

Washington Letter. Washington, May 10, 1901.—Well the Hanna boom has been raised, and the Hanna boom for the Republican nomination for President in 1904, is on the road. It will strike many as having been very fittingly started in London, from whence Hanna's two administrations as brevet-President has been so strongly endorsed. Senator Hanna was in Washington when Perry Heath's London interview launching the boom was published. He denies being a candidate for President, but he does it so joyfully that everybody can see that he is tickled almost to death with the idea. No one who knows the relations between Perry Heath and Hanna and those between Hanna and Mr. McKinley will believe that the Hanna interview was a surprise to either of the other two men, and there is little doubt that the full power of the administration, through the army or Federal office holders, will be expended to push the Hanna boom along and make his nomination possible, unless the Republican press attacks it so viciously that its momentum will be made plain. That is what Democrats fear. No Democrat has been found since the boom started who does not sincerely hope that Hanna will get the nomination. Democrats wish him to get it, not only because they think he would be easy to beat but because they would enjoy hearing him more than any other man that could possibly be nominated. The boom interview is in reality a badge of the Republican pulse, especially of the editorial pulse, so that it depends on how it is received by the Republican editors, what or the Hanna boom will be unannounced or pushed.

It is eminently right and proper that on every tenth of May our people should commemorate the heroic deeds of our Confederate dead, and decorate their graves with beautiful flowers. And this tribute of respect should be continued by succeeding generations until time shall cease to be no more.

At 10 o'clock and speculation in stocks had a quieting one last week, and fortunes were made and lost in a few minutes. The stock exchange in New York was a scene of the greatest confusion and wildest excitement, as was also the stock exchange in London. Men were frantic and some were almost ruined in mind as well as in fortune.

This excitement or panic was caused by excessive speculation in the stock of the Northern Pacific Railroad Company, the control of which was hotly contested by two wealthy syndicates. The price of this stock in a few minutes advanced to an unprecedented point, and fell almost as rapidly. This stock affected the price of other stocks, so that in one day the stock of fifty-one corporations was affected to the enormous sum of nearly seven hundred million dollars.

The forty-sixth annual session of the Southern Baptist Convention was held at New Orleans last week. Governor Northern, of Georgia, was re-elected president, and Vice-presidents were Gov. and of Louisiana, Gov. Long, of Mississippi, and ex-Governor Eagle, of Arkansas. Rev. Young Burrows, of Nashville, Tenn., and Rev. G. F. Gregory, of Baltimore, were re-elected secretaries, and a very large attendance and the occasion was greatly enjoyed by all. The convention will be held next year at Asheville, N. C.

With this month lower recedents than in heretofore will be another daily weapon. They will be supplied by the late boys' arms, and the supply of this month, leaves in addition to the ten dollars on every merchant, stockholder or dealer who shall keep in stock, or offer for sale, any pistol, revolver, rifle, shotgun, bludgeon, tommy gun, or any other offensive or defensive arms.

All good citizens will no doubt approve this tax, and it is hoped that it may diminish the sale of weapons, which are so often used for any evil purpose.

Washington Letter. Washington, May 10, 1901.—Well the Hanna boom has been raised, and the Hanna boom for the Republican nomination for President in 1904, is on the road. It will strike many as having been very fittingly started in London, from whence Hanna's two administrations as brevet-President has been so strongly endorsed. Senator Hanna was in Washington when Perry Heath's London interview launching the boom was published. He denies being a candidate for President, but he does it so joyfully that everybody can see that he is tickled almost to death with the idea. No one who knows the relations between Perry Heath and Hanna and those between Hanna and Mr. McKinley will believe that the Hanna interview was a surprise to either of the other two men, and there is little doubt that the full power of the administration, through the army or Federal office holders, will be expended to push the Hanna boom along and make his nomination possible, unless the Republican press attacks it so viciously that its momentum will be made plain. That is what Democrats fear. No Democrat has been found since the boom started who does not sincerely hope that Hanna will get the nomination. Democrats wish him to get it, not only because they think he would be easy to beat but because they would enjoy hearing him more than any other man that could possibly be nominated. The boom interview is in reality a badge of the Republican pulse, especially of the editorial pulse, so that it depends on how it is received by the Republican editors, what or the Hanna boom will be unannounced or pushed.

It is eminently right and proper that on every tenth of May our people should commemorate the heroic deeds of our Confederate dead, and decorate their graves with beautiful flowers. And this tribute of respect should be continued by succeeding generations until time shall cease to be no more.

At 10 o'clock and speculation in stocks had a quieting one last week, and fortunes were made and lost in a few minutes. The stock exchange in New York was a scene of the greatest confusion and wildest excitement, as was also the stock exchange in London. Men were frantic and some were almost ruined in mind as well as in fortune.

This excitement or panic was caused by excessive speculation in the stock of the Northern Pacific Railroad Company, the control of which was hotly contested by two wealthy syndicates. The price of this stock in a few minutes advanced to an unprecedented point, and fell almost as rapidly. This stock affected the price of other stocks, so that in one day the stock of fifty-one corporations was affected to the enormous sum of nearly seven hundred million dollars.

The forty-sixth annual session of the Southern Baptist Convention was held at New Orleans last week. Governor Northern, of Georgia, was re-elected president, and Vice-presidents were Gov. and of Louisiana, Gov. Long, of Mississippi, and ex-Governor Eagle, of Arkansas. Rev. Young Burrows, of Nashville, Tenn., and Rev. G. F. Gregory, of Baltimore, were re-elected secretaries, and a very large attendance and the occasion was greatly enjoyed by all. The convention will be held next year at Asheville, N. C.

With this month lower recedents than in heretofore will be another daily weapon. They will be supplied by the late boys' arms, and the supply of this month, leaves in addition to the ten dollars on every merchant, stockholder or dealer who shall keep in stock, or offer for sale, any pistol, revolver, rifle, shotgun, bludgeon, tommy gun, or any other offensive or defensive arms.

All good citizens will no doubt approve this tax, and it is hoped that it may diminish the sale of weapons, which are so often used for any evil purpose.

Washington Letter. Washington, May 10, 1901.—Well the Hanna boom has been raised, and the Hanna boom for the Republican nomination for President in 1904, is on the road. It will strike many as having been very fittingly started in London, from whence Hanna's two administrations as brevet-President has been so strongly endorsed. Senator Hanna was in Washington when Perry Heath's London interview launching the boom was published. He denies being a candidate for President, but he does it so joyfully that everybody can see that he is tickled almost to death with the idea. No one who knows the relations between Perry Heath and Hanna and those between Hanna and Mr. McKinley will believe that the Hanna interview was a surprise to either of the other two men, and there is little doubt that the full power of the administration, through the army or Federal office holders, will be expended to push the Hanna boom along and make his nomination possible, unless the Republican press attacks it so viciously that its momentum will be made plain. That is what Democrats fear. No Democrat has been found since the boom started who does not sincerely hope that Hanna will get the nomination. Democrats wish him to get it, not only because they think he would be easy to beat but because they would enjoy hearing him more than any other man that could possibly be nominated. The boom interview is in reality a badge of the Republican pulse, especially of the editorial pulse, so that it depends on how it is received by the Republican editors, what or the Hanna boom will be unannounced or pushed.

It is eminently right and proper that on every tenth of May our people should commemorate the heroic deeds of our Confederate dead, and decorate their graves with beautiful flowers. And this tribute of respect should be continued by succeeding generations until time shall cease to be no more.

At 10 o'clock and speculation in stocks had a quieting one last week, and fortunes were made and lost in a few minutes. The stock exchange in New York was a scene of the greatest confusion and wildest excitement, as was also the stock exchange in London. Men were frantic and some were almost ruined in mind as well as in fortune.

This excitement or panic was caused by excessive speculation in the stock of the Northern Pacific Railroad Company, the control of which was hotly contested by two wealthy syndicates. The price of this stock in a few minutes advanced to an unprecedented point, and fell almost as rapidly. This stock affected the price of other stocks, so that in one day the stock of fifty-one corporations was affected to the enormous sum of nearly seven hundred million dollars.

The forty-sixth annual session of the Southern Baptist Convention was held at New Orleans last week. Governor Northern, of Georgia, was re-elected president, and Vice-presidents were Gov. and of Louisiana, Gov. Long, of Mississippi, and ex-Governor Eagle, of Arkansas. Rev. Young Burrows, of Nashville, Tenn., and Rev. G. F. Gregory, of Baltimore, were re-elected secretaries, and a very large attendance and the occasion was greatly enjoyed by all. The convention will be held next year at Asheville, N. C.

With this month lower recedents than in heretofore will be another daily weapon. They will be supplied by the late boys' arms, and the supply of this month, leaves in addition to the ten dollars on every merchant, stockholder or dealer who shall keep in stock, or offer for sale, any pistol, revolver, rifle, shotgun, bludgeon, tommy gun, or any other offensive or defensive arms.

All good citizens will no doubt approve this tax, and it is hoped that it may diminish the sale of weapons, which are so often used for any evil purpose.

Washington Letter. Washington, May 10, 1901.—Well the Hanna boom has been raised, and the Hanna boom for the Republican nomination for President in 1904, is on the road. It will strike many as having been very fittingly started in London, from whence Hanna's two administrations as brevet-President has been so strongly endorsed. Senator Hanna was in Washington when Perry Heath's London interview launching the boom was published. He denies being a candidate for President, but he does it so joyfully that everybody can see that he is tickled almost to death with the idea. No one who knows the relations between Perry Heath and Hanna and those between Hanna and Mr. McKinley will believe that the Hanna interview was a surprise to either of the other two men, and there is little doubt that the full power of the administration, through the army or Federal office holders, will be expended to push the Hanna boom along and make his nomination possible, unless the Republican press attacks it so viciously that its momentum will be made plain. That is what Democrats fear. No Democrat has been found since the boom started who does not sincerely hope that Hanna will get the nomination. Democrats wish him to get it, not only because they think he would be easy to beat but because they would enjoy hearing him more than any other man that could possibly be nominated. The boom interview is in reality a badge of the Republican pulse, especially of the editorial pulse, so that it depends on how it is received by the Republican editors, what or the Hanna boom will be unannounced or pushed.

Washington Letter. Washington, May 10, 1901.—Well the Hanna boom has been raised, and the Hanna boom for the Republican nomination for President in 1904, is on the road. It will strike many as having been very fittingly started in London, from whence Hanna's two administrations as brevet-President has been so strongly endorsed. Senator Hanna was in Washington when Perry Heath's London interview launching the boom was published. He denies being a candidate for President, but he does it so joyfully that everybody can see that he is tickled almost to death with the idea. No one who knows the relations between Perry Heath and Hanna and those between Hanna and Mr. McKinley will believe that the Hanna interview was a surprise to either of the other two men, and there is little doubt that the full power of the administration, through the army or Federal office holders, will be expended to push the Hanna boom along and make his nomination possible, unless the Republican press attacks it so viciously that its momentum will be made plain. That is what Democrats fear. No Democrat has been found since the boom started who does not sincerely hope that Hanna will get the nomination. Democrats wish him to get it, not only because they think he would be easy to beat but because they would enjoy hearing him more than any other man that could possibly be nominated. The boom interview is in reality a badge of the Republican pulse, especially of the editorial pulse, so that it depends on how it is received by the Republican editors, what or the Hanna boom will be unannounced or pushed.

It is eminently right and proper that on every tenth of May our people should commemorate the heroic deeds of our Confederate dead, and decorate their graves with beautiful flowers. And this tribute of respect should be continued by succeeding generations until time shall cease to be no more.

At 10 o'clock and speculation in stocks had a quieting one last week, and fortunes were made and lost in a few minutes. The stock exchange in New York was a scene of the greatest confusion and wildest excitement, as was also the stock exchange in London. Men were frantic and some were almost ruined in mind as well as in fortune.

This excitement or panic was caused by excessive speculation in the stock of the Northern Pacific Railroad Company, the control of which was hotly contested by two wealthy syndicates. The price of this stock in a few minutes advanced to an unprecedented point, and fell almost as rapidly. This stock affected the price of other stocks, so that in one day the stock of fifty-one corporations was affected to the enormous sum of nearly seven hundred million dollars.

The forty-sixth annual session of the Southern Baptist Convention was held at New Orleans last week. Governor Northern, of Georgia, was re-elected president, and Vice-presidents were Gov. and of Louisiana, Gov. Long, of Mississippi, and ex-Governor Eagle, of Arkansas. Rev. Young Burrows, of Nashville, Tenn., and Rev. G. F. Gregory, of Baltimore, were re-elected secretaries, and a very large attendance and the occasion was greatly enjoyed by all. The convention will be held next year at Asheville, N. C.

With this month lower recedents than in heretofore will be another daily weapon. They will be supplied by the late boys' arms, and the supply of this month, leaves in addition to the ten dollars on every merchant, stockholder or dealer who shall keep in stock, or offer for sale, any pistol, revolver, rifle, shotgun, bludgeon, tommy gun, or any other offensive or defensive arms.

All good citizens will no doubt approve this tax, and it is hoped that it may diminish the sale of weapons, which are so often used for any evil purpose.

Washington Letter. Washington, May 10, 1901.—Well the Hanna boom has been raised, and the Hanna boom for the Republican nomination for President in 1904, is on the road. It will strike many as having been very fittingly started in London, from whence Hanna's two administrations as brevet-President has been so strongly endorsed. Senator Hanna was in Washington when Perry Heath's London interview launching the boom was published. He denies being a candidate for President, but he does it so joyfully that everybody can see that he is tickled almost to death with the idea. No one who knows the relations between Perry Heath and Hanna and those between Hanna and Mr. McKinley will believe that the Hanna interview was a surprise to either of the other two men, and there is little doubt that the full power of the administration, through the army or Federal office holders, will be expended to push the Hanna boom along and make his nomination possible, unless the Republican press attacks it so viciously that its momentum will be made plain. That is what Democrats fear. No Democrat has been found since the boom started who does not sincerely hope that Hanna will get the nomination. Democrats wish him to get it, not only because they think he would be easy to beat but because they would enjoy hearing him more than any other man that could possibly be nominated. The boom interview is in reality a badge of the Republican pulse, especially of the editorial pulse, so that it depends on how it is received by the Republican editors, what or the Hanna boom will be unannounced or pushed.

Washington Letter. Washington, May 10, 1901.—Well the Hanna boom has been raised, and the Hanna boom for the Republican nomination for President in 1904, is on the road. It will strike many as having been very fittingly started in London, from whence Hanna's two administrations as brevet-President has been so strongly endorsed. Senator Hanna was in Washington when Perry Heath's London interview launching the boom was published. He denies being a candidate for President, but he does it so joyfully that everybody can see that he is tickled almost to death with the idea. No one who knows the relations between Perry Heath and Hanna and those between Hanna and Mr. McKinley will believe that the Hanna interview was a surprise to either of the other two men, and there is little doubt that the full power of the administration, through the army or Federal office holders, will be expended to push the Hanna boom along and make his nomination possible, unless the Republican press attacks it so viciously that its momentum will be made plain. That is what Democrats fear. No Democrat has been found since the boom started who does not sincerely hope that Hanna will get the nomination. Democrats wish him to get it, not only because they think he would be easy to beat but because they would enjoy hearing him more than any other man that could possibly be nominated. The boom interview is in reality a badge of the Republican pulse, especially of the editorial pulse, so that it depends on how it is received by the Republican editors, what or the Hanna boom will be unannounced or pushed.

It is eminently right and proper that on every tenth of May our people should commemorate the heroic deeds of our Confederate dead, and decorate their graves with beautiful flowers. And this tribute of respect should be continued by succeeding generations until time shall cease to be no more.

At 10 o'clock and speculation in stocks had a quieting one last week, and fortunes were made and lost in a few minutes. The stock exchange in New York was a scene of the greatest confusion and wildest excitement, as was also the stock exchange in London. Men were frantic and some were almost ruined in mind as well as in fortune.

This excitement or panic was caused by excessive speculation in the stock of the Northern Pacific Railroad Company, the control of which was hotly contested by two wealthy syndicates. The price of this stock in a few minutes advanced to an unprecedented point, and fell almost as rapidly. This stock affected the price of other stocks, so that in one day the stock of fifty-one corporations was affected to the enormous sum of nearly seven hundred million dollars.

The forty-sixth annual session of the Southern Baptist Convention was held at New Orleans last week. Governor Northern, of Georgia, was re-elected president, and Vice-presidents were Gov. and of Louisiana, Gov. Long, of Mississippi, and ex-Governor Eagle, of Arkansas. Rev. Young Burrows, of Nashville, Tenn., and Rev. G. F. Gregory, of Baltimore, were re-elected secretaries, and a very large attendance and the occasion was greatly enjoyed by all. The convention will be held next year at Asheville, N. C.

With this month lower recedents than in heretofore will be another daily weapon. They will be supplied by the late boys' arms, and the supply of this month, leaves in addition to the ten dollars on every merchant, stockholder or dealer who shall keep in stock, or offer for sale, any pistol, revolver, rifle, shotgun, bludgeon, tommy gun, or any other offensive or defensive arms.

All good citizens will no doubt approve this tax, and it is hoped that it may diminish the sale of weapons, which are so often used for any evil purpose.

Washington Letter. Washington, May 10, 1901.—Well the Hanna boom has been raised, and the Hanna boom for the Republican nomination for President in 1904, is on the road. It will strike many as having been very fittingly started in London, from whence Hanna's two administrations as brevet-President has been so strongly endorsed. Senator Hanna was in Washington when Perry Heath's London interview launching the boom was published. He denies being a candidate for President, but he does it so joyfully that everybody can see that he is tickled almost to death with the idea. No one who knows the relations between Perry Heath and Hanna and those between Hanna and Mr. McKinley will believe that the Hanna interview was a surprise to either of the other two men, and there is little doubt that the full power of the administration, through the army or Federal office holders, will be expended to push the Hanna boom along and make his nomination possible, unless the Republican press attacks it so viciously that its momentum will be made plain. That is what Democrats fear. No Democrat has been found since the boom started who does not sincerely hope that Hanna will get the nomination. Democrats wish him to get it, not only because they think he would be easy to beat but because they would enjoy hearing him more than any other man that could possibly be nominated. The boom interview is in reality a badge of the Republican pulse, especially of the editorial pulse, so that it depends on how it is received by the Republican editors, what or the Hanna boom will be unannounced or pushed.

Washington Letter. Washington, May 10, 1901.—Well the Hanna boom has been raised, and the Hanna boom for the Republican nomination for President in 1904, is on the road. It will strike many as having been very fittingly started in London, from whence Hanna's two administrations as brevet-President has been so strongly endorsed. Senator Hanna was in Washington when Perry Heath's London interview launching the boom was published. He denies being a candidate for President, but he does it so joyfully that everybody can see that he is tickled almost to death with the idea. No one who knows the relations between Perry Heath and Hanna and those between Hanna and Mr. McKinley will believe that the Hanna interview was a surprise to either of the other two men, and there is little doubt that the full power of the administration, through the army or Federal office holders, will be expended to push the Hanna boom along and make his nomination possible, unless the Republican press attacks it so viciously that its momentum will be made plain. That is what Democrats fear. No Democrat has been found since the boom started who does not sincerely hope that Hanna will get the nomination. Democrats wish him to get it, not only because they think he would be easy to beat but because they would enjoy hearing him more than any other man that could possibly be nominated. The boom interview is in reality a badge of the Republican pulse, especially of the editorial pulse, so that it depends on how it is received by the Republican editors, what or the Hanna boom will be unannounced or pushed.

It is eminently right and proper that on every tenth of May our people should commemorate the heroic deeds of our Confederate dead, and decorate their graves with beautiful flowers. And this tribute of respect should be continued by succeeding generations until time shall cease to be no more.

At 10 o'clock and speculation in stocks had a quieting one last week, and fortunes were made and lost in a few minutes. The stock exchange in New York was a scene of the greatest confusion and wildest excitement, as was also the stock exchange in London. Men were frantic and some were almost ruined in mind as well as in fortune.

This excitement or panic was caused by excessive speculation in the stock of the Northern Pacific Railroad Company, the control of which was hotly contested by two wealthy syndicates. The price of this stock in a few minutes advanced to an unprecedented point, and fell almost as rapidly. This stock affected the price of other stocks, so that in one day the stock of fifty-one corporations was affected to the enormous sum of nearly seven hundred million dollars.

The forty-sixth annual session of the Southern Baptist Convention was held at New Orleans last week. Governor Northern, of Georgia, was re-elected president, and Vice-presidents were Gov. and of Louisiana, Gov. Long, of Mississippi, and ex-Governor Eagle, of Arkansas. Rev. Young Burrows, of Nashville, Tenn., and Rev. G. F. Gregory, of Baltimore, were re-elected secretaries, and a very large attendance and the occasion was greatly enjoyed by all. The convention will be held next year at Asheville, N. C.

With this month lower recedents than in heretofore will be another daily weapon. They will be supplied by the late boys' arms, and the supply of this month, leaves in addition to the ten dollars on every merchant, stockholder or dealer who shall keep in stock, or offer for sale, any pistol, revolver, rifle, shotgun, bludgeon, tommy gun, or any other offensive or defensive arms.

All good citizens will no doubt approve this tax, and it is hoped that it may diminish the sale of weapons, which are so often used for any evil purpose.

Washington Letter. Washington, May 10, 1901.—Well the Hanna boom has been raised, and the Hanna boom for the Republican nomination for President in 1904, is on the road. It will strike many as having been very fittingly started in London, from whence Hanna's two administrations as brevet-President has been so strongly endorsed. Senator Hanna was in Washington when Perry Heath's London interview launching the boom was published. He denies being a candidate for President, but he does it so joyfully that everybody can see that he is tickled almost to death with the idea. No one who knows the relations between Perry Heath and Hanna and those between Hanna and Mr. McKinley will believe that the Hanna interview was a surprise to either of the other two men, and there is little doubt that the full power of the administration, through the army or Federal office holders, will be expended to push the Hanna boom along and make his nomination possible, unless the Republican press attacks it so viciously that its momentum will be made plain. That is what Democrats fear. No Democrat has been found since the boom started who does not sincerely hope that Hanna will get the nomination. Democrats wish him to get it, not only because they think he would be easy to beat but because they would enjoy hearing him more than any other man that could possibly be nominated. The boom interview is in reality a badge of the Republican pulse, especially of the editorial pulse, so that it depends on how it is received by the Republican editors, what or the Hanna boom will be unannounced or pushed.

Washington Letter. Washington, May 10, 1901.—Well the Hanna boom has been raised, and the Hanna boom for the Republican nomination for President in 1904, is on the road. It will strike many as having been very fittingly started in London, from whence Hanna's two administrations as brevet-President has been so strongly endorsed. Senator Hanna was in Washington when Perry Heath's London interview launching the boom was published. He denies being a candidate for President, but he does it so joyfully that everybody can see that he is tickled almost to death with the idea. No one who knows the relations between Perry Heath and Hanna and those between Hanna and Mr. McKinley will believe that the Hanna interview was a surprise to either of the other two men, and there is little doubt that the full power of the administration, through the army or Federal office holders, will be expended to push the Hanna boom along and make his nomination possible, unless the Republican press attacks it so viciously that its momentum will be made plain. That is what Democrats fear. No Democrat has been found since the boom started who does not sincerely hope that Hanna will get the nomination. Democrats wish him to get it, not only because they think he would be easy to beat but because they would enjoy hearing him more than any other man that could possibly be nominated. The boom interview is in reality a badge of the Republican pulse, especially of the editorial pulse, so that it depends on how it is received by the Republican editors, what or the Hanna boom will be unannounced or pushed.

It is eminently right and proper that on every tenth of May our people should commemorate the heroic deeds of our Confederate dead, and decorate their graves with beautiful flowers. And this tribute of respect should be continued by succeeding generations until time shall cease to be no more.

At 10 o'clock and speculation in stocks had a quieting one last week, and fortunes were made and lost in a few minutes. The stock exchange in New York was a scene of the greatest confusion and wildest excitement, as was also the stock exchange in London. Men were frantic and some were almost ruined in mind as well as in fortune.

This excitement or panic was caused by excessive speculation in the stock of the Northern Pacific Railroad Company, the control of which was hotly contested by two wealthy syndicates. The price of this stock in a few minutes advanced to an unprecedented point, and fell almost as rapidly. This stock affected the price of other stocks, so that in one day the stock of fifty-one corporations was affected to the enormous sum of nearly seven hundred million dollars.

The forty-sixth annual session of the Southern Baptist Convention was held at New Orleans last week. Governor Northern, of Georgia, was re-elected president, and Vice-presidents were Gov. and of Louisiana, Gov. Long, of Mississippi, and ex-Governor Eagle, of Arkansas. Rev. Young Burrows, of Nashville, Tenn., and Rev. G. F. Gregory, of Baltimore, were re-elected secretaries, and a very large attendance and the occasion was greatly enjoyed by all. The convention will be held next year at Asheville, N. C.

With this month lower recedents than in heretofore will be another daily weapon. They will be supplied by the late boys' arms, and the supply of this month, leaves in addition to the ten dollars on every merchant, stockholder or dealer who shall keep in stock, or offer for sale, any pistol, revolver, rifle, shotgun, bludgeon, tommy gun, or any other offensive or defensive arms.

All good citizens will no doubt approve this tax, and it is hoped that it may diminish the sale of weapons, which are so often used for any evil purpose.

Washington Letter. Washington, May 10, 1901.—Well the Hanna boom has been raised, and the Hanna boom for the Republican nomination for President in 1904, is on the road. It will strike many as having been very fittingly started in London, from whence Hanna's two administrations as brevet-President has been so strongly endorsed. Senator Hanna was in Washington when Perry Heath's London interview launching the boom was published. He denies being a candidate for President, but he does it so joyfully that everybody can see that he is tickled almost to death with the idea. No one who knows the relations between Perry Heath and Hanna and those between Hanna and Mr. McKinley will believe that the Hanna interview was a surprise to either of the other two men, and there is little doubt that the full power of the administration, through the army or Federal office holders, will be expended to push the Hanna boom along and make his nomination possible, unless the Republican press attacks it so viciously that its momentum will be made plain. That is what Democrats fear. No Democrat has been found since the boom started who does not sincerely hope that Hanna will get the nomination. Democrats wish him to get it, not only because they think he would be easy to beat but because they would enjoy hearing him more than any other man that could possibly be nominated. The boom interview is in reality a badge of the Republican pulse, especially of the editorial pulse, so that it depends on how it is received by the Republican editors, what or the Hanna boom will be unannounced or pushed.

HERALD OF SPRING . . . WE SHOW THE CORRECT AND UP-TO-DATE CLOTHING . . . Men's, Youths' and Boys' Splendid Spectacles of Spring and Summer Styles. A Starchless Story of Stylish Shirts. Embracing the most select showing of Showy Shirts ever shown. Hats for the hatless. Silk, Soft, Stiff, Straws. The leaders selling the learned, the Leading Styles in all lines. In other words we show you the correct and up-to-date in each Department, with unlimited variety to select from. Our guarantee of price and satisfaction behind it or your money cheerfully refunded. We invite your inspection.

CROSS & LINEHAN Up-to-Date Clothiers and Furnishers, RALEIGH, N. C. 4-18-01.

New Store! New Goods! 1878. 1901. Our stock consists of everything that is kept in a first-class General Store. We have added the celebrated ROSE LADIES SHOE at $3.00, every pair warranted to give satisfaction. We also call attention to the fact that we have added to our Carpet Department the celebrated P. P. 404 and 909 Corsets. For wear, fit and durability they have no equal. We buy all kinds of Country Produce, Chickens, Eggs, Corn, Oats, Pease, Beans, Wood, Bees Wax, paying highest market price. We are also in the market for cotton. We want to buy 25,000 pounds Lay Hides at highest prices. Come to see us, we feel sure we can save you money. Yours sincerely, Sanford Cotton Mills, SANFORD, N. C.

VESTIBULED SLEEPING TRAINS DOUBLE DAILY SERVICE BETWEEN NEW YORK, TAMPA, ATLANTA, NEW ORLEANS AND POINTS SOUTH AND WEST. In Effect Jan. 20th, 1901.

Table with columns for Southbound and Northbound routes, listing stations like New York, Tampa, Atlanta, New Orleans, and points south and west, along with fares and service details.

THE RECORD. Has done its utmost for the best interests of Chatham. Is the "OLD RELIABLE" and can always be depended on.

THE RECORD. Only 3 Cents a week. If you wish to get the latest news in County, State and Nation, subscribe for THE RECORD. The first tract contains about 120 acres, adjoining the lands of P. N. Fouchere and others. The second tract contains about 24 acres, adjoining the lands of the late Wesley Gartin and others. The third tract contains about 100 acres, adjoining the lands of the late S. W. Collier and others. The fourth tract contains about 462 acres, adjoining the lands of the late James Harmon and others. The fifth tract contains about 82 acres, adjoining the lands of the late James Harmon and others, and lying on Turkey creek. The sixth tract contains about 216 acres, adjoining the Pittsboro and Egypt road. This land will be sold in separate tracts or together, just as may be desired. All or it is well adapted to wheat, oats, corn, cotton and clover. It is well watered and well wooded in original forest. For further information apply to H. A. LORING, Sep. 5, 1900, Attorney.

A Strong Fortification. Fortify the body against disease by Tatt's Liver Pills, an absolute cure for sick headache, dyspepsia, sour stomach, malaria, constipation, jaundice, biliousness and all kindred troubles. "The Fly-Wheel of Life" Dr. Tatt's Liver Pills are the fly-wheel of life, I shall ever be grateful for the accident that brought them to my notice. I feel as if I had a new lease of life. Tatt's Liver Pills.

Money Saved is Money Made. We all should try to save. If you desire to save money on SHOES, DRY GOODS AND MILLINERY. This is the place for you to buy. Merchants are invited to get our prices. All goods sold at ONE PRICE and FOR CASH. WALTER WOOLCOTT, 14 E. Martin St., RALEIGH, N. C.

Excursion Rates to Memphis, Tenn. VIA SEABOARD AIR LINE RY. Round Trip, Memphis, Tenn. May 28-30, 1901. On account of the removal of United Confederate Veterans the Seaboard Air Line Railway will sell tickets from stations on its line to Memphis and return at the very low rate of one cent per mile. Tickets will be sold May 28th, 29th and 30th, good to return until June 1st.

Can be preserved, if your eyes are properly cared for. You are unable to visit our optical office and cannot get spectacles we will send you a simple method for testing your eyes at home, on receipt of a postal card. DR. S. RAPPORT, 110 S. CALDWELL, Durham, N. C.

FARMS FOR SALE. I WILL SELL PRIVATELY, AND ON EASY TERMS. SIX TRACTS. Of land about two miles from Pittsboro. Here is a rare chance for a BARGAIN IN LAND! The first tract contains about 120 acres, adjoining the lands of P. N. Fouchere and others.

UNIVERSITY L. W. SCHOOL. The Summer Term Begins July 1st, continuing three months. Through instruction in course admitted to the bar. Special lectures by eminent lawyers. For catalogue, address Jan. O. McRae, Dean, Chapel Hill, N. C.

AND SALE.—By virtue of a writ of fieri facias, issued by the Court of Chancery in the case of the estate of the late John W. Collier, deceased, the following real estate is being sold: A tract of land containing about 100 acres, adjoining the lands of the late S. W. Collier and others.

AND SALE.—By virtue of the writ of fieri facias, issued by the Court of Chancery in the case of the estate of the late John W. Collier, deceased, the following real estate is being sold: A tract of land containing about 462 acres, adjoining the lands of the late James Harmon and others.

AND SALE.—By virtue of the writ of fieri facias, issued by the Court of Chancery in the case of the estate of the late John W. Collier, deceased, the following real estate is being sold: A tract of land containing about 82 acres, adjoining the lands of the late James Harmon and others, and lying on Turkey creek.

Cold Drinks Carbolic Acid. Durham, N. C., May 11.—Last night the child of Mr. and Mrs. William Copley, living a few miles west of the city, was killed by drinking carbolic acid. She drank the acid in the afternoon and died about the midnight hour, being unconscious up to the time of her death. The little girl was about one year old. Yesterday afternoon she was in a room with her three-year-old sister and her five-year-old brother. In this room was a bottle of carbolic acid and some water. The child drank the acid in the afternoon and died about the midnight hour, being unconscious up to the time of her death.

Fatal Struggle. New York, May 12.—Only a few people who started from Chicago for New York, N. Y., on which is hardly known as a "struggle" tale. Two were carried home. One having died, she was in a hospital, but was allowed to go to her home after having been pronounced dead, and every one of her friends was in a state of grief. A struggle with a lady occurred on the train.

Morganston Bound. Last Monday the school of Morganston, N. C., was held. The school was held in the school house of Morganston, N. C., and was attended by a large number of pupils. The school was held in the school house of Morganston, N. C., and was attended by a large number of pupils.

School Exercises at Merry Hill. Merry Hill, N. C., May 10, 1901. The school exercises at Merry Hill, N. C., were held on Monday, May 10, 1901. The exercises were held in the school house of Merry Hill, N. C., and were attended by a large number of pupils.

Statement of Mr. J. P. McRae. Mr. J. P. McRae, of Durham, N. C., has made a statement regarding the school exercises at Merry Hill, N. C., on Monday, May 10, 1901. He stated that the exercises were held in the school house of Merry Hill, N. C., and were attended by a large number of pupils.

Statement of Mr. J. P. McRae. Mr. J. P. McRae, of Durham, N. C., has made a statement regarding the school exercises at Merry Hill, N. C., on Monday, May 10, 1901. He stated that the exercises were held in the school house of Merry Hill, N. C., and were attended by a large number of pupils.

Statement of Mr. J. P. McRae. Mr. J. P. McRae, of Durham, N. C., has made a statement regarding the school exercises at Merry Hill, N. C., on Monday, May 10, 1901. He stated that the exercises were held in the school house of Merry Hill, N. C., and were attended by a large number of pupils.

Statement of Mr. J. P. McRae. Mr. J. P. McRae, of Durham, N. C., has made a statement regarding the school exercises at Merry Hill, N. C., on Monday, May 10, 1901. He stated that the exercises were held in the school house of Merry Hill, N. C., and were attended by a large number of pupils.

Washington Letter. Washington, May 10, 1901.—Well the Hanna boom has been raised, and the Hanna boom for the Republican nomination for President in 1904, is on the road. It will strike many as having been very fittingly started in London, from whence Hanna's two administrations as brevet-President has been so strongly endorsed. Senator Hanna was in Washington when Perry Heath's London interview launching the boom was published. He denies being a candidate for President, but he does it so joyfully that everybody can see that he is tickled almost to death with the idea. No one who knows the relations between Perry Heath and Hanna and those between Hanna and Mr. McKinley will believe that the Hanna interview was a surprise to either of the other two men, and there is little doubt that the full power of the administration, through the army or Federal office holders, will be expended to push the Hanna boom along and make his nomination possible, unless the Republican press attacks it so viciously that its momentum will be made plain. That is what Democrats fear. No Democrat has been found since the boom started who does not sincerely hope that Hanna will get the nomination. Democrats wish him to get it, not only because they think he would be easy to beat but because they would enjoy hearing him more than any other man that could possibly be nominated. The boom interview is in reality a badge of the Republican pulse, especially of the editorial pulse, so that it depends on how it is received by the Republican editors, what or the Hanna boom will be unannounced or pushed.

Washington Letter. Washington, May 10, 1901.—Well the Hanna boom has been raised, and the Hanna boom for the Republican nomination for President in 1904, is on the road. It will strike many as having been very fittingly started in London, from whence Hanna's two administrations as brevet-President has been so strongly endorsed. Senator Hanna was in Washington when Perry Heath's London interview launching the boom was published. He denies being a candidate for President, but he does it so joyfully that everybody can see that he is tickled almost to death with the idea. No one who knows the relations between Perry Heath and Hanna and those between Hanna and Mr. McKinley will believe that the Hanna interview was a surprise to either of the other two men, and there is little doubt that the full power of the administration, through the army or Federal office holders, will be expended to push the Hanna boom along