Washington, May 16, 1907. What was about as near a senwas the most pressing problem before the American people. What he said that will hurt and what is sure to cause a lot of talk in the North was that the negro race was distinctly an inferior race, mentally, morally and physically, equals with the white race out of people who were racially inferior. He said some more true but not at all diplomatic things about the childish efforts of the race to race all the advantages in these make them anything but what they were, a race below the standard of the white. Further, and this is likely to cause adverse comment in the Episcopal Church, he said that the Methodist system of local preachers and class leaders was just the thing needed to reach the mass of the colored population, and he formally recommended the organization of a local preacher system among the colored people within the jurisdiction of the Episcopal Church. #### Long Lost Watch Found. Special to News and Observer.

Spencer, May 17 .- A gold watch lost six months ago by A. A. Young, a Davidson county farerer, was recovered yesterday from T. E. Swicegood, of Spencer, who found the time piece in a bag of wheat purchased of W. P. Young, a merchant here, who happened to be a relative of the man who lost the watch. The time piece was in perfect condition and was returned to the owner without being damaged.

Henderson Gold Leaf: Mr. W. A. Britt found a lady's size gold watch in his cow stall a few days ago and is at a loss to account for how it got there. It was partially covered up in the hay and had the appearance of having been lost for some time. He thinks it must have got there in some baled hay he bought as he knows of no one who had been about the place to lose it.

Charlotte Observer: Dr. Edward Caldwell, of Huntersville, has a peafowl that is more than 70 years old. The bird has been in the Caldwell family since before the doctor, who is sixty odd, was born. He has roosted on top of Dr. Caldwell's chimney every night, winter and summer, for many years.
