Superintendent Laughinghouse of State Prison, Advocates Employment of Able Bodied Convicts on Roads .-Dr. Hyde Pratt Delivered Report.

Charlotte.-A spirited discussion of the advisability of leasing convicts to railroads and corporations, in the course of which the state farming operation were denounced as the competition of criminal labor with honest labor, was the decided feature in the first day of the sixth annual convention of the North Carolina Good Roads Association. The discussion was precipitated by a talk of Superintendent Laughinghouse, of the state penitentiary, in which he advocated the employment of all able bodied convicts on the county roads under the county chain gang system and the employment of crippled, weak or otherwise incapable ones on the state farm.

About five hundred regular delegates and a large number of visitors were present in the city auditorium when President H. B. Varner, of Lexington, called the convention to order. Following the opening prayer Mayer club, its president, C. O. Kuester, extended welcome and announced the
