

THURSDAY, Nov. 29, 1902.

Local Records.

The same old business at the same old place, the same old good things at J. L. Council's place.

You perhaps know, but they want you to tell your neighbor that the place to save money on cook and heating stoves is at By- man & Headen's.

Miss Ellen Small died of consumption at Asheville last week and was buried here last Saturday. Her parents and a sister died here last winter.

You can get for your Thanksgiving cooking at Byman & Headen's, citrus, raisins, figs, prunes, dates, almonds, pulverized sugar and coconuts.

Don't go to Durham or Raleigh. Go to W. E. Hay, of Burlington, N. C., where you can save money on clothing, dress goods, shoes, hats and millinery.

Trade is in full swing at J. R. Weatherspoon's, of Sanford. Elegant line of holiday novelties just received. Unusual bargains in clothing, ladies' jackets, and shoes.

Until the rain on last Tuesday this had been the driest and warmest November ever remembered by the oldest inhabitant. It had not been as cool as October or even September had been.

Byman & Headen don't want to bore you with a lengthy advertisement about their furniture, but if there is anything you need or will need soon in this line they want to have the pleasure of showing you.

W. E. Hay, of Burlington, N. C., will sell you men's hats $2.50, boys' hats 10c, men's good suits $1.95, boys' suits 50c, good caps 10c, ladies' jackets $1.50, capes 50c. Be sure to go and see his big stock.

Your attention is called to the line of fancy and heavy groceries carried by Byman & Headen. You will always find them with the lowest in groceries. The soft "Sport Silk," the best flour in the country, for $4.50.

The nine-year-old son of Mr. William M. Barber, of Gulf townships, was married last week to the "Pearl" Hospital, at Pittsboro, to a trustee from a neighboring boy. We are pleased to learn that the hospital physicians say it is not a serious case.

Next Thursday being Thanksgiving Day all business will be suspended at this place, as is customary on that day. The stores will be closed all day, and so will the post office except for half an hour before the departure of the train and half an hour after its arrival.

Thanksgiving day is the one regular day for everybody to give thanks but the customers at the store of Max, in Durham, give thanks every day as they go there and get the splendid bargains he continues to offer. Buying there is like being in better frames of mind than giving thanks next Thursday.

Cotton blooms in November as a strange sight, but while driving from here to Siler City on Monday we saw plenty of them in a field near the top of Hockley Mountain. No frost seemed to have touched that field of cotton, for the leaves and stalks were as green as in July and blossoms were abundant.

Why not buy a suit of clothes while you have a full stock to select from. W. L. London & Son have a full stock of ready-made clothing. They would call your special attention to their $5 and $10 suits. Boys' clothing all sizes. Their stock of overcoats is splendid. They can suit you if you need one.

Prepare for cold weather before it comes. You will find at W. L. London & Son's, underwear for men, all prices and kinds; also for ladies and children from a small baby to the largest lady. They are also showing a splendid line of ladies' and children's pickets, capes and furs. You can save money by buying these goods now.

The board of canvassers of this senatorial district met at Aberdeen on last Thursday and canvassed the vote for senators, as required by the election law. The majority for the Democratic candidates was a little over 2,000, as stated in last week's Review. The majority of Spence over Patterson was 2,048 and of London over Siler in was 2,002.

The canvass still continues at the store of A. Max, at Durham. Although he has sold several thousand dollars worth of goods in the past few weeks yet he has plenty more to offer. He is trying to select the best quality of goods.

The men who are stretching the telephone wire between Siler City and Pittsboro expect to finish it and reach here by next Saturday night, but it may be the middle of next week. Their climbing poles and stretching wire is a novel sight to the people on the road between here and Siler City.

On next Friday night, 21st, a phonograph concert will be given at the court house, by Mr. T. A. Hanks, under the auspices of the Epworth League, the proceeds to go toward the purchase of a library. Twenty-five first-class selections will be given on a good concert phonograph. The admission will be 10 cents.

Boss Alston, a noted colored character of this place, is at last serving a sentence on the roads. He has been on the criminal docket of our courts quite often, but had thus far escaped the roads until last week, when he was sentenced for eight months on the roads of Union county. When sentence was about to be pronounced he piteously begged the judge to let him pray inside the bar.

The many friends of Mrs. E. J. Hale, of Fayetteville, will be grieved to learn of her death. She was born and reared near this place, being a daughter of that courtly gentleman, the late Col. Thomas Hill, whose home so well represented the refined hospitality of the old time Southern planter. She was a lady of rare beauty and grace of manner, and possessed so many excellencies of character as to win the love of all who knew her.

Mrs. Alva J. Byman is visiting her son at Raleigh.

Mrs. A. P. Terry is visiting relatives at Fayetteville.

Mr. Spence Taylor went to Raleigh yesterday on business.

Mrs. M. T. Williams has returned from a visit Rock Hill, South Carolina.

Miss Meade Moore has gone to Rockingham to teach in the graded school there.

Mrs. E. C. Fox and daughter will leave today on a visit to relatives at Rock Hill.

Mr. and Mrs. James Ticehill, of Lexington, are visiting her father, Mr. William J. Womack.

Mrs. Maggie Small and Miss Lula Stumpf, of Fayetteville, have been here on a visit to Mrs. H. M. Brum.

Rev. Francis Joyner and wife have been on a visit to Mrs. N. M. Hill. He preached in the Episcopal church on last Sunday morning and night, two very able sermons.

The grand jury made the following report on indictments:

We visited and examined the offices of the sheriff, register of deeds and clerk. We find the offices neatly kept and well cared for. There books are nearly, if not entirely, up-to-date. Farm work we are able to find, however, recently kept.

We visited the home of the Azel and Lillie Laffam, a committee and their dwellings in excellent condition, with 31 inmates, 17 whites and 14 colored, well dressed and neatly treated. The Laffams are in a state of cultivation, with 10 acres in oats, 25 acres in wheat, 10 acres of fine meadow. We found 10 barrels of corn, 300 pounds of fine hay, 1,000 pounds of fodder and other feed, straw, shucks, etc., 2 head of hens, 10 head of cattle, 4 head of which are milkers, and 14 head of hogs. All the stock are in fair condition.

We visited the jail in a body and believe the same to be safe and well kept, and the prisoners well fed and kindly treated. We recommend to the Honorable Board of Commissioners to see if the heating of the jail can be made more safe and comfortable, and also to have the aisle of the court house repaired at once, and also have the glass put in the windows of the jail at once.

"John H. Tyson, Foreman."

The November term of Chatham superior court was adjourned on last Saturday and the Judge departed on that afternoon for Scotland county, where he is holding court this week.

The following are the civil cases tried or otherwise disposed of:

Annie Shields and Hume Shields against E. H. Alfred was a suit for $1,000 damages for an assault and battery. Verdict for $5, and verdict set aside.

Mary A. E. Barringer, executrix, against the Virginia Trust Company was an action for damages for failure to furnish water-power for the mill at Lickville. Judgment of non-suit and appeal by the defendant.

The welcome shower has just arrived. It brings gladness to the farmer's heart.

When sowing is nearly done, The fall has been propitious for farm work and you often hear the exclamation, "It is the most beautiful fall for work ever known in our annals."

Rev. R. W. Bailey preached for the last time during the meetings of the Azel and Lillie Laffam, a committee and their dwellings in excellent condition, with 31 inmates, 17 whites and 14 colored, well dressed and neatly treated.

day for the Methodist orphans, at Raleigh. The public is cordially invited to attend these services and take part in the general Thanksgiving.

The genial and obliging manager of the Odd Mfg. Co., Capt. W. L. London, has agreed to give the operatic sketches on Thanksgiving. It is indeed the right step in the right direction. This is characteristic of the great hearted manager.

Bymon & Haughton and the Post-Attwater Co. will close their store on Thanksgiving. So the butchers' meat is always fresh and we trust that all will make good use of the meat.

Our Showings is an extensive one, and in every respect justifies our superintendence in catering to the public taste.
