

WHILE Democrats have great cause to regret the result of the recent election, yet the Populists also have equal cause of regret. Both Democrats and Populists insisted that Free Silver was the "paramount issue" of the campaign, and they nominated the same candidate for President in order to unite on that issue.

Why? Because in the first place, while Democrats have elected more members to the next Legislature than they elected to the last yet the Populists have elected a smaller number. And in the next place, while the Democratic candidate for Governor (Cy. Watson) received more votes than were cast for the Democratic candidate (Edus Carr) in 1892, yet the Populist candidate (Maj. Guthrie) did not receive more than half as many votes as the Populist candidate (Pat. Bane) received in 1892.

The Populists could not, legally call their organization a political party. To do so would be to incur an interval—over a year—between the election of Congress and the time when they take their seats and the Constitution of the United States should be amended so as to remedy this glaring defect.

Who will be elected United States Senator to succeed Pritchard? This question is now being continually asked, and there seems to be some diversity of opinion as to how it should be answered. The Republicans say that Pritchard will be his own successor, and they assert it very confidently, claiming that they have enough Populists pledged to secure his election.

The most sensational, as well as the most disgraceful, feature of this senatorial election, is the candidacy of Chief Gideon Otha Wilson. Yes, this self confessed criminal has seriously and publicly announced himself a candidate for the high position so worthily filled by Z. Union B. Vance!

There was some close voting at the election last week both in the counties of this state and in some of the states of the Union. For instance, Kentucky is said to have elected the McKinley electors by only about 500 majority. And the Bryan electors carried Wyoming by only about 300 majority.

In some of the counties of this state the vote was very close. In Jackson county the two candidates for the Legislature tied—received the same number of votes—and a new election must be held. In Guilford a member of the Legislature was elected by only one majority. It is also said that in about thirty counties members of the Legislature were elected by less than fifty majority.

Just what the Record predicted has happened. When Democrats, in 1892, were abandoning their old party and joining the so-called People's party we warned them that by so doing they would turn the control of our State over to the Republicans. And now this has been done. There are three departments of our State government, the Judicial, the Executive and the Legislative, and the Republicans will now control all three.

And such are the first fruits of Populism in North Carolina, and by their fruits they shall be known! Hence, the campaign it was announced by the Republicans that McKimble was the advance agent of Prosperity, and that his election would restore confidence and prosperity to the country.

The Congressional election last week will not take their seats until December of next year, unless an extra session of Congress is called earlier. It certainly does not seem right that there should be so long an interval—over a year—between the election of Congress and the time when they take their seats.

The Record's election news, printed the night after the election, was more accurate than that printed in some other papers twenty-four hours later. On Wednesday we had heard enough to convince us that McKinley and Russell were both elected, and accordingly the Record conceded their election, although Chairman James of the national committee was then claiming Bryan's election, and Chairman Manly of the State committee was then claiming Watson's election.

This is the height of the annual season for the brutal game of football, which some of our highest in situations of learning seem to make the chief feature of their curriculum. But we are pleased to note that this so-called "game" is not patronized so much this year as heretofore.

Fifty magistrates were elected last week at Wilmington—the chief city of this State—are colored men. In Edgecombe—one of the wealthiest counties in the State—every magistrate elected last week is a colored man.

A banquet was given to Mark Hanna, on last Tuesday, by some New York bankers in honor of his services in the late campaign. This was eminently right and proper, because he and the money expended by him was the chief cause of the victory which so greatly pleased them, and displeased so many other folks.

The Democrats elected only one Congressman in North Carolina, Kitchen in the Fifth district. The Republicans elected three—White (a colored man), Litsey and Pearson. And the Populists elected five—Skinner, Strowd, Shuford, Martin and Fowler.

Almost the result of the election is now well known, yet it is still unknown what were the contents of Tom Watson's long lost letter. Will an eager and impatient public ever be informed?

Washington Letter.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 6, 1896. The Democrats are up against the hard wall of defeat again. True, the defeat isn't as overwhelming as the McKinleyites tried to make the country believe it was, but still it is defeat. Democrats do not like defeat.

Killed by Bryan's Defeat. Seattle, Wash., Nov. 7.—Mrs. Mary V. Garvin, wife of a prominent business man of this city, greeted her husband at the door when he returned home on Wednesday, and eagerly inquired if Bryan was elected. Upon being informed that he had been defeated she fell to the floor and expired in a few minutes. It is supposed that she was stricken with heart disease.

Tutt's Pills Cure All Liver Ills. Prevention better than cure. Tutt's Liver Pills will not only cure, but if taken in time will prevent Sick Headache, dyspepsia, biliousness, malaria, constipation, jaundice, torpid liver and kindred diseases. TUTT'S Liver PILLS ABSOLUTELY CURE.

object enough Senators to wipe out the silver majority in the Senate and give that body over to the control of the anti-silver republicans. Granting that these probabilities would turn out to be facts, they are not so formidable from a democratic point of view, as they at first glance appear to be. In fact, if the Democrats do not have the Presidency and both branches of Congress it is much better for the future of the party—let it not be forgotten that the democratic party is the one deathless political party that the republicans should have them all. With the executive and legislative branches of the government in their hands, there can be no making of responsibilities on the part of the republicans. They have promised the country a renewal of prosperity, if they were restored to power. Now that is exactly what the country stands in need of and what the democratic party hoped to accomplish. A majority of the voters of the country have decided that the republicans should have another trial. All right, let them go ahead and give us prosperity as soon as possible. If they do it, the voters will be sure to give the full credit for it, and they may be sure that the Democrats will be too anxious after their long period of "hard times" under the previous republican legislation and policy to get a notion of that prosperity for themselves to raise any obstacles to prevent its coming or to drive it away after it arrives. If they fail, as they have done before, the voters will see their mistake and will give the democratic party a chance to see what it can do towards making the country permanently prosperous, instead of spasmodically prosperous with long intervals of "hard times."

Many things might be said about the methods pursued to secure McKinley's election, but as the case is analogous to that of some of our unscrupulous rich men who have no hesitation about violating moral laws to get money, but are scrupulous as to not to violate the criminal laws, it is probably best to let them go without comment. Since the election there has been considerable talk about a reorganization of the democratic party upon some basis which will bring together in one organization all those who have believed in the fundamental principles of the party. Such a movement properly conducted is worthy of all commendation, but it is intended merely as a means of starting to leadership the men who failed the party in their hour of need, it will be certain to ruin the foundation it deserves from the rank and file of the party—those men who bore the brunt of the battle just lost. There may be two opinions as to the need of a reorganization of the democratic party, but it is certain, to my mind, and I think that of the most of those who are familiar with the workings of the campaign just ended, that the democratic party needs no reorganization, but only in many instances, that some of the things that our party ought to do that would cause it to lose its identity as the party of the people. Had the democratic party been reorganized as it should have been, some of those and failures would have had no trustworthy information from several States that they were furnished with, and had they known the real situation in several States that were lost they might have taken steps that would have saved them and possibly have changed the result of the election. It is the custom to sneer at party machines in some quarters, but for all that they are necessary adjuncts of a successful campaign.

How to Prevent Croup. SOME REMEDIES THAT WILL PROVE INTERESTING TO YOUNG MOTHERS. HOW TO GUARD AGAINST THE DISEASE. Croup is a terror to young mothers and to post them concerning the cause, first symptoms and treatment is the object of this item. The origin of croup is a common cold. Children who are subject to it take cold every easily and croup is almost sure to follow. The first symptom is hoarseness; this is soon followed by a peculiar rough cough, which is easily recognized and will never be forgotten by one who has heard it. The time to act is when the child first becomes hoarse. If Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is freely given all tendency to croup will soon disappear. Even after the croupy cough has developed it will prevent the attack. There is no danger in giving this remedy for it contains nothing injurious. For sale by Bynum & Headen.
