

The election on last Tuesday has resulted in a general democratic defeat in this State and throughout the United States.

According to the latest telegrams received by the Record last night we think that the Legislature is lost, and probably the Judicial ticket, although the latter seems to be in some doubt and may require the official vote to decide.

Capt. Parker is defeated for Sen. elector by a large majority. Mr. Strowd is elected to Congress by a considerable majority. His majorities, so far as we can learn, are about 1150 in Chatham, 300 in Randolph, about 600 in Nash, about 800 in Wake and 500 in Vance. Cooke has about 1000 majority in Johnston and 600 in Franklin.

Skinner, populist, is probably elected in the first district, and Linney, populist, in the eighth. Both sides claim the ninth district. The democrats carry the second, third, sixth and probably the seventh. Settle is elected in the fifth district.

The following counties are reported as giving democratic majorities, viz: Moore, Cumberland, Mecklenburg, Iredell, Halifax, Northampton, Anson, Johnston, Rowan, Robeson, Caldwell, Rutherford and Swain.

Among other counties that are carried by the populists and republicans are the following: Durham, Alamance, Randolph, Nash, Cabarrus, Richmond, Rockingham, Person, Catawba, Cleveland, Forsyth, Davidson, Gaston, Wake and Orange.

Throughout the North there has been a regular tidal wave—a political avalanche—and the democrats have met with a disastrous defeat, losing both branches of Congress. The State of New York has gone to republicans by about 100,000 majority, and even the city of New York has elected a republican mayor. Tammany Hall has been overwhelmingly defeated.

West Virginia elects a solid republican delegation to Congress, defeated Hon. W. L. Wilson. Kentucky, elects six democrats and five republicans to Congress. Connecticut wheels into the republican column.

Kansas and Colorado return to the republican fold. Most of the Southern States elect almost solid democratic Congressional delegations.

New Jersey goes republican and will elect a republican Senator in place of McPherson.

The election is now over and political excitement is subsiding, and with it we hope that party passion and prejudice will also subside. Because men disagree politically is no reason why they should get angry with each other and act unneighborly. There are good and honest men in all parties, and there are also bad and dishonest men in all parties. The people as a whole intend to do right, to do that which they honestly believe to be best for them and their country, but at times many of them are badly deceived and misled. Ignorance usually begets intolerance, and the more ignorant a man is the more narrow minded and intolerant he is. Many men are so narrow minded that they are not willing to tolerate any man who differs with them either in religion or politics. And there are men, sad to say, who place politics above religion, who actually have become estranged from their brethren in the Church, simply because they differ in politics. There are too many churches throughout our country, that have had dissensions because of a disagreement in politics among the members. Surely such a sad and shameful state of affairs should not exist in a Christian country!

Therefore, now that the election is over, the Brown urges all its readers, regardless of their politics, to lay aside the passions and prejudices aroused by the recent campaign, and to cultivate a more charitable, a more neighborly and a more Christian-like feeling toward their fellow men.

If the populists and republicans have captured our State, as now seems probable, we venture the prediction that they will soon quarrel over the spoils, and again will be verified the old saying, "When thieves fall out honest men get their dues."

It sounds so strange to hear former democrats now hurrahing over the defeat of Judges Shepherd and MacRae by such old "fire-tried" republican partisans as Faircloth and Sarches!

One result of the recent elections in the wiping out of the so-called People's party. This may sound strange to our readers, because many of them think that the populists have won a great victory and that the populist party is to control this country. Our reason for saying that the populist party is doomed, is its disastrous defeat in the West and Northwest, where it originated and acquired its greatest strength. For instance, Kansas, which the populists captured and have controlled for the past two years, has now gone back to the republican fold. Yes, even in Kansas the populists failed to elect a single Congressman, Jerry Simpson himself, their mighty champion, being overwhelmingly defeated. And in Colorado their noted (Gov. Waite has been ignominiously defeated for re-election. And to cap the climax, their former Presidential candidate, Gen. Weaver, has been defeated for Congress in Iowa. In other words the republicans have captured every State that had been captured from them by the populists, and in these States the populists will no longer have any power.

So that while our populist neighbors here are rejoicing over their apparent success, over their joining the republicans against the democrats, their party in other States has been disastrously defeated by this very same republican party. They may now rejoice here at helping the republicans to defeat the democrats, but elsewhere they are bewailing their annihilation by the republicans. And we hope predict that in 1896 not a single solitary State will be carried by the populists. It will then be the same old fight between the republicans and democrats, just as it had been for so many years before the populist party began its brief career.

The loss of the Legislature is a great calamity to North Carolina, and may bring untold evils on our good old State. In the first place Marion Butler and Pinchard (or some other republican) will be elected to the United States Senate, which will be a disgrace and a shame. In the next place the present system of county government will be overturned, and ruinous taxes will be levied upon our people. After our people have had the experience of populist and republican rule for two years they will sigh for a return of democratic good government!

Two years from now, when the republicans and democrats are struggling for supremacy in this country, where will be our populist neighbors? Entail with the apparent success of the fusion it seems that they vainly imagine that they have swallowed up and absorbed the republican party, but in 1896 they will find that they themselves have been swallowed and wiped out of existence!

The Millennium may now be expected. Everybody may expect to have plenty of money, at least $50 per capita, and election will be at least ten cents a pound. Found not the populists promise all these things if they carried the election?

Eaten By Hogs. JASPER, Ala., Nov. 1.—Mrs. Emma Sheppard, widow of the late Probate Judge of Walker county, went into her lot this morning to feed her chickens. She did not return in time for her breakfast and her daughter went to find her, when her eyes were met by the horrible spectacle of her mother's mangled body lying on the ground with a lot of Berkshire hogs feeding on her. It is thought a vicious bear knocked her down, trying to get at the parcel in her hands, and he and the rest of the swine trampled her to death and munched at the parts of her body on which the hogs fed.

China Admits Defeat. LONDON, Nov. 6.—A dispatch to the Times from Peking says that the representatives of all the powers were assembled on Saturday last by the Tsung Li Yamen, to hear the Chinese Government's statement respecting the critical situation of affairs. Prince Kung, president of the Tsung Li Yamen, the dispatch adds, calmly avowed the impotence of China to withstand the Japanese attack, and appealed to the Powers to intervene, saying that China was willing to abandon her sovereignty over Korea, and to pay a war indemnity.

Texas' Big Cotton Crop. DALLAS, TEX., Nov. 5.—The cotton situation continues to favor the biggest crop ever raised in Texas. The weather is still bright, balmy, warm and perfectly clear. Bottom, middle and top crops are full. Many farmers speak of abandoning what is left. They say it will scarcely pay the expense of picking, packing, tying, ginning and marketing. They scarcely know what else to do unless the price is considerably raised. It is certain thousands of bales raised will never be taken from the stalks. Just now everybody is swearing he will plant a record of cotton next year.

Thanksgiving Proclamation. WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 31.—The President today issued the following: By the President of the United States of America—A Proclamation. The American people should gratefully render thanksgiving and praise to the Supreme Ruler of the Universe, who has watched over them with kindness and fostering care during the year that has passed, they, and also with humanity and faith supplied the Father of all mercies for continued blessings according to their needs, and they should by gifts of charity seek the favor of the giver of every good and perfect gift.

Therefore, I, Grover Cleveland, President of the United States, do hereby appoint and designate this day, the 29th day of November, next, as a day of Thanksgiving, and direct to be kept and observed by all the people of the land.

On that day let our ordinary work and business be suspended and let us meet in our accustomed places of worship and give thanksgiving for our preservation as a nation, for our immunity from invasion and pestilence, for the harvests that have rewarded our husbandry, for a removal of national prosperity and for every advance in virtue and intelligence that have marked our progress as a people.

And with our thanksgiving let us pray that these blessings may be multiplied unto us; that our national Congress may be distinguished by their recognition of the power and goodness of God; and that in our national life we may ever seek and most closely follow the path of righteousness.

And in our places of worship and prayer, as well as in the family, let us let us invoke divine approval for patiently remembering the promises made. Surely we have given us comfort and plenty, we look upon our land of the desirable and our institutions of learning, as the work of hands ready given in answer to the sincerity of our thanksgiving.

Witness my hand and seal of the United States, at the City of Washington, this 31st day of October, 1894.

By the President: W. A. Olcott, Secretary of State.

A Warning to Boys. ELSON, Nov. 3.—Raymond, the 11-year-old son of Mr. Alex. Clatham, met with serious accident late yesterday evening. He and his older brother, James, aged about 14 years, were playing with a "bullet-headed" gun when it went off, striking Raymond in the chest, fatally wounding him so that amputation was necessary.

Dr. J. G. Lusk, Monday, Mr. Tom Skinner, a young gentleman well and favorably known to many of our readers in this, Warren and Halifax counties, was in town. Late in the evening he was drinking and his condition was such as to attract attention on that account. He was seen on the street at a late hour and Mr. Joe Hayden, of the police force, took him to the hotel. He did not remain there long, and it is said he was on the street again about 11 o'clock. This is the last account that we have of him with any certainty, and it is believed that he is now in the hospital.

Barham. The news reaches us that a man named Barham, who was a member of the North Carolina Legislature, has been elected to the United States Senate. Barham was a prominent politician and a member of the Republican party. He was elected in the year 1892, and served in the Senate until 1894. He was a native of North Carolina and was well known in his home State.

Timber's Alarm. We have been told that the timber industry in North Carolina is in a state of alarm. The price of timber has fallen to a low point, and the industry is suffering from a general depression. The cause of this is the overproduction of timber, and the fact that the market is saturated with timber. The timber industry is one of the most important in North Carolina, and its decline would be a serious blow to the State.
