CAR JUMPS TRACK

Sunday Pleasure Seekers Get Into Serious Wreck

2 DEAD; 10 HURT, 1 FATALLY

Car Heavily Loaded With Passengers Leaves Rails Just Outside Clarksburg, W. Va., Going Over Embankment. Officials Cannot Explain Cause of Accident.

Clarksburg, Special.—Heavily laden with passengers who were enjoying an outing, an open trolley car on the Fairmont & Clarksburg Traction Company's system jumped the track on the Gravelly division, just outside the city limits Sunday and crashed over an embankment instantly killing two, fatally injuring one and seriously injuring nine others.

The dead: Miss Grace Markerl, Clarksburg, skull crushed. W. T. Gray, engineer, Washington Carbon Works, Clarksburg, head crushed.

The injured: Miss Maggie M. Robinson, Fairmont, skull crushed, dying at St. Mary's Hospital; Jack Fullerton, Clarksburg, leg broken and bruised; Superintendent Eakin of Grasson Chemical Works, Clarksburg, back strained; Mrs. Eakin leg crushed and severely bruised; Mrs. Merchant, Indiana, shoulder and arm crushed; J. A. Robinson, Fairmont, right arm mangled; Floyd P. Martin, Clarksburg, eye and forehead severely injured; Mrs. Floyd B. Martin, leg crushed, injured internally; Clayton Powell, Clarksburg, severely bruised; George Jackson, colored, scalp wound.

How the car left the track is a mystery the traction company officials cannot explain. It was running up hill around a curve and going at a moderate speed. After bounding along the ties for a short distance the car went over the embankment and landed on its side, pinning the dead and injured underneath. Mortimer James and Conductor Fitzpatrick escaped with slight injuries. Most of the injured were taken to city hospitals and some to their homes. Several passengers besides those whose names are given were slightly hurt.

Crushed Under Car.

Raleigh, N. C., Special.—In a wreck Sunday afternoon on the Seaboard Air Line, 2-1/2 miles this side of Kitterell, Mrs. C. E. Harris, of Aberdeen, was instantly killed, by being crushed between the rear Pullman car and the side of a low out on a curve. The train was 41, southbound, and its speed was about 15 miles an hour. In the rear one of the two Pullmans were Mrs. Harris, her husband and 8-year-old daughter. Suddenly Mr. Harris heard a sort of tapping noise under the car and instantly the rear trucks left the rails and the car turned over. Mrs. Harris was thrown out of an open window. She had grasped the hand of her little girl when the shock came. Conductors Cain and the train crew and passengers smashed windows in order to get some of the passengers out. Mrs. Harris' head and body were mangled in a horrible manner.

Double Homicide in Wilson. Wilson, Special.—Thursday evening about 9 o'clock on the estate of Mrs. A. Lamm in Cross Roads township, occurred the homicide of two negroes, the wife of Raeford Dew and Amos Dew, brother of Raeford. For some time Raeford has known that his wife and brother Amos have been having illicit relations and, though warning them to desist and lead different lives, these relations have continued. The matter has been the subject of several magistrate trials and the justices have advised them to quit their meanness, and the man and woman have promised faithfully to do so. Sunday Raeford's wife left home and so Raeford learned met his brother in the woods. Thursday during the day she returned somewhat under the influence of liquor and began to cause trouble with the hands. Raeford told her he had found out she and Amos had been to get her and told her to come back home and behave herself. She spoke roughly and left the house. Raeford stayed at home until later in the night and then taking his double-barreled gun went to the house of a tenant named Pace. He entered one load into Amos and the other into his wife, who were in Pace's yard. Both have died as a result of their wounds.

New York Governor and Princeton President Address Thousands at Joint Independence Day Celebration and First Annual Reunion of Lineal Descendants of Signers of Declaration of Independence.

Norfolk, Va., Special.—Governor Hughes, of New York, and Woodrow Wilson, president of Princeton University, were the orators of the day at the joint Independence Day celebration and first annual reunion of the lineal descendants of the signers of the Declaration of Independence July 4th. The reunion was held under the auspices of the Thomas Jefferson Memorial Association, of which former Secretary of the Navy Hilary A. Herbert, is the acting president. "One really respectable man in jail," he said, "one real originator of the schemes and transactions which are contrary to the public interest legally lodged in the pen, would be worth more than a thousand corporations muled in fines, if the reform is to be genuine."

What this country needs, Mr. Wilson set forth, is not government ownership of railroads, etc., but laws that will attack and punish presidents and general managers of railroads, for evasions and violations of the statutes. Stock manipulators he calls "sheer thieves" and says they should be punished as such. Failure to do so, in his mind, is "like overlooking highway robbers."

"Every corporation," the educator stated, "is personally directed either by some one dominant person or by some group of persons. Somebody in particular is responsible for ordering or sanctioning every illegal act committed by its agents or officers; but neither our law of personal damage nor our criminal law has sought to seek the responsible persons out and hold them individually accountable for the acts complained of. We have never attempted such statutes. We indict corporations themselves, find them guilty of illegal practices, fine them and leave the individuals who devise and execute the illegal acts free to discover new evasions."

Such acts could be passed and should be if we are to better our industrial conditions, Mr. Wilson believes. Unless something of this nature is done and done quietly, he fears Socialism will result. It is just as absurd, he said, to indict or dissolve corporations for offenses against the public as it would be to arrest and confiscate automobiles because their owners killed pedestrians.

Former Governor Roberts, of Connecticut, vice president of the Jefferson Memorial Association from that State, presided following an opening invocation by Rev. W. M. Vines, of Norfolk, and an introduction by Lieutenant Governor Ellison, of Virginia. A brief address by ex-Governor Roberts was followed by the reading by Wm. Georgia Aiding the Negro. eddith' thepu B'god sw'u vb'ijid Montclair, N. J., Special.—Former Governor W. J. Northen, of Georgia, was the orator at the Fourth of July celebration here, speaking to a large audience on the relation of the races in the South. "It is a great mistake," he said, "to believe that there is no kind of harmony between the better elements of the races in Georgia and at the South. Quite the contrary is true."

"The good class of negroes is intelligent, progressive and resourceful. Its religion is not a sham. Its education has not spoiled it and its devotion to duty is not inspired by the 'loaves and fishes.' Its ideals are good. It will be best for all parties if wholesome and elevating. If all American negroes were of this class, there would be no 'negro problem.'" "It will be best for all parties if the white man, strong and dominant, will look seriously and sympathetically at the weaker and the dependent race, and seeing him, just as he is, intelligently set about aiding him."

"This is just what we have begun to do in Georgia upon a plan based entirely upon our local conditions, as, in my judgement, all other people must be allowed to do.

Young Wife Burns Her Husband to Death

An 18-Year-Old Scranton Woman in County Jail Charged With Inhuman Crime—Police Say the Woman Has Confessed—The Lover Also in Jail Charged With Having Been Accessory to the Crime.

Scranton, Pa., Special.—Mrs. Kindra Howrsto, aged 18 years, of Dunmore, is in the county jail, charged with having burned her husband to death that she might be free to marry her former lover, Ignaz Hutro, who is also in jail, charged with being an accessory. The police say that Mrs. Howrsto has confessed.

All the parties are Lithuanians. According to the story told the police by Mrs. Howrsto she and Hutro were lovers before she married Howrsto in the old country two years ago. Hutro preceded them to this country. When they came here they settled near where Hutro was living in the Nay Aug section of Dunmore borough. Hutro renewed his attentions to Mrs. Howrsto and frequently was at their home. According to her confession Hutro came to the Howrsto home on Monday and suggested that she do away with her husband so that they could be married. Following Hutro's suggestion the woman got her husband drunk and when he was stupified in bed she went to the room with the kerosene lamp. She poured the oil from the lamp on the bed and then she says the lamp dropped on the bed, setting it afire. At the sight of her husband roasting and squirming in the flaming bed she became horror-stricken and rushed from the house crying "fire." Neighbors extinguished the flames, and had Howrsto sent to a hospital, where he died without regaining consciousness. Hutro denied all knowledge of the crime. Both are being held, pending an investigation of the woman's story.
