

LOCAL RECORDS.

A citizen of this county recently married his sister's grand-daughter.

Only seven marriage licenses were issued in this county last month.

Last Monday was a bad day for bridges, as will be seen by reading the proceedings of the magistrates' meeting.

Don't forget that you can buy the cheapest goods in the county at the store of J. B. Harris, which are being sold at and below cost.

A new lock has been put on the town guard-house, and everything made ready for summer lodgers. Who will be its first occupant?

We thank our young countyman, Mr. J. P. Farrington, for an invitation to attend the closing exercises of the Lantburg Academy, to be held next week.

W. H. Leonard has moved his jewelry store south of the court-house. He thanks his customers for their liberal patronage in the past, and solicits a continuance of the same.

Bynum & Headen have on hand Avery's Double Shovel and Georgia Stock Plows, Hunter's Farmer's Friend, Watt, Roland Chill and Avery's one-horse Plows; Cultivators and full line of plow castings.

Sheriff Brewer will be with the tax-lator of Williams' township on the 25th, 26th and 27th, to collect the remainder of taxes now due. He hopes the people will pay promptly and save costs. After the 30th he will advertise and sell for taxes due for 1881.

Farmers will find it to their interest to call at London's and see his harvesting implements, Grain Cradles, Grain and Grass Bades, Swards, Whetstones, &c. He is also Agent for all kinds of Mowers, Reapers, Separators, and Horse-Powers. Now if you need anything of the kind it will pay you to call at London's and see him.

Bynum & Headen have just received their stock of Spring and Summer Goods, consisting of a general stock of such as is generally found in a first-class store. Miles' Ladies' Shoes and hand-made Gentlemen's Gaiters a specialty. Our stock of Millinery Goods is very extensive. Mrs. Laura Horne will be found in that department; she will be pleased to serve her friends and customers with the very latest styles.

Ladies, you will see something pretty and extra cheap if you will call at London's and see his Hats, Bonnets, Flowers, &c. He is offering very great inducements for cash. Hats that sold for $4 two weeks ago now offering for $3; others in same proportion. A beautiful line of Lace and Linen Collars and other Fancy Goods just received. Bargains in Gloves.

Mr. J. W. Jackson has accepted the position of Agent at Large for the Valley Mutual Life Association, of Virginia, and will visit Pittsboro shortly to lay before our people the claims of his company. We notice among other prominent members of this Association, the names of Gov. Jarvis, Judge Fowle, Dr. Grisson, Judge Avery, Col. A. B. Andrews, Major W. H. Crow, R. H. Battle, Jr., Esq., Hon. M. McGhee and many others equally as prominent at Raleigh; Elijah F. Moore and J. B. Starr of Fayetteville; and L. J. Haughton of Pittsboro. We are informed that this Association is fast building up a large and prosperous business in this State and is composed of leading men in all classes of life throughout North Carolina.

A LARGE PIG.—Mr. Eljah Foushee, of Hadley township, killed a pig, a few weeks ago, that was four months old and weighed 135 pounds.

ANOTHER LIQUOR SUOR.—The county commissioners, at their last meeting, granted license for the sale of spirituous liquors, at this place, to George Richardson, a colored citizen.

EARLY BEANS.—The first snap-beans of the season, that we have heard of in this county, were raised by Joseph B. Guthrie, esq., who brought a nice mass of them to the Record, on last Monday.

LARGE POTATOES.—We are indebted to our spinner neighbor, Miss Kate Hanks, for a mess of the largest Irish potatoes that we have seen or heard of this season. Some of them were nearly as large as any that we have ever seen.

A Sudden Death.—On last Monday night Mrs. George Seymour, of Oakland township, sat at a hearty supper and was in her usual good health, but was taken sick during the night and died in a few hours. After her death it is said that her body became spotted.

INCREASED VALUATIONS.—We mentioned last week that the assessors had increased the valuation of real estate in this township $43,000. We have since heard of the increase in other townships, as follows: in Cape Fear $66,000; Williams $35,500; Baldwin's $53,000; Hickory Mountain $33,310; and Hadley's $11,000.

A LAYING GOOSE.—James Smith, of Cape Fear township, informs us that he has a goose that began to lay on the 14th of February last, and up to the 20th of May had laid 38 eggs, and is now looking for another nest.

ESCAPED CONVICT CAPTURED.—A few weeks ago, a white convict from this county, named John Hopkins, escaped from the penitentiary, and on last Tuesday he was recaptured by Mr. Marion Brooks and brought here for the sheriff to carry him to Raleigh.

A NOVEL FIGHT.—We witnessed a very novel fight on our streets, a few days ago. It was between a jaybird and a half-grown kitten. The kitten had climbed a tree, and the bird, having a nest near by, thought the kitten was going for it, and therefore pounced upon it and attacked it so persistently that the kitten indignantly retired.

THE CROSS.—Our farmers will, in a few days, be busy harvesting their wheat and oats, and a few have begun already. From some portions of the county we hear that the wheat crop is bad, while in other portions it is said to be an average crop, though not so good as last year. Nowly every farmer complains of the drill-worm in the corn, which is doing a good deal of damage. Our crops will not be as good as last year, nor as bad as the year before.

A BLEMISHED BULL.—We saw here, on last Monday, the finest specimen of the bovine species that we have ever seen. It was a full-blooded Jersey bull (with a registered pedigree) that belongs to our enterprising countyman, Mr. L. B. Bynum. Any attempt to improve the breed of our cattle should be encouraged, and we cannot too highly commend Mr. Bynum's public spirit in buying this bull. A Jersey calf was recently sold in this county for $25, which shows how highly this breed of cattle is appreciated.

SCHOOL CELEBRATION.—We regret not having been able to attend, on last Thursday, the closing exercises of Mr. Vernon Springs Academy, which, from all that we have heard, passed off most pleasantly. A very large crowd was in attendance, and the students all acquitted themselves most creditably. The literary address was delivered by F. H. Bush, esq., of Raleigh, who well sustained his reputation of being one of North Carolina's most graceful orators. We are pleased to hear of the continued success of this flourishing school.

A PLEASANT SCENES.—During the absence of Rev. R. A. Willis and his wife from home last week, attending the commencement exercises of the Greensboro Female College, the ladies of his congregation at this place, by a preconcerted arrangement among themselves, went to the parsonage and busied themselves for two or three days in preparing a pleasant surprise for them. They put down a nice new matting in the parlor, new curtains to the windows, and with loving hands did many other things that served to excite the surprise and gratitude of their beloved pastor and his wife when they returned home.

AN OLD SUIT.—Depositions were taken here, last Thursday, in a suit that was begun twenty-seven years ago, and may not be ended for several years to come. It is a case pending in the United States Circuit Court at Raleigh, and is entitled "Stiles Seymour, et al. vs. Seymour, Lester L. Robinson, surviving partners of S. Seymour & Co. against The Western Railroad Company," and was instituted for the recovery of $250,000 damages. In 1855 the plaintiffs and defendant entered into a contract for the building of the railroad from Fayetteville to the coalfields in Chatham, a distance of 43 miles, for which the defendant was to pay the plaintiffs the sum of $18,500 per mile. The plaintiffs subcontract the work to other contractors and a large amount of work was done, when in May, 1856, the defendant declared the contract forfeited and compelled plaintiffs to stop work, because of alleged violations of the contract. The plaintiffs at once, at November term, 1856, instituted suit in the federal court (they being residents of New York) and demanded judgment in the sum of $250,000 as damages for the action of the defendant. From various causes the case was not tried before the war, but was pending at its outbreak, and after the war began it was dismissed by the Confederate Judge because the plaintiffs were alien enemies. After the war closed and the federal courts were re-opened in this State, the case was re-instated upon the docket, and as before was continued from term to term, until about 1878 it came up for trial and Judge Bond decided that the plaintiffs were improperly named and could not sustain their suit. From this decision an appeal was taken to the Supreme Court of the United States, which after the lapse of three or four years reversed Judge Bond's ruling and remanded the case for trial. The depositions taken here were those of Dr. John S. McClendian and Mr. J. Q. A. Leach, who were contractors under S. Seymour & Co., and they testified as to the work done by them, and their evidence is regarded as very important.

This suit has been so long pending that all the lawyers originally connected with it are dead. The plaintiffs' attorneys were P. H. Winston, Sr., Henry W. Miller, and W. H. Haigh; and the defendant's attorneys were George E. Badger and B. F. Moore, every one of whom is dead. The plaintiffs are now ably represented by Col. J. W. Hensdale, who is leaving no stone unturned to obtain success.

Important to Teachers. The University Normal School opened at Chapel Hill on the 21st of June and will continue in session until the 25th of July. The character of the faculty and the course of instruction prearranged for this term evince with a peculiar force that a favorable opportunity will be given to those teachers of the State to improve themselves for their professional work. As superintendent of the public schools of Chatham I hereby urge the teachers of the county to avail themselves of the benefits of this school. I urge the teachers of the county to attend this school because they need just such instruction as the faculty there propose to give during this term; and because it is more easily and cheaply accessible to them than any other similar school in the State.

I take this opportunity to say that the examination of teachers will be in the future fully as rigid as in the past, and will be conducted by the written method. P. R. Law, County Supt. June 6th, 1883.

Crops in Illinois. WEDNESDAY, ILLINOIS, May 30, 1883. EDITOR RECORD: As it is raining to-day I thought that I would write a few lines so you can let the farmers of my old county know what the farmers are doing in LaSalle county, Illinois. Well, we have planted corn once and are planting again, and it keeps raining and cool. Some have planted twice and are planting again. I have never seen as poor a prospect since 1858 as it is at the present time. Wheat and oats look well, but corn I don't think can make a half crop. We had always been ahead in the corn crop at this time of the year until now; but we have plenty of old corn. It will take about one week for us to finish planting, and that is getting pretty late to plant corn in this country. It don't have time to get ripe. I have some corn that I planted the first week in May and it was cut off level with the ground by the frost, but it has come out and is large enough to plow but it looks very yellow. I don't think we can brag any more on our corn this year, but everybody seems very quiet. Yours truly, A. S. HENDERSON.

Magistrates' Meeting.

According to previous notice the magistrates and commissioners held a meeting here last Monday to consider the propriety of building certain bridges in this county. There was a question of law presented at the outset of the meeting that no one seemed prepared to answer positively, and that was, "when does the term of the newly appointed magistrates begin?" Several of these magistrates had taken the oath of office and were present ready to participate in the meeting, but it was suggested that their term will not begin until the first Monday in August. After some discussion it was thought best not to decide the question, but to request the newly appointed magistrates not to take part in the meeting, which request they very willingly acceded to.

A resolution was introduced to appropriate $7,000 for building a bridge across Haw river at Henley's mill, but the resolution was tabled without discussion. Another resolution was then introduced to appropriate $6,500 for the same purpose, and after considerable discussion this was defeated by a vote of 9 to 15. A resolution was then introduced to appropriate $3,000 for building a bridge half a mile above Henley's mill, but this also was defeated.

An attempt was next made to get an appropriation of $2,500 for a lattice bridge across Rocky river at Green's mill, but this failed, as did also a motion to get $200 for a truss bridge at the same place.

The friends of a bridge at Love's mill on Haw river then tried their luck but with no better success. They tried to get an appropriation of $4,000 for a lattice bridge at that place, but their effort met with the same fate that had befallen all the others. Our magistrates evidently were not much in the notion of building bridges. Possibly they may change their notion when they meet again on the first Monday in August. Their action will be approved by some and condemned by others.

Commissioners' Meeting.

The county commissioners held their regular monthly meeting on last Monday and Tuesday, and audited the following accounts: James Patterson, two witness tickets, $3.50; J. W. Poe, as overseer of poor-house, 68.75; Dr. G. W. Kirkman, one witness ticket, 2.10; Ira Braxton, for serving as canvasser at senatorial election, 1.50; Elijah Foushee, for serving as canvasser at senatorial election, 1.50; J. W. Hatch, for flour and corn for poor-house, 19.60; R. J. Hatch & Son, for 5 bushels corn for poor-house, 3.50; Thomas C. Dixon, for building bridge across Cane creek, 60.00; W. S. Griffin, for wagon-wheeled for the poor-house wagon, 5.00; O. S. Poe, for supplies for jail, 1.00; John Brand, for 44 barrels of flour for poor-house, 22.50; J. T. Phelps, one witness ticket, 2.10; Thomas Cross, for jail fees, 16.00; W. A. Tamm, one witness ticket, 2.80; J. M. Fittin, one witness ticket, 2.80; Bynum & Headen, for supplies for poor-house, 51.83; H. A. London, for advertising notice to magistrates, 4.00; W. F. Foushee, for moving and arranging papers in old county court clerk's office, 16.75.

State News.

Hillsboro Observer: Mr. David T. Clark has on his plantation, 5 miles north-west of Hillsboro, a young sow 6 months old, that has never had pigs, but gives milk freely. This was brought about by being suckled by pigs.

Greensboro Patriot: The outlook in this section is for one of the largest blackberry crops ever known. It is estimated that this year's crop will be worth between one and two hundred thousand dollars to the trade of Greensboro. The crop is yearly increasing, and with the improved facilities for drying the berries it promises to attain immense proportions.

Raleigh Visitor: Miss Nettie Marshall, one of the accomplished lady teachers in the Centennial Graded School here, has been elected a teacher in the Deaf, Dumb and Blind Institution of this city. A porter in one of our fancy grocery stores was counting out eggs some time ago, and in running his fingers through the saw dust in the box, he struck two eggs that were broken and in which were two little chickens. He took them home, and after careful nursing, raised them, and to-day they each have a large brood of young chickens.

Hickory Press: A sad accident befell Frank Clay, a young man employed at the saw mill of Messrs. Jones & Leard, near Leard Station, last Saturday morning. While Mr. C. was standing near the saw, doubtless un mindful of his perilous position, the carriage, freighted with a heavy log, came rushing back, striking him and throwing him right into the teeth of the running saw. Every one can conceive the horror of his situation. Both legs were sawed in twain, his arms cut off and shattered, and his head terribly mangled. He lingered until last Tuesday morning when he expired.

Newbern Journal: A correspondent from Onslow county says: Mr. Asa Smith, an old citizen living in the backwoods, milks more cows and makes more potatoes than any two men in the county. I saw 21 calves in his pen at one time, and his son told me he milked that number of cows every day, planted from four to six acres in potatoes, unmanured from the penning of 127 head of cattle every night. He makes 15 bushels of his best, fattens his hogs on potatoes, makes his leather as well as milk and butter, lives on what he makes, and sells enough to buy such necessaries as he wants outside, and plants no cotton.

Winston Leader: A gentleman of undoubted veracity, informs a Leader reporter that, while riding along the road a few days since he saw a snake rarely if ever with a snake and a rabbit in a mortal combat. The snake was about five feet long, and black-snake species. It had a young rabbit in its mouth with which it was trying to climb a sapling to escape the enraged beast, supposed to be its mother. The rabbit seized the snake by the tail, and jerked it to the ground. Again the snake tried to ascend the tree only to meet the same fate. The snake then made an inglorious retreat for a clump of bushes, still holding on with a grip like grim death to the young rabbit. The rabbit started in hot pursuit, and seized the snake by the neck, about an inch and a half from the head, when it dropped the young rabbit. The last seen of the snake it was going for the bushes with the speed of a race-horse.

Salisbury Watchman: Henry Klotts, a deputy sheriff of this county, arrested two white men the other day and was marching them off; and marching near a wood pile each prisoner seized an axe and demanded a surrender of the officer. They had the start; he surrendered, and they marched him across the line into Cabarrus county, and then returned him in neutral territory. Officers should make their prisoner march before them and hold up their hands when passing a wood pile where axes are lying around loose. —On last Saturday evening, just after dinner, Mr. Charles Klotts, for some time past, considered slightly deranged, shot himself. He lived about 8 miles east of Salisbury, and the circumstances of the killing are brief. It was noticed on that day that he was worse, his actions showing him to be in a state of lunacy. The family had been watching him, but just after dinner they were all out of the house when the discharge of a gun brought them indoors to find Mr. Klotts with the whole top part of his head blown off. He had taken a double barreled shot gun and placed the muzzle just above the right ear and discharged the piece with his right hand. His brains were scattered all over the wall and ceiling.

Charlotte Journal-Observer: Mr. W. L. Bigham, of Berrylhill township, who was in the city yesterday, reports something remarkable. He has a calf, is only fifteen months old, that gives milk. The calf is not as large as an ordinary animal of that age. The fact of its giving milk is considered a most extraordinary one, and is something the like of which Mr. Bigham never heard of. —On Thursday last Mr. Ed. Steward, a prominent citizen of Cabarrus county, and who is well known in Charlotte, where he does a good deal of his business, met with a distressing accident in his new shingle mill at Mill Hill, by which he lost one of his legs, from the knee down. He was working with the machinery, when, by some unaccountable accident, his leg was caught in the saws and was torn to pieces, together with the ankle and part of the leg. —Rufus Reed, a colored man, well known in this city, bought a bear a few weeks ago and started out through the country with him. Last Sunday Rufus, or so much as was left of him, arrived in the city from McAden's factory for repairs. He and the bear had had a fight and the colored man only saved his own life by cutting the bear's throat. Reed was terribly mangled. His fingers were bitten off, and part of one foot, and one entire heel, together with a big piece of meat from his leg, were missing.

Robert Henderson, who murdered his wife near Oxford, N. C. last November, by beating her, was hanged at Oxford on last Friday. The execution was private, only a few persons being admitted within the enclosure; but a large crowd filled the street, as it was expected that the execution would be public. He made a full confession.

Intimidating a Town.

Frank Brown and John Anderson, two desperadoes, and members of what is known as Crooked Creek gang, pursued a course of intimidation in the town of Watauga, for three hours on Sunday, firing revolvers promiscuously and creating other disturbances. They were finally met by an armed body of citizens who opened fire, shooting Anderson dead and fatally wounding Brown.

Why they Call Him "Old Man."

"Yes, that's sadly so," said Jenkins, "my hair is turning gray and falling out before its time. Use something! I would, but most hair restorers are dangerous." "True," answered his friend, "but Parker's Hair Balsam is as harmless as it is effective. I've tried it, and know. Give the Balsam a show and the hairs will soon stop falling out. You'll find Parker's Hair Balsam advertised in the paper, and you can get a trial, and see how it works. It's a good thing, and has not failed to well in six years as I do at the present time." Mrs. L. F. GARRON.

The Celebrated "York Cottage"

Organs Sold Cheap for Cash. Do not be deceived when you go to buy an Organ; look and see if it has "York Cottage Organ" on its key-board in plain letters. This is the only organ you can get with all of the new improvements. This organ has more reeds and is easier to control and the only one you can buy for the price I am now asking for it. It contains 2 octave compass; is in no other way for the money. I can sell any style at any price. If you do not think so, call on or write to me and be convinced that this is the best organ sold in the State for the low price. Wanted for 6 years. Sold by me only. D. C. GOODWIN, Rialto, Chatham Co., N. C.

MARRIED.

By authority of the State and Marriage Records Office, the following marriages were solemnized: Mr. J. W. HARRIS to Miss MARY GIBBS.
