At Morehead City Tuesday afternoon while Colonel Tate and son, and Mr. Hardee of Tennessee, were out in Captain Charlie Bennett's launch trolling for mackerel & large whale arose about twenty fest astern of the boat at the time they were near the sea bouy at pie inlet, about two miles from Morehead City. Captain Bennett says the whale was the species known as the fishing whale and was probably following a school of mackerel. From what the party could see of the whale the monster was fully thirty feet long. They think the boat had just passed over the whale before it came to the surface. The whale coming up so near the boat gave the occupants some fright, but after it was over they were glad to have had the unusual experienc of seeing the monster.

Man Takes His Step-Daughter.

John W. Rollins, of Mecklenburg county near the Union line, ran away Monday night with his step-daughter, a young married woman. When he left he was driving a light sorrel mare mule, about 7 years old, attached to a top buggy. The mule and buggy belonged to the Sikes Company of Monroe, and they want them. Rollins is about 45 years of age, dark complexioned, with black hair and moustache, and has a blue scar over his left eye. He weighs about 175 pounds.

Young Man Shot and Killed.

Ben Hunter, a white man of about 26 years old, was shot and killed Monday near Altan, Union county and his companion, Walter Stack, was shot in the arm. The shooting is said to have been done by three brothers, Gus, Will and Winfred Belk, who had a long-standing quarrel with Both Hunter and Stack. The dead man got into trouble last year by eloping with his wife's sister. The pair came back shortly afterward, however, and Hunter was living with his wife again.

She was a woman of resource and ability and when her husband arrived for dinner with an unexpected guest she thought she had devised a way to meet the fact that she had but one piece of pie in the house and had intended her husband should have that. This might have worked out all right if the pie had not been so exceedingly good and her husband had not known this because he had it for dinner the day before. When the maid cleared away the

A New Version.

Lawyers have a peculiar system of abbreviation, such words as trustees, executors being cut down to trees, exors, and admors. This practise led to an amusing slip on the part of a solicitor who, somewhat late in life, abandoned his profession and entered the church. A few Sundays after his ordination he startled his congregation while reading the lesson by delivering one of the passages as follows: "I see men as trustees walking."

Another Tradition Exploded.

Two Englishmen were resting at the "Red Horse Inn" at Stratford-on-Avon. One of them discovered a print picturing a low tumbling building underneath which was printed: shed, throw in a little feed between "The House in Which Shakespeare times, that everything will be peaches Was Born." Turning to his friend in and cream. In fact, in the evening mild surprise he pointed to the print. His friend exhibited equal surprise, and basket large enough for the whole called a waiter who assured them of the accuracy of the inscription.

"'Pon my word," said the observing Englishman, shaking his head dubiously, "I thought he was born in a manger!"-Success Magazine.

A Bernhardt Trick. Mme. Sarah Bernhardt, who is supposed to be something of an artist as well as an actress, was recently called upon in one of her marvelous creations to enact the role of a sculptor, and to model a certain bust in view of the audience. This fairly electrified the critics, but when going into rhapsodies over the technical skill in handling the clay which Mme. Bernhardt. exhibited they showed that they knew little of the artistic tricks of actors and actresses; as a matter of fact, she does nothing of the kind. The bust is modeled and baked, and over it is placed damp clay of the same color. This the talented actress merely pulls off, exposing the beautifully modeled head underneath.

BEGINNING RIGHT.

There are thousands of people becoming interested each year in the poultry business, while very few enter it with the correct ideas of true success and how to derive the greatest profit from their work. Not a few of those beginning in the business are over enthusiastic at the start. They read a paper clipping or a report from some large plant making a success and think if they buy a few chickens, dump them in an old out-they start to gather the eggs with a year's crop. It is needless for me to narrate the disappointment and disgust these poor mortals have for the poultry industry.

The Canadian department of agriculture at Ottawa has issued a bulletin No. 12, showing the value of this plant, especially for sheep, and in considering special crops for sheep it discusses in this connection clover, alfalfa, vetches, rape, cabbage, turnips, mangels, corn and the several classes of grain. Each is treated separately in regard to method of cultivation and manner of feeding. Dealing with vetches the bulletin says:

"Vetches, or tares, as they are also called, make excellent fodder for sheep, either as a soiling crop or as cured hay. This crop much resembles peas in habit of growth and requires about the same kind of cultivation. Its vines are more slender oats. Vetches are grown extensively for sheep feed in Great Britain, and to some extent in Canada for the same purpose. The writer, while raising sheep, always grew a small area of tares with oats for soiling the show flock, and in case of a

One Side Enough.

Senator William Alden Smith tells of an Irish justice of the peace out in Michigan. In a trial the evidence was all in and the plantiff's attorney had made a long and very eloquent argument, when the lawyer acting for the defense arose.

"What are you doing?" asked the justice, as the lawyer began. "Going to present our side of the

And They Wondered. Judge Nicholas Longworth, who used to sit on Ohio's supreme bench, looked unnaturally grave, and a neighbor, in recognition of his facial depression, named a pet owl "Judge Longworth." It was the very next day that an excited maid broke up his wife's garden party. "Oh, madam," said she. "Madam! Judge Longworth has laid an egg." Included Her. "Why did she get angry at the stranger in town?"

"She asked him if he had seen her daughter and he answered that he had seen all the sights of the place."

Buckwheat in North Carolina.

That buckwheat, one of the staple crops of the north and west, can be grown successfully and with rpofit in some sections of North Carolina has been abundantly demonstrated this year by the experiment of W. T. Simpson, one of the settlers at the Castle Haynes colony, just above Wilmington. So far as known here, this is the first successful attempt ever made in the Stata to raise buckwheat, and farmers generally will be interested in the experiment of Mr. Simpson.

Vanderbilt Settles Out of Court.

Formal entries were made in the

One was for about $8.000 a'leged to be due on back salary and for some $2,000 in addition, said to he due on open account. The second suit had to do with some insurance policies. These were settled out of the court, but the terms are not public.
