

A CONVENTION of the democrats of this (the fifth) judicial district was held at Greensboro, on last Tuesday, and nominated Robert W. Winston, Esq., of Granville county, as their candidate for the office of Judge of this district.

Mr. Winston is quite a young man, only thirty years of age, but a learned lawyer and will no doubt make an acceptable Judge. The friends of Judge Womack advocated his nomination most earnestly and they think that he would have been nominated at a subsequent ballot, if there had been no nomination on the first ballot.

SEVERAL DEMOCRATS are trying to use the Farmers' Alliance for their personal preference, and for the promotion of their individual interests. Designing men, who have no hope of obtaining office in any other way, have joined the Alliance solely for the purpose of securing some office.

One of these fellows is a very severe and deserved rebuke last week by the Alliance in Rowan county. One Kreider was president of the county Alliance in Rowan, and relying on that high position he announced himself an independent candidate for sheriff, expecting of course that the Alliance would support him.

We commend this action of the Rowan county Alliance for the influence in other counties. In Mecklenburg county in North Carolina is Senator Vance, and his popularity is richly deserved. One State has never produced an able statesman or purer patriot.

Therefore whatever he may say on important public matters should receive the serious and careful consideration of all good men. We hope, therefore, that the readers of the Record will carefully read and seriously consider the words of wisdom contained in his letter to the Farmers' Alliance, which is published in this issue.

Men of Carolina, pause and reflect! Heed the words of warning and wisdom uttered by your beloved Senator. Let not selfish and office-seeking demagogues sow the seeds of dissension in our ranks, but let us all stand shoulder to shoulder and present a united front in support of the grand old democratic party that has been the bulwark of our liberties in the past and is our only hope of safety in the future!

THE FARMERS' ALLIANCE.

Senator Vance Writes a Wise and Patriotic Letter and Defines His Position on the Sub-Treasury Bill and Other Questions.

SEVEN CHAMBERLAIN, June 28, '90. His Excellency, President Vance, Raleigh, N. C. Dear Sir:—So many reports concerning your position on what is known as the Sub-Treasury or Farmers' Warehouse bill have been circulated in our State, and I have received so many letters of enquiry on the subject, that I have deemed it my duty to answer them in this way.

On the 24th day of February, 1890, at the invitation of L. L. Park, President of the N. C. Farmers' and Industrial Union, I attended in the Senate Hall, 28th St., Raleigh, known as the Sub-Treasury bill, and presented its reference to the Committee on Agriculture and Forestry, where it was reported that it would receive more friendly consideration than from the Committee on Finance, to which it would otherwise have gone.

My own position remains the same. I am in support of this bill in its present shape. But I am not prepared to support it in its present shape, and I am not prepared to support it in its present shape, and I am not prepared to support it in its present shape.

My own position remains the same. I am in support of this bill in its present shape. But I am not prepared to support it in its present shape, and I am not prepared to support it in its present shape.
