The Old Plover. The first of the season, the plover is here, and it is a sight to see him in his plumage...

IN BRUI'S EMBRACE.

A STORY OF THE PAST.

"I have read within the past few weeks many interesting and thrilling accounts of hunting the grizzly bear..."

"One day I was in Norway, say, eight, ten or even twelve miles through most impenetrable regions of nature with out-sight of a single living thing..."

"As you approach the place, three or four or perhaps half a dozen substantial log-built structures, will be gradually disclosed..."

"This bear paid no attention whatever to me, but followed up his attack on my companion, who did not need any further intimation to know what he had on hand..."

his head, and it hung in strips down his neck. Jacques' gun had been knocked from his hand. The blood poured from his head and face in streams...

"These incidents had all occurred with such rapidity that I hadn't had time to think, let alone act, but when I saw Jacques lying at the mercy of the great brute that would crush the life out of him with the next blow of his terrible paw..."

"I have read within the past few weeks many interesting and thrilling accounts of hunting the grizzly bear..."

Amid Desolate Grandeur In Norway.

"One day I was in Norway, say, eight, ten or even twelve miles through most impenetrable regions of nature with out-sight of a single living thing..."

"As you approach the place, three or four or perhaps half a dozen substantial log-built structures, will be gradually disclosed..."

Death of General "Blot" Kearney.

Colonel W. L. Goldsmith of the Mississippi gives the following account of the death of General Kearney, who was killed by soldiers of his regiment in September, 1862.

"The battle of Chancellorsville was fought late in the afternoon amid a severe storm of wind and rain. It was a gloomy, dark, depressing afternoon, and night was fast approaching..."

"I have read within the past few weeks many interesting and thrilling accounts of hunting the grizzly bear..."

How the Earth Was Weighed.

"The question of the earth's density and weight has always been one of the great interests of scientific men in general..."

"In 1827 Professor Maskelyne made experiments at the foot of Mount Schiehallion, Perthshire, Scotland, by which it was determined that the attraction exerted by that mountain..."

A Swimmer's Feat.

"At the London Royal Aquarium, Professor Edward Fensholt, a swimmer, accomplished the feat of remaining under water over eleven and a half minutes out of a total of twelve minutes..."

Glad to Oblige.

"Footpad (cheerful revolver): 'I'll trouble you for not change you've just about got me!'"

CHILDREN'S COLUMN.

A BIRD'S EYE VIEW. The nesting life of small birds which had formed itself on each side of the chimney was the subject of the story...

"What I was doing in the woods was neither too busy nor too thoughtful, but a pleasure of my life which I had drawn from the bank for the purpose of my life..."

"I have read within the past few weeks many interesting and thrilling accounts of hunting the grizzly bear..."

SHIP STORES.

How Supplies For Uncle Sam's Navy Are Handled.

"The supplies of Uncle Sam's Navy are handled in a very different manner from those of the merchant marine..."

"I have read within the past few weeks many interesting and thrilling accounts of hunting the grizzly bear..."
