American Contractors to Get Panama Canal Job

MANY CHANGES IN CONTRACTS

Many Changes Agreed to in Form of Contract for Construction. But Most Important is Announcement by Chairman Shonts That Only Proposals by American Firms Will Be Received.

Washington, Special.—Foreign contractors are to be barred from competition for the completion of the Panama Canal. Chairman Shonts, of the Isthmian Canal commission, made this announcement. Many changes have been agreed to in the form of contract to be entered into for the construction of the canal, but the most important is the limiting of proposals to American firms. The right will be reserved by the commission to reject all the bids submitted; in case none of them is satisfactory and the commission will then either throw the competition open to foreign bidders or proceed with the work without contract. January 12 is the date set for the opening of proposals.

A substantial reduction in the bond of the successful bidders was also made by the commission, in compliance with the request of prospective bidders. The bond will be only $2,000,000 and the total liability of the contractor is to be limited to the loss of percentage and premiums otherwise payable to the contractor and $3,000,000 in addition. Chairman Shonts indicated other changes as follows:

To relieve the contractor from responsibility for the use of defective materials, or for the preparation for use of the same, provided he has requested the chief engineer in writing for the definite approval of the materials, or the preparation for use thereof, and the chief engineer after a reasonable time fails to act upon such request.

To provide for a later change in the estimated cost and time of construction, as originally agreed to by the engineering committee, in case the plans and specifications for the construction of the canal shall be materially altered in any respect; or if it shall be made to appear to the President of the United States that the estimates are based on physical data so erroneous as to affect the estimated cost and time of construction or that the estimates have become substantially inequitable by reason of the intervention of an act of God or a public enemy; or for any other material cause which shall not have been taken into account by the engineering committee in making their estimates, and for which the contractor is no responsible.

It was also provided that in case the contractor, when the contract is not in default, the contractor shall be paid the cost of the work performed by him to date, and $250,000 in addition to such percentage as may have been earned by him upon such cost up to that time.

The responsibility of the contractor to the commissioner for all injuries or damages inflicted upon the plant, canal, or its auxiliary works, is limited to negligence of himself, or any of his employees, or subcontractors, or the employees of such subcontractors.

Both men are kept closely guarded within prison limits and not allowed liberties outside of prison rules.

REVIEW OF WORK OF CONGRESS

What Our National Lawmakers Are Doing From Day to Day

Salaries Increased.

By a vote of 106 to 188 the House of Representatives refused to increase from $5,000 to $7,500 the salaries of Senators, members and delegates.

The House, however, by an overwhelming vote, increased the salaries of the Vice President, the Speaker of the House and members of the President's cabinet to $12,000 each.

In an anticipation of the question of increasing salaries coming before the House there was an exceedingly large membership and the debate on the several amendments for increase, which were offered by Mr. Littauer, of New York, to the legislative appropriation bill, was followed with marked interest. After disposing of the salary question, the House passed the legislative, executive and judicial appropriation bill.

Mr. Littauer, of New York, opened the discussion by presenting an amendment raising the salaries of the Vice President and the Speaker of the House to $12,000 per annum. He spoke of the dignity of the position of Speaker of the House and said that everybody recognized that the duties are arduous and that the pay is unequal.

Mr. Underwood, of Alabama, opposed any further increase of salaries along the line of legislative and executive offices. He believed the salaries of the minor clerks of the government should be increased on account of the increased cost of living.

After several speeches the amendment was adopted by a vote of 214 to 151, the opposition failing to secure votes enough to call the yeas and nays.

Having won a most substantial victory Mr. Littauer introduced another amendment as follows: "On and after March 4, 1907, the compensation of heads of executive departments, who are members of the President's cabinet shall be at the rate of $12,000 per annum each."

Mr. Littauer held up a large picture of a president of a baseball association, whose salary had been increased from $10,000 to $15,000 a year, and contrasted that with the salaries of the cabinet. The amendment was adopted 204 to 60.

Mr. Littauer who retires to private life with the close of the present Congress, offered a provision raising the salaries of Senators and members of Congress, delegates and the resident commissioner from Porto Rico to $7,500 and on agreement the time for the increase to begin was fixed on March 4, 1909.

Salaries May Be Increased.

The House reached an agreement under which it looks as if there would be a vote on the much mooted question of an increase in the salaries of members of Congress, cabinet officers, etc. Mr. Littauer sought to have the question taken up but Mr. Underwood objected at this stage of the proceeding. He said, however, that he would agree to consideration at the conclusion of the reading of the bill and when it shall be reported to the House from the committee of the whole.

During the morning hour in the House several resolutions were passed, one aiming at the lumber trust and calling upon the Secretary of Commerce and Labor to investigate the high prices now prevailing in lumber, and another calling upon the Secretary of the Interior for a detailed description of the coal lands withdrawn from public entry since July 1, 1906.

The House agreed to vote on the resolution increasing the salaries of Senators and Representatives to $7,500 and making other increases in official salaries, when the legislative bill is reported to the House from the committee of the whole.

The resolution also fixes the salaries of the Vice President and Speaker at $15,000, and of cabinet officers at $12,000.

Senator Dubois on Mr. Smoot.

The Senate listened to the second speech which has been made this session against the continuance of Read Smoot as a Senator from Utah. It was delivered by Senator DuBois, of Idaho, who after reviewing in detail the working of the Mormon Church, and Mr. Smoot's prominent connection therewith, concluded with the charge that President Roosevelt has used the weight of his administration to assist the Republican-Mormon vote in the last election.

Rayner Talks.

Much interest was manifested in the Senate in the position taken by Senator Rayner in his discussion of the Japanese question. He contended that the inherent rights of a State could not be violated by treaty any more than they could be violated by Congress. To support this he cited many adjudicated cases before the Supreme Court and arrayed long lines of eminent authorities. Mr. Rayner also gave the cases and the authorities of the other side to the proposition.

Smoot Should Get Out.

At the conclusion of the morning business in the Senate Senator Burrows, chairman of the Senate committee on privileges and elections, called up the resolution from that committee declaring that Hon. Read Smoot is not entitled to a seat as a Senator of the United States from the State of Utah and addressed the Senate on that subject.

SPECIAL MESSAGE SENT IN

The President Transmits His Views on Porto Rico

THINKS FUTURE IS PROMISING

Teachers, Both American and Native, Endeavor to Train Students in Mind and in Citizenship—Insular Police and Porto Rican Regiment Should be Perpetuated—Full American Citizenship Should be Conferred Upon Natives—Marked Progress Made Under Present Government Toward Self-Government Elections This Year Were Absolutely Orderly and Unaccompanied by Any Disturbance.

Washington, Special.—The President's message to Congress giving the result of his recent observations in Porto Rico and making recommendations concerning the government of that island was delivered to the Senate. It was read at length and received careful attention. The message was as follows:

The President's Message.

To the Senate and House of Representatives: On November 21 I visited the island of Porto Rico, landing at Ponce, crossing by the old Spanish road by Cayey to San Juan, and returning next morning over the new American road from Arecibo to Ponce; the scenery was wonderfully beautiful, especially among the mountains of the interior, which constitute a veritable tropic Switzerland. I could not embark at San Juan because the harbor has not been dredged out and can not receive an American battleship. I do not think this fact creditable to us as a nation, and I earnestly hope that immediate provision will be made for dredging San Juan harbor.

I doubt whether our people as a whole realize the beauty and fertility of Porto Rico, and the progress that has been made under its admirable government. We have just cause for pride in the character of our representatives who have administered the tropic islands which came under our flag as a result of the war with Spain; and of no one of them is there more true than of Porto Rico. It would be impossible to wish a more faithful, a more efficient and a more disinterested public service than that now being rendered in the island of Porto Rico by those in control of the insular government.

I stopped at a dozen towns all told, and one of the notable features in every town was the gathering of the school children. The work that has been done in Porto Rico for education, has been noteworthy. The main emphasis, as is eminently wise and proper, has been put upon primary education; but in addition to this there is a normal school, an agricultural school, three industrial and three high schools. Every effort is being made to secure not only the benefits of elementary education to all the Porto Ricans of the next generation, but also as far as means will permit to train them so that the industrial, agricultural and commercial opportunities of the island can be utilized to the best possible advantage. It was evident at a glance that the teachers, both Americans and native Porto Ricans, were devoted to their work, took the greatest pride in it, and were endeavoring to train their pupils, not only in mind, but in what counts for far more than mind in citizenship, that is in character.

Troops in the Island.

I was very much struck by the excellent character both of the insular police and of the Porto Rican regiment. They are both of them bodies that reflect credit upon the American administration of the island. The insular police are under the local Porto Rican government. The Porto Rican regiment of troops must be appropriated for by Congress. I earnestly hope that this body will be kept permanent. There should certainly be troops in the island, and it is wise that these troops should be themselves native Porto Ricans. It would be from every standpoint a mistake not to perpetuate this regiment.

In traversing the island even the most cursory survey leaves the beholder struck with the evident rapid growth in the culture both of the sugar cane and tobacco. The fruit industry is also growing. Last year was the most prosperous year that the island has ever known before or since the American occupation. The total exports and imports of the island was $45,000,000 as against $18,000,000 in 1901. This is the largest in the island's history. Prior to the American occupation the greatest trade for any one year was that of 1896, when it reached nearly $23,000,000. Last year, therefore, there was double the trade that there was in the most prosperous year under the Spanish regime. There were 210,273 tons of sugar exported last year, of the value of $14,156,319; $3,555,163 of tobacco, and 28,290,322 pounds of coffee of the value of $9,481,102. Unfortunately, what used to be Porto Rico's prime crop—coffee—has not shared this prosperity. It has never recovered from the disaster of the hurricane, and moreover, the benefit of throwing open our market to it has not compensated for the loss inflicted by the closing of the markets to it abroad. I call your attention to the accompanying memorial on this subject of the board of trade of San Juan, and I earnestly hope that some measure will be taken for the benefit of the excellent and high grade Porto Rican coffee.

In addition to delegations from the board of trade and chamber of commerce of San Juan, I also received delegations from the Porto Rican Federation of Labor, and from the Coffee Growers' Association.

Question of Citizenship.

There is a matter to which I wish to call your special attention, and that is the desirability of conferring full American citizenship upon the people of Porto Rico. I most earnestly hope that this will be done. I can not see how any harm can possibly result from it, and it seems to me a matter of right and justice to the people of Porto Rico. They are loyal, they are making rapid progress along the path of orderly liberty. Surely we should show our appreciation of them, our pride in what they have done, and our pleasure in extending recognition for what has thus been done, by granting them full American citizenship.

Under the wise administration of the present progress has been made in the difficult matter of granting to the people of the island the largest measure of self-government that can with safety be given at the present time. It would have been a very serious mistake to have gone any farther than we have already gone in this direction. The Porto Ricans have complete and absolute autonomy in all their municipal governments, the only power over them possessed by the insular government being that of removing corrupt or incompetent municipal officials. This power has never been exercised save on the clearest proof of corruption or incompetence—such as to jeopardize the interests of the people of the island; and under such circumstances it has been fearlessly used to the immense benefit of the people. It is not a power with which it would be safe, for the sake of the island itself, to dispense at present. The lower House is absolutely elective, while the upper House is appointive. This scheme is working well; no injustice of any kind results from it, and great benefit to the island, and it should certainly not be changed at this time. The machinery of the elections is administered entirely by the Porto Rican people themselves, the Governor and council keeping only such supervision as is necessary in order to insure an orderly election. Any protest as to electoral frauds is settled in the courts. Here again it would not be safe to make any change in the present system. The elections this year were absolutely orderly, unaccompanied by any disturbance; and no protest has been made against the management of the elections, although three contests are threatened, where the majorities were very small and error was claimed; the contests, of course, to be settled in the courts. In short, the Governor and council are co-operating with all of the most enlightened and most patriotic of the people of Porto Rico in educating the citizens of this island in the principles of orderly liberty. They are providing a government based upon each citizen's self-respect, and the mutual respect of all citizens; that is, based upon a rigid observance of the principles of justice and honesty. It has not been easy to instill in the minds of people unaccustomed to the exercise of freedom, the two basic principles of our American system; the principle that the majority must rule, and the principle that the minority has rights which must not be disregarded or trampled upon. Yet real progress has been made in having these principles accepted as elementary, the foundations of successful self-government.

I transmit herewith the report of the Governor of Porto Rico, sent to the President through the Secretary of State.

All the insular governments should be placed in one bureau, either in the Department of War or the Department of State. It is a mistake not so to arrange our handling of these islands at Washington as to be able to take advantage of the experience gained in one, when dealing with the problems that from time to time arise in another.

In conclusion let me express my admiration for the work done by the Congress when it enacted the law under which the island is now being administered. After seeing the island personally, and after five years' experience in connection with its administration, it is but fair to say that it would be well-nigh impossible to have devised any other which in the actual working would have accomplished better results.

THEODORE ROOSEVELT.

The White House, December 11, 1906.

It has dawned upon a Boston paper that whistling has gone or is going out of fashion, and it laments the fact. Most people will be disposed to rejoice. The whistler is perhaps not wholly to be condemned. He is all right when he practises his art in the middle of a forty acre lot.

WILL NOT MEET THE DEMAND

Bankers' Scheme of Currency Reform Not Sufficient

SECRETARY SHAW GIVES IDEAS

Sec. Shaw Appears Before House Committee on Banking and Currency in Advocacy High Tax Credit Currency Suggested Five Per Cent. as Desirable Rate.

Washington, Special.—Secretary Shaw appeared before the House committee on banking and currency in advocacy of a high taxed credit currency, suggesting 5 per cent. as a desirable rate. He emphasized the need for greater elasticity in currency, ut expressed the opinion that the plan framed by the American Bankers' Association will not bring out sufficient to be very useful. Granting that the bankers' plan results in the issuance of $200,000,000 additional in national bank notes, Mr. Shaw said that in his opinion not more than $20,000,000 worth of these will be redeemed.

Mr. Shaw thought the bankers' plan wholly inadequate to meet the requirements of the commercial world and said it was encumbered with too much machinery for the limited good results he feels it is capable of accomplishing. He would not want to be regarded as an opponent of the measure suggested by the bankers because he felt that any step toward relieving the demand for greater elasticity at certain seasons of the year was desirable, but urged that the committee strive to frame a more effective measure.

It was urged by the Secretary that an effort should be made to make all our currency elastic, rather than to impart elasticity to a certain amount of emergency currency. Under the bankers' plan, he said, only the credit currency which goes into redemption. There would be no reason why private banks should seek a redemption of national bank notes and consequently they would make no effort to do so. In the bankers' plan national banks are to be permitted to issue $25,000 additional notes for every $100,000 of their capital at an interest rate of 2-1/3 per cent. and an additional $12,500 with interest at the rate of 5 per cent.

Episcopalians Withdraw.

Norfolk, Va., Special.—It developed that the Episcopalians, as a denomination, have withdrawn from the proposed inter-denomination evangelistic campaign to be conducted during the Jamestown Exposition period. A meeting of the Virginia State Baptist, Presbyterian and Methodist committees has been called for December 18, when the local committees of these denominations will discuss with the State representatives the situation as prescribed by the withdrawal of the Episcopalians. It is stated for the Episcopalians that their withdrawal was because of no disinclination to co-operate, but because of the rather unsettled conditions in two of the leading Episcopal churches here, and further because it was not regarded that there was as great need for the evangelistic campaign as some thought.

For Ship Subsidy Measure.

Washington, Special.—That President Roosevelt will send to Congress a special message advocating the passage as a ship subsidy measure at the present session, was stated by several members of the House. It was said that the President had declared that the recommendation in his annual message was misunderstood. In that message he said if it was found inexpedient to pass the Senate bill, a measure should be passed to provide for a few lines to South American ports. He did not mean to minimize the importance of other features of the bill, it is said, and now purposes to correct any false impression that may have been gained by the House.

Twelve Business Houses Burned and Their Contents Destroyed.

Sharon, Ga., Special.—Sharon was Friday morning visited by a disastrous fire. Twelve business houses and contents were totally consumed. There was a loss of $50,000, with insurance of $10,000. The fire started in the drug store of Dr. L. B. Brown. The flames spread rapidly, making a clean sweep of everything except two brick stores, the bank and the Georgia Railroad depot.
