

It will be learned with regret that, on account of the pressure of other duties, Mr. Clarence H. Poe, the talented editor of the Progressive Farmer, has been compelled to resign the chairmanship of the State Anti-Saloon League, which position he has filled so acceptably for the past two years.

In speaking of Mr. Beasley, Mr. Poe well says:

"He is recognized not only as one of the ablest and most thoughtful writers in North Carolina, but as an effective and forceful speaker—a man of power not only because he is a man of ability, but because in him unusual ability is matched by confidence—compelling character. The people of the State can not only trust his ability, but they can trust his character and his whole-hearted interest in the cause—this leaves only one thing left to be said, and that is that they can also trust his judgment and common sense."

We wish to add our endorsement to the above opinion of Mr. Beasley and assure all friends of the State prohibition law that Mr. Beasley will lend every effort towards its enforcement and the suppression of "blind tigers" or, as some wag expressed it, "one eyed" tigers, wherever found.

As a result of the Democratic primaries Saturday, the friends of Judges Manning and Allen both claim a majority for their respective favorites for the nomination for Supreme Court Judge, and the vote may be so close that the result cannot be definitely known until the roll-call at the State convention at Charlotte, July the 14th.

The campaign in behalf of these two gentlemen for this high judicial honor has been conducted in a most becoming manner and on a dignified plane. So far as we have been able to learn, nothing has been said, written or printed at all derogatory to either of these two distinguished jurists. Indeed they are both so well fitted for the high position to which they aspire and are both gentlemen of such high character that nothing could be said disparagingly against either of them.

THE power of the press is strikingly illustrated in the recent campaign in Wake county. When the so-called "insurgent" movement was first started there seemed to be very little prospect of its success, but the News and Observer, through its powerful influence, turned the tide of battle and was the main factor contributing towards the victory of the insurgents.

While the city of Raleigh voted nearly two to one against the insurgents or reformers, the precincts in the county wiped out this majority and elected the "anti-ring" candidates with the exception of their candidate for sheriff who was defeated by Sheriff Sears, the present incumbent, by a narrow margin.

ONE of the best nominations made at the Democratic primaries last Saturday was that of Hon. Frank A. Daniels, of Goldsboro, for judge of the sixth judicial district. He is not only a learned lawyer and a gentleman of the highest character, but he possesses judicial temperament to an unusual degree and, we predict, will make one of the best Superior court judges in the State. The Democrats of that district deserve the thanks of the State for making such an excellent nomination.

HARDLY a week passes that does not witness some new record made in the navigation of the air by some daring aviator. The latest and, in some respects, the most wonderful accomplishment of the kind was the initial trip made by Count Zeppelin, of Germany, in his huge dirigible balloon, the Deutschland, on last Wednesday. This airship carried eleven passengers a distance of 300 miles in nine hours, traveling as steady as a rock and arriving at its destination on schedule time. This voyage was preliminary to a regular airship passenger service over the same route which lies between two large German towns. The cost of a ticket for the first regular trip is $50, and the fact that tickets at that price are in great demand only goes to show how many fools there are in the world after all.

The dimensions of this first air liner remind one of those of a huge steamship. Its extreme length is 435 feet and greatest breadth 46 feet. It has a balloon capacity of 671,000 cubic feet of hydrogen gas and a lifting power of 14,000 pounds. The weight lifted on its initial trip was 11,000 pounds. Three motors together have 330 horsepower. The approximate cost of this huge monster of the air was $200,000. Count Zeppelin, the hero of the historic voyage, is 72 years old. He invented and built the Deutschland and also acted as commander, pilot and chief engineer during the voyage. In view of the progress made in the navigation of the air, the day does not seem to be far distant when a trip in an airship across the Atlantic will be undertaken.

PERHAPS the largest and most important gathering of educators ever held in this country will meet in Boston, Massachusetts, next Monday, the occasion being the annual meeting of the National Education Association. Unusual interest will be taken in this gathering by Southerners, and especially North Carolinians, because the South for the first time in a quarter of a century and for only the second time in the history of the National Education Association and North Carolina in its whole history has received recognition in the election of a president of the association.

At the last meeting of the association Hon. James Y. Joyner, State Superintendent of Public Instruction, one of the foremost educators not only of the South but of the entire country, was unanimously elected president and will therefore preside at the annual gathering in Boston next week. This fact together with the exceedingly low railroad rates and an attractive program will induce many North Carolina teachers to take advantage of this opportunity to visit Boston, the long reputed educational hub of the country, and attend the sessions of the association.

ON last Wednesday Gov. Judson Harmon, of Ohio, was renominated for governor by acclamation by the Ohio Democratic State Convention. At the same time a boom was launched for him for the presidential nomination on the Democratic ticket two years hence, strong resolutions to that effect being adopted. Thus it would seem that matters are beginning to take shape looking towards the great struggle two years hence. The fact that Harmon carried the State of Ohio two years ago by a large majority while at the same election the Bryan presidential electors were snuffed under, makes him at this time loom up as an exceedingly available presidential candidate in 1912. The result of the gubernatorial election in Ohio this year will be awaited with much interest.

THE friends of Judges Justice and Ferguson, of the 14th and 16th judicial districts respectively, (and their name is legion) are exceedingly gratified over their renomination in Saturday's primaries. They are rightly regarded as two of our very best Superior court judges on the bench and their retirement would have been cause for regret by all who have had business before them. May they continue to wear the judicial ermine for many more years.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

From our Regular Correspondent.

Washington, D. C., June 23.—As the congressional session is drawing to a close it becomes more and more evident that what is called the "President's legislative program" is meeting with great success. With the exception of the anti-injunction measure, nearly everything that he has advocated has been written in the statute books of the nation. The postal savings bank bill is doubtless the most important. Yesterday afternoon, just as the president was about to mount his big horse for a ride through Rock Creek park, he heard of the passage of this bill by the senate, and when he returned to the white house after a ride of two hours, he was informed that two of his other measures, the campaign publicity bill and the reclamation bill, had passed the senate and would be sent to the executive mansion for his signature. The prompt action on the publicity bill was a most agreeable surprise to Mr. Taft. He had expected that it would result in long discussion in the senate and extend the date of adjournment probably into July. There is no doubt that the president has derived more pleasure from the passage of the postal savings bank bill in the form desired by him, than from any other legislation of the present congress. In referring to this bill, the president said, alluding to the characterization by Senator Dolliver of Iowa of the president as an amateur banker. "I may be an amateur banker, but amateur banking as expressed in that postal bill is pretty good."

The postal savings bank bill is one of really great importance. Many bills have been introduced in congress for this purpose, but they had been unsuccessful until President Taft put his mighty shoulder to the legislative wheel, and this bill has been adopted in the face, not only of indifference, but of opposition by the Republican organization. Under the terms of the bill, the postmaster general, the attorney general and the secretary of the treasury are the trustees who will decide what postoffices shall be permitted to receive deposits. It is not believed that the system will be hurriedly extended to all parts of the country. The purpose of the bill, as President Taft has viewed it, is to extend banking facilities throughout the country for the benefit of poor people in those localities which now lack savings depositories. Speaking of the enactments of the bill, the president recently said that the trustees will probably go slow at first and establish only a few postal banks in cities of the first class and fewer still in cities of the second class, and so on down to the larger towns. Under the law as passed, any person of ten years or older will be permitted to open an account in a postal bank. No deposit of less than $1 will be received, but the postmaster is permitted to sell special 10-cent stamps which later may be turned in when the amount of these shall have reached $1. No single month, and no postal account will be permitted to exceed $500. The government will pay 2 percent interest on deposits. The important feature of the bill is that authorizing the investment of postal bank funds in government securities. Through this means the government will be able to take up more than a hundred million dollars of Panama bonds that have been authorized but not issued. Their issue has been held back because it was believed that they would have to pay an interest rate of at least 2 1/2 percent.

Senators, members of congress, ambassadors, cabinet ministers and foreign ministers have either left the city or are preparing to leave. The summer vacation habit, however, is no longer confined to distinguished and well-to-do people. The rush to the mountains, the seaside and to farm houses where living, if not so comfortable, is cheaper than in the city, has seized all classes, and there is scarcely any so humble or so poor, but that is able to enjoy, if enjoyment it is, in some form a summer vacation. Members of congress are this summer not studying the sailing dates of trans-Atlantic steamers. They are giving more attention to the maps of their districts. Political geography is a more vital study with them than the attractions held out in London parts and in Switzerland. There are notably fewer junketing parties planned for congress this summer than usual. It is conceded that politics is more than usually mixed, and it is expected that the next election will effect devastating changes, especially in the lower house.

"It cured me," or "It saved the life of my child," are the expressions you hear every day about Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. This is true the world over where this valuable remedy has been introduced. No other medicine in use for diarrhoea or bowel complaints has received such general approval. The secret of the success of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy is that it cures. Sold by all dealers.

The details leading up to the sad occurrence were as follows: Mr. Garret, in a conversation with his brother, when the fatal stroke came, as it peeled the skin off Mr. Garret's body from head to foot.

The New States.

There was no surprise in any quarter when, last month, Congress voted to promote Arizona and New Mexico to the rank of statehood. A dozen years ago they were at the point of admission into the Union. A bill that would also have admitted Oklahoma and the Indian Territory as two States. A hard fight, led by Senator Beveridge in his capacity as chairman of the committee on Territories, gave us the present State of Oklahoma, with suitable population and boundaries. Arizona and New Mexico ought to have been united and brought in as one State with a proviso that after fifty years the State might be divided into two if it had population and wealth equal to twice the average of the rest of the States of the Union. In nothing else have our political parties more perniciously obstructed statesmanship than in the shaping and admission of New States. Under the bill as passed it will be some time before State constitutions can be adopted, and four new senators be seated at Washington. Meanwhile, this chapter of our history being closed, we must all unite in wishing Arizona and New Mexico great success in their future. Let us also hope that their four United States Senators may prove to be men of sound character, even though of limited public experience.—From "The Progress of the World," in the American Review of Reviews for July.

Kept the King at Home. "For the past year we have kept the king of all laxatives—Dr. King's New Life Pills—in our home and they have proved a blessing to all our family," writes Paul Mathulka, of Buffalo, N. Y. $30,000 for Six Days of Married Life. Kingston, N. Y., June 23.—Five thousand dollars a day for each day of his married life is the amount De Witt Beach of High Falls, Ulster county, will receive as the result of the New York law by which a will made by a spinster or widower in favor of her husband, if he survives her, is null and void. Mrs. Beach, married on May 31 last Mrs. Mary B. Krom, a Kingston widow. From her former husband, Capt. John B. Krom, she had inherited over $30,000. He died in April, 1908, but his estate was not finally settled until last October. Mrs. Krom then made a will leaving the entire estate to the children of Krom by his first wife.

Mrs. Beach died on June 6, and a few days later, when her stepchildren filed the will for probate, Mr. Beach contested it. He had been married only six days when his wife died.

Sanford Express: We have never seen so much fruit on the Sanford market this early in the season as has been brought in since the rains of last week. The wet weather, together with the schedule of the train, presented the Express the other day with a lot of the largest Irish potatoes we have ever seen. Nine large ones grew in one hill. He says he'll get 75 bushels off of one eighth of an acre. Who can beat that raising Irish potatoes? Mr. Pease planted Gopher variety.

A Woman's Great Idea is how to make herself attractive. But, without health, it is hard for her to be lovely in face, form or temper. A weak, sickly woman will be nervous and irritable. Consists of impurities, kidney poisons show in pimples, blotches, skin eruptions and a wretched complexion. But Electric Bitters always prove a godsend to women who want health, beauty and friends. They regulate stomach, liver and kidneys, purify the blood, give strength, brighten eyes, pure breath, smooth, velvety skin, lovely complexion, good health. Try them. 50c at all druggists.

Representative Thomas, for the congressional committee on the library, has reported favorably a bill entitled "An Act for the erection of a Statue of Major Nathaniel Greene Upon the Guilford Battleground in North Carolina." The sum of $30,000 is provided, this being $5,000 more than the original bill called for, so that the monument will "commemorate the battle of Guilford Court House" and be "the memory of General Greene and other officers."

Our Indian Population.

Washington, D. C., June 23.—The enumeration of the Indian population will be a feature of the 13th decennial census of the United States. It is calculated by officials of the census bureau that ten years hence all the red men will have become citizens and consequently this is the last time the census will be taken showing their tribal relations. For this reason it has peculiar interest and extreme precautions, it is said, were taken to obtain an accurate count and all the information possible in regard to them. The returns are being closely scrutinized by the agents, and it is believed that an especially accurate record will be obtained. The census office formulated special inquiries to be directed to the Indians with a view to securing all the information possible relative to their condition. The responses to the schedule of questions will show each Indian's tribal relations, proportion of Indian and other blood number of times married, whether now living in polygamy, if living in polygamy, whether wives are sisters; education, whether or not he is taxed; whether he has received his allotment, and whether living in civilized or aboriginal dwelling.

Charlotte Man Kills Himself. Charlotte, June 27.—Mr. James W. Wadsworth, oldest living son of the late J. W. Wadsworth and head of the J. W. He had been suffering for some time from great business responsibilities and other work, and by over-use of stimulants. Physicians believe that he was temporarily unbalanced. Mr. Wadsworth was about 35 years of age, and a member of one of the leading families of Charlotte.
