Baltimore Bridge Company, Among the Injured, Being Caught While Warning Workmen off the Pier.

Baltimore, Special .- A section of the new pier being erected at the immigration station at Locust Point, South Baltimore, for the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad for the use of the North German Lloyd Steamship Company, collapsed Saturday, carrying down between 20 and 25 men of whom three are known to be dead, 16 missing and 15 injured, most of them laborers. Among the last named is W. N. Edson, general superintendent of the Baltimore Bridge Company, which had charge of the steel construction. He was caught while warning the workmen off the pier. The dead so far as known are:

Howard L. Ellender, Baltimore, Engineer. Tony Wolf, Baltimore.

Robert Sweetman, Woodberry. Ellender lost his life trying to save the men on the outer end of the pier. Superintendent Edson, who was injured in the performance of the same vessel, was not seriously hurt.

All the victims were employes of the Baltimore Bridge Company. This was a two-story building 1,000 feet long and its estimated cost was $400,-000. About 480 feet of it sank. Warning of the disaster was heard and vigorous efforts were being made to save the structure.

Saturday shortly before the disaster occurred the piles began settling in such an alarming manner that erders to leave the place were eirenlated among the fifty odd workmen and it is due to this fact that the casualties were not greater. Those caught were on the end of the pier on the

The falling of the pier into the water created a tremendous wave in the harbor and led many persons to believe there had been an earthquake.

At Speddens ship yard, directly across the harbor from Locust Point, the water suddenly dropped eight feet, throwing two men overboard from a marine railway. They were rescued with difficulty.

PRES. FINLEY SPEAKS

Southern's Executive Delivers Address Before Number of Representative Business Men Under Auspices of Mobile Commercial Club.

Mobile, Ala., Special.-President W. W. Findley, of the Southern Railway delivered an address before General Superintendent Edson, of a large number of representative business men under the auspices of the Mobile Commercial Club. He was introduced by Vice President E. L. Russell, of the Mobile & Ohio Railroad. President Finlay said in part:

> "The commerce of the United States with the Latin-American countries is now growing more rapidly than that with any other part of the world and the completion of the Panama canal wil give a great impetus to the development of all the countries south of the Rio Grande.

"There are only two ways of reaching markets-rail and water. Neither is sufficient alone. Water transportation is not adequate for interior commerce, nor by itself for coaswise or for foreign commerce. Rail transportation must stop at the shores of the sea.

"It would be just as logical for the people to array themselves against water transportation or to undertake to hamper and cripple it as it is for them to array themselves against railroads and to favor success which will hamper and cripple them.

"I think it is apparent that any public policy toward the railroads which limits their power to increase their facilities and their carrying capacity to keep pace with, or to even several days ago when the piles to- anticipate the active production of ward the end of the pier began set- the Southern people, is destructive of he best interests-of the vital inter ests—of the people themselves.

"It is unnecessary to point out to intelligent business men that the power of railroads to increase their failities is dependent upon their earning capacity and their credit or that their credit is dependent upon susained earning capacity. The roads cannot expect to earn enough from heir current operations to provide themselves with the facilities absolutely essential in the interest of our people.. The money must be borrow-

"I do not believe, that, with a full knowledge of the facts and with a full appreciation of the destructive consequences to the railroads, to their revenues, and to their capacity to serve the public, either the Governor the Legislature would have favored the legislation in question and when the true facts are known, I have supreme confidence that the course of this company and of other Alabama carriers will be upheld by the conservative and by the sense of justice and

Young Estes Buried.

Charlottesville, Special.-The funeral of Theodore Estes, who was shot to death by former Judge W. C. Loving in a boxear at Oak Ridge, Monday afternoon, took place from the home of his father, Sheriff M. K. Estes, in the village of Lovingston. It was conducted by the pastor of the Lovingston Methodist church, Rev. H. F. B. Martin. The burial services were in charge of Lovingston Lodge, No. 265, of the Independent Order of patch to The News from Albion says | Odd Fellows, of which the young man was a member. Drugging Story Questioned.

At first the drugging story was accepted without question, but now there are persons who hold that the only drug used in accomplishing Miss Loving's downfall was whiskey. The Esfes and those in sympathy with them deny that there was an assault, and point to young Estes' behaviour after his return as inconsistent with any other view. He himself procured the physician for the young lady, and the next day went about his business with entire unconcern. General reeret is expressed that Judge Loving did not allow young Estes an opportunity to explain, and some say that he shot too soon. Criticism has been made of the smallness of the bail bond. The case bids fair to excite as much interest in this section as the Strother-Bywaters tragedy.

"I am glad to congratulate you upon the continued activity and prosperity of our industry. This condition seems to be world-wide. There is adequate consumption or at least demand to employ every spindle and loom. A year ago we recorded England's increase of 6,250,000 spindles. The latest reports show 10,000,000 spindles added or projected within five years, which equals the growth of the previous 30 years. In our ewn country there has been a normal addition of spindles; imports of cotton manufacturers have increased during 1906 as compared in 1905, $14,-500,-000, or 26 per cent.; exports have diminished $13,500,000, or 24 per cent.; yet there is no evidence of over-supply or glutted markets. President Expresses Opinion of Moyer and Haywood

ROOSEVELT REPLIES TO MINERS

Condemns What He Calls Flagrant Impropriety of Western Federation of Labor in Criticism of His Recent Letter Referring to Moyer and Haywood, Accused of Murder of Former Governos Steunenberg, of Idaho, as "Undesirable Citizens," and Declares That They, Not He, are Trying to Influence Justice.

Washington, Special.-In a letter addressed to Honore Jaxon of Chicago, chairman of the "Cook county Moyer-Haywood conference," made public, President Roosevelt replied to the criticism of his recent letter in which he referred to Moyer and Haywood, officials of the Western Federation of Miners, charged with implication in the murder of former Governor Steunenberg, of Idaho, as "undesirable citizens." The President says he regrets any body of men should so far forget their duty to their country as to, by formation of societies and in other ways, endeavor to influence justice and coerce court or jury; that they, not he, are trying to influence justice and he condemns what he calls their flagrant impropriety in the matter. He says that he indicated no opinion as to their guilt of the Steunenberg murder, but that it was a simple absurdity to suppose that because a man is on trial he is free from criticism as to his manner of life. He said he might as well be accused of trying to influence the suits against Harriman, some of whose friends had also criticised him. He said that Moyer and Haywood stand as representatives of those who habitually appear as guilty of incitement to, or apology for, bloodshed and violence. He added: "You would of course be entirely within your rights if you merely announced that you thought Messrs. Moyer and Haywood were 'desirable citizens'-though in such case I should take frank issue with you and should say that, wholly without regard to whether or not they are guilty of the crime for which they are now being tried, they represent as thoroughly undesirable a type of citizenship as can be found in this country; a type which, in the letter to which you so unreasonably take exception, I showed not to be confined to any one class, but to exist among some representatives of great capitalists as well as among some representatives of wage-workers. "In that letter I condemn both types. Certain representatives of the great capitalists in turn condemned me for including Mr. Harriman in my condemnation of Messrs. Moyer and Haywood. Certain of the representatives of labor in their turn condemned me because I included Messes. Moyer and Haywood as undesirable citizens together with Mr. Harriman. I am as profoundly indifferent to condemnation in one case as another. I challenge as a right the support of all good Americans, whether wageworkers of capitalists, whatever their occupation, or creed, or in whatever portion of the country they live, when I condemn both types of bad citizenship which I have held up to reprobation. It seems to me a mark of utter insincerity to fail thus to condemn both; and to apologize for either robs the man thus apologizing of all right to condemn any wrongdoing in any man, rich or poor, in pub-lie or in private life. "You say you ask for a "quare deal' for Messes. Moyer and Haywood So do I. When I say 'square deal' I mean square deal to everybody; it is equally a violation of the policy of the square deal for a capitalist to protest against denunciation of a capitalist who is guilty of . rongdoing as for a labor leader to protest against the denunciation of a labor leader who has been guilty of wrong. doing. I stand for equal justice to both; and so far as in my power lies, I shall uphold justice whether the man accused of guilt has bohind him the wealthiest corporation the greatest aggregations of riches in the country, or whether he has behind him the most influential labor organization in the country."
