

The session of the Legislature is now nearly half over, as by the constitution it is limited to sixty days...

The trouble with our Legislature usually is that they rise for much time at the beginning of the session, and go with too great a rush at the close of the session...

On last Friday the Senate resumed nearly all its session for that day in the winter session, the most resolutions of resolutions to our Senators in Congress...

We note that the Populist and Democratic Senators stand together in favor of these resolutions and the Republicans vote wholly against them...

The House has passed a bill, which we hope the Senate will pass, for it ought to be so. It is a bill to make slavery a misdemeanor...

The Senate has passed a bill changing the time for the semi-annual meeting of the real supervisors to the different townships...

Nothing as yet seems to have been done by the special committee appointed to investigate the charge of bribery and corruption in connection with the election of Senator Pritchard...

Instructing Our Congressmen.

The following are the resolutions passed by the North Carolina Senate, on last Friday, the Democrats and Populists voting for and the Republicans against them.

Resolved by the Senate, the House of Representatives concurring: That our United States Senators are hereby instructed, and our Representatives in Congress are requested:

To vote and use every honorable and lawful effort to not only secure a free and unimpaired currency of the United States, but also to increase the amount of legal tender money of the country to an amount sufficient to meet the needs of increasing population and business...

Butler Denounces Republicans.

Senator Butler, in a recent public address, denounces the Republican party in the following terms:

Word on the "Reformers."

A New Progressive Leader, in his last issue, is right hard on our "reformers" because they will not vote for the following:

The committee having in charge the municipal hospital, has decided that no more shall be served to the general public.

Washington Letter.

Washington, Jan. 29, 1897.

The Senate did a wise thing when it debated the amendment offered to the Military Appropriation bill appropriating the cost of transportation of the West Point Cadets from Washington...

It is a pity that the majority of the House of Representatives should have been so easily misled by the propaganda of the military press...

Revolutionary Widows.

Seven women are still drawing pensions as the widows of men who saw active service in the war of the Revolution...

Vegetable Garden and Its Pests.

The Experiment Station at Raleigh, N. C., has just published a list of the above title...
