

The Chatham Record.
THURSDAY, MARCH 22, 1894.
LOCAL RECORDS.

—Arid Phosphate $1.60 a sack at O. S. Poe & Son's.

—One pair of good mules and a Nissen wagon for sale by B. Nooe, Jr.

—A lot of collars—walnut, oak and pine—for sale cheap, by B. Nooe, Jr.

—This being the time of the vermal equinox, bad weather may be expected.

—A small lot of Spring Ginghams at 7 1/2 cents a yard, received this week, O. S. Poe & Son's.

—The town commissioners have ordered a new registration for the municipal election on the first Monday in May.

—O. S. Poe & Son expect to display an unusually large and varied stock this season. Frank C. Poe will go North next week.

—From every town and railroad station in this county wagons are daily hauling the odorous fertilizer, and many a farm is covered with a mortgage to pay for it.

—The first three weeks of this March have been so unusually warm, that vegetation is now almost a month in advance of what it generally is at this season of the year.

—Syrup 20 and 25 cents a gallon, coffee 20 and 22 1/2 cents a pound, citrus tomatoes $1 a dozen, Severn mills flour $3.50 a barrel, F. F. plows $2 each, bacon 8 1/2 cents a pound at O. S. Poe & Son's.

—We take pleasure in calling attention to the fact of that enterprising firm, Woodcock & Son, who have received their new stock of Spring goods, in which they are offering great bargains.

—W. H. Edwards, dentist, will visit Winton on Monday and Tuesday, and Pittsboro on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, following the third Sunday of each month, prepared to do all kind of dental work.

—Easter Monday is always a holiday in this section, and the young folks enjoy it with picnics and fishing parties. We hope the weather will be favorable, on next Monday, and our young friends all have a delightful day fishing and frolicking.

—Remember this is your last week to buy ready made clothing at cost from W. L. London & Son. They have on hand a large stock of clothes and floor points. Would call the attention of the ladies to their stock of R. & G. corsets for ladies and misses.

—Sweet Potatoes for boiling, fine New Orleans Molasses, good, five boxes 25 cents, best of the barrel, Coffee, 20 cents per lb., extra fine Flour, good Flour, 25 1/2 per barrel, Dixie, F. Friend and Georgia stocks, plows, castings; all at Winton & Hadden's.

—Mr. A. E. Cox has been appointed postmaster in place of Mr. A. J. Riggsbee, deceased, and the name of the office has been changed from Riggsbee's Store to Riggsbee, and the office removed to Mr. Cox's residence, about one-third of a mile distant from its former location.

—The Bargain Counter having been so successful, W. L. London & Son have decided to keep it up one more week and will give better bargains than ever. They will have on it men's collars, shirts, cravats, gloves, a large lot of ladies' gloves, handkerchiefs, and many other things. This is your last chance.

—We are pleased to hear from all parts of the county the most encouraging reports as to the wheat and oats crops. There is an unusually "good stand" of both wheat and oats, and the prospect now is as promising as any one could wish for. Good crops of wheat and oats this year will be a great help to our country.

—In January of last year Mr. W. J. Quackebush, of Haddley township, insured his dwelling and furniture for $1000, and in January of this year, only a few days before the policy would expire, his dwelling was burned. The proceeds of loss were forwarded, last week, to the company (the North Carolina Home, of Raleigh) and put on a check was sent here to Mr. Quackebush for the amount due him, although according to the terms of the policy the company could have waited sixty days longer.

PERSONAL ITEMS.—Dr. Haughton Harris has returned home, after spending the past five months at Baltimore attending a dental college.

—Mr. James S. McClean has received an appointment as a stenographer and copyist in the Interior Department, at Washington, with a salary of $720 a year.

—Miss Lucy London will come home today from St. Mary's school to spend the Easter holidays, and will be accompanied by her schoolmates, Misses Carey Davis and Mary Calder, of Wilmington, and Miss Mamie Brown, of Sawane, Tennessee.

—Mr. Fred C. Williams, from Trinity College, and Mr. Frank M. London, from the University, will spend Easter at home and will be accompanied by several of their college mates.

—Misses Emma Taylor and Mary Denson, of Raleigh, will spend Easter here with Mrs. Fanny T. Taylor.

—Mr. R. C. Cotton, who was appointed a government gauger and storekeeper some time ago, has been assigned to duty at a distillery near Dunn, in Harnett county.

INTERESTING OLD BOOK.—Our venerable townman, J. L. Jackson, Esq., has quite a rare and interesting old book. It contains over 700 pages and is a compilation of the laws of this State made in 1779 by the Hon. James Iredell, at that time an associate Justice of the supreme court of the United States. It is quite a quaint old volume, printed in the old style, with the old fashioned "and with nearly every name beginning with a capital." It begins with the publication of the "Second Charter Granted by King Charles, 11, To The Proprietors of Carolina," and on the last page is an "Act to authorize the Henry Edmund Lutterloh to raise, by way of lottery, a sum sufficient to enable him to bring into this State foreigners, who are artisans in various branches of business." Of course most of the laws contained in this ancient volume are now obsolete, but still they are quite interesting, and they afford much pleasure to anyone of an antiquarian turn of mind.

This rare old book first belonged to Mr. Jackson's great-grandfather, the Hon. Samuel Spencer, of Anson county, who in 1777 was chosen one of the three judges of the Superior Courts, first elected under the State Constitution, which office he held until his death in 1794. And by the way the old Judge's death was caused by a most peculiar circumstance, as published in the Fayetteville Gazette in 1794, as follows:

"He was sitting on the piazza with a red cap on his head, when he attracted the attention of a large turkey cock. The judge being sleepy began to nod, the turkey, mistaking the nod for the nod of a challenge, to battle the noble servant and unsuspended attack on his honor, that he was thrown out of his chair on the floor, and before he could get any assistance, so he and the turkey both died in a few days."

Richmond Ranges.
RICHMOND, N. C., March 22, 1894.

The star is highly perfumed with the large quantities of fertilizers that are being hauled here now.

We are having fine spring weather just now.

The prospect for a good wheat and oat crop is the most promising that has been for several years.

Our farmers are making fine head way in preparing their lands for a crop. Corn planting will commence this week.

The prospect for a good fruit crop is quite flattering.

Mr. R. F. Morris's little daughter, who has not been expected to live with pneumonia, is much better.

J. W. Jones, U. S. Commissioner, will hold court here today, some parties having been arrested for neglecting to handle "blind tips."

As the weather still continues very warm we advise "Bill D" to change his shoes now.

W. M. Tully and family, late post master of Richmond, we very much regret to see moving away from our town today, but we congratulate the people for finding upon leaving such good prospects for a new home.

Yes, we would gladly receive points and let from "Short Link", Water Oats & Co., but we think it they would give all the Gleaming from their town that they will need them, as we don't see that they give any account of the big annual sale that is to come off there on the 23rd and 24th of March at the Alliance store. Guess they have not secured the signs and pass words yet, or they have been too busy attending the Baptist club meetings over at Oronoke.

Jew's organ, who has just returned from the North is now receiving stock opening his new Spring stock of goods.

We highly congratulate Mr. and Mrs. I. N. Hobbs with their nice present that they have just received. It's a boy.

Mr. M. F. Morris, dept agent, we regret to learn is confined to his room, quite sick with pneumonia. Hope he may recover soon.

LONG SHANKS.

Letter From South Carolina.
ANDERSON, S. C., March 17, 1894.

Edwin B. Adams: I will give you a little news, how things are getting on here. The people are getting on. They get high up in politics, then they get off on something else. They are great for having fun, as they say it. A merchant had a wooden man in his store and put on a lot of clothes, that his customers might see how they fit, and it got its head broke off and then the merchant sent it to a shop to have it glued back, and some of the men, that had nothing to do, said that a man had fallen off of the bridge and hit his neck, and they had all the town going to see if they knew him, but none of them knew him, still they thought it was a man, sure enough they had found, so they could not tell who it was, but they sent after the coroner. An old man told me he went to see him. I did not see him. I had not gone up the street. I would have seen him. I told them I did not think it was right to make fun that way, but every man's mouth here is not a prayer book. I tell you some people are in the world.

A man went to the post office and asked if there was a letter for him. The postmaster asked him his name and the man had forgotten his own name, and going out without getting his letter not some one on the street who spoke to him, calling him by his name, when he said now, I will go back and get my letter.

An old preacher came to town last summer and when he went back home he said he saw them making tea, and they told him he was not telling the truth and they had him up and turned him out of the church. Some people can't understand how it can be possible that ice can be made in hot weather. Some people can see the mote that is in his brother's eye, but cannot see the beam that is in his own eye. I don't believe in turning people out of church, no law. If they have faults tell them of their faults and try to love them and want them to be a good man or good woman, if he or she was not before, and then you have done your duty. There is nothing like Christ having a man up in the church and trying him. I don't think there is any good in such proceedings as that, for the man they turn out is as good as those that turn him out. If we will pray more and live right we won't want to turn any one out.

We are having fine weather here now. Some people are planting corn and pushing everything right along in the way of farming, but they are going to plant more cotton this year than last year, so they say.

They are going to have an evangelist preacher here, and they are bleating out the way for him. He says his meeting next week in the Baptist church is his first church; it will hold fifteen hundred people. Most all of them in this town go to church somewhere if they are not too old. Percy has a fine congregation at his church. They are for him to go up to Clemson college last Sunday to preach to the students there.

R. G. EVANS.

A Pounding.
On Tuesday night of last week the people of Pittsboro (a crowd of men, women and children) made the passage an unexpected but very agreeable visit, each leaving a substantial token of kindness—many nice things for our table and culinary department.

Their visit was wholly unexpected by us, and though they were very violent yet the violence was profitable, and we raised no objection and declined to submit. All that they brought us in the pounding was useful, and therefore was doubly appreciated.

May the benediction of heaven rest upon those who so kindly remembered us.

A Plea For The Girls.
From Donora's Magazine for April.

Parents, give your daughters a trade or profession. Yes, my dear, boy, my dear girl, raising your eyebrows in contemptuous denial of the right of the homely word, I repeat it most emphatically, give them a trade. No matter what it is, so long as it will earn a good honest living for them, in case they should ever need it, and even if they should not need it, the feeling of comfort and independence that comes with it to every girl, factory, and not to be attained in any other way whatever.

"But," I hear you say, "what does my daughter need of a trade? Has she not everything that she can possibly wish for? And besides that, she is so pretty she will probably be able to depend on her looks. What need, therefore, of a trade to make herself as well as she can?"

Now, my dear, is all well enough for some, and no doubt many an innocent girl goes to bed at that, but the average girl's pretty looks are independent of her own volition. They, too, suppose your faces should take wing, as you have a disagreeable habit of doing occasionally; would not the knowledge that your daughter held in her hands a shield and sword with which to protect herself and keep the grim fates War and Distress at a distance prove a comfort and blessing, not only to her, but to your self as well? It is true that all—our nearly all—girls marry; and let me tell you, right here, that then or the time of all others, when a girl longs for a few dollars of her very own, that she may add a few straws to the home nest, to be let, and feel free to exercise her own judgment and taste in so doing. No one except those who have experienced it know what a humiliating feeling possesses one who has to stand while the whole belongings are bought for her, with money that somebody else has earned and owns.

Killed by Lightning.
LAWRENCEVILLE, GA., March 17, 1894.

—One of the most shocking casualties that has occurred in this county for many years happened Friday night at the home of Mr. John Johnson, about four miles from here. While the family were gathered together at supper time a storm came up and the lightning struck the house and killed two of its inmates.

—Mr. Johnson's wife and his 12 year old son, and knocking Mr. Johnson senseless for more than an hour. Mrs. Johnson and her little boy were killed instantly. At the time the lightning struck Mrs. Johnson she had a young baby in her arms.

The lightning knocked the baby out of her arms, but did it no serious injury, except from the fall to the floor. The little boy was standing in the center of the room, and when the lightning struck him it sent him reeling into the fire and he was burned considerably about the head and shoulders. The lightning burst his skull. Mr. Johnson was sitting in the front door when the lightning struck the house. It tore his shoes leaving nothing but the soles of his shoes on his feet, and spit his toe wide open. How he escaped after such a shock is miraculous.

Killed at Foot-Ball.
NASHVILLE, TENN., March 17.—Percy Furblood, a fourteen year old son of James Furblood, a prominent citizen of Chattanooga, died this morning of injuries received yesterday afternoon from playing foot ball. An antagonist's knee struck him in the groin, causing a rupture. He suffered intense agony for twelve hours.

State News.

Birmingham Rocket.—The conversation with a prominent farmer of this county the other day he remarked that the prospect for a large small-grain crop was better than he had ever known before, and that more acres were given to these crops and less would be given to the cotton crop than had been given since the war.

New Berne Journal.—The ball fishermen of Morehead and Beaufort have captured another whale. Three of these monster fish were sighted and brought in on a schooner from Beaufort, and with a united effort one of them was caught, a gentleman by the name of Willis being the one to fire the successful bomb. The length of the whale was 45 feet long and yielded a large quantity of oil to the captors.

Concord Times.—Perhaps the richest prospect for gold ever found in North Carolina has just been struck in Union county, near the Cabarrus line. The vein is the same as the Stewart mine in that vicinity, which proved so rich several years ago, and which has never yet fully developed. Though the property is owned by a man in Cabarrus county, it is being opened by an expert miner from England, who says the vein is extending richly.

Payetteville Observer.—Yesterday evening about 4:30 o'clock, yard conductor, Mr. Jerry Roberts, of the Cape Fear & Yadkin Valley railroad, was run over by a shifting train, and horribly trampled, about a hundred yards below the freight depot. Roberts had just cut off some freight ear from the train, and signalled the engineer to go ahead, which was done, and was standing on the track talking to some one, when by some mistake the engineer backed his train, knocking Roberts down. The train cut passed over his body, crushing his thigh, and inflicting severe internal injuries. Mr. Roberts was taken to his home near by, where he died at 9:30 last night. He leaves a wife and three children. It is a very sad occurrence, indeed.

Raleigh News and Observer.—A few nights ago Mr. Uriah Beaumont, living six miles east of this city, suffered a severe loss by fire which is believed to have been incendiary. The stables and out-houses were burned and four horses, seven the Jersey cows and other property were destroyed, aggregating in value about $3,000. The guilty parties under suspicion and may be caught. —Commissioner of Agriculture John Robinson has received a letter from Mr. H. T. Chandler, of Nebraska, who states that he intends to come to the State and will probably settle in Wilkes county. He says he will also bring several families with him who will be successful. Besides raising cattle and other agricultural products, Mr. Chandler proposes to breed stock and to plant, English, and French coach horses and also improved plows, hoes, etc. Mr. Norman Asley of New York, writes that he has bought a farm in Burke county and will locate there.

The Minerals of North Carolina.
Baltimore, Md., March 15, 1894.

The report of the Geological Survey on the iron ores of North Carolina is now ready for distribution. It is a neatly printed and fully illustrated publication of 222 pages, prepared in the main by Assistant Geologist H. B. C. Niles. It contains the results of the examination of all the more important iron ore deposits known to occur in the State. The total unexplored amount is 1,000 square miles, distributed through 25 counties in the center and western portions of the State.

The ore deposits occurring most at attention are the following: First, the magnetic and specular ores of Granville county, second, the brown hematite ores of Ono, H. B. C. Niles, third, the magnetic ore of Stokes, Surry and Yadkin counties, fourth, the magnetic and brown hematite ores of Catawba, Ermine and Gaston counties, fifth, magnetite ores of Ashe, Mitchell and Madison counties, sixth, brown hematite ores of Wayne, Madison and Cherokee counties. Extensive deposits of iron ore are reported in each of these and in other less extensive areas. Concerning the general development of our mineral properties the report says: "It is believed that the Southern people were unjustly not so much as the iron factoring of pig iron when they could get it elsewhere, at with the advantage of better iron, better, etc., to which both soil and labor were naturally adapted. After the war a period of reconstruction set in, and the country is again on a firm basis and the people are looking to the development of their mineral and manufacturing resources." The report is sold by competent dealers to be one of great value, and one which reflects credit on the survey and on the State. It is accompanied by an excellent map which shows the location of all the important iron ore beds of the State. Persons desiring copies of the report can obtain them free of charge by applying to the State Geologist at Raleigh, enclosing 10 cents for postage.

Swept Away by a Snow-Slide.
SEATTLE, WASH., March 17.—A report was received here last night that the Great Northern freight train which left Shobonush on Saturday night was struck by a snow slide near Oklaeholis and swept near an embankment 150 feet high. Six men were said to have perished. The train was reported to have been hurled out of sight in the valley.

The Supreme Court of this State has decided that any town or city has a right to pass an ordinance making it punishable for any unmarried person under twenty-one years of age to enter a bar room.

Mr. C. M. Busbee has been appointed postmaster at Raleigh.

Senator Ochs, of Georgia, has again been stricken with paralysis, this time in his throat, and his condition is serious.

Brode Janeiro has ceased to interest foreign countries and their exports are all withdrawn. Yellow fever continues epidemic.

The town of Ooltawah, James county, Tennessee, was attacked by a gang of burglars last Friday night and every store in the place, six in number, robbed.

The silver-tongued Bryan, of Nebraska, has yielded to the personal persuasion of Prof. C. D. McEver, and agrees to address the Greensboro Female Industrial and Normal School at the commencement in May.

An Old Story—Look at a human being when under the influence of that terrible torture, rheumatism. Primal symptoms were neglected, until the disease became established, whereas all the long suffering could have been prevented by promptly using Salvation Oil. Price 25 cents.

THE BEST WAGON.

We are informed that some unscrupulous wagon makers, or their agents, are selling wagons which they claim are the same or as good as ours.

Because the more different factors they close together, the more reason they should make the same quality of work than any of our factories in this country and if you want the best, see that it bears the name of J. L. Nissen, and do not be deceived by any one saying theirs is as good. We use the best material, best workmen, and finish all our work by hand. And guarantee every wagon to give perfect satisfaction. To meet the scarcity of money we have just reduced the price.

If you want the best wagon made, call at our factory, W. L. LONDON & SON, PITTSBORO, N. C.

We have, as follows: Round bottomed wagons, the best.
