

VANCE IS DEAD.

North Carolina mourns the death of her most distinguished son...

The announcement of his death was a startling shock for while his health for months had been known to be bad yet no one dreamed that end was so near.

Zebulon B. Vance was born in Buncombe county, North Carolina, May 13, 1809; he was educated at Washington College, Tenn., and at the University of North Carolina.

Not only was he the most famous and influential lawyer this country has ever produced, but he was also a statesman of the first rank.

Every possible mark of respect has been paid his memory. On Monday afternoon his body was borne to the Senate Chamber, where impressive funeral services were held.

At the graveside of the late Senator, the Rev. H. H. Hoge, of Richmond, in the presence of both branches of Congress, the President and his Cabinet, and of the distinguished officers of the army.

Account of Vance's Arrest. Among the speakers at the Vance memorial meeting held in Charlotte Sunday night, Mr. S. W. Williams, who narrated the following very interesting account of Vance's arrest in the course of the war.

Gov. Vance was overcome by the surroundings and shed tears, and he did not speak for three days. He was taken to a hospital in Washington, but would not speak until the following morning.

exercised, and in death his memory will be cherished by his sorrowing countrymen with such love and veneration as never before has been accorded to any of our great men.

As a child I remember the words which I wrote not long ago in the North Carolina Record.

Such were the patriotic words written by Gov. Vance in a private letter in January, 1861, to the Hon. D. L. Swain, his old friend and confidant, in which he advised in that sense of our State's history.

These brave and patriotic services to his country, but mainly from the Congressional Directory, the brief biography furnished by himself, as follows:

Zebulon B. Vance was born in Buncombe county, North Carolina, May 13, 1809; he was educated at Washington College, Tenn., and at the University of North Carolina.

Not only was he the most famous and influential lawyer this country has ever produced, but he was also a statesman of the first rank.

Every possible mark of respect has been paid his memory. On Monday afternoon his body was borne to the Senate Chamber, where impressive funeral services were held.

At the graveside of the late Senator, the Rev. H. H. Hoge, of Richmond, in the presence of both branches of Congress, the President and his Cabinet, and of the distinguished officers of the army.

Account of Vance's Arrest. Among the speakers at the Vance memorial meeting held in Charlotte Sunday night, Mr. S. W. Williams, who narrated the following very interesting account of Vance's arrest in the course of the war.

Gov. Vance was overcome by the surroundings and shed tears, and he did not speak for three days. He was taken to a hospital in Washington, but would not speak until the following morning.

dignity may be in store for her? Many a man in my position, having ships and houses feathered by the wind, would have feathered his nest by supporting Vance to Europe, and in fact I would have done so.

Senator Harris very cleverly outwitted the Republican Senators, who week after week had been pressing to delay the tariff debate.

Senator Harris is the only Senator who has probably noticed the extraordinary address lately published as coming from a Mississippian.

The tariff bill is the only bill that has been passed by the House since the adjournment of the Senate.

Not only was he the most famous and influential lawyer this country has ever produced, but he was also a statesman of the first rank.

Every possible mark of respect has been paid his memory. On Monday afternoon his body was borne to the Senate Chamber, where impressive funeral services were held.

At the graveside of the late Senator, the Rev. H. H. Hoge, of Richmond, in the presence of both branches of Congress, the President and his Cabinet, and of the distinguished officers of the army.

Account of Vance's Arrest. Among the speakers at the Vance memorial meeting held in Charlotte Sunday night, Mr. S. W. Williams, who narrated the following very interesting account of Vance's arrest in the course of the war.

Gov. Vance was overcome by the surroundings and shed tears, and he did not speak for three days. He was taken to a hospital in Washington, but would not speak until the following morning.

Washington Letter.

From our Southern Correspondent.

Washington, April 13, 1894.

Senator Harris very cleverly outwitted the Republican Senators, who week after week had been pressing to delay the tariff debate.

Senator Harris is the only Senator who has probably noticed the extraordinary address lately published as coming from a Mississippian.

The tariff bill is the only bill that has been passed by the House since the adjournment of the Senate.

Not only was he the most famous and influential lawyer this country has ever produced, but he was also a statesman of the first rank.

Every possible mark of respect has been paid his memory. On Monday afternoon his body was borne to the Senate Chamber, where impressive funeral services were held.

At the graveside of the late Senator, the Rev. H. H. Hoge, of Richmond, in the presence of both branches of Congress, the President and his Cabinet, and of the distinguished officers of the army.

Account of Vance's Arrest. Among the speakers at the Vance memorial meeting held in Charlotte Sunday night, Mr. S. W. Williams, who narrated the following very interesting account of Vance's arrest in the course of the war.

Gov. Vance was overcome by the surroundings and shed tears, and he did not speak for three days. He was taken to a hospital in Washington, but would not speak until the following morning.

Gov. Vance was overcome by the surroundings and shed tears, and he did not speak for three days. He was taken to a hospital in Washington, but would not speak until the following morning.

Deaf, Dumb and Blind.

From the New York World.

John Brown is the hero of the Deaf and Dumb Institute, which is located on the Boulevard of the Stars and Sixth Street.

There is the man of a Sullivan county, France, and is now thirteen years old. At the age of three he lost his hearing and a deaf and dumb.

He was brought to New York and given into the charge of Dr. Charles Deaf, who has spent twenty years of his life in the study of the deaf and dumb.

He was brought to New York and given into the charge of Dr. Charles Deaf, who has spent twenty years of his life in the study of the deaf and dumb.

He was brought to New York and given into the charge of Dr. Charles Deaf, who has spent twenty years of his life in the study of the deaf and dumb.

He was brought to New York and given into the charge of Dr. Charles Deaf, who has spent twenty years of his life in the study of the deaf and dumb.

He was brought to New York and given into the charge of Dr. Charles Deaf, who has spent twenty years of his life in the study of the deaf and dumb.

He was brought to New York and given into the charge of Dr. Charles Deaf, who has spent twenty years of his life in the study of the deaf and dumb.

He was brought to New York and given into the charge of Dr. Charles Deaf, who has spent twenty years of his life in the study of the deaf and dumb.

Coxey's Army Revolts.

From the New York World.

In the ranks of the Coxey army today looms the band of peace in a state bordering on riot.

On leaving Grantsville this morning the army moved rapidly over the Great Smoky mountain on to the Big Savage mountain.

At daylight this morning this mass of mystery could have had but seven members of the Commonwealth.

At daylight this morning this mass of mystery could have had but seven members of the Commonwealth.

At daylight this morning this mass of mystery could have had but seven members of the Commonwealth.

At daylight this morning this mass of mystery could have had but seven members of the Commonwealth.

At daylight this morning this mass of mystery could have had but seven members of the Commonwealth.

At daylight this morning this mass of mystery could have had but seven members of the Commonwealth.

At daylight this morning this mass of mystery could have had but seven members of the Commonwealth.

WOMACK & HAYES LAWYERS, PITTSBURGH, N. C.

LUMBER! AN ENORMOUS QUANTITY FOR SALE AT THE PITTSBURGH SHUTTLE MILL.

RALPH COBB COMPANY. R. H. WORTH, Sec. and Treas.

C. A. SNOW & CO. Wholesale and Retail Dealers in all kinds of Groceries.

W. L. LONDON & SON, Publishers.

W. L. LONDON & SON, Publishers.