The Chatham Record

THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 15, 1883.

LOCAL RECORDS.

☞ Only two weeks to Spring.

☞ Begin to prepare your gardens.

☞ Did you get a Valentine yesterday?

☞ Trade is unusually dull with our merchants.

☞ Our Raleigh letter failed to arrive this week.

☞ The session of the Legislature is drawing to a close.

☞ The sheriff will begin next Monday his third and last trip around the county for the purpose of collecting last year's taxes.

☞ Farmers! Go to Bynum & Headen's for Long's Chemicals and 'Anchor Brand' Fertilizer. Call on them and leave your orders.

☞ The members of the Pittsboro' fire company are requested to meet to morrow (Friday) night at Capt. Exline's office, and bring their buckets and axes.

☞ W. L. London has received this week a lot of Hardware. If you are needing a good Pocket Knife give him a call. Remember this, farmers, you can buy a good Backband complete, at London's for 15 cents or 2 for 25 cents, cash. Call soon and secure a bargain. He has a No. 1 Corn Sheller cheap. New lot of Trace Chains, &c.

☞ Harden Bros. & Co. have just received a large lot of Material for making Buggies, Wagons &c. Call and leave your orders. They warrant all their work. If you need any repairing they will do it with neatness and despatch. They have now a No 1 Horse shoer and will be glad to show you what he can do. All kinds of Blacksmith work done.

☞ Do not forget the place to buy cheap Clothing. London is selling Clothing at New York cost for cash. If you intend using Guano this spring be sure and buy the best. W. L. London is agent for Pacific, Zell's, Star, Navassa, and Coe's. Examine the analyses made at N. C Agricultural Experiment Station. The best is the cheapest, but not the lowest price.

☞ Call on J. B. Harris for a pair of those hand made Shoes. If you want a new suit he has the best selected stock of Clothing ever offered in this market. Having bought them since the decline he will sell them lower than the lowest, for cash. All persons indebted to Shaw & Harris, either by note or account, are earnestly requested to come forward and settle with J. B. Harris at once as he needs the money.

A Young Giant.—The wife of Mr J. D. Griffin, of this township, gave birth to a boy babe, a few days ago that weighed fourteen and a half pounds.

A Woman Drowned.—On last Saturday a young woman, daughter of the late Barwell Ellington, was found dead in a creek near her residence in Oakland township. She frequently had fits, and it is supposed that she was seized with a fit as she was crossing the creek, and falling in it, was drowned.

Appointing Magistrates.—The people of the different townships ought to hurry up with their petitions for the appointment of such magistrates as they want. The Legislature has passed a law giving every township two additional magistrates, so that each township will hereafter have five. Send your petitions without delay.

School Celebration.—We return thanks to Mr. R. E. Hardin for an invitation to attend the closing exercises of his school in Bear Creek township, on the 3rd of March. The exercises will consist of speeches, dialogues, essays, music and collations, and we doubt not it will be a most pleasant occasion, and regret that we cannot attend.

Voters in Chatham.—According to the census of 1880 there were 4,862 male inhabitants over the age of 21 years in the county of Chatham, of whom 3,404 were white and 1,458 were colored. The largest number of votes ever cast at any election in this county was at the presidential election in 1880, when Hancock received 2,206 and Garfield received 1,884, making a total of 4,090 votes, which shows that according to the census reports there were nearly 800 men in this county who did not vote. At the last election there was a still greater number that did not vote.

An Old Fiddle.—The Moore Gazette in its last issue boasts of a fiddle in that county that is 112 years old, but that is an infant when compared with a veteran violin in this county, now owned by Mr. James Moore of this place. Mr. Moore's fiddle was brought to America many years ago by Commodore W. E. Boudinot, of this place, to whom, while an officer in the United States navy, it was given in 1842, at Cape Town in Africa. The violin was repaired in 1742 (141 years ago) as is shown by an inscription on it, and the gentleman, who gave it to Commodore Boudinot, assured him that it was made in 1642, nearly two and a half centuries ago! It is certainly a very old and remarkable violin, and is the sweetest toned instrument that we have ever heard.

The Winter Cure.—The old Dutch farmers in the piedmont portion of this State believe that the weather on Ash Wednesday indicates whether or not there will be a good wheat crop the next summer. If the weather on that day is bad the wheat crop will be small, but if clear weather, the crop will be good. If there is anything in this sign we will not have a good wheat crop this year, because the weather on last Ash Wednesday (the 7th inst.) was very inclement. We remember that the weather was clear and delightful on Ash Wednesday of last year, and the wheat crop was unusually good. In this section the wheat now is rather backward and unpromising.

Stock Law Association.—The Chatham County Pioneer Stock Law Association held its annual meeting on last Saturday, at Bynum's factory and elected the following officers for the ensuing year: H. C. Horton President, T. R. Farrar Vice President, L. B. Bynum Secretary and Treasurer, R. J. Powell, H. Pope, J. R. West, T. W. Hattle and C. W. Bynum Executive Committee.

The following resolution was unanimously adopted:

"Resolved, That after a trial of four years of the workings of the Stock Law, this association do assert that the most sanguine expectations of its members have been fully met, and that it is a pleasure for us to make renewed grant of such experience to all farmers who may contemplate adopting the Stock Law."

This Association was organized about four years ago by the landowners in the neighborhood of Bynum's factory, and the benefits of the no fence law became so manifest that other landowners soon after joined the association, so that now the area embraced therein covers quite a large portion of the county. It is said that "experience is the best teacher," and after four years' trial the members of this association have well learned the benefits of a law, that gives satisfaction wherever it is tried. What a prosperous county Chatham would be, if we had fewer fences and better roads!

A Chathamite Killed.

[Our Register of Deeds has requested us to publish the following letter, which will explain itself.—Ed. Record.]

Gum Run, N. C., Jan. 31, 1883.

Register of Deeds Chatham Co., N. C.:

Sir:—A man by the name of James Oliver, or Oliver, fell into a shaft here and broke his neck last Saturday night. He was drunk at the time. He is said to be a native of your county. He first came to this county before the war. He served in an artillery company from this county. Now, if he has any friends in your county you could let them know what has become of him. He was buried in the common burying ground in as decent manner as the circumstances would permit. You will please inform me if he has any friends in your county, and if they will write to me I will give them all the information about his death they want.

Yours, &c.,

R. A. Sumrock.

State News.

Richmond Observer: Last Saturday we witnessed a sad sight in Richmond. On one side of the street was the burning, and on the other side of the street were the wife and very dear White people.

Winston Sentinel: A man living near the Pilot Mountains, in Stokes county, wanting to go West, recently sold his farm for $800. He sold his tobacco crop, raised this year with one horse, for $1,370. People take as much as he received for his farm. He says it is a big country for a great many people.

Asheville Times: It is authentically related that a merchant of Marion a few years ago traded some cotton buttons, and wrote to a Northern firm to ship him one bushel of cotton buttons." In due course of time a box came, and when opened was found to contain a bushel of U. S. brass buttons, with the superscription of "Union" upon them, and a letter from the firm stating the buttons had been procured and shipped.

Wilmington Star: An old colored man bought a farm of twenty-five acres, about twenty miles up the Carolina Central road about two years ago, the party from whom he purchased it giving him time in which to pay for it. He tended the farm in summer and came to town in the winter and sawed wood, and last week he made his last payment on his farm, has five cows, ten hogs and a fine flock of poultry, and in the meantime has supported a wife and several children.

Elizabeth City Economist: A correspondent writing from Pasquotank county, says: Mr. Editor, I see you are hunting up old men. Down here along this part of the North Carolina coast is a good range for them. We can scare 'em up in the neighborhood of the hundreds. There's Sammy Mann and Neddy Payne, both of them near a hundred, and they can dance a jig now equal to a boy of 18. On North Banks they sometimes die, but on South Banks they once had a meeting and whittled sticks to decide who should kill his grandfather that they might see what a funeral was.

Tarboro' Southerner: One of the saddest deaths imaginable, occurred last Sunday night, on the plantation of Mrs. F. M. Cowles. The deceased was a colored girl named Cindy, about four years old, daughter of Philip Clewson. About nine p. m., Sunday, the girl got a bottle containing about a pint of whiskey, which her father says he had for medicinal purposes, and drank it. In a very short while she was bereft of reason, and was acting like one with the delirium tremens. But this raving only lasted a very short time when the poor victim sank into a stupor from which she never aroused.

Statesville Landmark: There is in Shiloh township, a young lady who stammers so badly that it is often difficult, and even painful to attempt to have any conversation with her. So far there is nothing strange in this case; a few others are afflicted in like manner, all of whom deserve pity. But the lady in question sings well in a rich soprano voice, and when singing never is stuttered in a single instance. Singing, she can ask and answer questions and keep up a conversation as well as any one with the most perfect organs of speech.

Rocky Mount Reporter: On Monday, January 22nd, Mrs. Mary Proctor, wife of Bennett Proctor, who lives about three and a half miles from this place, was burned so severely that she died about 9 o'clock p. m., of the same day after several hours of terrible suffering. Mr. Proctor, was at work in the field, and seeing a large smoke arising, ran to the house, thinking it was on fire, but to his horror, found his wife prone upon the ground burned almost beyond recognition. It is supposed that she was taken with a fit and fell in the fire, as she had been having fits occasionally for the last six years.

Fayetteville Observer: At a meeting of the Board of Magistrates of Robeson county, held February 5th, an Inferior Court for the county was established. Messrs. James S. McQueen, A. W. Fuller and Dr. Wm. McFee were elected Justices. Good selections, all of them. —Few persons, outside of farmers, realize the great annual loss sustained from hog cholera. A gentleman living on the Cape Fear recently informed us that last year he lost over eighty fine porkers from this scourge, and all over the county the yearly destruction is immense. The discoverer of a real cure for hog cholera would be a benefactor.

Rutherford Ron Banner: About four o'clock Tuesday morning Mr. H S Toms, of the Rutherford Hotel, was awakened by a dense smoke filling his room. He sprang out of bed and found the mantle piece and a portion of the wall next the fire-place in the ball room in flames. He with some assistance extinguished the flames, and not a moment too soon for they were making rapid headway. The wall was burned out through the weather boarding, and in a few minutes the fire would have reached the roof. The fire-board is supposed to have caught from a stick of wood kindled burning on the hearth. Be careful about your fire when you retire at night.

Wilson Advance: The President has renominated Mr. John T. Sharpe to be postmaster at Wilson. —The horrible death of a healthy and stout negro man named William Evans is reported at Whitakers. While talking of going to South Carolina to work in the cotton fields, he commenced pouring from his mouth and nose, and he died from suffocation in twenty minutes. —A son of Mr. Francis May, aged about 11 years old, in Franklin county, had the sad misfortune to have both of his thighs broken a few days ago by a tree falling on him, and the last accounts we had from him, it was thought that his limbs would have to be amputated and but little hopes were entertained of his recovery.

Salisbury Watchman: A great deal of Hickory, Dog and Persimmon wood is just now being shipped from this county. It is to be hoped our people do not know the real value of their timber. —An old woman living near Old Fort committed suicide last week by hanging. She got up in the night and tied three cranks of yarn together, placed her head through one end and hung the other on a knot in the joice, and jumped from the table she had used in the dismal preparations for the launching of her soul into Eternity. Her husband and children were asleep in the room, and were not aware of the horrid deed, until next morning when they awoke to find the wife and mother swinging from the ceiling, with ghastly countenance locked in death.

Charlotte Journal: Mr. Charles Cox, a young man, was shot on the streets of Big Lick in Stanley county, last Saturday night by some unknown person. It was very dark but as he saw from what direction the shot came he drew his pistol and fired, with what effect is not known. We have no particulars, but are informed that Mr. Cox died Sunday evening from the effects of the wound. —An indisputable case of suspended animation is reported from Mocksville. Prof. Stirling, before mentioned by us as in a dying condition, did actually die but is now in the land of the living again. He ceased to breathe, his pulse ceased to beat, and he was to all appearances dead for six minutes. At the end of that time he threw up his hands, gasped, and his lungs began the exercise of their functions again. Prof. Stirling reports a dissolution between soul and body. —The manufacture of wagons at Waughtown is quite an industry. Eighteen are turned out every week. —An improved evaporator for making syrup has been invented, and the patent granted, by Henry Null, of Salem. —On Thursday evening M. L. Walker a revenue officer of Stanly county, was fatally shot in the back by a moon shiner named David Frailey. The shooting occurred near the Rowan county line, and there is great indignation felt throughout the entire section where the shooting took place, over the affair. Frailey made his escape and is still at large. —The fish pond belonging to Mr. A Green of Shelby, and which was stocked with carp last March, is now beginning to pay handsomely. Mr. Green received an order for stock fish from Asheville some time since which he promptly filled. Besides the great luxury of the family supply, a fine profit may soon be realized from this commendable enterprise.

Greensboro' Patriot: Richard Zeigler, the old colored man from Winston who went to Georgia some weeks ago after his wife, returned this morning. "Here she is, boss; I fetch her back sure," was his greeting to our reporter this morning. They took the Salem train and looked as if engaged two cooing doves. They had been separated just thirty-one years, and throughout that time the wife had remained true to her first love. —John Barnes, a Moore county man, registered at the McAden last week. Sometime ago he discovered gold on his farm, and kept the secret to himself until he mined out one hundred pounds of the precious metal. Thinking the vein was exhausted, he offered to sell and did sell for $13,000. A few months ago his worldly possessions consisted of a half dozen dogs, now he is a bonanza king, counting his gold by the thousands. Such is life. —Greensboro claims the biggest baby in the State. At the tender age of three hours it weighed 16 pounds. —Diphtheria is prevailing in the Mt. Pleasant Church neighborhood, Guilford county, and the Long's Mills neighborhood, Randolph county. Mr. Jesse Kime, living near Long's Mills, lost three children last week by this terrible disease, and the fourth and last is at the point of death. —From Mr. Joel Mitchell, of Jamestown, we gather the following particulars of James Spoon's suicide at that place yesterday. Mr. Spoon was sitting in the room by the fire about 10 o'clock, and seeing a cord on the mantle piece took it down and drew it across his knee to test its strength. He then asked his wife to fix his bed, said he was not feeling well, and wanted to lie down. After the bed was prepared he went into the room, cord in hand, and asked that the door be shut so that the children would not disturb him. He was left to himself, the inmates of the house supposing him to be in bed, until about a half hour afterward, when his father came in and inquired where James was. Upon being informed that he was not well and had gone to bed he went into the room where he was and found him suspended by the cord from the joist. Life was extinct. —A private telegram from Washington says that Col. Keogh, of this place, has been tendered a foreign mission. —A furious sow attacked a man who had picked up one of her pigs on the streets of Rockville yesterday, and bit him severely. She probably would have killed him but was beaten off with a fence rail by a man who ran to the rescue.

A Murderous Mob.

A dispatch from Kansas City, dated 9th inst., says: At Paola, Kansas, yesterday, a mob broke into the county jail, where Joseph Bayars, was confined on the charge of murdering his wife, nearly naked and shamefully beat him to death. She received enough to tell that she had been attacked by a negro man named Bertie Smith. The latter was arrested and put in jail. About 11 o'clock at night an excited crowd, chiefly colored, came to the jail, gathered at the jail and demanded the prisoner. The sheriff had prepared for the enemy and carried them away, but the rioters soon pushed forward and battered open the door of the building. The sheriff struck the foremost man over the head, and then two men mounted him to which the sheriff and his deputies replied. A general fusilade ensued, and the front windows and doors of the building were riddled. Ed. Long, the sheriff's son received a buckshot wound in the arm; James Watkins, colored, was shot through the head and instantly killed; several colored men received wounds and several others were slightly injured. The mob then retreated without further effort to obtain possession of the prisoner observed.

Oh, My Back!

That's a common expression and has a world of meaning. How much suffering is summed up in it.

The singular thing about it is, that pain in the back is occasioned by so many things. May be caused by kidney disease, liver complaint, consumption, cold, rheumatism, dyspepsia, overwork, nervous debility, &c.

Whatever the cause, don't neglect it. Something is wrong and needs prompt attention. No medicine has yet been discovered that will so quickly and surely cure such diseases as Brown's Iron Bitters, and it does this by commencing at the foundation, and making the blood pure and rich.

[illegible]

Leading physicians and clergymen use and recommend Brown's Iron Bitters. It has cured others suffering as you are, and it will cure you.
