LOCAL MATTERS.

SCHEDULE PITTSBORO R. R.

The passenger train on the Pittsboro railroad leaves Pittsboro daily, except Sundays, at 10 a. m. and 3:30 p. m., and arrives at Pittsboro at 11:45 a. m. and 5:45 p. m., making close connection at Moncure with the train that leaves Raleigh at 2:45 p. m.

—Nice white cabbages and apples for sale by John L. Council.

—A respectable colored girl, named Julia Quiver, died here yesterday of consumption.

—A car-load of nice mules and horses for sale at Pittsboro, until next Tuesday, by J. T. Watts.

—The new interest law will not take effect until thirty days after the Legislature adjourns.

—Tomorrow is the first day of March, when you can sing, "When the spring time comes, gentle Annie."

—On last Monday night the store of Lambeth & Bro., at Lockville, was broken into and robbed of about $35 worth of goods.

—We wonder if our legislators are wearing crape on their arms "in respect to the memory of the deceased" Fred. Douglass?

—The "third law" begins again on the 15th of March, so that our lawmakers will have two weeks longer in which to enjoy their favorite sport.

—On last Friday the store of Lambe & Teer, at Lambsville in this county, was destroyed by fire. The stock of goods was valued at about $700, and there was no insurance.

—Warm weather is now coming. They have fresh clover seed, grass seeds, Buist and Ferry garden seed at W. L. London & Sons'. 2 papers Buist seed for 5 cents. 20 cents per dozen.

—We cannot think that any decent white man in Chatham—be he democrat, republican or populist—will approve or endorse the Legislature adjourning in respect to the memory of Fred. Douglass.

—W. H. Edwards, dentist, will visit Bynum on Sunday and Tuesday, and Pittsboro on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, following the third Sunday of each month, prepared to do all kind of dental work. Office next door to Bynum & Headen.

—One day last week the House of Representatives was opened with prayer by Mr. Self, or, as announced by Speaker Walser, by "the Reverend" Mr. Self of Chatham. It is proper to state that this was not the day on which the House adjourned in respect to Fred. Douglass!

—Col. John R. Lane, of this county, who was badly wounded while gallantly leading his regiment the famous 20th at the battle of Gettysburg, has been suffering terribly very much from blood wound but we are pleased to learn that he is now better and able to be out again.

—They are now in the midst of taking stock at W. L. London & Son's and they are selling a great many goods far below cost. It will pay you to drop in and see the bargains. They will put on sale Monday, March 4th, 1,000 yards of spring and Summer Gingham, worth 10 cents to 15 cents; they will be sold for one week at 6½ cents.

A CROP SIGN.—There used to be a tradition among the old Dutch farmers in the Piedmont section of this State that the weather on Ash Wednesday indicated what sort of a wheat crop they would have next summer. If the weather on that day was bright and pleasant the wheat crop would be a bountiful one, but if the weather then was rainy and disagreeable the wheat crop would be a bad one. If there be any truth in this sign our next wheat crop will be a bountiful one, because yesterday (which was Ash Wednesday) was a bright and beautiful day. We fear, however, that this sign (like the ground hog) will fail this year, for the present outlook for wheat is very discouraging.

CHATHAMITES HONORED.—It always affords the Record much pleasure to note any honor or compliment paid any Chathamite, who is seeking fame and fortune in any part of the country, and have we noted with much pleasure and county pride a complimentary notice of two of our former countrymen away off in far distant Montana. In the Western Democrat of the 12th inst., published at Missoula, in Montana, is a very complimentary notice of Judge T. H. Wood, and district attorney Dixon. It seems that a bank at that town had failed to pay certain taxes, in 1893, and an action was brought to compel the payment, which was tried by Judge Woody, and, on his ruling against the bank, an appeal was taken to the State Supreme Court, and that tribunal has just affirmed his decision. Great interest seems to have been taken in the case and there is much rejoicing at the result, for the bank will have to pay over $25,000 into the county treasury.

Judge Woody is a native of Albright township, where he has many relatives, and has resided in Montana about forty years. He was elected a district Judge when Montana became a State and is one of the most distinguished citizens of that State. Mr. Dixon is a son of Mr. Hugh W. Dixon, of this county, and removed to Montana a few years ago and is now District attorney and as such prosecuted the suit against the bank to a successful issue, as above stated.

Richmond Ramblings.

RICHMOND, N. C., Feb. 25, 1895.

The big snow is all about melted and the mud is near knee deep and we are almost ready to believe that the groundhog and the crow or some have come out wrong and forecast. Some say it was on account of Cleveland.

Mr. D. T. Willis has been wise and taken advantage of the recent cold snap by hauling an ice house and having it well filled. Guess we will pay him a visit next August.

We saw one of our townsmen going to milk his cow while the cold snap was standing at zero with a bucket and claw hammer. That's what they call "reform" milking.

We have a bad disease in town just now, known as grips. Generally attacks those first on the row. Several cases, none yet very serious, only we learn that the post master has taken a relapse and is in a very critical condition. It is rumored that Cleveland brought the disease in the State while out duck shooting.

Wm. N. Monaghan, county administrator, has arrived in town and will take charge of the estate of D. W. C. Pegram at once.

We were not at all surprised in Sunday Post's letter in regard to the revenue officer who could not tell which side of the river the illicit still was on which we had been informed by certain persons who had got some "red eye" and they said it was made on Deep river in Randolph county.

Mr. C. B. Pitts, Jr., town, fell two weeks ago, weighing 207½ pounds,—heaviest white boy 2½ months measuring in length, girth around lung space 2 feet and bladder holding 1½ gallons. Listen, next!

What has become of Chuck and Snow Bird? Have not heard anything from them since the great land slide in November. Hope they did not emigrate.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Tyson, of Greensboro, are now visiting their only daughter, Miss J. M. Edwards.

LOOK-ON-THE-MOUNTAIN.

A School Celebration.

On last Saturday February the 23d, Mr. W. H. Farrell held the closing exercises of his school at centre school house, in Hickory township. Mr. Farrell came to this neighborhood a stranger to most of the people, by close pursuit of business and a kind gentlemanly deportment which has characterized his every day walk and conversation with the people, he has become very popular. The exercises were highly interesting. The entire day was spent in the recitation of pieces, singing, etc. Dinner was served on the ground, which was bountiful and well prepared. The people came from all parts of the country to be present on the occasion. The children were well trained in their pieces and showed that they had been taught by a competent teacher. Mr. Farrell has a class of pupils in the children now under his instruction and will be ready to engage Mr. Farrell to teach another session.

A PATRON.

Confederate Bacon.

SUGAR GROVE, N. C.,
Feb. 22, 1895.

Doubtless there is some of the rebel bacon in Franklin county that could be found in the State. Four hogs, a confederate soldier, carried them through the war and that is all we know the Appomattox river is the line war between the States. Possibly some one may have a piece. Anything to encourage the book. Wonderful results.

No Money in Cotton.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 21.—During the fifty-three days the Senate Committee on Agriculture and Forestry was authorized by the Senate to make an inquiry upon various subjects, one of which was cotton, Senators Gorman, Brown and Proctor were selected as such committee to take it in hand. The question of the inquiry contemplated the ascertainment of the cause of the low price of cotton, and the remedy for the same. Senator Proctor, who is the only member of the committee who has left Washington since the inquiry was ordered, has returned, and the other members of the committee have begun the work of examining witnesses. Senator Proctor said to-day that the committee had not yet reached any conclusion as to the cause of the low price of cotton, but that the testimony so far developed indicated that the planters were not receiving enough money for their cotton crop to pay the cost of production. The committee will probably report to the Senate in favor of the passage of a bill providing for the issue of Treasury notes to the planters on the deposit of cotton, the notes to be a legal tender for the payment of debts. Senator Proctor said that the committee had not yet considered the question of the constitutionality of such legislation, but that he thought it was constitutional.

State News.

Rutherfordton Democrat: Since the enactment of the law making the rate of interest 6 per cent. the Citizens Building and Loan Association has had to turn down all applications for loans. The law has practically killed this institution which has been the means of building up this town and for the benefit of the working men in it, then all other agencies combined.

Fayetteville Observer: Mr. E. Saunders recently butchered a hog aged two years and three months that tipped the scales at 712 pounds. — Mr. Ed Dickson, of this county, conducts a dairy, and the motive power for one of the churns is most ingeniously contrived. It is a well trained dog that operates the churn by treading upon a step and hence is more properly akin to the attachment to a foot lathe.

Newton Enterprise: The trial of Dr. Lester Crawell on an indictment for the seduction of Miss Ida Propst, was begun Tuesday and was given to the jury late Wednesday afternoon. The jury, after a few minutes consultation, returned a verdict of guilty. Thursday morning he was sentenced by Judge Timberlake to five years in the penitentiary and to pay a fine of $5,000. Crawell appealed to the Supreme Court.

Concord Times: Little Miss Barrow, the three months old child of Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Barrow, probably saved their house from being stripped by fire one night last week. During the night the mother was awakened by the crying of the baby and on attempting to get out of bed she saw a large ball of burning fire almost ready to explode. But for the timely cries of the infant another accident and conflagration would doubtless have occurred.

Washington Review: We regret to learn of a serious accident which befell Mr. Geo. W. Bond's little daughter, Florence, on Saturday last. While in front of premises she received the kick of a horse, which caused her death in a few hours afterwards. The little girl was standing in front of the horse when he was frightened and kicked her in the head, causing the fatal wound from which she died.

Charlotte Observer: Ariel Davis and nearly five hundred others from the city on the Concord road. Sunday. Vans were loaded with goods in the yard. Women ran out of their cabins and ran over the child, knocking it down and kicking it. Everyone was trying to get out first. Ariel carried her in the house and gave her to the other women. Then he went back to the wreck of the shack. The father got a good many articles from the house, and then got off and went for Dr. Peters. She is now at her home and was not the worst hurt. It is thought that it was the fall of the chimney which killed the baby. Ariel is a white man, and the shack of the right had fallen on her.

Lexington Times: Last Friday night, Miss Sherrill's little daughter, Hope, aged 4 years, got out of bed and in putting on her shoes got one on the wrong foot. She then started to school, but soon returned complaining of her foot hurting her. Upon examination it was found that a needle had penetrated the foot and broken off. The needle was extracted by Dr. Payne, but it is thought will cause the child much suffering.

A Railroad Wreck.

MONTGOMERY, Ala., February 21.—Passenger train No. 1, for New Orleans on the Louisville and Nashville railroad, was wrecked before daylight this morning two miles below Greenville, Butler county, Ala. The engine and baggage car turned over and the mail car, smoker and two passenger coaches were thrown from the track. Engineer Campbell and Fireman Bowden were caught in the cab and scalded to death. The mail clerk, baggage master and express messenger escaped without injury. The two passenger coaches remained on the track and the passengers, numbering between forty and fifty, escaped with a severe shaking up. Not more than half a dozen received injuries of any consequence.

Cure for Headache.

As a remedy for all forms of Headache Laxative Bitters has proved to be the very best. Both the permanent and immediate cures which it effects are wonderful. We have not space to publish one-half of the testimonials we have received, but we ask you to try a bottle and be convinced. For sale by Bynum & Headen, Pittsboro, N. C.
