

LOCAL RECORDS.

Alamance court next week. Coldest spell of the winter. After all these seems to be some truth in the ground fog weather sign.

Very few civil cases were tried last week at Moore Court, on account of the absence of several lawyers.

Three huntsmen from Massachusetts have been several days enjoying themselves in shooting partridges.

Next Saturday is St. Valentine's Day, and the young folks will be sending and receiving loving little missives.

Benny and Healden have just received Clover, Orchard Grass, and Garden Seed. A nice lot of Miles' Ladies' and childrens Shoes.

We are pleased to hear that a tri weekly mail route has been established between this place and Chapel Hill, and that service will be placed thereon in a few weeks.

Country merchants can replenish their stocks cheaper by buying goods at the store of the Bynum Mfg. Co. Loan anywhere else. The goods there are being sold at low cost.

The Aurora Watch is the latest improved, the most accurately and carefully made watch. Order of Warren Prior & Son, Fayetteville, selling Agents for the Aurora Watch and stockholders in the Aurora Watch Factory.

We are indebted to our young townsman, M. Francis Womack, who is one of the managers of the occasion, for an invitation to read the "Washington Birthday Exercises" at the University, to be held on Monday the 23rd inst.

It was intensely cold yesterday morning, the thermometer indicating a temperature of only eight degrees above zero, and today is no warmer. The ice is thick enough for skating and the young folks are enjoying that exhilarating amusement.

New Crop Cuba Molasses, Fine Syrups, and a full line of Groceries, received in London's this week. Also, a large lot of Garden seeds, Onion sets, Clover and Orchard Grass seeds, seed Oats on hand. Extra bargains in heavy Boots at London's. Now is the time to buy a pair.

Sample S. Brown, Greensboro, has opened the Spring campaign with a full stock of Ready-made Clothing, Boots and Shoes, Dress Goods, Prints, Carpets, Gents Furnishing Goods, &c., &c. And Brown always sticks to the motto which has made him a successful merchant, to sell the very best goods at the lowest possible prices. Give him a call.

Remember you can buy at London's for the cash all kinds of winter goods at very greatly reduced prices. Sweaters, Blankets, Cloaks, Overcoats, Flannel Shirts, Carpeting &c. cost for the cash. London has a splendid stock of Shovels, Hoes, Mattocks, Plovers, Plow Castings, Plow Steels, and all kinds farming implements.

We are pleased to hear the most favorable reports of the Jonesboro' High School, under the management of its new principal, Prof. R. J. Davis, who seems to be "the right man in the right place." He is assisted by an able corps of instructors. Board and tuition are obtained on the most reasonable terms, and Jonesboro' is quite accessible to those students who may come from a distance.

IMPORTANT TRIAL.—At the next term of our Superior court, to be held on the third Monday in March, will be had the trial of John T. Mann for the murder of the late James Pace. This trial will doubtless attract much attention and excite great interest, being the most important criminal case tried in this county for many years. Judge Huffin, Hon. John Manning and T. B. Womack, Esq., will appear as counsel for the defense, and Judge Fowle, James S. Manning and H. A. London will appear for the prosecution.

IMPROVING THE ROADS.—A move has just been made which we hope will result in improving the public roads in this vicinity. On last Monday the board of supervisors of public roads of this township, together with a number of our largest tax payers, held a meeting at this place for the purpose of consulting as to the best way of improving our highways. After some discussion it was unanimously resolved to petition the Legislature for an authority to levy an annual tax in this township, not exceeding ten cents on the hundred dollars valuation, for the purpose of assisting in the working of the roads of the township. A committee was appointed, consisting of Messrs. H. A. London, J. A. Womack and R. J. Powell, to prepare a suitable bill and submit it to the Legislature. The money raised by this special tax will be expended by the board of supervisors in such manner as they may deem best. The bill is intended to apply only to this (Centre) township, but if it works well we doubt not that other townships will wish to participate in its benefits. It is not intended to remove the road funds from their work, but only to supplement their work in such manner as may be thought best.

SEEDS FOR THE CHILDREN.—Joseph Harris, one of the editors of the American Agriculturist, offers to send any boy or girl under fifteen years of age, the best of garden seeds free by mail at twenty-five per cent. less than regular rates. This is not a humbug. It is a genuine offer. Send for his seed catalogue of 1885 with directions for cultivation. It is sent free to all applicants, and is well worth reading. Send at once. Address, Joseph Harris, Moulton Farm, Rochester, N. Y.

AN OLD CASE.—On last Saturday a motion was made before the Clerk of our superior court, and by him refused, for leave to remove execution on the judgment obtained here six years ago by Hon. Josiah Turner against ex-Gov. Holden. This judgment was for $8,000 in favor of the plaintiff as damages for his arrest and imprisonment in 1870 by Kirk's troops, acting under orders of the defendant. As more than three years had elapsed since the judgment had been rendered, no execution could be issued without leave of the court. No counsel appeared before the Clerk for the plaintiff, but the defendant was represented by W. R. Henry, Esq., of Henderson, who showed sufficient cause why execution should not be issued, and accordingly leave was granted. This is probably the last that will be heard of an old case that, some years ago, attracted much attention.

RAILROAD TO PETERSBORO.—The hopes of our citizens of getting a railroad to this place have been so often doomed to disappointment, that we are almost afraid to mention that another effort is about to be made. On last Monday Mr. Womack introduced into the Legislature a bill to authorize the Raleigh & Augusta Air Line Railroad Company to build a branch road to this place. We understand that this company will lay the track and equip the road, if our citizens will grade the road bed. It is suggested and believed that this can be done in the same manner as the road from Franklinton to Lenoir, which is now being constructed. That road is being graded by convicts from the penitentiary, and payment is to be made in bonds to the amount of $10,000, paid in by one or more townships in Franklin county. When the road is graded the Raleigh & Gaston Railroad Company will lay the track and operate the road. The distance from Franklinton to Lenoir is about ten miles, the same distance as from Monroeville to this place, and it is thought that the cost of grading will be about the same. It seems probable then, that we can have a railroad from Monroeville to this place, if the citizens of this township will vote for the issuing of township bonds to the amount of $10,000.

OUR POOR-HOUSE.—At the last meeting of our county commissioners, Dr. Manning, as superintendent of the county board of health, submitted the following interesting report as to the condition of the poor house: To the Board of Commissioners: Gentlemen.—As superintendent of the Board of Health for Caswell county, I feel it my duty to offer for your consideration the following report in reference to the present condition of our poor-house. There are now in this institution thirty-six inmates, to-wit: eight white males, sixteen white females, six colored males, and three colored females. Five of these are insane and are confined in the building set apart for the care of lunatics. Of this number three at times are very violent, and require special attention. The poor-house contains in all ten cabins. Six of these are 18 by 20 feet large; the remaining four being considerably smaller; 14 by 18 feet. Two of the smaller cabins are set apart for the accommodation of the nine colored paupers, leaving eight for the white ones. In one room there are five, in another four, &c. All of these inmates, I am permitted to say, are kept in good sanitary condition as the circumstances will admit. Now with these facts in view it is hardly necessary for me to say that there is great need for additional accommodation. For it is impossible for the superintendent of the poor-house to properly care for these unfortunate creatures unless more room is provided for them. I therefore beg leave to suggest that four new rooms be immediately built and as many of the old ones be repaired as may seem necessary for the more comfortable accommodation of these inmates. In the annual report of the Board of Directors and Superintendent of the North Carolina Insane Asylum it is stated that there is in that part of the State now which patients are sent to this institution 863 white insane persons. The capacity for accommodation in the asylum at Raleigh is limited to 250, which leaves not less than 613 inmates. With these appalling statistics, and with the ratio of insanity increasing, it seems to me that it behooves the commissioners to prepare for the better accommodation of the insane of our county. For with the present crowded condition of the asylum, and the ever increasing demands before this institution, the only resource left, is for each county to prepare to take care of its own insane. I beg to call special attention to the heating arrangement in the building set apart for lunatics, for it is not only very defective but even dangerous. Before closing this report I desire to say a word in praise of Mr. Poe, the present superintendent. He has done his full duty to the extent commensurate with his means. Too much has been required of him, and certainly more than one man can do, and do it properly. He not only is required to cultivate a crop but in addition does nearly all the manual labor the institution demands. He has the responsibility of caring for five insane persons and three idiots, who require not only a kind heart, but likewise an immense amount of good judgment. I think he ought to be furnished a competent female attendant.

JOHN M. MANNING, M. D. Supt. Board of Health. February 3rd, 1885.

Board of Medical Examiners.

Reason of the Report: In the last number of your paper a writer signing himself "Science" gives his views on the powers, rights, &c., of the State Medical Examining Board. He quotes from the law which is found in the II Volume of The Code, pages 329 and 331. Sections 3122, 3123, 3124 and 3132. On reference to the Act I find that "science" is right in the extracts from the law are correctly made. Now I suppose there are at least 1,000 physicians in North Carolina, and of these I am entirely certain that 950 could not collect a medical bill, for the reason that they have not got licenses from the State Medical Board after standing an examination on the ten prescribed medical works. It matters not how long and successfully a physician has been practicing, nor whether in the outset of his career he got a diploma from a medical college, he must attend the meeting of the Board, in many cases hundreds of miles away, and submit to be examined and pay $10 for license, or in case of his refusal or neglect to do this he is placed outside of the protection of the law. Not only is this the case, but it is clear that in case an executor or administrator pays or has paid the account of a physician who has not this license, it matters not how just and moderate it may be, he would not be allowed credit for such payment if the next of kin refused to admit it, and would have to lose out of his own funds the amount of such payment. If an unlicensed physician cannot collect his account out of a debtor who lives singly if he dies it will extend the same protection to his wife and children. Now to be licensed the applicant must be examined on the following branches of medical science as enumerated in the 3124th section of the Act: anatomy, physiology, medical hygiene, chemistry, pharmacy, materia medica, therapeutics, obstetrics, the practice of medicine. The State Medical Board are to examine all applicants on the above named branches, but who may wish to examine the Examiners? I doubt much whether, in case they were examined on the above named works by a Board of Paraphrase Professors, they could get license to practice their profession. Be this as it may, it is perfectly certain that only a few young gentlemen fresh from the books could get the license required and only a few of the physicians in the State would have to retire and leave the business almost exclusively in the hands of those already licensed. Public attention has not been much called to this matter heretofore for the reason that the Statute Law in North Carolina which is most often referred to is found in the I Volume of the Code and these provisions are found in the II Volume. I think it probable that nine-tenths of the physicians in the State know nothing of such a law, and it is certain that they do not know that they are outlawed in being denied the protection and aid of the law in collecting a just compensation for medicines furnished and for their medical services. A physician who has been well grounded in the principles of the "Healing Art," no matter whether he has attended one course of Medical Lectures or two, and who has had long experience in the practice, is sorely as efficient for good in a sick room as young gentlemen without experience and whose sole recommendation is that he has been examined by this Board on the required books and licensed. But some one will say "it is an important that our physicians should be better men—that they should be familiar with the books, &c., &c. Now, I would ask, is it not important also that we should have learned lawyers and skilled farmers and mechanics and good preachers? Why not have a law passed that every practicing lawyer in North Carolina, although he may have got his license heretofore, should go to Raleigh and be again examined on the elementary text books and pay $10 for a new license or otherwise be disbursed? Surely it is important that we should have good preachers. Ought there not, in this principle, to be a law that they should be examined by some body or some authority every few years and again licensed or otherwise be unlicensed? Good farming is an important to the well-being of a State; and yet, what would be thought of a law establishing an Agricultural Commission and requiring our farmers to appear before it and be examined on the agricultural books and thus get license to farm or otherwise be deprived of the right to make corn? All these supposed laws would be on the same line as those above quoted in reference to physicians. These latter, it is clear, are devised in the interest of the few against the many. Our people are not fools. If a physician or a lawyer or a preacher are unskilled, inefficient or unworthy, they will soon find it out and they will get little business and receive few hearers.

This law in reference to physicians ought to be repealed. It ought never to have been on the statute book. The status of physicians who were such prior to the passage of the Act incorporating the State Medical Society in 1859 ought to be distinctly defined as it was in the 18th section of said Act, page 309, and they should be declared eligible to membership in the State Medical Society. One word more, Mr. Editor. Would it be just to compel the Medical Fraternity, certainly over 1,000 of them, to come from far and near to Raleigh or Wilmington to be examined? They are generally poor men who live by their practice. The cost of the trip could not be much under $50 on an average. Of one thing I am certain, if the voice of the people of North Carolina could be respected all such legislation would be blotted out from the Statute Book.

A CRISIS.

No man knows what a ministering angel his wife is until he comes home one day, suffering with a dreadful cold and she happens to have a bottle of Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup in the house.

State News.

News and Observer: A reporter was yesterday told that a disease thought to be measles and pneumonia, is killing the people in the Iredellville and Wakefield sections of this county, over a dozen having died in a fortnight. The party who told the news says the people are terribly alarmed. "Well night pain-stricken, in fact. Some say the disease is something new and unknown in that section, and that it proves very fatal.

Newbern Journal: A correspondent from Danville county says: We have some few circumstances in our county that are hard to find every day. One is an old negro woman that is over 110 years old, by the name of Easter Wallace, who has just cut her third set of teeth, verifying the old adage "once a man and twice an old man." I was not informed whether scolding syrup was necessary or not. Another is a man over 80 years old who has been married fifty odd years, and has many children and grandchildren who say he never kissed his wife in his life. Another is a man who has a family of interesting children, both boys and girls, who say he never kissed one of the children in his life. The query with me is: ought the first to have a wife or the last a child?—Mr. Dudley of Onslow, killed himself last week while out hunting. He was found by his wife dead, with gun in one hand and a squirrel in the other. It is supposed he was walking, gun in hand, and the hammer caught in the bushes, causing the accident. He was shot through the bowels, and death must have been instantaneous.

Charlotte Observer: Mr. W. T. Alexander, of Malheur Creek township, comes into print with a cry that takes the prize. Mr. Alexander owned a calf of six weeks, which he prized very highly, and one day six weeks ago, the calf was suddenly disappeared. He searched the surrounding country over and over, but could learn no tidings of his calf and at length he concluded to give it up as lost. Yesterday Mr. Alexander was engaged in throwing hay into his barn, which was already pretty well filled, and while so engaged, he thought he discovered a movement or sound proceeding from the hay in the barn. Listening again he became convinced that something was under the hay and he began to investigate. He threw out the hay until about half the pile had been removed and there stood revealed to his eyes his long lost calf. The animal had been buried in the hay for six weeks, but having considerable emaciation, it was in a good condition and was able to walk. The calf had gone into the barn and the hay had fallen behind it from the left cutting off its retreat. As the hay continued to fall, the calf was soon completely buried. From all indications the calf could probably have existed in its imprisonment for a couple of weeks longer. Some rascally parties made a desperate effort to wreck the train from Charlotte to Starsville on the A. T. & O. railroad, last Friday night, at Davidson College depot, and the attempt almost proved successful. Just before the arrival of the train at Davidson College, the depot agent had occasion to go up the track a short distance and before he had left the depot out of sight he came across a bale of cotton lying on the track, with one end lashed against a cross-tie, so as to make a most formidable obstruction. The train was blowing for the depot at this time and within five minutes after the agent had called the bale from the track, the train came up. Yesterday morning news was brought to the city by a person from Lenoir's township, in a distant part of the county, of a mournful event in his neighborhood, one day last week in the death by burning of Mrs. Luther Sherrill, an estimable Middleburg lady. The affair simply related is that Mrs. Sherrill, being left at home alone with her infant child, had the misfortune to get her dress ignited in some manner by the fire place, and that after vainly endeavoring to extinguish the flames, she had dropped down on the floor, setting fire to the planks upon which she lay, and that rallying her strength, she had crawled from the house out into the yard and there died, with all clothing burned from her, and her body mangled from head to foot. There was no one about the premises and while all this was going on Mr. Sherrill was busily returning to his home from a business trip to Charlotte, little dreaming of the terrible scene that awaited his arrival. The affair occurred late in the afternoon, and the first one to arrive upon the scene was Mrs. Sherrill's little son, who arrived at home from school shortly after the occurrence of the sad affair. He found the house burning and full of smoke, and failing to receive an answer from his mother to his calls, he fled to a neighboring house and gave the alarm, and within a few minutes a sad and party of neighbors had arrived at Mr. Sherrill's house. They extinguished the burning floor, and after the smoke had cleared away, they found Mrs. Sherrill's little baby lying on the floor under a table, a few feet away from the fire. It was almost suffocated, but was found to be unharmed, though scorched in several places. The hair on the back of his head was singed off close, and from this circumstance it is believed that at the time Mrs. Sherrill's dress became ignited she held the child in her arms, but with motherly instinct had placed it out of reach of danger at the first warning. The body of the poor woman was found in the yard, a short distance from the house, where she had dragged herself in the last agonies of death. Her body was badly disfigured by the fire, and was almost unrecognizable. Mr. Sherrill arrived home soon after the neighbors had extinguished the flames, and was almost crazed at the sight that greeted him. The opportune arrival of the little son prevented the calamity from being greater, for had the condition of things remained undiscovered a few minutes longer, the house and its tiny occupant would both have been consumed.

Hundreds of letters, from those using Ayer's Hair Vigor attest its value as a restorer of gray hair to its natural color. As a stimulant and tonic, preventing and often curing baldness, and clearing and soothing the scalp, its use cannot be too strongly recommended.

Market Gardeners and all who want the best seeds direct from the grower, should send for Harris' new seed catalogue for 1885. It is sent free to all applicants, and is well worth reading. Address, Joseph Harris, Moulton Farm, Rochester, N. Y.
