MERRY CHRISTMAS.

RECORD greets its readers another Christmas will have come and gone. It is the happiest day of the year to most persons, and especially to the young folks. Then it is that the mythical old Santa Claus gladdens the hearts and fills the stockings of the children and also of some of the older folks.

It is the great occasion of the year for the exchange of gifts between friends and relatives, in commemoration of the priceless gift of the Son of God on that day over nineteen hundred years ago. This interchange of gifts at Christmas is a beautiful custom, but one that is being almost made a nuisance, when, as in too many cases, people make gifts merely to "pay back" those from whom they have received gifts. It is not the intrinsic value of the gift that gives the most pleasure or is the most appreciated, but it is the kindly feeling and loving heart that prompts it.

purse is loosened. Then it is that nies-the better it will be for our of Pittsburg. "No, sir!" he said all mankind feel a sympathy and State. tenderness not often experienced, and we realize in some degree the brotherhood of man. What a pity that the kindly feelings that brighten our lives and soften our hearts at Christmas could not continue all the year!

While enjoying Christmas yourself try to make others enjoy it. Indeed the greatest, certainly the is the giving pleasure to others.
