw the rose upon the stem : She bent to kiss his garment's here And bot her heart's most precious gem

He passed upon his way to great Bich blowoms that around his fe-Let fall their petals hency succe.

While she sat decoying in the sun Until the leafs a, one by one, Had fallen, and her life was done. The port's spirits hand its bars,

And healed of all its carthly scars ow slugs among the morning star

The rose, through long age in durit, Will, like the memory of the just 6till blosson in my scree, I trust

A BRAVE WOMAN.

In spite of the high opinion which we entertain of feminine courage in ge- eral, we must be permitted to doubt whether you all, ladios, feel yourselves expable of imitating on a similar occasion the heroine of the following little story, which we can recommend to your attention as entirely true.

Madame Aubrey occupied with her husdand a large old house, in the village of D .--. This house stood entirely alone, at the toot of an immense garden. far from neighbors, and had no other occupant than Monsieur and Madame Aubrey, their son, an infant of twelve months, and a domestic, recently almitted into their service.

One evening in the month of Novem ber Madame Aubury was awaiting with some anxiety the return of her husband, who had been gove since morning to a town distant a fest miles from D .--His business was to collect a debt, and he expected to bring home a large sum of money, and his wife now remembered. with a feeling of uncasiness, that she had seen him arm himself with a pair of pistols. It was about six o'clock, and Madame Anbrey went to her chamber accompanied by the domestic, with the intention of putting her little boy to bed. This apartment, large and high, was situated on the second floor, looking into the garden. The oaken woodwork, turned almost black with age, the old-fashioned faraiture of grotesque form and gloomy color, and some family portraits in ancient dress and severe countenances, gave to the room somewhat of a forbidding aspect. A deep sleove beside which was placed the cradle of the infant, occupied nearly all the side of the room opposite to the fire-place. The curtains were drawn across the front, but one corner, having caught upon some article near, was raised sufficiently to show the foot of Madame Anbrey had uttered no ery she had not even moved, but she feared that the servant, making the same discovery, might not show the same pruduence. The thief probably intended to remain in his present position until the middle of the night, then to issue forth and possess himself of the sum brought home by Monsieur Aubrey. But if prematurely discovered, and having no opponents but two women, he would probably make his escape, first securing their silonce by their death. Then who knows but the servant herself was an accomplice - suspicious circumstances, hitherto disregarded, returned with renewed violence to the mind of Madame Aubrey. All these thoughts passed through the mind of the young mother in less time than I have occupied in the telling. Before many minutes had elapsed her calumess had entirely returned, and she had de eided upon her part in the terrible drama. But she must get ril of the servant. "You know," said she, without the least faltering of her voice, "you know the dishes which my husband prefers, and I think he will be well pleased to find a good supper ready against his return. I had forgotton to tell you about it before, but go now and begin your preparations and bestow attention upon

"But," answered the servant, "shall you not want me here, as usual."

"No, I can do everything myself. Monsieur would be displeased, I am sure, if after his long ride in such weather he should not find a good sup per upon his return."

After some attempts at delay, which redoubted in Madame Aubury an uneasiness which she was obliged to con ceal, the girl quitted the chamber. Her tootsteps died away upon thestairs, and her mistress found herself alone with her child and those two terrible feet. which, half seen in the now dying light, s emed immovable as the beadstead itself. She still remained sitting near the events of the evening, the chimney with the baby apon her lap, "I did not think you had been so addressing to him, almost mechanically, carresing words, and soothing him to sleep, while her eyes never wandered from the metacing feet. The little fellow, tired of his position, began to cry for his cradle and its soothing motion, but the cradle was close to the alcoveclose to my feet. The young mother onquered herself by a violent effort.

"Come then, my child," said she, and tising from her chair, she forced her tottering steps to be firm, and went toward the alcove. Behold her close to the onit o is feet ! She placed the baby in the cradle, and with a voice which all her resolution could hardly keep from trempling, she commenced to sing her usual lullaby to the unconscious child, and as she sang the idea was ever in her that each word might be her last. At last the boy slept soundly, and the follows : mother returned to her scat by the fire. The clock strikes seven. One hour ore and Madame Aubrey may expect deliverence. A deep silence reigned in the chamber. The infant slept peacethe bedstead, made of the same dark fully. His mother, her hands convul wood with the rest of the farniture, and sively clasping each other, her lips apart, her eyes fixed upon the menne carved in the curious figures and groing feet, remained immovable as a statesque lines in which the artisans of an hundred years back were wont to in tue. From time to time, some noise in the earlien would cause the heart of the proved to be the rain, the wind or the shaken trees. It seemed to the unhappy woman that time had stopped, and that she was alone with those haunting feet. Heavens ! They move ! Is the assassin about to commence his fearfai work ! But no-it was only a stight movement, sickened by the sulphurous odors. The position. He resumes his immobility. of the cone, and appeared to be about The half-hour strikes. The auxions an acre in extent. When the flow ceased watcher could have almost aworn that the visitors went down to the edge of it was two hours since it struck last; the cruter, after covering their faces but no, she knows that the clock is with rabber folds and their eyes with faithful, and there is still another w, ary glasses. The heat was great. half-hour before she may expect her side it was possible to descend twenty deliverer. Mamame Aubrey took a book of re- seated, thanks to a favorable wind. The shelf, threw a strong light upon some ligious meditations from the chimney- lava poured into the crater from the piece above her head, and attempted to sides, and, when it was full, bubbled read. Vain effort ! Her eyes wandered over and ran into the valley. The surand fitful gleam, which caused them to continually from the page. Suddenly a thought crossed her mind with the Indians reported a revent eruption of sharpness and suddenness of light-if Mount Idaho, a large peak a few miles and had closed his drowsy eyes. The her husband should not return ! His from Mount Lapwai, parents lived in the village to which he The visitors spent twenty minutes in had gone ; what more natural than that, the crater. At 5:15 P. M., the flow beseeing the severity of the weather, M.

and some, strong and vigorous. It was he! At this moment, had M. Aubrey been the ugliest of men-the worst of the virtues imaginable.

> tots. He extended his arms and his wife rushed into them. But immediately recovering herself, she placed one and pointed to the feet. M. Aubrey would not have been wor-decision or song found. He gave a glance at his wife which said that he understood, and said sloud,-" One moment, my darling, and 1 down stairs, and I must show you my riches."

and with his left hand seized one of the resting on the triger of his pistol. "Resist, and you are a dead man !"

te exclaimed. The owner of the feet did not seem the middle of the room, where he disclosed a most villianous face as he was found and newly sharpened. He confessed that the servant was his ac omplice, and had told him of the if any one asked him where he was go booty which awaited him. Nothing remained but to deliver both but the public interest demanded the acrifice of private lenity, and they were unconscious child slept soundly. After some little time Madame Aubrey related brave," said her huaband, embracing lage, having an aversion to one or more her. But in spite of her bravery, the had to be used, and there was often ocevents of that night brought on a ner easion to do so, from several of the vous fever, from which our little hero ine did not recover for some weeks.

A Volcaule Eruption in Idaho,

The recent report of volcanic eruption in Idaho Territory is confirmed by an Eastern correspondent who visited the volcano in company with a representative of a Walla Walla newspaper.

As seen from Camas Prairie the olumn of smoke rising from Mount Lapwai was like that of a steamer beond the horizon at sea. The mountain is two days' ride from Camas Prairie. Omitting unimportant personal details, the correspondent's account runs as "About 500 feet below the cone large column of smoke sprang into the air hundreds of feet and then folded over to the east. Fiames shot up to a great height, and a seething flow of lava was at that time rushing down into a small valley to the west and emitting a strong, sickening sulphuric odor, which made it impossible to remain by it any length of time The lava had moved a distance of one mile from the mountain and was gradually making its boring hills were covered with ashes." The visitors were informed by a Lapwai Indian that the lava flow is intermittent. With the wind on their backs they climbed the cone when the crater was quiet, though greatly disturbed and crater was about 500 feet below the rim On one feet into the crater without being nanrounding country is volcanic, and the gau again, and they hastily retreated. Aubrey should allow himself, by fond Scientific parties were fitting out at tains, a low range crossed by the snake opened and a man appeared - a man, Superstitions of Scatch Fishermen. Besides those superstitions common to all Scotland, thereare beliefs current among the fisher part of the population husbands-he would have assumed, in which seem to be peculiar to thomselves. the eyes of his wife, all the graces, all Fishermen and sailors are proverbially superstitions, and those of the east of He had only paused below to take off Scotland are no exception to this gen his dripping cloak and lay down his pis- eral rule. Great coremonies were observed at the launching of a new boat, and the greatest care had to avoid do ing anything that might bring ill-luck finger on her lips, and with the other to the boat or the fishing. The boats were liable to be affected by an evil eve or an ill foot, like any land undertaking, thy of such a wife if he had failed in but there were coil influences to be dreaded that were local in their application. For instance it was believed to be unlucky to have a white stone among the ballast, but this was only in will return ; I have left my pocket-book some villages. Great care had to be taken to avoid any one who was believed to have an "ill-foot," and, if any one With these words he left the room, get this reputation, he was dreaded but in a moment he returned, holding and shunned by all his neighbors. a pistol in his hand. He examined the There is an annusing story told of two lock, approached the bad, stooped down men in one village who both had the unenviable distinction of having an illtwo feet, the fluger of his right hand foot without being themselves conscious of it. They both set out early to arous the village for the fishing, and each meeting the other and knowing his illrepute, they both turned back, so that disposed to risk the event. He suffered a fine morning's fishing was lost to the himself to be dragged by the foot into village. Indeed there were so many untoward circumstances that might prevent the success of the fishing that it rouched before the pistol pointed at his is quite a marvel how they ever conhead. On being searched, a daggar trived to catch any fish at all. When we read that a fisherman would have returned, under fear of being drowned, ing as he went down to his boat, one caunot but wonder how he ever conto justice. Madame Anbrey indeed trived to elade that very natural in begged her husband to let them escape, quire. Odder still was the has put on certain words, as will be seen from the following extracts from McGregor's delivered up. During all this time the "Folk-lore": "When at sea the words 'minister,' 'kirk,' 'swine,' 'salmon,'

'trout,' 'dog,' and certain family names tants of some of the villages, each vilthe words. When the word 'kirk' and churches being used as landmarks, the word 'bell house,' or 'bell-'oose,' was "the man wi' the black quyte." A minister in a boat at sea was looked men with much misgiving. He might be another Jonah. 11

word 'sow' or 'swine or pig,' particumentioned in the hearing of a fisherdergyman reads the miracle about the while society and amusements of all

Gaderine swinery - Saturday Record

Hereditary Criminals, "Heredity" comes out strong in

ase of criminals-stronger, perhaps, than in case of saints. For the offspring of saints are often far from saint-like, while the children of burglars and | other criminals are almost sure to pay their ancestors the honor of insitating them. A few days ago in a New York The love of one we do not love becomes sponded ones? They are sold to cheap watcher to leap with hope, but it always way toward the Salmon. The neighyouth of 17, was brought up for sen-tence for an attempt to commit bur-tence for an attempt to commit bur-dues not give her heart to her husband public. They may be found flooding struck a copper mine in the Goose glary, he having been once in the Gounty Penitextiary, "Lyons," the is not likely to care much for his chil- fairs and similar resorts. People who Creek section ? County Penicenary, Lyons, The dren, So, girls, if you do not love your function of the state drawn from the state dren, So, girls, if you do not love your lover, don't marry him. Remember dress establishments. The poor at Carson? Tell me, George, whence that marriage is a serious step, and that her state drawn is a bit of the state draw youth replied blantly. "Your mother when you give him your hand that he flaw in the shape. Dolls are found in iety." a also in State Prison ?" "Yes she is," may encircle it with a wedding ring, eighteen different sizes. Number "Two weeks ago I had a dead point "You are come of a bad stock. I am you seal the happiness or misery of eighteen is very large and requires a or stocks from an insider; he gave it informed," the Recorder went on. "1 your natural life. suppose I do," Lyons answered. The Judge remarked that Lyons wanted to go to State Prison, as a graduation, but that he should allow him one more chance for reformation and send him to sun, Encke's, which is no stranger, as it ing day and night. They require couthe Elmira Reformatory under charge revisits us once in every three and a stant care. If a draft of air be admitted, of Mr. Brockway. "You'd better have half years, and the new one discovered or if a certain temperature is not hept me hung, Judge," was the sullen reply. in the northeast on the night that Presi- up, the result will be disastrons. The He expressed, however, some dread dent Garfield died. Neither is yet visi- doll manufactories in Germany alone of the discipline of the reformatory on the to the maked ere. Encko's rarely employ 200,000 people. The finest till death, divorce or your bankrupter. his way there. His father is Next Lyons, becomes bright enough to be seen with dolls, however, emenate from Paris, the desperate burglar, who has been out telescopes, but the new comet has One firm in Germany has been in opesick of a wound in Connecticut and has possibilities. It would not be unpre- ration 125 years, and is the oldest in now gone to the State prison there, esdeuted if we should have two bril- the world. There are now said to be His mother, Lyons' wife, is not by any tiant comets this year. Two of the one thousand different models for dolls. means unknown in these parts, although grandest comets on record appeared in There was such enormous demand in her son is mistaken in thinking that she the year 1102. At the very time that 1870 that an actual dell'famine occurred "Tye forgotten something; won't you

POPULAR SCIENCE, Fishes have hearts recombling those of mollusha. The pressure of the blood current dimini-hes from the heart. Of all animal products used as food gar is found alone in milk.

In penetrating the earth Frof. Everitt finds that the rise in temperature is more rap d in the older and harder rocks was the celebrated artist Leonardo di Vinci, and he first applied it to a rial navigation.

fully introduced in the Mathilde Colliery, in Upper Silesia. The work was e by Siemens & Halske, of Berlin. don Prof. James Law, in the Hutter Not used Ross of of H dile, states that in Europeand Hindoostan variola is so coun in pigeons and poultry as to ustitute a veritable plague.

sated in contact with steam, when the sulphur is volatilized and the caoutchone melts, and is collected as a liquid, usel in preparing waterproof covers, tablished 10 years ago, has now 3,929 miles of line and 9,315 miles of wire. Twenty words are sent 60 miles for less than two cents. Last year the number assages transmitted was 1,272,756. There are 318 Morse instruments in use, 26 single needle-blocks, and 20 Bell Lelephones.

It is sometimes necessary to here one more holes in porcelain, but the usual way of doing this is not easy. If, however, an ordinary drill be har dened and kept moist with oil of turpentine it will easily penetrate the norclain. The drill commonly employed connection with seroll culting machines answers very well.

Electricity is now employed in the vetification of inferior alcohol.

Herr Stebler's researches do not con were never promunced by the inhabifirm the theory that light hinders germination of seeds generally. He adnits the probability, however, that light may not be advantageous in the use of seeds that germinate quickly easily, such as clover, beans, or peas. He says that the germination of certain seeds, especially those of the substituted. The minister was called grasses, will not take place at all or with great difficulty in darkness.

Whom Not To Marry. Women who love their husbands are was accounted unlucky to atter the happy and at rest. Those who do not jinish, and finally given to girls to dress. larly during the time when the line way always seeking for some means of kil- coating of way. Cheaply made way being bailed ; it was sure to be lost if ling time. They are ready to flirt at dolls invariably crack in cold weather. any one was unvise enough to speak any moment. Their children are, ac- The way which is used comes from bees Gaiger grade to this city of stovepipes the banned word. In some of the vil- cording to their means, either hidden and "perfin." There are whole villages lages on the coast of Fife, if the word is in narseries under the care of French in Germany which do nothing else but have worked in the Scorpion, sat pa tonnes, or handed over to Sally, the make dolls, of which Stoneburg is the man, he cries out 'Coll iron.' Even in slatteraly nurse, to skake, and slap, and most famor church the words are uttered when the stuff with sugar, as her wisdom dictates, > is not happy to the poor woman, because she has chosen her mate foolishly-bemarriage" which mercenary old people promise those who make what they call a sensible match.

> > her husband well, most be, I believe secured. If the tender sleep a wink or she is flappier than this poor restless be institutive the whole lot may come "Ave, upo creature, though she be worshipped, out boughel. What becomes of the book on the Nevada Bank."

None of the millious of China and wax dolls which are sold annually in the United States are manufactured here. Germany, England and France supply the world with dolls, and the manufacture or control of the same is in such a small number of hands that they can Turkey, drank coffee with the Sultan. manipulate the market to a great de- The cups were without handles, and gree, and can create great famines or were crested with diamonds. run corners to snit their convenience or ,

Go into one of the great toy establishments, and while rows of patterns were have almost to the shoulders! will be found of the most exquiste cast Women are strange creatures. and feature that one can conceive ; faces that seem unparalleled for beauty ; yet, these models are the exact counterparts. of little children, which the maker has found in some country or clime. It is his duty to examine the anceessive generations of the human race, and select the most beautiful for reproduction in wax and plaster. The models originate gate's defalcation, but it doesn't seem to all new fashions in dolls. Fashions in dolls one exclaims. Yes, dolls are as changeable in style as the modern woman. The modelers are scientifically rice crop in the Gulf states will reach exact in reproducing and molding the one hundred and fifty million bushels. farial expression.

The artizan sometimes gets into troubles. It is related that one of the profession saw a child of surpassing beauty in the street. It had a more exquisite cast of countenance than he had ever before seen. When no one was looking he coaxed the child a short distance, and rapidly repaired with it to his quarters. It was not long before the country was accured over the mysterious disappearance. Rewards were forcely offered for the recovery of the child, and threats against the abductor. Mushtime he fashioned a model of more than rare beauty, and, fearing the consequences of abduction, he dispatched the child. The dolls were manufactured and sent to many countries, meeting the only daughter of a daring speculawith a remarkable sale. One day a deteetive discovered the face of the lost child stamped on a doll in a toy store, away look of filial pride, "has often The whole matter at once dawned upon made as much as $10 on a single turn him, and the guilty person was traced in Washoe fancies. He is now," sho out and punished.

The was dolls are, of course, the finthem. The material is sold to workmouth are cut out with a knife. The Facewoll, George ; it can never be." figure is then dipped in red-hot waxand dread. The doll is next painted, after what I am. My Storey county hatchet which it is sent to the maindresser to county deep in the cherry tree of truth. are disturbed and restless. They are A good quality of doll will have a thick

China dolls are made in factories They are first modeled, and burned in sorts occupy their mother's time. Home evens. After this process they are re- Dayton narrow gauge : I have been a moved, painted and glazed. This operation involves a great risk. Suppose cause she trusted to that "love after 5,000 to be in the oven at one time. No matter how much time there is given at | lion other scientists, 1 have discovered bahing, they are liable to come out in the present comet, and now I am no sensible match. Sal as a neglected wife, who loves that 1,000 first-class specimens will be what's

" Ave, proud girl, and a pockel check

"Listen, George, I am, as you know, tor in low-priced stocks. My father," said the devoted damsel, with a far added, with a deep blush, " bulling the market. If things fall his way he will

the state of a state of the second state of the

It is a curious arrangement that comsels people to go to bed at night when General Wallace, our minister to

We have seen ladies who were insufferably shocked at the sight of a man in his shirt sleeves ; and their own arms

Thirteen female physicians are prazticing in Clayton, Iowa, and at a recent fire there were not well men enough in the town to run the engine out. It is Detectives are still busy at Washington trying to find out the size of How-have occurred to say of them to try and

A Southern journal says this year's

It is predicted that the rice industry will soon rival that of sugar growing in A Matrimonial Clincher.

"No, George Jones, I cannot marry

The apealor was a fair young girl of scarce thirty summers; the tone was

"And why not, Maria?" answered George Jones, whose deep black and blue eyes and flushed face showed that he had not been too good and great to have made a dizzy run with the dizzy boys

the night before. "Can James Smith or John Robinson make you a better

Louisiana.

sad het unyielding.

husband than I, fair girl?"

find Howgate .- Philadephia Times.

one grand incorporated hospital.

they are not sleepy, and get up in the morning when they are.

est. It requires great shill to make wallow in wealth. I understand from non-official sources that you are poor; men who have models at home. A that you breakfast on a free lunch route figure is first made out of time and and dine at two-bit rolisseries -conplaster of Paris. The eves, nose and vincing proof of Comstock poverty.

"Stay, Maria, and know who and is sunk deep in the cherry tree of truth, and like my illustrious initial namesake, am no dazzling conomist of facts. Five years ago I arrived at Reno per emigrant train, and walked over the and other men's wives. Since then 1 tiently for three months as inner guard in the Carson mint, and never missed a pay day; twisted brakes on a W. and T. gravel train ; graded for a week on the waiter at Evan's ; started a daily paper at Genea; tanght school in the fourth ward ; in common with about four mil-

"What! Do I hear correctly-you

The Japanese telegraph system, profit.

The inventor of the serew propeller

The electric light has been suc

To utilize old rubber the pieces are

The night was a true November night black and gloomy, with torrents of rain, which beat continually upon the windows. The trees of the garden, bent by the force of the wind, from time to time drew the finger like ends of their branches across the glass, making a fantastic and melancholy concert, in which mingled no human voice-no sound which promised human aid, should the want be ever so urgent.

Madame Anbrey sat upon a low chair in the corner of the fireplace, holding upon her knees the little boy whom she was undressing, while the servant at the other end of the room executed certain orders of her mistress. A blazing wood fire, aided by a lamp upon the mantle objects, left others in intense shadow, and upon others again cast a wayward assume grotesque and unreal forms. The baby had ceased his laughing play mother threwher eyes toward the cradle to assure herself that all was prepared ; at this moment the fire blazed up suddealy and threw a strong light upon the corner of the bed exposed by the lifted curtain. As Madame Aubrey looked, she almost fell from her chair ; under she had been about to deposit her sleeping child, she now beheld two great across the mind of the young woman without help present or soon to be expected, for her husband was not to re- her cars, she had been so often deceived turn until eight or nine o'clock, and it fend horself?

persnasions, to be detained until morn- Portland, Oregon, to visit the volcano. ing! She could neither wonder at nor Mount Lapwai is one of the Blue Mounblame him. But then what would bethe bed, close to the cradle in which come of herself and the little one River. dearer than herself ?-her brain reeled under the thought. Eight o'clock soundfeet, shed in coarse brogaus. In an in-stant the sense of her situation flashed position then was correct; the unhappy C., awaiting execution for burglary was, woman gave herself up for lost. She it is said, a United States deputy mardow. The eager listener dared not trust the county during all that dark time. -but now the door rolled upon its ded the stairs - the chamber door the much detested crincline.

The burgular Ben Brown, alias Bob

She happens to be out just now, Young ing Europe, another huge comet was cut off. Lyons is the leader of a gang of sneak visible in the southern hemisphere. thieves in New York, and Mr. Brockway It was also a mistake to suppose that can vary his ownpatent reformatory plan 1881 has furnished an unprecedented are was up. Falling on his knees he on him. - Detroit Free Press.

Governor Roberts, of Texas, exerci- In 1858, the year of the great connet, heart and hand," Custing one look at ses a personal supervision of the pris- no less than eight comets were seen, of the great paw Augelina thrilled in every as if shown by a flash of lightning. was about to seize her child and fly shal in South Carolina, during recon- oners in the state penitentiary. Most which six were new ones. In 1846 there fibre asshe replied sweetly : "Oh, Adol- the surprised husband. This hidden man no doubt was a thief, from the room, when a noise resonned from the gravel walk beneath the winnotorious colored political characters in the North-west, East and North, who, having strayed from home restraints. There have been many years in which Worth has caused a war in Paris by into trouble. He tolls them that good 8s, whatever may be claimed for 1881 with the largest salary, replied that "he was now but little past six. What hinges and then fell heavily back in its his attempt to revive moire antique, as conduct will shorten their terms, and, on account of its other marvels, it desired to go where there was the most should she do? How should she de place. A well-known step gayly ascen leading inevitably to a resurrection of if, they behave themselves pardons them certainly does not yet take the front sin-consequently located where the of new gloves in a handsome lacquered I out.

Comet Bacing For The Sun.

Two comets are now approaching the property and the fires must be kept ge- him "- comets have been discovered this year. the happiest of men by accepting my again with a pair of kids on her hands; have fallen into bad company and got four and five comets had been seen, why he accepted the call (one of many) thing but goats."

money was most pleanty."

"Do you belong to the railroad ring? does not give her heart to her husband public. They may be found flooding struck a copper mine in the Goose Are you running a

Don't marry unless strong child to carry it. One factory in as a great favor, and told me to buy

It requires one week to hake them

"Well, 1 did-not. 1, coppored

"And so"

"Yes, and naturally I'm now richer than he feared or hoped I ever would

"Then, George, I am thine-thine Mahoney, the Gallie county clerk, issued their marriage license to-day.

Teo Old.

Mr. and Mrs. Jones were starting for church. "Wait, dear," said the lady, is just at this moment in prison, the energinous comet of 1618 was scar- and the American foreign supply was be good, now, and go up-stairs and get my goals off the bureau ?'

"Your goats !" replied Jones ; "what Thrilling Incident : Adolphus' cour- new-fangled thing's that ?"

"Thi show you," remarked the wife, number of comets. Only four new cried: "Angelina, dearest, make me and she sailed up the stairs, and down ' there they are," said she,

"Why, I call those things kids," said

"Oh, do you?" snapped the wife. Well, so did I once, but they are so A prominent elergyman, being asked old now, I'm ashamed to call them any-

> Then they went to church. 'The next day Sones' wife had half a dozen pairs box of the latest design.

rank as a comet year.