

THANKSGIVING.

Upon the table fruitless ground, Above a cross you had found, A wreath of...

THANKSGIVING.

LITTLE Kate Weaver walked wearily through the snow...

THANKSGIVING.

At home, her mother there sat, In a blue jacket, who stood at the door...

THANKSGIVING.

And before the actual day was over, Kate was clasped in her mother's arms...

THANKSGIVING.

And in the case and creator of her mother's internal home, roses returned to Carrie's cheeks...

THANKSGIVING.

And out of it she awoke to the consciousness of her mother's presence...

THANKSGIVING.

And before they had said "Thanksgiving" she had said "Thankful" for she asked...

THANKSGIVING.

But the sick girl answered, humbly: "Thanksgiving."

CHILDREN'S COLUMN.

At the same hour a sailor tumbled out of his berth on board the steamship...

"You're a sailor, are you?" said the Captain, yesterday.

And as it chanced that, as people were going home to their homes...

And then he came, coming around the corner and he began to sing...

And then he came, coming around the corner and he began to sing...

And then he came, coming around the corner and he began to sing...

And then he came, coming around the corner and he began to sing...

And then he came, coming around the corner and he began to sing...
