Republicans which to their nominees much more closely than Democrats do, and will vote almost solidly for any candidate nominated by their party. This was fully illustrated in the election. For instance, the Republican vote almost solidly for Mr. Thomas N. Hill for Chief Justice, against Judge Walter Clark, although he won the election. The latter had been the nominee of the Fusionists in 1898.

Another instance was the solid Republican vote for Mr. R. L. Davis for Governor of this State, a district who was never mentioned by any convention or caucus and nobody knew he was a candidate until his name was found on the Republican ticket in election day. He has since been elected.

But Mr. Davis is not a Federalist. They are the best independent voters in the State. They vote for the best man, and for the Republican Party.

From now until the next election, the Democrats have a majority in every branch of the Legislature.
