Plans for the organization of the National Federation of Voting Women were laid by delegates who attended the convention of the National American Woman Suffrage association at Louisville, Ky. Mrs. George A. Smith, president of the organization in Washington, made the announcement. "The federation," said Mrs. Smith, "will be formed by the enfranchised women of Washington, California, Wyoming, Idaho, Utah and Colorado, the states in which they have the ballot."

When less than 200 miles of road lay between them and the end of a 1,400-mile tour from New York to Jacksonville the first fatal accident of the 1911 Glidden tour occurred three miles from Tifton, Ga., when S. M. Butler of New York, chairman of the contest committee of the American Automobile association, was instantly killed. Driver Charles F. Kelleman of Rochester, N. Y., was internally injured, and Mr. and Mrs. P. J. Walker of California received broken bones.

The commerce court granted the petition of the railroads in the Nashville grain cases by issuing a temporary injunction against the decision of the interstate commerce commission, wherein it ordered the roads not to grant reshipment privileges on grain and hay at Nashville until similar privileges are granted to Atlanta, Montgomery and other Southern cities.

The low price of cotton does not seem to prevent the rushing of the staple to port for export, judging from the receipts of cotton at Savannah this season. A year ago Savannah celebrated the arrival of the first 500,000 bales of cotton at the port for the season of 1909-10. There had been recorded the receipt of 750,000 bales so far this season, an increase compared to last year of 280,000 bales. The outlook is for very heavy exports.

Frank Harrison, a negro who shot and killed former Deputy Sheriff Thomas Cooper at Northport, Ala., over a trivial matter, killed Deputy Sheriff Brown Horton and a negro and wounded a white deputy named Homby and another negro in the swamps near Sanders Ferry, Ala. A posse is on his trail. He fought took place in a wild spot in the lower part of Tuscaloosa county, Northport, where Cooper was slain, is a village near Tuscaloosa.

General.

Conditional appropriations, aggregate $835,000, were granted to six colleges and universities by the board of trustees of the John D. Rockefeller fund for education—the General Education board: To Southern Methodist university, Dallas, Texas, $200,000; to Furman college, Greenville, S. C., $25,000; to Bucknell university, Lewisburg, Pa., $35,000; to Earlham college, Richmond, Ind., $75,000; to Grinnell college, Grinnell, Iowa, $100,000, and to Smith college, $200,000.

The government's long-planned suit to break up the so-called "steel trust" was begun at Trenton, N. J., in the United States circuit court. It is the most sweeping anti-trust action ever brought by the department of justice. The government asks not only for the dissolution of the United States Steel corporation, but for the dissolution of all connected or subsidiary companies which are alleged to have combined in violation of the Sherman law to "maintain or attempt to maintain a monopoly of the steel business." There are thirty-six subsidiary corporations named as defendants.

Further defection to the Chinese rebels, including Nan Chang, capital of the province of Giang-Si, and Kwai-Lin, capital of Kwang-Si, have served to increase the tension of the revolution. It is commonly reported in Peking that the imperial family is now ready for flight. The road to Jehol, 115 miles northeast of Peking, is studied with troops. Other rumors designate the foreign settlements in Tien Tsin as the possible refuge.

Leading roasters advanced the price of package coffee one cent a pound to 23 1/2 cents, but families which use sugar in the beverage may find solace in the fact that a cut was made in the price of this commodity.

A light frost was reported in Texas as far south as Houston. No damage was done to cotton.

President Taft signed the long-expected proclamation declaring the neutrality of the United States in the war between Turkey and Italy. The proclamation was forwarded to Washington, and the state department will notify the powers.

Eight miners were killed and eight others were temporarily overcome by an explosion of powder in O'Gara mine No. 3, a mile from Harrisburg, Ill. A crossed electric wire is said to have been the cause.

Miss Ida Conquest, the actress, has just been married to Riccardo Bertelli of Boston.

VERDICT IS THAT THERE WAS FRAUD

IN CASE OF MRS. NANNIE JOHNSON AGAINST W. E. CRITCHER.
—WILL APPEAL.

HE MUST PAY HER $1,559.12

Suit Was From Wendell and the Charge Was That By Fraud Critcher Had Obtained Widow's Money For Use in Business.

Raleigh.—By the verdict of the jury Mrs. Nannie Johnson, of Wendell, was awarded $1,559.12 in her suit against W. E. Critcher, of Wendell, in arrest and bail proceedings. The suit was for $2,050, and in the defendant Critcher admitted receiving $2,012.35, the other being paid in taxes and declared he had paid her $425.35, leaving $1,600 which the plaintiff, so defendant alleged, had invested in business with him as partner, that the business failed and that the plaintiff had received advances from the store, and goods, which wiped out the $1,600 and that he had put $600 in the business.

The charge against Critcher was fraud and misrepresentation in obtaining the money which Mrs. Johnson, a widow, realized from a piece of property sold in Raleigh. She declared she had left Critcher have it to use in the business as he assured her profits. Critcher alleged it was a partnership, but the jury said not. It found that Critcher had not paid over to Mrs. Johnson $425.35 as alleged, that he owed her $440 for board for himself and men, that the stock of goods taken by Mrs. Johnson when the business closed was worth $250 and not about $600 as Critcher alleged, and that Mrs. Johnson owed $128 on the store account.

The result of the suit was that Mrs. Johnson won on practically every issue. The defendant has given notice of an appeal to the Supreme Court.

Will Be Thrilling Affair.

That the daily flights of the Strobel biplane at the Fayetteville fair will be thrilling in the extreme was evinced by the fact that Harry Lavan, the daring young aviator who has performed credibly at Richmond, has got "cold feet" after the perilous situation of his landing party, and has thrown up his job rather than attempt two flights daily from a landing place within a half-mile race track half surrounded by a mill pond. Nevertheless the flights will take place. When Lavan announced his intention of quitting, the fair management got busy and as a result of negotiations with Charles J. Strobel, the owner of the machine, an expert aviator is now on the way here from New York.

Archduke Ferdinand Charles, nephew of Emperor Francis Joseph of Austria, who recently renounced his rank and all privileges as a member of the imperial family, has married in Switzerland the daughter of Hofrat Czuber, a professor of engineering. The archduke wished to renounce his rank in 1903 to marry this young woman, but the emperor refused permission. The marriage, however, is now with his majesty's consent and he has granted his nephew an annuity of 40,000 crowns.

The town of Milpa Alta, Mexico, in the federal district, and within thirty miles of Mexico City, was almost totally destroyed by fire and dynamite by Zapatistas, who fought what appears to have been a drawn battle with Federal troops lasting for more than five hours on a mountain road, a short distance from the ruined town. The insurgents returned the fire of the government troops shot for shot and are said to be now occupying the village of Nativitas, only two miles from Xochimilco.

In a speech before the Commercial Club at Aberdeen, S. D., President Taft replied with feeling to the charge that he had set up the Supreme court with the idea that it was to consolidate the Sherman anti-trust law and declared anew his intention to have that law enforced. The president referred to the criticism of the Supreme court's rulings in the Standard Oil and Tobacco trust cases and declared that the charges that the statute had been made ineffective were untrue.

Washington.

The Grover Cleveland school is the name selected by the commissioners of the District of Columbia for the latest public educational institution of Washington. This honor to the memory of the last Democratic president we bestowed on the recommendation of the board of education, which stated that the name of every deceased president of the United States except president of the United States except naming the schools of the capital.

Reform in the rules of the Federal Supreme court to expedite cases awaiting the court's action—sometimes delayed two or three years—was inaugurated by Chief Justice White. Hereafter the time for oral argument of cases will be three hours instead of four. A new rule provides for a "summary docket," on which will be placed cases which the court should expedite. The court will arrive at a decision as to these after a motion has been presented to it to "affirm" a decision in a court below. Only half an hour will be allowed each side for argument on this docket. "Rejected on the ground of fraud,"

Greensboro Jail Being Completed. The new city jail, which is the old fish market overhauled, is about completed and will be ready for prisoners after November 1. The prison has separate cells for male and female and white and negro prisoners. It will be heated by steam and have every convenience that is provided in larger modern prisons. When the new prison is ready, the chief of police and other members of the force will be given a larger office and quarters, with a rest room for officers not on duty.

Bicycle Thieves Are Busy.

Another wave of bicycle stealing has struck New Bern and owners of bicycles who do not care to part with their machines are guarding them very carefully. About three months ago at least fifteen or twenty bicycle mysteriously disappeared and the owners have never seen them since. Where they went to or who purloined them will doubtless ever remain a mystery. All of the nearby towns were notified of the thefts and the police at those places kept a diligent watch but failed to locate even one of the lost cycles.

EXPERTS FOR GOOD ROADS

The Trinity College Authorities Are Boosting the Good Roads Demonstration Work in This Section.

Durham.—Trinity College authorities are trying to give the good roads a boost and have been planning to have the government send experts here to do demonstration work on their campus.

There are two and more miles on the big lot which will be macadamized and put in shape for an ideal drive way. The college is now at work upon this, and has had the city crusher and roller leased for a short while, in which to do this work. It is a tremendous job, because the college road varies in length from 30 feet to 50, thereby costing from three to five times as much as the ordinary road, all other things being equal. The opportunity for doing this demonstration work is therefore large.

President W. P. Few does not know what date the government can undertake this work, but has a hope that it will do so. Durham's most problem is less perhaps than most countries, because it has now above 115 miles of macadam. But preservation of it is something else. This road, that the decline all the time, and it is costly to maintain. The cost of all this has been from $3,000 to $5,000, and there has been no way to reduce the wear and the loss of granite. The government's work here would be that of finding the best stone, the best binding and the best oil for this soil and use it. It is similar to the soil analysis which determines the best fertilizer to be used for growing crops.

The government has not given the date upon which it can come here but there is not a great amount of doubt that it will come. The college is building a beautiful entrance to its front yard, a turnpike of fifty yards. The campus road will necessarily last better than the county's because the almost level "lay of the land" will make washing almost impossible.

A Novel Case Is Completed.

A novel case was completed in Guilford superior court. This was an action brought by C. W. Pegram of Stokesdale against Charles Ingram of High Point for injuries received by Ingram, his horse and buggy, when the animal became frightened at Ingram's automobile and ran away with him several months ago. The accident happened near Stokesdale. The plaintiff told a wonderful tale of the fight of the horse, which broke away from him and ran towards home. Just before the animal reached home, Pegram said, it "ran into a clump of hickory saplings at the side of the road. The harness broke; the leaning saplings straightened up, carrying the buggy up in the air, so that it was necessary to cut down one of the saplings to let the buggy down." Pegram sued for $800 damages for personal injuries and $200 damages to horse and buggy. The case resulted in the defendant's favor.

Awaiting Confirmation of Sentence.

Burrill and Leona Casey who were recently found guilty in Craven county superior court of poisoning Mr. Joseph Whitty, Leona Casey's former husband, and who were sentenced to a term of ten years at hard labor in the state prison, are still confined in Craven county jail, awaiting the confirmation of their sentence by the supreme court. A correspondent visited them in their cells and they still seem very unconcerned in regard to their fate. Burrill Casey stated that he was sure that the supreme court would not confirm the decision and that they would be given a new trial. He further stated that he believed that if he had another trial that a very different verdict would be brought in by the jury. However, this is not the opinion of the general public.

Improving Automobile Highway.

With a view to improving the national automobile highway through Davidson county, a force of men has been busily at work in Boone township, near Spencer, grading some of the worst places on the road. The work is being done under the supervision of J. B. Bailey and W. H. Whitner, two of the leading good roads advocates in Davidson county.

To Abandon The Experiments.

Orville Wright has practically decided to abandon the experiments he has been making at Kill Devil Hill with a gliding machine in the hope of discovering an automatic method of preserving the equilibrium of heavier-than-air flying machines. His record-breaking test when he remained virtually stationary in the air for nearly ten minutes, convinced him that the development of aviation depended almost completely on a greater knowledge of air currents and greater skill in meeting such conditions.

Clearing Away Old Buildings.

The work of clearing away the old buildings on the site for North Carolina's first fireproof state administration building on Morgan street, between Fayetteville and Salisbury streets, is well under way now, and it is expected that the lot will be clear and ready for excavations to begin any time after November 1. The state building commission, Ashley Horne, chairman, and W. E. Springer, Wilmington, secretary, is to open bids for the erection of the building, November 1.

BIG GUNS WILL SALUTE MR. TAFT

PLANS ARE MADE FOR THE PRESIDENTIAL REVIEW OF THE BIG FLEET.

MAYFLOWER TO HEAD LINE

Each Vessel Will Burn Powder In Firing Twenty-One Guns In Honoring President Taft—Will Watch Armada Get Under Way.

Chicago.—In other respects than more mere number of ships and power of armament, the great naval review to be held at New York promises to eclipse any naval pageant ever seen in this country. President Taft not only will sail through the four lines of ships at anchor in the Hudson river, but will watch the vast armada pick up its anchors and get under way.

He then will lead the long column down the bay and off Staten Island will stand aside on the Mayflower and again review the fleet as it passes out to sea.

Secretary of the Navy Meyer who came to Chicago to assist in the dedication of the new naval training station here and to arrange for the review has left for the East.

The main features of the review have been agreed upon. The Secretary of the Navy will inspect the fleet from the Dolphin. In a sense this inspection really will mark the beginning of the pageant, for Secretary Meyer will be received with the roar of all the guns and other honors due his office.

The Mayflower, dressed in the finest of bunting and flying the President's flag, will reach the head of the four battalions, when the commander-in-chief of the fleet, Rear Admiral Osterhaus, and possibly the division commanders, will pay their respects to the commander-in-chief of the army and the navy. President Taft will return Admiral Osterhaus' visit on board the flagship Connecticut. When he is again aboard the Mayflower, the yacht will steam up the river through the water lane formed by the first and second columns of the anchored fleet, a distance of seven miles. After the last little torpedo boat at the end of the columns has paid its tribute of twenty-one guns to the President the Mayflower will turn and steam back through the third and fourth columns.

Will Be Ready For Opening.

Washington.—The tariff board's much discussed report on the woolen industry is to be transmitted to Congress upon the opening of the next session in December and the board's report on cotton will follow, probably before January 1. This, it became known, is the administration's program with relation to the big tariff fight that will be waged by the Democratic majority in the House and between the Democratic, insurgent Republican and regular Republican forces in the Senate.

A staff of fifteen clerks at the census bureau is putting the finishing touches upon the tariff board's woolen report.

Fight a Duel to Death.

Aberdeen, Miss.—Joe Reese, a locomotive fireman in the employ of the Illinois Central Railroad and Frank Seitz, a timber man of Longview, Mass., fought a pistol duel at the Illinois Central Railway station resulting in the death of both. There were no eye-witnesses to the shooting and the cause of the quarrel is unknown. Both men are said to have been drinking.

Makes Second Trip Down Niagara..

Niagara Falls, N. Y.—Capt. Klaus Larsen of Detroit, made his second Niagara river trip in a motorboat from the cataract to Lewiston. He completed the six miles through the turbulent waters without a scratch. Larsen says he is through with Niagara adventures, but next year will make a trip across the Atlantic in his boat, the "Niagara."

Murder and Then Suicide.

Parkersburg, W. Va.—Carroll L. James, a railroad conductor of this city, shot and killed his father-in-law, William Pritchard, probably fatally wounded his mother-in-law, slightly injured his wife and committed suicide at Pennsboro, W. Va., Ritchie county. James broke into the Pritchard home and caught his victims while they slept. He made no effort to harm his 4-year-old daughter, who occupied the bed with her mother and grandmother. The tragedy follows a series of sensational occurrences.

Situation At Peking Is Bad.

Peking.—The situation in Peking is becoming worse. A veritable panic prevails among the Manchus. The trains that are leaving the capital for the most part are drawn by two engines, so heavily are they loaded, the people sitting on top of their household belongings. Officials are seeking asylum for their wives and children among the foreigners. Prior to the revolution, the newspapers frequently cried out against the presence of foreign soldiers but the natives are now fleeing to them.

PLACE—Shusan (Susa) the winter capital of the Persian Empire, about 200 miles southeast from Babylon and 125 miles north of the Persian Gulf.

There are two principal theories concerning the historical nature of the Book of Esther: one, that it is a veritable history; the other, that it is a historical romance founded on fact, like Shakespeare's Julius Caesar and Henry VIII, or like Scott's novels, or Homer's great epics. While there are a number of serious difficulties, yet there are few if any unanswerable arguments against its being a true history. Xerxes is the Greek shortened form of the Ahasuerus of Esther, as York, for instance, is a shortened form of the Latin Eboracum. He began to reign B. C. 485 and ruled for 20 years. We can best understand Esther by means of those parts of his history which reveal his character. Xerxes at the very beginning of his reign completed, the conquest of Egypt which his father Darius had begun. On his return he immediately began to prepare for the invasion of Europe, and especially of Greece.

Xerxes sought a queen in place of the deposed Vashti. The one selected from the most beautiful women of the empire was Esther, a charming Jewess, a descendant of one of the exiles, her great-grandfather being among those carried captive to Babylon by Nebuchadnezzar in 598. Her Hebrew name was Hadassah, the myrtle, a beautiful and favorite shrub in the east. "Esther" means "a star," and many think it the same as Ishtar, the Babylonian equivalent of Venus. She must have been quite young at the time of her marriage, not over 15 years. Four or five years pass, and then begins the tragic story of Haman, his rise as a king's favorite, his pride incensed at the conduct of Esther's cousin Mordecai, his attempt to bring vengeance upon the whole Jewish race on Mordecai's account, his success in obtaining a decree from the king, throughout his empire, "to destroy, to kill, and to cause to perish all Jews, both young and old, little children, and women, in one day."

Great mourning and terrible distress came upon the Jews all over the empire as they learned of the decree. Mordecai sent word to Esther, now about 20 years old, asking her to go to the king and request the deliverance of her people. Esther replied "Whosoever shall come unto the king into the inner court, who is not called, there is one law of his to put him to death. Except such to whom the king shall have put the golden scepter." There was, therefore, a possibility of Esther's reaching the ears of the king, but with the greatest uncertainty as to how such a capricious king would act, especially as his love for her had cooled. The mission Mordecai committed to Esther was one of great danger and difficulty. It required the utmost heroism.

Esther put on her royal apparel. She was a sensible, practical woman, and used her beauty and charm of person and of dress to accomplish her object.

She waited for the fitting time. The king held out the golden scepter. The sign that he received her, and that the most dangerous part of her mission was over. Instead of asking for favor, when she would be surrounded by spies and possible enemies, she invited the king to a banquet in the seclusion of the Harem gardens. She invited Haman her enemy to join with the king and thus ward off all suspicion and at the same time have him where he could not escape.

Esther presented her petition in wise words and pointed out Haman as the enemy who was seeking her life and the life of her people. The king was very angry and immediately deposed Haman, and had him hanged on the gallows he had prepared for Mordecai.

The result was a counteracting decree, permitting the Jews to stand up in their own defense, and large numbers of their enemies were slain. The Jews were saved from destruction, and exalted before the people. Mordecai took Haman's place in the government. The feast of Purim was instituted with great feasting and joy, and has been celebrated annually ever since on the fourteenth of Adar, February-March, one month before Esther.

One of the most interesting studies in the story of Esther is to trace the ways of divine providence, and see how God makes all things work together for the good of his people. God's sovereign grace and man's free will are here seen in perfect harmony.

Heroism in Every Day Life is the expression and cultivation of the heroic spirit in our ordinary daily living. We cannot all be heroes in great things, but the field of heroism is everywhere, in every home, in every town. There are great enemies to overcome in our own hearts.
