

The Chatham Record

THURSDAY, OCTOBER 26, 1882.

H. A. LONDON, Jr., Editor.

SEE THAT your neighbor is registered!

REMEMBER that you cannot register on election day.

SEE THAT your name is on the registration book!

Most REPUBLICAN members of the last Legislature voted FOR the prohibitory bill than against it.

If you have moved from the township in which you voted last year, you must get a certificate from the registrar of that township and REGISTER AGAIN in the township where you now live.

WHEN we hear a "liberal" candidate growing eloquent on the late prohibitory bill, and fiercely denouncing it, we can only compare it to a big, burly bully brandishing a bludgeon over a corpse, and threatening death and destruction!

The coalition, or the union between the revenue ring and the "liberals," has disgusted nearly all honest republicans.

Dr. Cook, the republican candidate for Congress in the 7th district, has published a card, in which he says the following:

"Had pronounced Republicans not character been annihilated, a man who had carried the State beyond doubt, but there is no prospect for the success of the coalition ticket."

The Democrats will gain one or more Congressmen in nearly every Northern State at the approaching election. The glorious example set by Ohio will be followed by New York, Pennsylvania and other States that went republican at the last election. Never were the gloom-brighters for an overwhelming victory. The democratic majority in the great State of New York will be nearly one hundred thousand. Even Massachusetts will wheel into line and give a democratic majority. All along the line the democratic hosts are rallying, and are marching to an assured victory. Let us all fall into line, keep step, stand firmly together, and presenting an unbroken front, march on to the glorious victory that will crown our efforts on the 7th of next November.

Rebuking menaces are trying to intimidate democratic speakers. These fellows know full well that their days are numbered, and their official heads will drop if the democratic party succeeds. Having no arguments to use, they attempt to stifle free speech by using brute force. The cameras had hardly opened before Dr. Mott's son made a most brutal and cowardly attack on Hon. W. M. Robbins, the democratic candidate for Congress in the seventh district. Last week another revenue brute made an attack on Mr. W. H. Bailey, a democratic candidate for the Legislature in Mecklenburg county. On both occasions brass knuckles were used by these men, which showed their murderous intent. We have heard of threats being used elsewhere. When such attacks are made these murderous brutes ought to be treated just as you would treat a mad dog or rattlesnake.

Boswell in his worst form rules the "coalition" party in this State. Never did a slave more implicitly obey his master's command than do the "coalitionists" obey the orders of Dr. Mott, their Grand Mogul. The idea of such men talking about being independent is simply ridiculous. Dr. Mott dictates what they shall do, and they do it like abject slaves. He makes and unmakes their candidates just as the juggler behind the curtains pulls the wires that control the puppets on the stage. He is bending every energy to nominate candidates for the Legislature in every county, who will vote for him for United States Senator. A striking instance of this was recently shown in Granville, an account of which we publish in another column. Another instance of his "bossism" occurred in the nomination of a solicitor of this district. The republicans of Alamance in their convention recommended Mr. Albertson, of that county, as a candidate for solicitor, and it was generally understood that he was the candidate, but Dr. Mott did not approve of this nomination and it is said wrote to Mr. Albertson that he could not run. Therupon Mr. Willis Jenkins of Greenville was "nominated", and republicans are ordered to vote for him. We well remember that in 1872 Mr. Jenkins was so bitter a democrat that he would not vote for Greeley. Yet Mr. Albertson, who has always been a strong republican, is made to stand aside for him! How do the old fire-tried republicans like such bossum?

The COALITION or "liberal" party have no doubt that stock raising was rotten up by revenue officers, and is composed of the worst elements of the democratic and republican parties. We think that this can be proved beyond any doubt. At the convivial meeting now at Raleigh, on the 7th of June, the principal actors were revenue officers and office-seekers. The ladies made an excellent exhibit in the hall, and their work was much indeed. The exhibit made by Mrs. Morris F. & H. Fries, was democratic, who could not get an offer in their party. There was an enterprising gentleman, the Young, who for twelve years has been the internal revenue collector in this district; there was Tom Cooper, the internal revenue collector in the 6th district, and there was Dr. Mott, the head and front of the revenue ring. These three represented the revenue wing of the coalition, and the democratic office seekers were represented by Col. Johnston, of Charlotte, Capt. Cocke, of Asheville (who was made chairman of their State executive committee) and Tom Devereux of Raleigh. And every one of these three democratic deserters is now a candidate for Congress. Cocke is a candidate in the 8th district, Johnston in the 6th, and Devereux in this district. Is it not true then that the coalition or "liberal" party has gotten up by the revenue ring and disappointed democratic office seekers?

In this campaign, therefore, the contest is between those revenue officers and democratic deserters on the one side, and true republicans and democrats on the other side. All that these men do is to stir up the people to vote for the opposition party. They are not above a bribe to get them to do it. In this campaign they are willing to stir up the opposition party, they are not above a bribe to get them to do it. As usual the Bingham cadets attended in full force and won new laurels. Their soldierly skill is only equalled by their gentlemanly deportment, and reflects the highest credit upon that time honored institution of learning, of which North Carolina justly feel proud. There were numerous side shows to amuse and entertain, and which doubtless did a brisk business. Visitors were in attendance from every portion of the State, and, as is customary with our North Carolina crowds, the utmost good order prevailed and everybody seemed good humored and polite. Our State fairs have become grand social reunions, which bring together friends and acquaintances from all quarters of the State, by whom old friendships are renewed and new acquaintances made. We were much pleased to meet with quite a number of our editorial brethren, and just here we would say that there is no man in the State who has heretofore been more popular than Mr. G. W. Williams, of the State Agricultural Society. He gave a good and witty speech, and it was evident that he was a cool, clear-headed, and forcible speaker. His oratory and wit were such that he could easily hold his own in any company. All along the line the well matched men are the democratic party, and, as is the case with the opposition, a full list of the names of the members of the opposition party has heretofore been published by members of the Press. The State Agricultural Society might go and write out a list of all the names, or indeed was there any John Smith, Capt. Tracy, Dr. Mott, or any other member of the opposition party? It is not surprising that the old tried and trusted men of the opposition are still the leaders of the opposition party. They have their old party now well to be conscientious about, to be sure. We wonder that these drunks, these Jenkins, Gray, Braxton, etc., Jones, Billy Smith, and hundreds of other leading republicans, deserts to the coalition, the revenue ring and disappointed democratic office seekers.

Leach on Ransom. Then J. M. Leach, who is canvassing the State in the interests of the "liberal" recently made a speech at Raleigh, and the News and Observer publishing a report of it stated that he made some disrespectful allusion to Senator Benson. Therupon Leach wrote a letter to the News and Observer, saying that he intended no disrespect to Benson, and phys him the following compliment:

"I have never known Ransom to do or say anything incompatible with the dignity of a Senator or the honor of a gentleman. Proud of his State and devoted to her people and their best interests, and distinguished for his personal, his talents and his sturdy bearing, he stands in the Senate Chamber the peer of any of his colleagues, and is regarded there as I regard him, and as thousands of his friends in the State regard him, as an honor to the Senate and his State."

Yes, there is no doubt of it, Ransom has honor to the Senate and his State, and yet the "liberal" wish to turn him out and put in his place Dr. Mott or Mr. Young. And every vote given for one of the "liberal" legislative candidates helps them to do it!

Important Correspondence. We call the special attention of our republican friends to the following, which we copy from the Winston Republican.

Salisbury Examiner: Two families of this State who went to the great West several years ago passed through this place Wednesday morning returning to their old home in North Carolina. —The wife of Mr. Dock Brown, 3 miles from town, met with a shocking death yesterday. It seems the lady was assisting her husband to keep in a corner of their yard a cow which he intended to butcher. Brown struck at the cow but failed to kill her, which, in rushing past Mrs. B. ran against a rail of the fence with such force as to cause the end of it to strike Mrs. B. in the side, injuring her so that she died in half an hour.

Rev. Robert Paine, senior bishop of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, died last Friday at Aberdeen, Miss., aged 83 years.

The colored people in Pennsylvania are in open rebellion against the rule of Don Cameron in that State. The total colored vote of Pennsylvania is about twenty-three thousand, and it is reasonably certain that a very heavy percentage of it will be cast at the coming election in favor of the independent ticket.

Found at Last. An agreeable dressing for the hair, that will fit its falling, has been long sought for. Parker's Hair Balsam, distinguished for its purity and power, supplies this want.

Durham, Oct. 18, 1882.
Messrs. J. F. Tucker, and others:
—I have received your favor of the 10th inst., in which you ask my opinion in regard to the Liberal movement. I thank you with all my heart for the kind expression extended therein. I will, in my humble way, endeavor to comply with your request.

Very truly, your friends and neighbors,
J. F. Tucker, and others.

retire from active participation in politics, owing to my declining years. I am now seventy one, but I feel the same interest in the Republican party that I experienced in my younger days. I was loyal to the Union before the war. I have been ever since, and I am as true to the Republican party as I ever was to the Union. I believe that the peace of our country, and the prosperity and happiness of all those who are dear to you and me, depend upon a perpetuation of its principles. If ever men say that it has performed its mission, and ought to be destroyed, let us take no part in its destruction.

What does the Liberal movement mean? William M. Cocke the Chairman of the Liberal Executive Committee, says in his address: "When the Liberal Democrats proposed to abandon their old party organization for the sake of the public good, the Republicans, acting through their convention, met them wholly on their ground. It is distinctly understood that we and they have united to form a new party or political organization."

Are you ready to abandon the Republican party, and join a new political organization, which is to be controlled by men who have spent the better portions of their lives, in committing and in justifying the commission of all the crimes, which have been perpetrated in the interest of the Democratic party?

As they failed in their efforts to destroy the Republican party, I suppose they now think that by organizing a new party, they can accomplish their long-cherished hopes.

I understand that their nominee for Judge of the Supreme Court, was indicted by Judge Settle, who was then Solicitor in the District, for murdering Union men in the county of Randolph. Can you be persuaded to vote for such a man? I have not seen it stated in a single paper, that he has ever expressed regret for his conduct, but upon the contrary he has continued to co-operate with the Democratic party, and has been one of the bitterest of the bitter among them. If these Liberals are honest in their expression of opposition to Bourbon Democracy, why do they not come out from them like men, and act with the publications? There are more than one hundred thousand Republicans in the State, and it is estimated that there are about five thousand Liberals, at least half of which number speak English for themselves, and for each member of their families. Who are the leaders of this new movement? Johnson, Leach, Clingan, Canterbury, Young and Mott. What have they ever done to inspire confidence, or to convince the people of their integrity of purpose. Wornout, Revenue officers, and broken-down Bourbon, Democratic office-seekers, they have done nothing to entitle them to the confidence of the people, and to be regarded as leaders of a party.

The principal advocates of the new movement, and those who pack conventions for the purpose of forcing objectionable men upon us, are Revenue officials. Possibly, we cannot prevent this, but we can refuse to vote for their candidates, and thereby secure the nomination of better men in the future. One world masters will see that packing conventions and nominating candidates is one thing, and forcing the people to vote for them is another.

We had better suffer a defeat, than achieve a victory at the sacrifice of principle.

My friends I have said more than I intended to say when I commenced, but the Republican party is dear to my heart, and an attempt to destroy it, rouses all my indignation, and takes me back to '61, and all the terrible consequences that I faced in the Coalition of Secession Democrats, and Secession Whigs. I feel confident that there were enough honest Democrats who would have co-operated with us, and carried the State, if we had nominated a good Republican ticket. We have been sold out, but if we are true to ourselves, the 7th of November will tell if we can be delivered.

Very truly, your friend,
R. S. Purvis."

The gentlemen who signed the letter addressed to Mr. Phipps are among the most substantial and influential citizens in their community. Mr. Phipps is one of the most intelligent and worthy gentlemen in the Deep river country. He is universally esteemed wherever he is known and is, in every respect, a representative man. Whatever may be our individual opinion, we could not extend a communication coming from such a source.

ASHEVILLE, Oct. 10, 1882.
Rev. Mr. Phipps, Esq.,

Dear Sir.—We have long been guided by your wise counsel, and influenced by your example. We esteem you for your moral worth, your loyalty to the Union during the rebellion, and your devotion to the Republican party. We are now at sea. The new departure in politics, known as the Liberal movement, perplexes us. There seems to be an effort to sell us out, and induce the loyal to desert the grand old Republican party. You are regarded as the father of the party in this township, therefore we appeal to you for advice. What shall we do? How shall we act? Trusting you will favor us with an early reply, we are.

Very truly, your friends and neighbors,
J. F. Tucker, and others.
