Record of Growth of Public Schools in North Carolina For Past Five Years Compares Favorably With

FINE EDUCATIONAL PROGRESS

NO. 4.

That of Any Other State-Interesting Statistics.

Washington, Special.-The record made by North Carolina during the last five years in educational facilities compares well with that of any State in the union, as shown by the report of the commissioner of education for the United States for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1906. The report has just come out and is very

There were 676,615 children of school age in the State-474,657 white and 221,958 colored. For the education of these children the State was spending $1,287,275.70 annually, exclusive of $161,363 raised by local taxation. The total amount expended for each child in North Carolina, of school age, including local taxes, was $2.17 the average amount in the United States being $9.50. The average monthly salary of teachers was $26.78 for white and $22.19 for colored teachers, and in the United States the average monthly salary was $48. The length of the public school term in North Carolina was 76.15 days; average length in the United States, 145 days.

The average value of the school houses in the State was for white, closed during the winter on account of hte buildings not being inhabitable. Attention is called to the fact that great hinderance to effective education in a State so large and sparsely populated as North Carolina is the Washington, N. C., Special.-An- multiplication of district schools to other new enterprise has recently been | atisfy special families. Nearly oneincorporated in this city. The new half of the white school districts in the State and 44 per cent. of the colored districts contain less than 65 children of school age. Another noticeable fact in conection with the report of the commission is that 82 per cent. of the entire population is ural and agricultural and that illiteracy among both the white and colored race is decidedly on the decrease.

The enrollment in schools for the United States for the year 1903 4 reached a total of 17,896,890, being and increase of 357,422 over the previous year. Of the total amount expended for all purposes ($691,000,-(000) nearly two-fifths, or 39.5 per cent, was paid for common schools. It will be seen that the Federal, State and local expenditures for education for the year 1903-'4 amounted to almost one-half the cost of the national gevernment.

Durham led North Carolina in the number of children attending school. With a population of 6,679 she had ing on conservative statements they 2.713 children in school; Asheville, have easily 75 per cent. of the people population 16,478, had 2,637 children of this district with them. in school; Charlotte, (figures showing number of children attending school are not given); Concord, population 7,910, number of children in school 2,713; Greensboro, population 12,793, number of children in school 2,260 Newbern, population 9,090, number of children in school, 2,567; Wilmington, population 21,344, number in school not given; Winston, population 10,804, number of children in school 1,735.

To run her schools during the year Asheville received from the State $66, from the city, $20,186, from the county and other taxes $10,948, a total of $32,335 as against a total of $9,600 for Concord; $37,494 for Durham; $23,600 for Greensboro; $9,316 for Newbern; $26,455 for Raleigh, and $17,500 for Winston, no figures being given for Charlotte. It will thus be seen that Durham received more than any city in the State and that Asheville came next with Raleigh following. While Durham received more for being followed by Durham, Raleigh and Asheville in the order named, these expenditures being for permanent investments, teaching and incidental expenses. The figures for the different places were as follows: Asheville, $30,186; Charlotte, no figures given; Concord, $39,750; Durham, $32,500; Greensboro, $23,000; Newbern, $8,954; Raleigh, $30,342, and Winston, $17,310.

Among the higher institutions of learning reported closed recently is the North Carolina College, at Mt. Pleasant.

The total value of property possessed by institutions of higher learning in the United States is $464,216,545, a gain of almost $33,000,000 over the amount for the preceding year. This is an instance of the growth of colleges throughout the United States. Trinity Colloge, at Durham, is the nly institution in the State that reported gifts amounting to over $100,-000 for the year, the amount received by it being $106,000. The total value neighbors arrived, Mrs. Hayes was of all gifts reported by the several dead and her husband dying. There universities receiving donations is no clue to the cause of the horrible amounted in the year to a total of crime. over $9,000,000.

Ardent Hope That Prerogative of Platt Amendment Will Soon be Utilized.

Havana, By Cable .- "Neither side can whip the other," is the concise statement now heard everywhere in Havana, and it may also be fairly construed to be the growing convictions of thoughtful persons throughout the island. In Havana at least the conviction has led, among all unprejudiced persons, to expression of an ardent hope that the prerogative of the Platt amendment soon will be utilized by the United States for the purpose of effectually putting an end to a condition that everybody believes is otherwise bound to grow more and more intolerable.

Nobody appears to believe that the insprgents will take Havana, although this is not regarded as impossible, especially when it is considered that so-operation in such a movement assuredly would come from within. Everybody concedes that the government troops can continue their record of victories in almost all open fights with the insurgents, but how the government with the forces now at its command and in view of the small number of enlistments, even can prevail against its enemies who fight in the same old method of guarilla warfare is a conundrum which nobody prejends to solve. That the insurrection is growing constantly is undeniably evidenced every day and the decree of pardon recently extended by the government has brought no appreciable change in the situation. One of the few Americans who joined the insurgent ranks came into Havana. He has been a farmer in Cuba for several years past, and presumably is a reliable source of information. He informed the correspondent of the Associated Press that 15,000 insurgents now south of the Artemisa, in scattering parties, shortly will be concentrated with others from the vicinity of Guanajay with the intention of capturing both Artemisa and Guanajay and holding the entire width of eastern Pina del Rio province. They will thus control the situation far better than did the Spanish troops in the days of the famous trocha and at precisely the same points. The insurgents already have taken Cabenas and Bahia Honda on the north coast of Pinar del Rio province, and accord-

Three hundred insurgents under Gen. Carillo and Campos Marquetti, the negro congressman, occupied Bahia Honda, bn the north coast of Havana province. More than 50 residents of the town have already joined the band. This body of insurgents does not interfere with the property of Americans or other foreigners.

It became known that the insurrection has spread to the province of Puerto Principe. Seventy men have taken up arms at Moron, that province, led by Garcia Canizares, speaker of the house of representatives, during the Liberal ascendancy in that body .
