

ON the 10th of next June will be the unveiling of the monument to the North Carolina Women of the Confederacy at Raleigh. This was decided upon last week at a meeting of the commission appointed by the late Col. Ashley Horne, through whose patriotic generosity the monument is to be erected.

The commission selected as the orator at the unveiling Dr. D. H. Hill, the president of the A. & M. college at Raleigh, and who is the namesake and son of the commander of the North Carolina troops at the battle of Bethel. This selection of General Hill's son as the orator at the unveiling is eminently appropriate, not only because he is the son of his father, but also because of his interest in and knowledge of all matters pertaining to North Carolina's Confederate history.

The commission selected as the chaplains to open the exercises with prayer and to announce the benediction two ministers of the gospel who are Confederate veterans. The clergymen who will open the exercises with prayer is Rev. E. A. Osborne, of Charlotte, who was the last colonel of the Fourth North Carolina regiment, and the minister to pronounce the benediction is Rev. Dr. Robert H. Marsh, of Oxford, who was the chaplain of the 26th N. C. regiment.

The commission adopted resolutions extending a cordial invitation to all the Confederate veterans and the Daughters of the Confederacy in this state to attend and participate in the ceremonies of the unveiling.

This monument, as our readers know, is the gift of Mr. Horne and is to be erected in honor of the North Carolina women of the Confederacy, who suffered so much during the war between the states and did so much for our soldiers. It is to be placed in the capitol square in front of the new administration building. The ceremonies at the unveiling will be of a very impressive character and will no doubt be attended by many persons from all parts of this state.

AN investigation will shortly be made by Gov. Craig into the condition of the convict camps in this state, and we doubt not that many of them sadly need a thorough investigation. The condition of many of our county convict camps and the treatment of the convicts therein are not creditable to the authorities in charge. This is especially true of those county convict camps to which convicts from other counties are sentenced. Their condition is much worse than the state convict camps, which are in charge of officials employed by the state.

In those counties wherein convicts are not worked on the roads their prisoners are usually hired out to some county that has a convict force employed, and the officials in charge of the convicts try to get out of them the most work at the least expense. Too often those convicts are cruelly mistreated and seem to have no protection from the ill treatment which they too often receive. We hope that Gov. Craig will make a thorough investigation of every convict camp in the state, and that the officers in charge of them may not know when they will be visited.

A TOURIST agency has been established at Raleigh by the Seaboard Air-Line Railway, with Major C. H. Gattis in charge, who will have the management of personally conducted tours to all sections of the United States, Cuba and Canada. Until he resigned four years ago Major Gattis had been the district passenger agent of the Seaboard Air-Line and was one of the most popular and capable officers of that company, and personally conducted many tours which were much enjoyed by all who took them.

AMONG the resolutions adopted at the recent meeting of the Anti-Saloon League of this state was one that is calculated not only to force prohibition into politics, but also to make it the "paramount issue" in the next campaign. All the resolutions adopted at that meeting were published in our last issue, and they call for the enactment of a law by the next legislature that will prohibit the delivery of any liquor in this state from any other state even if in small quantity and for private consumption.

As our readers are aware, the last legislature enacted the "search and seizure" law, that authorizes any officer, upon proper affidavit being made, to search any person's house and seize any liquor therein in quantity over one gallon. The present law allows the delivery of liquor in this state from another state if it is not for sale here, but the proposed law will prohibit the delivery of any liquor in this state for any purpose. Many of the strongest advocates of prohibition do not favor this new law, thinking it too rigid and interfering too much with the private rights of individuals.

We quote from the resolutions adopted by the Anti-Saloon League executive committee the following extract: "We request the citizens of the state in every voting precinct to call upon their candidates for the general assembly to declare themselves on this question, and we urge the Christian voters to see to it that such members of the general assembly are elected as will stand for this measure." Of course this means that the prohibitionists are urged not to vote for any candidate for the legislature who will not pledge himself to vote for the proposed law that will prohibit the delivery into this state of any liquor for any private consumption.

We regret, as a life long prohibitionist, that such a resolution was adopted, for we do not think that the test of a candidate's fitness for a seat in the legislature should be dependent entirely and solely upon his voting either for or against such a new law. There are other measures and questions besides this that should be considered when voting for members of the general assembly.

HAITI is in the throes of another revolution and a new government was formed there last Sunday. Revolutions and civil wars have disgraced and distracted that unhappy country ever since it attempted the farce of self-government, and have fully proved that its inhabitants are not capable of any kind of civilized government. For more than one hundred years every ruler of Haiti has attained his office by force and bloodshed, and nearly every one has met with a violent death, either assassinated or murdered under the forms of law.

Three-fourths of the inhabitants of Haiti are blacks and most of the remaining fourth are mulattoes, with only a small percent of French and Spanish population. For the sake of humanity some civilized country ought to take charge of Haiti and give it a stable and safe government, but we hope that the United States may never have to perform that duty.

THE Confederate reunion at Jacksonville, Florida, is postponed to the 6th, 7th and 8th of May, a week later than at first appointed. This change of dates was requested by Gen. Bennett Young, the commander of the United Confederate Veterans.

Returns With Long Lost Sister. Wilmington, Feb. 5.—Mr. William H. Lassell returned yesterday from Cuba with his sister, Evelina Pinkind Lassell, whom he found in a hospital at Santiago and who, he had thought, committed suicide fifteen years ago.

Fifteen years ago she was working on the staff of the Brooklyn Eagle as copy-holder when her young child fell out of a baby carriage and was killed. Soon after she disappeared and it was supposed that she had committed suicide as it was known that the sad accident had caused her great grief.

Previous to her residence in New York she had married a man in Atlanta, Ga., who proved to be a worthless kind of fellow and soon deserted her. Mr. Lassell was unable to trace her history for the last fifteen years further back than six years ago. However, as far as can be learned, the shock and grief of the death of her child seems to have deranged her mind, and her identity apparently became merged into its life as she now believes that she is only 15 years old, although she is actually 43 years old. Yet her memory of her childhood days is vivid and real.

After leaving New York she became a trained singer and dancer. She was for several years with a troupe that did an act with a circus and evidently traveled extensively in European countries, as she speaks French, Italian and Spanish. While undoubtedly suffering from this peculiar form of insanity, believing herself to be merely a child, when she reached Cuba three or four years ago while with a theatrical company the depressing nature of the climate caused her troubles to become worse.

Without money and without friends she was sent from hospital to hospital for treatment, but never with any appreciable benefit. It was only by the merest chance that during her lucid moments she furnished a clue by which her relatives were located.

Mr. Lassell sailed from Santiago on the 25th of January, reaching New York on the 28th. His brother-in-law, Dr. Vincent Barber, lives in Brooklyn, N. Y., and he left his sister with him. Mrs. Barber, his sister, was formerly a trained nurse, and under the skilled care of herself and husband, Mr. Lassell states that his sister has already shown much improvement in mind and hopes eventually that she may recover her normal intelligence.

Recognized Advantages. You will find Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has recognized advantages over most medicines in use for coughs and colds. It does not suppress, it soothes and relieves. It aids expectoration and opens the secretions, which enables the system to throw off a cold. It counteracts any tendency of a cold to result in pneumonia. It contains no opium or other narcotic, and may be given to a child as confidently as an adult. For sale by all dealers. adv.

Fire Caused by Cigarette. Fire which it is believed originated from a cigarette carelessly cast aside by a boy employed in the stables totally destroyed the large feed and sales stable of L. C. Carroll at Newport, Carteret county, last Thursday, causing a loss of about $7,000.

When first discovered the blaze had gained considerable headway and it was seen that it could not be stopped before the building was destroyed. The horses in the stables were removed, but many of the buggies and wagons and other contents were destroyed.

Due to the fact that a heavy rain was falling during the conflagration adjoining property was not destroyed.

Chatham Rabbits. From the Siler City Grit.

For the past two months we have published each week the number of rabbits shipped from Siler City, and now that the season has closed, it may be interesting to note that a compilation of those figures show that the total number shipped this winter amounts to 18,059. And it must be borne in mind that these figures apply only to Siler City, whereas there are three other shipping points in western Chatham.

The number shipped this year is unusually large considering that there was no snow. The New York department of health has issued a warning against quacks who might seek to take advantage of the popular interest aroused by recent experiments with radium in the treatment of cancer.

Woman Scared to Death by Boys. Pensacola, N. C., Feb. 6.—What turned out to be one of the worst tragedies in the history of Yancey county occurred on Jack's creek, about six miles from Burnsville Sunday night. From information received, it seems two boys of that section, while intoxicated visited the home of Mrs. Neil Bradford, who was alone with the exception of a little girl eight years old.

The boys cursing and swearing demanded admittance to the house. The woman, fearing them, barred the door and asked them to leave. They called for matches and said they were cold, so she slipped the matches to them through a crack under the door. The boys started a fire near the house and the poor woman, doubtless thinking that the house would be burned and afraid to try to escape as she was an invalid, went into hysterics.

She fell in the floor and the child called loudly that her mama was dead. After the boys had gone some neighbors came and found the woman was dead. The sheriff and coroner were called from Burnsville. The woman was literally scared to death. Officers are looking for Artemus Bailey and a youth named Williams.

Farm Work Demonstration. Washington, February 7.—The House agricultural extension bill was passed with amendments by the Senate today without a dissenting vote. The bill provides for demonstrations on farms of approved methods and scientific discoveries as to farm and home economies, made in state agricultural colleges, experimental stations and in the federal department of agriculture. The secretary of agriculture and land-grant colleges are to outline plans for carrying out demonstrations. As agreed to in the Senate the bill would appropriate unconditionally $10,000 annually for each state. In addition a sum of $300,000 for the coming year, with a yearly increase of $600,000 for the next seven years would be provided for distribution among the states on a basis of rural population, conditioned on each state appropriating a sum equal to its portion of the federal funds. After seven years the bill would provide a permanent annual appropriation of $4,000,000.

Good Peach Crop Predicted. From the Sanford Express.

Mr. J. V. Lindley informs the Express that he will put out at Southern Pines 15,000 young peach trees this spring and 3,000 in the fall. He has cleared up 100 acres of fresh land for this new orchard. These trees are to take the place of trees that have died. Mr. Lindley says the indications are good for a fruit crop this year. He used to hear old people say that a dark Christmas meant a good fruit crop. The Christmas of 1913 was a dark one. Mr. Lindley thinks the weather will turn cold and check the buds which are beginning to swell.

After escaping with three others prisoners from the Sampson county jail, on last Wednesday night, James Mitchell, a white youth, 17 years of age, under sentence of a 15-year term in the state prison for criminal assault, lay down on the track of the Rowland Lumber Company's railroad, near Hobton, was run over by a train and killed.

The war department has acquired an excellent tract of ground for the accommodation of the college students and soldiers who will go into encampment next summer at Asheville. Part of the Biltmore estate lies within the limits of the tract which will be laid out into camp sites by the army engineers and provided with pure water and drains.

It is said that a Mr. Nineheart, of Ohio, has bought 1,000 acres of land in the vicinity of Sanford near Piney for a scuppernon vineyard. This will make the third great scuppernon vineyard near that place.

Only natives of Panama and Americans hereafter will be employed in the higher grades of service of the Panama canal.
