AN EASTERN JUGGLER.

While traveling through India, between Surat and Nagpore, my body servant one day informed me that a great juggler and snake charmer wished to have the honor of showing me something of his skill.

to lift the cup and see what is under it? Of course I would have wogered a heavy sum that the rose was still there for one thing, because expecting some trick, I had kept my eye on it to the last moment...

if impelled by the unknown something in it! I do not think I am a coward—my worst enemy has never accused me of being one, at least—but I confessed that on this occasion my nerves would not let me remain passive...

AMERICAN COMPETITION. European Producers Driven from their Own Markets. An Interesting Problem. The competition of the United States in the grain trade and in other agricultural products is now rightfully regarded as a general European question of the greatest importance.

the patrons of the country of the Yankees present, and the European countries are on the other side of the medal. Young America is going, in good earnest, to thrash old Europe. Have we any means of defense? Some say the American competition cannot continue long, for the population of the United States is rapidly increasing...

AN HEIRESS' QUEER ESCAPE. How a Pittersburg-old Niece of Governor Foster Went to See the World for Herself. Miss Susie Pollard of Cleveland, Ohio, is only fifteen years old and is the daughter of a wealthy merchant of Cleveland. Being an only child, she has been allowed great liberty since her tenth birthday.

Twilight Dew. The not the beauty of thy form that lures, Nor yet the soft expression of thine eye; There's something in the manner that assures A flattering spirit as it passes by.
