

The Captions of the Acts of the last Legislature have been printed and are now being distributed throughout the State.

Of course the great bulk of this vast array of new laws are local or private acts, and do not concern the general public.

We notice in the list of captions an act, passed on the first day or two of the session and marked No. 4, entitled "An Act in regard to the public printing."

The UNVEILING of the Confederate Monument at Raleigh, on the 20th of this month will be one of the grandest and yet saddest occasions ever known in the history of North Carolina.

Our correspondent asserts, and his assertion is borne out by the facts, that the magistrate was influenced in his high handed and outrageous action by the fact that the prisoners were negroes and Republicans.

As the long line of veterans—many of them disabled with wounds and decrepit with age—march through the streets of Raleigh on that day, how great a contrast will be their feelings from those stirring days of the war when, with all the eager zeal of youthful patriots, they so proudly marched forth to battle for their homes and native land!

Raleigh on the 20th inst. and no welcome too warm or cordial can be extended them. While then honoring the memory of the heroic dead, proper honor should also be rendered North Carolina's surviving heroes.

North Carolinians, who cherish the memory of their beloved Vance and the principles which he advocated, will blush with shame and burn with indignation when they read the speech recently made at Boston by Senator Pritchard, whom our "reform" Legislature elected as its successor.

But the chief topic of Senator Pritchard's speech was his earnest advocacy of a high protective tariff, which he thought would so greatly please Massachusetts manufacturers.

A Fusion Magistrate's Injustice. A correspondent writes us from Myrtle that a few days ago a gang of three negroes—Dan Davis, his mother and sister—went to the home, after having been forbidden the premises, of A. A. Hardin, a white man in feeble health, assaulted his daughter with a rock weighing three or four pounds, broke open his stable door and took of a cow.

Although the guilt of the negroes was clearly and unmistakably proven by the testimony of a number of white persons, the Fusion magistrate dismissed the cases against them upon their paying the costs.

Our correspondent, who is one of the good men led off into the Fusion movement last year, says that he has been waiting, hoping, trusting and praying that the Fusion party might do something honorable, but he has been bitterly disappointed.

Now these three negroes, who are known as negroes of bad character, go to the house of an invalid and defenceless white man; commit an assault with a deadly weapon upon a defenceless white girl; break down his stable door and take off a cow (we infer, although our correspondent does not state so specifically, that the cow had been impounded), and go unwhipped of justice.

A young man, son of Mr. Leaz, Kennedy, who lives near Mauld, in Randolph county, while out hunting accidentally shot and killed himself.

Secretary Smith on Silver. MACON, Ga., April 30.—Secretary Hoke Smith of the Interior Department was interviewed here today on the financial question, and defined the difference of opinion on the currency question existing in the country at present.

The Secretary divided the people into three classes—gold monometallists, silver monometallists, and bimetallicists.

He did not think that the gold monometallists were strong enough to become a factor in the campaign, but that the issue would be for and against silver monometallism.

The Secretary reviewed the history of the country's currency and said that both Jefferson and Hamilton recognized the fact that the ratio of coinage must be fixed upon the economic value of the metals in the market.

Under such a law, all the silver produced or the world would turn to our mints, and then would come the silver heretofore manufactured into cheap ware.

With free coinage we would virtually change our standard to one worth only one-half of the present standard, and the commercial value of a dollar the world over would be only 50 cents.

Secretary Smith would see no benefit likely to arise from a change in the money standard, and none especially to those who worked for wages, because they were always the last to be recognized in increased wages.

Reasoning on these lines, he could see no benefit even if the change should be brought about. One class insisted that the benefit would be in the inability of the employer to exact double wages.

George Mills was hanged at Raleigh, on last Friday, for the murder of his niece, Lana Wimberly, near Apex last June.

A North Carolina Dispensary. Our readers are aware of the fact that the people of Haywood county have a dispensary of their own.

The rules and regulations which have been adopted and copies posted up in the dispensary are as follows: 1. The dispensary shall open every day, except Sundays and election days, from sunrise to sunset.

2. Any person of lawful age may purchase, in any quantity not less than half pint, provided it is not bought to sell again.

3. No person shall sell liquor only for cash.

4. No person shall open or drink any liquor in the dispensary, or on the premises occupied by the same.

5. No person shall enter in or about the dispensary, and it is the duty of the manager to enforce this regulation by calling on the police if necessary.

Negroes Going to Liberia. SAVANNAH, Ga., May 5.—The International Migration Society has been quietly at work in this county getting up a ship load of negro colonists for Liberia ever since the Horsa sailed, on March 19.

The second trip of the Horsa means the commencement of a great exodus of Southern negroes for Africa. The safe arrival of the first ship load at Monrovia and the satisfactory letters which have been received from them have caused a desire in every part of the South to join the society's movement.

The State Commissioner writes to Gen. Lincoln, N. C., as follows: "After trying other machines for what seemed to be very cheap, enough on our two children we tried Dr. King's New Discovery and at the end of two days the cough entirely left them. We will not be without it hereafter, as our experience proves that it cures where all other remedies fail."
